
New Moderator: tIB

Posted by actuel - 2010/11/10 03:57

Hey fellow E-Uers,

I want to take the opportunity to formally announce our new moderator to Elektron-Users, tIB. It's almost impossible that you come here and have seen tIB, he post count is like 4,000 or something. Anyway, he brings a wealth of knowledge and is a very active member.

Our motivation for adding another moderator is due to scheduling of other moderators and the rapid growth new users. The forum so rarely needs moderated as it is, as this is a great group, but having active eyes and moderators keeps the spam and trash out.

I'm quite excited about this and honored to have tIB moderating for us. He's good people.

Cheers,
a

And here only a few short months ago, being such a culturally sensitive lad had become a ladyboy for his thai gig
