
Problem submitting document to files section.

Posted by Dalski - 2010/12/21 08:29

I tried to upload a tidy PDF version of the MD Dictionary to the files section so people could download a local copy. I went through the upload procedure and at the very final stage clicking the tick box did nothing...nada. Tried again from the beginning and the second time when trying to upload the file it says it already exists, can't see it in the files section though. Does it have to be approved by a mod before it's visible?

Not sure what the problem may be. The files do not have to be mod approved.

what is the exact name of the file?

what was the size of the file?

What browser are you using? I've struggled with chrome and opera before... if you want to mail it to me I'll upload?

I was using Safari. I did try afterwards with Firefox but I just got the file already exists error.

The pdf isn't on the PC I'm on at the moment but I'll drop it to you via email later Andy. Thanks for offering, oh and I got your email down so you can delete it whenever.

EDIT come to think of it, I probably could just try renaming the file and doing it again from Firefox later. If it all fails I'll get back to you. Cheers.
