Buy some tunes help Japan

Posted by darenager - 2011/03/17 06:24

I have just released an album of my Bugbrand BBC Radiophonic inspired pieces here

http://darenager.bandcamp.com/album/bug-phonic

I will be donating all of the proceeds to the Red Cross Japan relief fund, I have negotiated with bandcamp to drop their revenue (although not entirely, but still helpful) and will be promoting it through various channels, I'd appreciate if any EU users would buy this album, and if possible help to spread it around a bit on blogs, facebook, twitter etc

All 13 tracks were created on the Bugbrand modular live in one take with no traditional sequencing, midi, overdubs or computers. They were created for a challenge set by Tom Bugs to create Radiophonic inspired tracks to be played at the forthcoming event at the Cube Cinema, Bristol, UK http://www.cubecinema.com/cgi-bin/diary/programme.pl?days=92#5656

I have set the price for the 13 track album at a minimum of £1.25 (no maximum, but I'm hoping for £2 per copy)

Thanks guys;)

Thanks

My goal is to raise £1000, of course I will be making a donation of my own money too, and I will post an update on the final total once sales fizzle out.

To all that have bought it already, a huge thank you from me, to those that have not here's that link again

If you are socially networked, then please spread it about, like it etc:kiss:

A sticky would be nice mods, just sayin'

BUMP!  Thanks to all purchasers so far, although I note some names are conspicuosly absent so far, I'm assuming those guys have not seen it yet, hence the bump;)  Tweet it, like it on FB etc it all helps  Quite a way short of the target so far:(  Great bathtime listening!  :kiss:	Re:Buy some tunes help Japan Posted by darenager - 2011/03/17 19:19
