
new site name suggestion

Posted by glaive - 2006/02/25 19:21

Hi -

If elektron-users.com were to change its name to something that, when used as an acronym, didn't have the same call letters as a major European political body, what would that name be?

/Scott

hey now -- as a former g2 owner, i gotta stick up for clavia here. . . although, i did sell the g2 rack for something more imediate (the mono).

but still, the g2 is pretty damn sweet.

to be honest, and i know it's not really helpful, I like the name elektron-users. elektron musicians is too much like electro-music.com and em411. and elektron nerds is too. . . obvious.

i'll keep the neurons firing.

while i think elektron-users.com is fine name, words that could be used in some fashion:

culture
coop
nook
manor
denizen
symposium
digs
plop
box
post
canvas
exchange
coze

again those are just words that i thought may be used somehow with Elektron. maybe, maybe not. i like elektron-users.com but since you asked ;-)

boom

My suggestion is a spin off from Jyoti's Elektronites:

elektronauts - Electron All User Tutor Society

Re: new site name suggestion

Posted by Jyoti - 2006/02/26 15:46

Ooh, I like Elektronauts too! I only used Elektronites because it reminded me of Aqua Teen Hunger Force.

If it's the acronym that counts, how about ef.com? Could either be Elektron Friends or Elektron Freaks. Hmm... but would Elektron mind the usage of their 'Elektron Friend' term?

Are "Friends" Elektron?

I feel it's a bit confusing with the Elektron Users name since the Yahoo group already uses that name. And Elektronaut is my ex's best buddy's artist name...(get one of his tunes here here.)

Personally I like Elektronites and Elektron Friend. :-)

National Elektron Regents for Dope Synths.

Damn forgot to read the other pages. Dropping the hyphen is a really good idea. Makes typing in the name .5 seconds faster giving me more time to live. Why cant you just do elektronusers dot com?

alright, usually i'm not in favor of changes like that but i think 'elektron friends' is quite good, and since we're getting a whole new forum anyway... what's our swedish suppliers' word about it?

As cool as elektronfriends.com is, we cannot use it for the user community site.

I'm tempted by this elektronauts thing tho ...

my ideas are:

- userselektron.com (get that backwards drum machine/machinedrum thing going on)
 - elektronists.com (from machinists; i.e. of the machinedrum and monomachine)

It was me who stopped the "Elektronfriends", sorry guys, but we're using it at Elektron already. The mixup would be too obvious.

I'm really looking forward the new site! By the response I could see you didn't like my favorite "Elektron Island".

I liked Elektronauts, too bad it's used, but so is Machinedrum (used by a couple of bands). Maybe staying with "Elektron users" and going with a tagline like "We are Elektronauts!" would be cool?

Elektronists is a nice concept, but doesn't really roll off the tongue, does it.

Maybe I should stay out of the users discussions, just couldn't help jumping in! And being a designer doesn't mean I'm not using the stuff as well. :)

another thing about the ef acronym is that it is already used by two swedish companies.

how about elektronconnection and in some parlances it would rhyme.

but then it's ec i guess :-(

Just my 2?.
