

---

How Live performance with OT

Posted by oli1000 - 2011/11/09 20:15

---

Hi,

How would you do a live performance with the OT?

It's possible to put everything in 1 project by assigning different loops to the same channel or playing with the parts.

But there isn't a bank copy already I think so that you could copy everything in the same project

Maybe it's possible when the OT is connected to the pc so that you copy the bank from project1 to project2.

Doing this seems not be userfriendly.

Maybe project per project then but the OT stops when switching projects

=====

Re:How Live performance with OT

Posted by N_Rain - 2011/11/10 01:18

---

yes, the current system more or less forces you to carefully plan each set from scratch to fit into a single project unless you don't mind stopping the sequencer to load another project. Not that this way doesn't work fairly well once you just bite the bullet and start from scratch but it makes it very difficult to merge work from multiple projects. Imagine a DJ being stuck with a choice of one CD per set with songs that can never be extracted to another CD!! I am really hoping to copy banks between projects soon..

=====