
OT game?

Posted by 3001 - 2012/01/13 00:31

Hey. Curious if anyone is up for this.

i was having a lot of fun recently sampling random youtube videos. Anyone up for a fun OT game?

Game is:

- 1) Select one Youtube video
- 2) Make into new song via OT only
- 3) Upload to Soundcloud?

Possible rules:

Only 24 hours to create track after video selected, or a different time.

No external processing

No Multitracking

Some kind of song size minimum and maximum?

I was thinking with how easy and quick it is with the OT, and how much you can do, it'd be interesting to see what other people come up with the same material.

too bad the OT can only sample max 15 seconds, it would be nice if it truly was on OT only, and not even using computer recording...

Anyone up for it?

OT is way too fun.

why not using a static machine with a preloaded sample ore more from from youtube , the rest is slicing

and

maximum eight tracks (8 as master)

I'm definitely down! It'd be a nice kick in the pants.

I think it might make things more complex. I guess we could do both, but I think it might be easier for someone to just link to a Youtube. If we could have a voting mechanism too, maybe whoever's remix everyone likes, they can go and select the next youtube. 24 hours to create, 48 hours to vote, and another? so each 3 days could be another? somewhat of that?

For tracks, 8 would be the limit anyway right?

How many people do you think we should get for the first one to get started?

Something about this idea tickles me the right way. I'm in. I know exactly the YouTube audio I'd want to use. EDIT: oops, I only now realized the very premise is ONE chosen YouTube vid for all to mangle, not one choice for each submission.

Unless future rules state otherwise, I thought I'd record a .wav from the vid, load it to the OT and Static or Flex it as needed to the tracks.

Fun concept!

mduw possible too? Sounds like fun.

so be it, jedi

iÂ´ve already chosen one, not quite the thing as someone would expect, but i think it sounds more natural :laugh: -> no porn vids B)

so if the rule is to use one video, it would be nice to know if the soundfile should be mangled and cuted only in the octatrack and by the way, i have quite a lot of other things to do and i donÂ´t spend 24h with my OT, so within 48h nothing is possible, more time is needed

i would say, letÂ´s glue together some rules

Yea, I would say, only if recording the entire file should one be using anything other than the Octatrack.

No editing outside of it, then things get too messy.

And if the file is recorded it should be recorded from the youtube, so we're all using the same quality. As is to say, one song is on the video, someone's not using a wav that's of higher fidelity.

The only reason to keep it 24 or 48 hour is to keep things moving. To make it a game, and nothing really serious:-) I think one thing about the OT is how fast someone can really output something

How much time would you need? would something posted on a Sunday night, and finalized by a Friday night be more suitable?

Yea 1 rule, only one video, for all submissions, no other audio sources. All audio sources must be from the video. And also, only Octatrack, even other Elektron devices are excluded. No external processing.

I think for a MD uW game it would be possible. Why not start one of those too?:D

I'm in. I won't have the time every round but I like it. I could deal with a longer window than 48 hours.

I think the person who chooses the video should make a wav and post it to the site so we all use it.

Also I would want to be able to multitrack and resample inside the OT -- not sure what no multitracking means.

Sounds like an awful lot of fun. Not sure if I'll find the time, but if I do I'm in.

I'm moving this thread to the Science Lab forum.

just means multi tracking outside the OT...like using a DAW...:-) anything internal is fine.

That's a great idea. I would like to join as well. I'm still quite crap at Octatracking but afterall it's just a game isn't it?

OK... and which video now?

everyone is searching for himself or a video which could be used by everyone for mangling?

recently i discovered a beatboxer-video - sounds quite cool - but needs a lot of re-arranging what about style-mixing?

How do we decide on the first one?

I'm going to be missing from the first one probably, the OT will be in the shop...:(

we still need to implement rules before we go ahead and choose one.

I think we also are going to need a video with some kind of drum somewhere in it...o

nope. that's the point of science labs and the challenge of a game like this. with a short enough envelope, you can make anything sound like a drum. =)

Ditto.

Science Labs.

Not "arcade mode" :D

I proposed a tough one though. But I may bring some interesting results.

I'm challenging you, Octatrackers!!! :P

Mine too. Anyone well-versed in the art of downloading YouTube vids and stripping off the audio? It might be nice to have a shared file so we all start with exactly the same material.

Also, what are the rules?

well ... mhhh

what about this one

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XY2sIFLprPw>

the overall audio-quality from the most videos are not that what most people expect more in the rang from standard mp3s

<http://www.mediafire.com/?d90nf6tsa1a02re>

I dunno if I'll participate, but I heard some sample worthy stuff in there.

As far as rules.... my preference would be OT only, no other sounds or outboard.

Re:OT game?

Posted by 3001 - 2012/01/24 00:42

The rules should be kept simple I think with things such as:

Only the OT, no outboard effects, outboardmultitracking.

The only sampling material from the video.

What could be cool is to use youtube to re post videos(not sure how to put it in video, but it shouldn't be that hard with a standard image) in reply. I'm sure some of the artists might find it interesting., and maybe some of the fans:-) how about we have a vote on it? it's better to be democratic? :) is there a way to have surveys on here ?

Re:OT game?

Posted by 3001 - 2012/02/10 00:19

if so I would suggest everyone within the next 2 days to post a video they would suggest, and then we can post a survey and whichever gets the most votes is what goes?

there are times to be democratic. there are times where being a dictator makes sense. I'd recommend you pick the video and those that want to play the game will play.

you started it -- finish it! :cheer:

(of course you can also do what you want! :silly:)

How about using only white noise samples? There was this similar game on IDMForums, where you had to make music using only white noise samples (using any software/hardware). (link to IDMF topic)

I made this track using only the Octatrack loaded with white noise sampled from the monomachine.
<http://soundcloud.com/phutil/30-noise>

It would be fun to see what others could do with only the OT and white noise samples :-)
