Can't Change Avatars?

For some reason I am not able to switch my avatar out for a different one. Everything is in within the proper size limits, including the image size! Not sure what the deal is as everything appears to have worked properly... besides the picture actually changing. :P

Anyone else in this boat?

I also have made sure my pic is the right size but have no luck changing from the default image.

I'm guessing it's because someone on the forum HAS to be Batman. If you simply ditch the Batman avatar, who will be there to rid this forum of wrong doers? Clearly our mods built in the detection of gaps in Batman representation, so the only way you'll be able to change avatars is if someone else accepts the responsibility of being Batman.
