
what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2007/09/13 00:59

I just wanted too see what everyone on this site is listening to lately. I have really been listening to a lot of Proem lately. I also have been listening to a lot of Arovane and Esem. Whats on everyone elses playlist??

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by TheRonin - 2007/09/13 01:33

Japanese Techno...

Go Hiyama
Junichi Wantanabe
Takai Itoh
Fumiya Tanaka

Others:

Surgeon - Regis- British Murder Boys
Anton Piete
Jeron Liebrechts
Oscar Mullero
Christian Wunsch
Basic Channel
Maetrik
Afternoon Cofee Boys
Scan7
AUX88
Autechre
Crix Madine - Freq Modif - Multicast
Richard Devine
Somatic Responses

Battles

Thom York
Morphine
Fugazi
Naked Raygun

Yada Yada Yada...

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2007/09/13 01:45

I like Richard Devine a lot, he makes some pretty twisted stuff.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ploploplo - 2007/09/13 02:04

AFX * adult! * air * amon tobin * anarchic hardrive * the andrews sisters * atari teenage riot * arovane * asa chang & jun ray * autechre * beastie boys * beethoven * bjork * bogdan raczynski * buck 65 * bxn * candie hank * johnny clegg * chris clark * current value * cursor miner * curtis ship * cylob * dalek * danny elfman * datachi * dead can dance * deceptikon * deru * dire straits * the doors * edan * electric kettle * eliott smith * emerson, lake & palmer * emotional joystick * epsilon * evol intent * exillon * for not love lisa * frog pocket * gainsbourg * gangpol und mit * gimmik * hansel * hecate * jimi hendrix * hanin elias * hrvatski * i;gor * ingler * takuma itoi * jackson and his computerband * jason forrest * jefferson airplane * jega * juicy panic * karl marx stadt * kelpe * kettel * king crimson * liza n'eliaz * joao lucas * LudwigVon88 *

machine drum * madeleine peyroux * ratkje maja * mano negra * manu le malin * minion * my life with the thrill kill kult * nautilus * nasenbluten * nic endo * nine inch nails * nirvana * noisia * no one is innocent * nurse with wound * o9 * ochre * ooo * otto von schirach * pink floyd * pixies * planet mu * plus tech squeeze box * portishead * proem * prokofiev * radiohead * repeater * rotator * ryuichi sakamoto * satanicpornocultshop * squarepusher * spor * stravinsky * tchaikovsky * team doyobi * techno animal * tep * terminal 11 * the lava children * thi?faine * traffik * unknown error * the velvet underground * voltek * genioh yamashirogumi * xingu hill (copy paste from my mspace)

this last time mainly ; hanin elias, exillon, gangpol & mit; the new beastie boys; ochre ; az rotator ; sophe lux; nirvana and fischerspooner (nostalgia lol!)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/09/13 02:16

Lately: Baby Elephant, Common, Oh No, Madlib, Dabrye, J Dilla, M.I.A., fat jon & styrofoam, Dntel, Pole, Pink Floyd, Autechre, Can, Tortoise, Bumps, and Boards of Canada. That's lately...

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2007/09/13 02:24

plop reminded me to add Ochre, been listening to him a lot as well. I also forgot to add Vector Lovers.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2007/09/13 03:04

<http://www.last.fm/user/papertigrrrr/>

can't. stop. listening. to autechre. gescom. and rob hall. hehe. =)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by booblit - 2007/09/13 03:56

I've been listening to old 2 Live Crew joints, I admit!

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by udenjoe - 2007/09/13 07:25

Of Montreal
Luomo
Vladislav Delay
Butthole Surfers
The Bees
Brian Jonestown Massacre (Whole catalog is on their site)

I'm in a fall time Boards of Canada mood now.
I was just listening to Twoism and realized the song is based on a five bar loop.

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ridethefader - 2007/09/13 08:46

i dusted off populous for the first time in awhile. that and mapstation have been what i have been listening to. changes everyday

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2007/09/13 08:48

Gravediggers ? Caribou ? St. John Green ? Tony Allen ? Jerzy Milian ? Trees Community ? Sonorhc ? Mum ? Henry Kaiser ? Nucleus ??JVC Force ? Delarosa & Asora ??Elluffant ??Master Acemore

check my record sharity site for old odd balls: Curved-Air and another to humbly make you realize how deep the rabbit hole goes: Mutant-Sounds

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2007/11/25 20:45

Actuel - nice site, it's always nice to find rarities like this w/o having to go crate-digging, or spending the large $ on ebay (ask me about my Atom Heart collection).

In answer to the thread title: I finally got my copy of Caetano Veloso's Araca Azul. Strange, strange pop album.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/11/25 20:49

Gescom, Bob Dylan, Holy Fuck, BOC, Ae, Buck 65, Antibalas, Neu, Oh No, Pan American, J Dilla, Beans, etc.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2007/11/25 20:56

Ive also been listening to the new vector lovers and a lot of Dousk.

also the first pan american album is by far my favorite. I love that bedroom dub sound.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by Wavecircle - 2007/11/25 21:53

relapse808 wrote:

plop reminded me to add Ochre, been listening to him a lot as well. I also forgot to add Vector Lovers.

Ochre? Is he from england? There is an Ochre from my hometown.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2007/11/25 22:07

yes, he is from england.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by Wavecircle - 2007/11/25 22:17

yeah, some of his stuff is real good. Never seen him live though.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/11/25 23:20

relapse808 wrote:

also the first pan american album is by far my favorite. I love that bedroom dub sound.

That's the only one I like... it is so damn good. I pulled it out again recently.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/11/25 23:22

Last couple of days...

Modeselektor - both Happy Birthday! and the Turn Deaf! EP

Burial - both Burial and Untrue

Autechre - Tri Repetae (god, I forgot how fantastic this album is... Eutow... classic, classic track)

Modeselektor and Surgeon remixes of Thom Yorke

Nosaj Thing - Views/Octopus EP

Ellen Allien - Berlinette

Clipse - Hell Hath No Fury

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by lotus-eater - 2007/11/25 23:23

The new Lowfish album, Burn the Lights Out, is excellent. If you're into electro, I highly recommend it. And, if you happen to live in/around southern Ontario, he'll be playing at the Alex in London on December 1st.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/11/26 02:07

ThinkTanx wrote:

Clipse - Hell Hath No Fury

Ah, a guilty pleasure of mine as well...

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/11/26 02:26

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Clipse - Hell Hath No Fury

Ah, a guilty pleasure of mine as well...

I've never considered it a guilty pleasure. :oops:

Is it because of all the lyrics about pushin' cocaine? Because I relate to those perfectly. 8-)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2007/11/26 02:52

some goodies of late:

LCD soundsystem - sounds of silver

Jens Lekman - Night Falls Over Kortedala (IMHO best of the year)

Animal collective- strawberry jam

Flying lotus ? 1983

Elliott Smith - New moon

Pole- Steingarten

Matt dear- asa breed

ES -Sateenkaarisuudelma

KEMIALLISET YSTAVAT - Kemialliset Yst?v?t

Luke Vibert - Lovers acid/ Chicago, Detroit redruth

Kompakt Total 8

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/11/26 03:23

orwell wrote:

Flying lotus ? 1983

Get the Reset EP, if you haven't yet. It's rowdy.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2007/11/26 04:03

yeah, thinktanx :-), it's an interesting one that EP. I'm looking forward to the next full length lotus album. Also i gott'a check out the SP-303, seems like a funny little box. Imagine what lotus could do with an MD UW!

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/11/26 04:17

orwell wrote:

Imagine what lotus could do with an MD UW!

Would be dope, I'm sure. Not sure the synthesis is his style, but I'm sure he would find a way to fit it in. I would love to hear what he would do with the UW features. Maybe I'll offer to let him come by and use mine the next time I see him at Low End Theory! 8-)

-Oh, and, 'Spicy Sammich', that track's the ish!!

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2007/11/26 04:51

'dance floor stalker' as well. lol, I hadn't really noticed the quirk and cute names going on...dark but not entirely serious is what the ep is all about. Sometimes reminds me of the other people place.

While y r at it lend the MD to dabrye and madlib, please!

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/11/26 05:17

orwell wrote:

While y r at it lend the MD to dabrye and madlib, please!

Hmm... never seen Dabrye there. That would be the shit though.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2007/11/26 06:11

orwell wrote:

I'm looking forward to the next full length lotus album. Also i gott'a check out the SP-303, seems like a funny little box. Imagine what lotus could do with an MD UW!

I heart Flying Lotus material. If your a 'Reset EP' fan, be sure to check out his 'Raw Cartoons' shit....so HOT. Also, I contacted him about being on the Tribute for Daniel and he was really cool about it and said he would, but sold his MD to buy a Macbook. I swore his 'Dance Floor Stalker' was a MD but he said it wasn't, "it probably would have been better if I had still had my MD".

Real nice dude.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/11/26 07:24

actuel wrote:

orwell wrote:

I'm looking forward to the next full length lotus album. Also i gott'a check out the SP-303, seems like a funny little box. Imagine what lotus could do with an MD UW!

I heart Flying Lotus material. If your a 'Reset EP' fan, be sure to check out his 'Raw Cartoons' shit....so HOT. Also, I contacted him about being on the Tribute for Daniel and he was really cool about it and said he would, but sold his MD to buy a Macbook. I swore his 'Dance Floor Stalker' was a MD but he said it wasn't, "it probably would have been better if I had still had my MD".

Real nice dude.

Ha! I had no idea that he ever had an MD. Coolio! 8-)

-Now that you say that, actuel, I'm listenin to 'Dance Floor Stalker' and it does sound much like an MD.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2007/11/26 07:58

I don't know that either- thanks for pointing that out actuel hell yeah, all of the ep sounds quite md esque

Know that i understand what's behind the cult of the Md, he's surely mad to sell it for a PC

Raw cartoons?, (quickly consults the giant Google brain), seems like a mix tape. Off to soulseek then to find it. Thanks.

Any other electro-click-hop around that tickles you guys? Lukid is nice, Eloit Lipp's sorta ok.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/11/26 08:37

orwell wrote:

Any other electro-click-hop around that tickles you guys? Lukid is nice, Eloit Lipp's sorta ok.

Nosaj Thing. Another LA cat. He is super dope. Just gettin started. He's on myspace.

He only has one EP as of yet, but he's gonna drop a full length soon. You can buy his shit on iTunes, probably a couple of other places.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2007/11/26 09:32

There's a really hot Prefuse 73 Mix for Hefty Records on iTunes. HERE!!!

Maybe check this DubLab comp: HERE!!!

Caural, Nobod, AmmonContact, Koushik, and the highly slept on first Manitoba/Caribou record "Start Breaking My Heart", there's just soooo many

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by sensorium - 2007/11/27 01:42

Maybe a little different than most here are into, but if you're looking for something different, check out:

Younger Brother - The Last Days of Gravity

Downtempo genre blurring at its best.....

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/11/27 02:56

actuel wrote:

orwell wrote:

I'm looking forward to the next full length lotus album. Also i gott'a check out the SP-303, seems like a funny little box. Imagine what lotus could do with an MD UW!

I heart Flying Lotus material. If your a 'Reset EP' fan, be sure to check out his 'Raw Cartoons' shit....so HOT. Also, I contacted him about being on the Tribute for Daniel and he was really cool about it and said he would, but sold his MD to buy a Macbook. I swore his 'Dance Floor Stalker' was a MD but he said it wasn't, "it probably would have been better if I had still had my MD".

Real nice dude.

Damn, I guess he's still working the SP-303 then?

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/11/27 02:57

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Clipse - Hell Hath No Fury

Ah, a guilty pleasure of mine as well...

I've never considered it a guilty pleasure. :oops:

Is it because of all the lyrics about pushin' cocaine? Because I relate to those perfectly. 8-)

Yeah...it's all the cliches... though even the lyrics are better than the usual slangin the devil's dandruff stuff. That ride aroundd shining beat is just... :-o

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/11/27 02:59

orwell wrote:

While y r at it lend the MD to dabrye and madlib, please!

I'm not sure Madlib would benefit from it... most of his stuff is straight loop stuff. Now Dabrye...I'm sure he could freak it.

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/11/27 03:07

jsrockit wrote:

Now Dabrye...I'm sure he could freak it.

I would imagine he has before. Surely. That would be such a fantastic combo.

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Clipse - Hell Hath No Fury

Ah, a guilty pleasure of mine as well...

I've never considered it a guilty pleasure. :oops:

Is it because of all the lyrics about pushin' cocaine? Because I relate to those perfectly. 8-)

Yeah...it's all the cliches... though even the lyrics are better than the usual slangin the devil's dandruff stuff. That ride aroundd shining beat is just... :-o

Oh yeah!! I love that beat. Most all those beats are great. So dark and minimal. Those Neptunes beats with the Clipse flow is just a perfect combination, imo.

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2007/11/27 03:44

you guys are making me want to resurrect that album -- it's been a while. ride around shining is my second favorite. I think Mr. Me Too is the number one on that album. talk about simple beats. it's like the post-it note of hip hop beats -- could have been me! :-P for me it's been sigur ros, burial, the aloof ("sinking") and some dnb mixes -- mickey finn, kemistry and storm, and aphrodite. the mixes mainly 'cause work has required fierceness! :-o

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2007/11/27 07:02

Raw Cartoons is summer-BQ-simmering. Cheers for the recommendation, and the sore neck!

here's something I spied <http://www.myspace.com/flyamsam>; sounds like a good co-op. 'tendo-Mario-jump-hop'..... bong bong. They should release it on cartridge, lol. I wonder when it drops on plug research?

oh, meanest man contest has a new ep out... and so on it goes

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/11/27 14:55

papertiger wrote:

I think Mr. Me Too is the number one on that album. talk about simple beats. it's like the post-it note of hip hop beats -- could have been me! :-P

Ah PT...I think Neptunes beats are harder to make then people realize. There is perfection in that simplicity. I guess IDM-ers think of hip-hop as simple, but really...to do it well, and to be innovative, takes alot of work. It is easy to make a hip-hop beat, it is hard to make a great hip-hop beat. If you listen to people like DJ Premier in the early to mid 90s... so simple on the surface, but even when people tried to bite his style, they couldn't do it right. When it comes to simplicity, the greatness is in the minor details.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by mike - 2007/12/03 16:28

<http://www.last.fm/user/mike-labo/>

:-)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by yourmama - 2007/12/03 17:10

Burial, Dabrye, Bola, Helen O'Connell

The new (and last) Gescom EP's are hot too!

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by Wavecircle - 2007/12/03 18:20

Flying Lotus is making me dance at the moment.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/03 18:37

Wavecircle wrote:
Flying Lotus is making me dance at the moment.

Dance?

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by skeksi - 2007/12/03 19:13

this week i am mostly listening to:
kate bush
cygnus (<http://www.myspace.com/cygnusmusic>)
prince
zero charisma (<http://www.softoceanhotel.net/remixs/>)
and yeh those new gescom 12"s are mint

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2007/12/03 21:27

I've had Deepchord presents echospace on repeat all week. It's so warm and deep. Now I'm lusting after a Prophet 2000 sampler; apparently the soul behind deepchord.

In a similar vein Morgan Packard's airships fill the sky is wondrous.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2007/12/04 12:36

skeksi wrote:
this week i am mostly listening to:
kate bush
cygnus (<http://www.myspace.com/cygnusmusic>)
prince
zero charisma (<http://www.softoceanhotel.net/remixs/>)
and yeh those new gescom 12"s are mint
Haha Cygnus from XLT! He's brilliant.

A1-D1's a definite grower.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/04 14:45

A1-D1's a definite grower.

Love this one...especially the first track (I have the CD instead of vinyl...not sure how they appear on vinyl).

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by hageir - 2007/12/04 17:00

jsrockit wrote:

A1-D1's a definite grower.

Love this one...especially the first track (I have the CD instead of vinyl...not sure how they appear on vinyl).

it's great, I just ripped it off of bleep.com, in crappy 96kbps quality
but it's actually pretty good :-)

I love music that can sound good in crappy quality
a1 is AWESOME

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/04 17:11

hageir wrote:

it's great, I just ripped it off of bleep.com, in crappy 96kbps quality
but it's actually pretty good :-)

I love music that can sound good in crappy quality
a1 is AWESOME

Why 96kbps?

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2007/12/04 17:23

jsrockit wrote:

Why 96kbps?

Yeah, i don't understand this either. I buy from Bleep all the time. In fact the last album i purchared was Flying Lotus's Reset EP at 320kbps.

:-?

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/04 19:06

actuel wrote:

In fact the last album i purchared was Flying Lotus's Reset EP at 320kbps.

:-?

Haha, me too.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by Wavecircle - 2007/12/04 19:13

jsrockit wrote:

actuel wrote:

In fact the last album i purchared was Flying Lotus's Reset EP at 320kbps.

:-?

Haha, me too.

Am I the only one left who actually leaves the house and buys a record? Great EP though.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2007/12/04 19:44

I would GLADLY walk out of the house and buy a record if (1) the music I listened was available in local record stores (or even chain stores, I don't care) and (2) when it was available it didn't cost double what I could pay through bleep, boomkat digital, etc.

I do miss buying CDs/hardcopies. . . but there's just nowhere to buy it around here at a reasonable price.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/04 19:51

Wavecircle wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

actuel wrote:

In fact the last album i purchared was Flying Lotus's Reset EP at 320kbps.

:-?

Haha, me too.

Am I the only one left who actually leaves the house and buys a record? Great EP though.

Yes, me...that was only the second time I purchased online. Living close to NYC, I still have a few good record stores I can go to.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2007/12/04 20:28

i heart indie stores. as i managed one for 5 years, but i only buy vinyl or digital copies. to me CD's are 'going the way of the dodo'. i have never liked CD format, i'd first rather buy a cassette. so with digital format now having such a vast majority of the content i like, then i buy a digital version for my computer/work/ipod and vinyl for the home/family/good times.

surprisingly, we have great record stores here in indiana. it helps im in a college town now though.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by megawatt - 2007/12/04 20:40

The 2 Boxes of Dub from Souljazz.

Love their recent 12" collection as well...

Not only does Souljazz provide like the best service ever for reggae DJ's with their % series but they put out great new music too!

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/04 22:53

Am I the only fan of CDs here?

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by monofever - 2007/12/04 23:00

I've been getting the Soul Jazz reggae and 12" compilation on CD. I got into the Roots series, but Kings got the most playtime. I still like to have the CD's.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2007/12/05 09:51

jsrockit wrote:

Am I the only fan of CDs here?

No.

Buying from various webstores (Amazon, Boomkat or directly from lables such as Raster-Noton, Samadhisound etc). Most of these lables provide top notch artwork as well.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2007/12/05 09:58

I don't feel like I own a piece of music until I have a platter in front of me, preferably with some nice liner notes or cover art.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by northernligh - 2007/12/05 11:44

albums on rotation:

+ Cobblestone Jazz - 23 Seconds

+ NU:Tone - Back From Beyond
+ Dopplereffekt - Gesamtkunstwerk
+ Boxcutter - Glyphic
+ Lopazz - Kook Kook
+ Burial - Untrue

Get's me through boring workdays just fine
:-D

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2007/12/05 16:12

I've been giving Dopplereffekt's 'Gesamtkunstwerk' a bit of a hammering lately too.... :-)

Also recently :

Luke Vibert : 'Chicago, Detroit, Redruth'

Arpanet : 'Inertial Frame'

Urban Tribe : 'Authorized Clinical Trials'

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/05 16:31

Today... Meat Puppets II, One Self, Vex'd, and Junior Boys.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2007/12/05 17:14

snow (well "snow" for DC) means shoegaze playlist! My Bloody Valentine, Flying Saucer Attack, Ulrich Schanuss (nugaze?), Slowdive, M83 (nugaze?), Yume Bitsu, Pluramon.

Mmmmm.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/05 17:34

Oh man, I forgot about flying saucer attack.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2007/12/05 18:30

jsrockit wrote:

Oh man, I forgot about flying saucer attack.

when i think about FSA, i immediately then mentally traverse to Slowdive's "Pygmalion". mmmm

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2007/12/05 19:53

jsrockit wrote:
Oh man, I forgot about flying saucer attack.

has it really been so long since the last probing?

:-o

(soooo sorry but I could not resist)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2007/12/05 22:50

papertiger wrote:

jsrockit wrote:
Oh man, I forgot about flying saucer attack.

has it really been so long since the last probing?

:-o

(soooo sorry but I could not resist)

I wasn't talking about THAT flying saucer... :-o

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2007/12/06 01:09

papertiger wrote:
snow (well "snow" for DC) means shoegaze playlist! My Bloody Valentine, Flying Saucer Attack, Ulrich Schanuss (nugaze?), Slowdive, M83 (nugaze?), Yume Bitsu, Pluramon.

Mmmmm.

I miss living in places where it snows! :-(

Even some rain is nice. I think it is supposed to rain here this weekend, and I can't wait. It's truly sicko when you live somewhere that makes you look forward to a rainy weekend. 8-)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/01/02 04:40

my gawd, just got turned onto Emperor Machine, most fun my ears have had in a while! check'em:

http://www.bleep.com/?bleep=DCR75

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/01/02 06:09

Can anyone recommend some good acid?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/01/02 06:12

there's just so much. my immediate suggestion is Luke Vibert's recent 'Lover's Acid'. good thing about Vibert is that he's really talented but has maintained a sense of humor...doesn't totally take himself seriously.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Wavecircle - 2008/01/02 06:34

jsrockit wrote:

Can anyone recommend some good acid?

yeah, vibert is great at acid. Yoseph is a great album, his Kerrier District stuff is very good also.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/01/02 06:36

Wavecircle wrote:

yeah, vibert is great at acid. Yoseph is a great album, his Kerrier District stuff is very good also.

OMG you're so right, i forgot all about Kerrier District...soooooooo good! good call man! who can forgot Yoseph's vocoded "I love acid..." :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by udenjoe - 2008/01/02 09:25

Not acid but Black Moth Super Rainbow, AMP's Sirenes, Tokyo Police Club.
Swayzak's Some Other Country is good too.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by northernlight - 2008/01/02 16:45

jsrockit wrote:

Can anyone recommend some good acid?

The Ace of Spades, also a Luke Vibert project. Album I've got is called Benefist and it's proper 101/303/808/909 acid B)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/01/02 18:56

Agreed, Benefist is classic acid house material and Yoseph is a brilliant album too.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/01/02 22:20

I have Yoseph... I'll try the others.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/01/03 02:21

Currently listening to Don Caballero's last album and I've also been listening to a lot of Foals. "Math rock" kicks arse!!!
:cheer:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ozu - 2008/01/03 19:54

frank bretschnneider rythm
i just love it

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/01/07 00:51

Burial "Untrue"
Wilco "Sky Blue Sky"
Beans "Thorns"
Gescom
Hi-Tek "Hi-Teknology 3"
Air "Moon Safari"
Soundmurderer "Wired for Sound"
J Dilla "Donuts"
Pan-American

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/01/07 01:35

this week:

Marlena Shaw - Spice of Life
Emperor Machine - Vertical Tones ...
Bell Orchestra - Recording a Tape....
Isan - Isan Live
Morr Music VA collection release - A Number of Small Things

Broadcast - Microtronics vol 1 & 2
The Fall - A sides
Francisco Semprun & Michel Christodoulides - Espaces dynamiques Dublab radio
Caribou - Tour CD

and the college radio station on the commute.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/01/07 01:43

i've been on random all week with some soundtracks thrown in (there will be blood and the hours).

Top five albums on 2007! I want to hear what you guys think. Mine, in no particular order are:

The Field - From Here We Go Sublime
Radiohead - In Rainbows
Arcade Fire - Neon Bible
Burial - Untrue
Panda Bear - Person Pitch

Overall, I think it was a great year for music. As for song of the year, I think that goes to Atlas by Battles (chungu chungu chungu).

M

(new AE in two months!!!)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/01/07 02:02

Top 5 for the year?

hmmm...

Mablib Beat Konducta Vol. 3-4
Oh No Dr. Oxno's Oxperiment
Wilco Sky Blue Sky
J Dilla Ruff Draft (Reissue)
Burial Untrue

Every year is a good year for music...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/01/11 18:06

Releases from 2007 I enjoyed:

Morgan Packard 'Airships fill the sky'
Valdilsav Delay 'Whistleblower'
Nine Horses 'Money for all' EP
Bugge Wesseltoft 'Im'
Fennesz/Sakamoto 'Cendre'
Deepchord/Echospace 'The Coldest Season'

Favourite track submitted on E.U. in 2007: JGB's 'Torparmar'.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/01/14 12:56

oooh, top 2007 releases for me:

- M.I.A. - Kala
- Venetian Snares - My Downfall
- Blonde Redhead - 23
- Radiohead - In Rainbows
- Battles - Mirrored
- Panda Bear - Person Pitch
- CocoRosie - The Adventures of Ghosthorse and Stillborn
- Boom Bip - Sacchrilege EP
- Vladislav Delay - Whistleblower
- Monolake - Interstate (Remaster)
- St. Vincent - Marry Me

really excited for the new AE and the new possible Shpongle!:cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2008/01/14 13:30

top 5

- 1 Panda bear - Person Pitch
 - 2 Jens Lekman - Night Falls Over Kortedala
 - 3 EL-P - i'll sleep when i'm dead
 - 4 LCD soundsystem - sounds of silver
 - 5 Shape of broad minds - Craft Of The Lost Art
- =====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/01/14 15:26

Autechre fakes :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emminor9 - 2008/01/14 19:30

Rew wrote:

oooh, top 2007 releases for me:

- Monolake - Interstate (Remaster)

really excited for the new AE and the new possible Shpongle!:cheer:

Hi Rew, big fan of Interstate (the original version) - have you been able to compare the remaster with the original and if so is it worth to get it ?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/01/14 20:41

eminor9:

I don't own the original Interstate release (its out of print now!:() So I havent been able to do any real side by side comparisons.... but from what i remember of listens at friend's houses.... the Remaster def. sounds more expansive and crisp! (as well it should;))

Henke says on his website that it sounds "much darker, crunchier and deeper, than his first attempt. Maybe less loud than what you would do for massive airplay, but certainly very rich!" He says that Rashad Becker used "some obscure analogue compressors and filters" on the remaster and that it "really blew them away".

I dunno... to me the new release certainly sounds amazing and seems to be in the same sonic vein as the Alaska Remixes. "Amazon" is an AMAZING track!!!:woohoo: ... and i don't recall being too impressed with it before.... so,

Give it a listen!!! I'd really be interested to know what you think!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/01/14 22:15

Yeah, read it on his site this morning, that's why I was inquiring here. To me the original already sounds pretty amazing (together with Cinemascope probably my favourite Monolake). Anyway, there are cheap imports available from the US so I might as well rebuy it.

Does this one come with a digipack ?

'Amazon' is indeed :woohoo: x10 !

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/01/29 11:17

my gawd, i just bought the new Clark 'Turning Dragon' from Bleep, so fcking good. heater w/ many repeats forecasted!

+++highly recommend.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/01/29 13:59

Surgeon - This is for You Shits

Super Furry Animals - Hey Venus!

Panda Bear - Person Pitch

Juno soundtrack

V/A - Black Mirror (some great music from before 1955 from around the world!)

Whitehouse - Racket

Scorn - Stealth (if you want BASS, then this is your uh-huh...)

Broadcast - Tender Buttons

Jesu - Conqueror (still!)

LCD's "Someone Great" (could do without the lyrics, honestly, cos the music rules!)

Time of Orchids

Extra Life (especially "I don't see it that way")

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/01/29 21:56

On today's agenda:

James Brown "Hell"

Tortoise

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/01/29 23:28

sounds like things are rough at work, JS! :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/01/29 23:54

No, just was watching a Blaxplotation documentary on TV last night and they played alot of JB. But when I went looking for JB, I found Tortoise as well...so I pulled it out.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/01/30 02:44

scuto wrote:

LCD's "Someone Great" (could do without the lyrics, honestly, cos the music rules!)

You better go out and buy 45:33 then... it's got an extended instrumental version of Someone Great. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/01/30 05:28

actuel wrote:

my gawd, i just bought the new Clark 'Turning Dragon' from Bleep, so fcking good. heater w/ many repeats forecasted!

+++highly recommend.

Oh shit! I didn't even know that Clark released something new! I LOVED 'Body Riddle'. :cheer:

goes to iTunes like a heating-seeking missile!!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/01/30 05:30

ThinkTanx, use your LA-addled brain and buy it on bleep. No DRM and better quality encoding.

:kiss:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/01/30 05:34

papertiger wrote:

ThinkTanx, use your LA-addled brain and buy it on bleep. No DRM and better quality encoding.

:kiss:

Ahh... fuck! I forgot about Bleep, haven't used it in forever. I'm so used to iTunes and Beatport. Oh well... next time.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/01/30 05:35

we need a "weaksauce" emoticon. :S

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/01/30 05:37

papertiger wrote:

we need a "weaksauce" emoticon. :S

Yo, I'm firmly entrenched in the Apple empire. I've owned five computers, two displays, five iPods, and I've bought over 1200 songs on iTunes! :blush: :dry:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/01/30 06:20

papertiger wrote:

we need a "weaksauce" emoticon. :S

you mean like this one? :sauce:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/01/30 06:21

why, yes, actually. that's precisely what I was thinking of!

edit

:word: :sauce:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/01/30 06:50

futureimage wrote:

scuto wrote:

LCD's "Someone Great" (could do without the lyrics, honestly, cos the music rules!)

You better go out and buy 45:33 then... it's got an extended instrumental version of Someone Great. :)

Uh oh! Thanks for the tip! I had heard about that release, but never took the time...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emminor9 - 2008/02/01 22:28

Rew wrote:

emminor9:

I don't own the original Interstate release (its out of print now!:() So I havent been able to do any real side by side comparisons.... but from what i remember of listens at friend's houses.... the Remaster def. sounds more expansive and crisp! (as well it should;))

Henke says on his website that it sounds "much darker, crunchier and deeper, than his first attempt. Maybe less loud than what you would do for massive airplay, but certainly very rich!" He says that Rashad Becker used "some obscure analogue compressors and filters" on the remaster and that it "really blew them away".

I dunno... to me the new release certainly sounds amazing and seems to be in the same sonic vein as the Alaska Remixes. "Amazon" is an AMAZING track!!!:woohoo: ... and i don't recall being too impressed with it before.... so,

Give it a listen!!! I'd really be interested to know what you think!

Just got my copy of the remaster. Henke didn't lie. It sounds absolutely stunning. Eargasmic. The low end is much more apparent and the high end is less harsh/more pleasing then on the original version. I'd be a happy man if my tracks sounded half as good as his.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by MCL - 2008/02/02 02:15

Been listening to a lot of old Neil Landstrumm stuff on Peacefrog - Most notably:

Brown By August, and the Inhabit the Machines EP. - Forgot how good this stuff was/is!:ohmy:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/02/04 03:48

I'm not going to go through 10 pages of posts to see if anyone mentioned this before, but Harmonic 313 is a recent find.

<http://bleep.com/?bleep=WAP231D>

Sick electro hip-hop beats, slightly acid, Detroit style, a la Dabrye.

This is Reload's Mark Pritchard's project, by the way.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/02/04 04:01

Glitched, Harmonic 313 is good. I picked it up when i nabbed the new Clark & Autechre. They sound promising.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/02/04 11:22

Ohhh... this Harmonic 313 sounds very promising.

Big thanks for the heads up Glitched! ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/02/10 17:56

Listened to Jackson & His Computer Band's "Smash" album yesterday, I had forgotten how good it is!!! :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/02/11 02:03

ThinkTanx wrote:

Ohhh... this Harmonic 313 sounds very promising.

Big thanks for the heads up Glitched! ;)

Yeah--unfortunately, there are really only 4 real songs on there.

If you like this stuff, I highly, highly recommend Dabrye:

<http://www.ghostly.com/1.0/artists/dabrye/>

Also, hit up his myspace for some free flows:

<http://www.myspace.com/taddmullinux>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/02/11 04:29

Yep, big Dabrye fan.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by udenjoe - 2008/02/22 23:35

I really like MGMT recently. "Electric Feel" is a nice song. The song writer is a keyboard player. I saw them open for Of Montreal. I liked their album more than their live show. The keyboardist had a Little Phatty.
Here is a live clip: <http://youtube.com/watch?v=XqzoRQv2UIU>
Here is Electric Feel video that comes with the CD (turn up your speakers): <http://youtube.com/watch?v=SQF8ep-OJLs&feature=related>
I love how they don't play the instruments in time with the song.

I don't know why I still come here. I don't own anything Elektron anymore.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/02/22 23:51

you'll always be welcome here, udenjoe. the price of admission is being not a jerk. ;)

congrats -- you qualify.

been listening to a lot of spiritualized lately. love to turn it up loudly and sing along, poorly!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2008/02/22 23:59

I've been listening to mgmt too, is a very good album- going to see them on thursday too.
Also finally bought the simian mobile disco album which is a decent four on the floor romp, kinky!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/02/23 00:12

ThinkTanx wrote:
Yep, big Dabrye fan.

two/three is a fantastic album... got the instrumental version of two/three as well.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by hageir - 2008/02/23 22:36

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Why 96kbps?

Yeah, i don't understand this either. I buy from Bleep all the time. In fact the last album i purchared was Flying Lotus's Reset EP at 320kbps.

:-?

:laugh:

I downloaded the "preview" tracks :)

I didn't buy them, I just can't stand the damn "fade-out-every-10-seconds" thing, when listening to previews :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/02/24 10:33

Let's see, at the moment:

Modeselektor (always!)

Apparat (especially the 'Berlin, Tel Aviv, Montreal' EP)

Ben Klock

Feadz

Missy Elliott (almost forgot how hot some of this shit was/is)

Clark (the new album)

Clipse, Re-Up Gang (been stuck on repeat for me for the last two years or so as well)

Boys Noize

I still can't totally decide how much I like the Boys Noize stuff. It has a visceral impact that is rad, but I really dislike almost all of this trendy rock-ish, big beat-type stuff from Paris (I know Alex Ridha's not from Paris, but he has done stuff on Kitsune). Probably unfair to lump him in. I wouldn't want someone to do the same to me. Maybe I should just enjoy it and quit thinking about it so much (plus he uses an MD)! :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrocket - 2008/02/25 02:08

Beastie Boys "Paul's Boutique"

Venetian Snares

Pole "R"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/02/25 02:22

currently going through the heap of submitted tracks for the 45 Tribute

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ridethefader - 2008/02/25 02:45

been into tycho lately

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Allerian - 2008/02/25 03:17

actuel wrote:

currently going through the heap of submitted tracks for the 45 Tribute

The what?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/02/25 04:25

Allerian wrote:

actuel wrote:
currently going through the heap of submitted tracks for the 45 Tribute

The what?

ya know: http://elektron-users.com/index.php?option=com_fireboard&Itemid=28&func=view&id=22510&catid=13&limit=10&limitstart=40 feels weird to quote myself, but here goes:

actually the date for user submission is January 20th. The project is set to be released on March 1st. I will consider late entries but we pretty much have to start making final decisions in the beginning of February. So no promises on late entries.

additionally, i'm still waiting for a handful of tracks from the larger artists, not that you aren't all livin' large too!

all things are moving swimmingly though. just rounding up the rest of the submissions, then we'll go over and vote on the user submissions that make the cut. i'll be releasing more info on the other artists who are contributing once i've received all the songs. it's a hefty list, and some of the user contributions are stunning!

also, we're working out the details of the URL, website, checkout system, press release, special give away (not telling yet!), etc.

hmmm, what else...oh there's a official name now: 45 - Tribute to Daniel Hansson. Why '45', well, I asked Elektron to come up with a name that had something to do with Daniel. I wanted something that had some significance and I wasn't that close to him, as the Elektron crew was. So after thinking about it, they came back with 45. 45 was a number Daniel liked a lot. His old demo band was called 'Zone 45'. So there you go!

more soon!

just in case you're asking what i meant by 'heap': <http://dictionary.reference.com/browse/heap>

now i'm confused :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Allerian - 2008/02/25 05:29

Oh... gotcha!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by altemark - 2008/02/25 14:51

Discharge - WHY

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Tarekith - 2008/02/25 22:49

Lots of Ultimae stuff here, some older Kilowatts CDs, and BOC.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by sorgenkind - 2008/02/27 19:54

esbjörn svensson trio "good morning susie soho"

kenny burrell "midnight blue"

tonns of roots reggae ---> a friend of mine collects rare roots reggae vinyls and when he is bored he just rips them in the computer, I help him a bit (he has 5000+ records) and as thanks I can burn on CD with the rips we do.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ILM - 2008/02/28 01:16

BFC

sepultura-chaos ad

keith leblanc - major malfunction

vsnares - find candace

autechre - quaristice

B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by skeksi - 2008/02/28 02:34

throbbing gristle

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kuniklo - 2008/02/28 03:05

brahms

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Syn303 - 2008/02/28 06:43

Namlook & Inoue - Shades Of Orion I, II & III

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cult.of.ray - 2008/02/28 09:54

last few months i've been listening to Limbik Frequencies radio a lot.

<http://www.limbikfreq.com/>

strangely enough for someone who just bought a MNM i have never really listened to all that much electronic music. most of my life i have been into various alt rock/experimental stuff and listened to only a limited amount of electro like AFX / Orbital / Plastikman etc.. and whatever else i happened to come across.

aside from that lately i've been listening to a lot of Oingo Boingo, The Police and Thanatopsis :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ridethefader - 2008/02/28 10:49

ILM wrote:
BFC
sepultura-chaos ad
keith leblanc - major malfunction
vsnares - find candace
autechre - quaristice
B)

not a lot of talk about the new autechre record

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Allerian - 2008/03/01 00:13

<http://www.allerian.com/images/katamaridamacy1.jpg>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/03/13 03:04

Man, this new Clark album, 'Turning Dragon', just gets better and better. It's one of the most astonishingly accomplished (try saying that five times fast!!) electronic albums I've heard in the last couple of years.

Highly recommended!

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/13 03:13

Odd Nosdam "Level Live Wires" Prefuse 73 "One Word Extinguisher"
cLOUDDEAD

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/13 03:14

quaristice (versions) -- yay it finally arrived.

also pan sonic.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/03/13 03:35

jsrockit wrote:

Prefuse 73 "One Word Extinguisher"

Probably in my All-Time Top Ten (definitely Top 20).

And, of course, my Anticon boys whom I used to record back in the day.

You got good taste, JS.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/03/13 03:36

+1 for Quaristice special edition

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/13 03:50

ThinkTanx wrote:

You got good taste, JS.

Thank you sir. Now, if I could just translate my good taste into my own music ... :(:laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/13 04:01

btw, allerian -- that made me lol at work. thank you. =)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Jims computer beats - 2008/03/13 05:09

Autechre - Quaristice (can't wait to see the show!--> apr 13th, montreal)

The tuss - confederation trough and rushup edge

Luke Vibert - Lover's acid

Radiohead - In rainbows

classics

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/13 05:31

omg! jim! where did you find the tuss?

o_O

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Jims computer beats - 2008/03/13 08:40

papertiger wrote:

omg! jim! where did you find the tuss?

o_O

Found it at a local record store, in montreal, Canada.

It's called Â«cheap thrillsÂ», it's little, and it got all the electronic music that I need!! (ok, maybe not the quaristice special edition...).

Those little local stores are always worth checking; they often got stuff you would not find in big commercial stores!!

jm

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/13 08:50

ThinkTanx wrote:

Man, this new Clark album, 'Turning Dragon', just gets better and better. It's one of the most astonishingly accomplished (try saying that five times fast!!) electronic albums I've heard in the last couple of years.

Highly recommended!

:)

absolutely agree. i have been listening to this in the phones while remodeling lately, and it's absolutely stunning.

others:

Tribe - Midnight Marauders

Lee Morgan - Rump Roller

45 Tribute

Tony Allen - No discrimination

Liars - Liars

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/03/13 09:15

actuel wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Man, this new Clark album, 'Turning Dragon', just gets better and better. It's one of the most astonishingly accomplished (try saying that five times fast!!) electronic albums I've heard in the last couple of years.

Highly recommended!

:)

absolutely agree. i have been listening to this in the phones while remodeling lately, and it's absolutely stunning.

Yeah, Clark's got me makin all my beats in like 9/4 and shit right now! :laugh:

Of course, the bleedin' Elektron gear is not so conducive! :S

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/13 09:17

actuel wrote:
45 Tribute

boooo!! no fair!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/03/13 09:20

papertiger wrote:
actuel wrote:
45 Tribute

boooo!! no fair!!

You're one to talk!! :P :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/13 09:46

papertiger wrote:
actuel wrote:
45 Tribute

boooo!! no fair!!

Man, the 45 tribute should have a limited edition 7" record running at 45 rpms of the two coolest tracks as voted on by the Elektron folks. ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ridethefader - 2008/03/13 09:51

Midnight Marauders

I want that on vinyl

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/13 10:40

jsrockit wrote:
Man, the 45 tribute should have a limited edition 7" record running at 45 rpms of the two coolest tracks as voted on by the Elektron folks. ;)

it can be a reality if it's something you want to take on.

after this i'm done with any major projects for a while...well at least the ones that don't pay. i have loved doing it but between the site refresh and the tribute, i have devoted 8 months to elektron related projects...time to chill.

gotta a house, baby, and music to keep me busy.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by JANGWU - 2008/03/13 11:24

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Z5_qhnWByA4&feature=related

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2008/03/13 14:15

Glass Candy - Beat Box

Lusine Ici - Language Barrier

Sawako - Hum

Sissikontest - Boys on Tranquilizers

Valgeir Sigurdsson - Ekvilibrium

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by seventhfactor - 2008/03/14 02:48

I got the new autechre album coming in the mail. I haven't listened to them much since i saw them live in 2000 in NYC. I really liked their set on radio1 so i figured i would give it a shot. :huh:

Also:

Dominik Eulberg - Bionik

and i'm going thru the virb pages of all Elektron users musik. Great stuff and inspiring to me! :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/14 02:53

seventhfactor wrote:

and i'm going thru the virb pages of all Elektron users musik. Great stuff and inspiring to me! :P

completely agree. I love being able to take this stuff with me on my ipod, though, since that's where i do most of my listening. streaming only is the moops. =)

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/03/14 03:19

Gescom - Boogie Down Bronx.

Can't get enough of it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/14 04:13

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Man, the 45 tribute should have a limited edition 7" record running at 45 rpms of the two coolest tracks as voted on by the Elektron folks. ;)

it can be a reality if it's something you want to take on.

after this i'm done with any major projects for a while...well at least the ones that don't pay. i have loved doing it but between the site refresh and the tribute, i have devoted 8 months to elektron related projects...time to chill.

gotta a house, baby, and music to keep me busy.

I can't even complete simple songs...much less a project of this magnitude. Plus, I don't even feel the same connection as you guys do to the Elektron folks. They are anonymous to me... but I sure love their machines. actuel, the work you did on this will pay off in mysterious ways.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by monofever - 2008/03/14 21:20

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Man, the 45 tribute should have a limited edition 7" record running at 45 rpms of the two coolest tracks as voted on by the Elektron folks. ;)

it can be a reality if it's something you want to take on.

after this i'm done with any major projects for a while...well at least the ones that don't pay. i have loved doing it but between the site refresh and the tribute, i have devoted 8 months to elektron related projects...time to chill.

gotta a house, baby, and music to keep me busy.

So if I front and organise pressing x copies, and deal with distribution, I can get permission from the lucky two artists?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/14 21:45

monofever wrote:

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Man, the 45 tribute should have a limited edition 7" record running at 45 rpms of the two coolest tracks as voted on by the Elektron folks. ;)

it can be a reality if it's something you want to take on.

after this i'm done with any major projects for a while...well at least the ones that don't pay. i have loved doing it but between the site refresh and the tribute, i have devoted 8 months to elektron related projects...time to chill.

gotta a house, baby, and music to keep me busy.

So if I front and organise pressing x copies, and deal with distribution, I can get permission from the lucky two artists?

dunno. you'd have to have the artist agree to it. also, i'd suggest only going after the exclusives. not all the tracks on the tribute are exclusives.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/14 21:49

jsrockit wrote:

actuel, the work you did on this will pay off in mysterious ways.

i appreciate and understand. in many ways, doing all this work has already benefitted me. maybe not financially but in other more subtle areas. i hope it didn't come across as i was bitching about it or trying to play martyr, just saying i'm done with additional projects for e-u for a minute.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/03/15 02:50

monofever wrote:

So if I front and organise pressing x copies, and deal with distribution, I can get permission from the lucky two artists? Without sounding pretentious I'd be totally up to be on a physical release if you're after unsigned artists.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by monofever - 2008/03/15 05:50

futureimage wrote:

monofever wrote:

So if I front and organise pressing x copies, and deal with distribution, I can get permission from the lucky two artists? Without sounding pretentious I'd be totally up to be on a physical release if you're after unsigned artists.

I would consider pressing the two most popular of the available tracks (as far as permission goes), and in a format that people want to buy, of course this is a charitable project so I would need to have a chance of creating a profitable release, since these 7" with labels and sleeves would be minimum Â£5 delivered to the buyer, and 300-500 pressed, it's a lot of stamps to lick. Does that sound like a lot of vinyl?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/15 09:50

monofever wrote:

futureimage wrote:

monofever wrote:

So if I front and organise pressing x copies, and deal with distribution, I can get permission from the lucky two artists? Without sounding pretentious I'd be totally up to be on a physical release if you're after unsigned artists.

I would consider pressing the two most popular of the available tracks (as far as permission goes), and in a format that people want to buy, of course this is a charitable project so I would need to have a chance of creating a profitable release, since these 7" with labels and sleeves would be minimum Â£5 delivered to the buyer, and 300-500 pressed, it's a lot of stamps to lick. Does that sound like a lot of vinyl?

i'm pretty familiar with the 7" market and pressing one-time runs, i personally think that's a lot of 7" for too unnamed artist on a format many don't buy. i personally love vinyl and am a collector, so i would be down to buy one and could even assist in promoting and such, but 300-500 is going to be a lot to get rid of. even for well known artist 300-500 is a considerable.

just my quick thoughts on it. i'm not trying to discourage you because i'm all for it personally.

feel free to email me if you'd like to talk more about it. i have some really solid connections to some label heads, pressing plants, and PR folks. these are all things you have to factor in, and probably things you already know....just sayin'

my sole reason for not pressing CD's or Vinyl of the 45 Tribute is licensing. also, i have no love for the CD format. it's pretty miserable imo. there are some new and crafty ways of successfully promoting digital releases, limited edition vinyl, signed artwork, etc. i'm current starting a label based a lot around these new models. i've spent the last year speaking a gang of folks in the industry of the realities of how to do this. we'll see...

anyway, enough about that. i'm intrigued to see where this goes monofever. if you're footing the bill, you're not going to have a hard time finding 2 artist willing to be on a 7" :silly:

i'm also curious when you say 'profit' what you mean? do you mean, make your money back? you can't say charity and profit at the same time...very different!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/15 09:54

futureimage wrote:

...I'd be totally up to be on a physical release if you're after unsigned artists.

don't know an unsigned artist who wouldn't be ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by monofever - 2008/03/15 17:16

As far as profit goes, I mean it would need to cover the outlay to make anything for the charity, otherwise I could just send you all a fiver, which I'm sure would be OK with everyone here.

If there were two stand out tacks that say 100 EU members voted onto a two track disc, that would suggest to me it could be popular enough to distribute through internet direct sales and smaller specialist record shops worldwide, of corse that would require the involvement other charitable individuals from the EU community around the world who want to help facilitate a worldwide release.

I thought Â£5 was quite a small amount, I guess Â£4.50 would be the usual price in the UK, I had factored worldwide postage into that amount, and I guess a little packaging, of course it's supposed to generate some profits for charity so people might dig a little deeper into the pockets, here in the UK Â£5 is the price of a short midi cable...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/15 20:39

actuel wrote:

futureimage wrote:

...I'd be totally up to be on a physical release if you're after unsigned artists.

don't know an unsigned artist who wouldn't be ;)

I wouldn't be if I had to pay... I was on a compilation with some "name" artists back in the day...people who went on to even be reviewed in Time and Newsweek...and I still couldn't sell my portion of the CDs (300) on ebay. I basically paid (everyone paid) to have way too many CDs in my closet and to have 3 embarassing songs released to the public. :laugh: I sold some on ebay...anywhere from $14.00 to .99...but eventually, even .99 wouldn't work.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by monofever - 2008/03/15 22:11

That's a sobering experience, do you think the 45 tribute would struggle to sell 300 copies?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/15 22:53

monofever wrote:

That's a sobering experience, do you think the 45 tribute would struggle to sell 300 copies?

of 7" vinyl yes. i think you could sell about 75 real quick. aside from a select few that would purchase through here, why would someone who isn't familiar w/ Elektron, the artist, or Daniel buy it? just playing devils advocate. i hate to see you get stuck on this deal. i have seen this time and time again with my friends pressing 7".

if there's no hurry to unload them or to cover your cost, then you could probably over time unload them. it's definitely gamble. a worthy endeavor, you just have to consider what's the bottom-line, and worst case scenario. if those two don't scare you away then i'd say do it.

MORE IMPORTANTLY, we've officially hijacked this thread. if you want to continue discussing this please open up a new thread.

:hijk:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Tarekith - 2008/03/15 23:36

I think 300 would be hard to sell if we're talking vinyl, this is a rather niche style of music and smaller community by all standards. I think some of the big names on the compo will help drive the DL sales outside of E-U users here, but it'll be harder to find people who actually want a vinyl version.

Just my $0.2 though.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/03/16 03:23

Yeah I guess vinyl would be pretty hard to sell...

But I KNOW that the compilation will get downloaded more than 300 times. With so many signed artists on there fans should be downloading this like crazy.

I just hope to God that it doesn't get shared for free on the internet. You'd have to be such an asshole to do that.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/16 03:40

futureimage wrote:

I just hope to God that it doesn't get shared for free on the internet. You'd have to be such an asshole to do that.

unfortunately this will probably happen. there's no real safe guard to prevent anyone from doing this...at least none that aren't cumbersome. it sucks but it happens.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lolita - 2008/03/16 09:00

ive just got turning dragon, but havent "got it" yet. granted, i havent given it alot of time, but it hasnt grabbed me the same asbody riddle or previous ones did.

Today:

Bjork: verspertine

Biffy clyro: vertigo of bliss and Autechres Untilted, at least 4 times in a row. All my friends think its rubbish, but i reckon its my fave. Or at least that and draft in a serious to the death battle!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/03/16 18:07

lolita wrote:

ive just got turning dragon, but havent "got it" yet. granted, i havent given it alot of time, but it hasnt grabbed me the same asbody riddle or previous ones did.

Yeah, give it a few more spins! The first couple of times I played it, it didn't grab me either. I was thinking... 'wtf... has he gone all metal disto on me?', then it just clicked and I realized how bleeding brilliant it is.

Personally, it's like tracks 3 thru 8 (the heart of the record... 'For Wolves Crew'... holy shit!!) that really do it for me, and I think that's why it took a few spins to get it, because I would kinda tune out after the first two tracks. Of course, now I totally appreciate the whole thing.

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/03/16 20:14

The COMPLETE soundtrack of Chariots Of Fire - many different versions here.

Untilted is, IMO, the best Ae album and the one that really got me into their work.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cult.of.ray - 2008/03/16 22:40

futureimage wrote:

The COMPLETE soundtrack of Chariots Of Fire - many different versions here.

The Bad Plus have done a very good cover of Chariots of Fire :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/17 01:47

ThinkTanx wrote:

Yeah, give it a few more spins!

good advice -- it's clark day over here and it's fun to contrast dragon to body riddle. they both kick ass for varying reasons, the primary one being clark's skills. damn.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/03/17 06:26

The one time I saw Clark (when he had a "Chris") live, it was kind of embarrassing. Sudden stops and starts, right in the middle of a groove. Hmm. Someone please tell me I saw a one-time thing!

Right now listening to Afropop Worldwide. Great radio show. Right now they're talking about hip-life, which is a combo of hip-hop and highlife.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by pelekto - 2008/03/17 16:12

Trying to find out what the fuzz is about with Autechre untitled.. :huh:

It's slowly sinking in..
Spescially the tracks Pro Radil and Augmatic Disport :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2008/03/17 19:01

Donacha Costello 'Color Series' - well done classic house

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/19 08:03

Wow, you guys and gals were not kidding about Clark's new one...holy smokes... crazy! I haven't liked many of his albums since the first one... the one he did using basically a 90s yamaha synth that noone cares about anymore. His first kit list in the following article.

http://remixmag.com/mag/remix_warp_records_brave/

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by pelekto - 2008/03/20 07:15

Just a tip to all wanting to hear great use of monomachine, hear this:
Susanna & The Magical orchestra
The first record is full of great use of this great machine..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by sonar_xl - 2008/03/20 07:20

Autechre, Gescom, Bola, Squarepusher, Felec, Frank Zappa, Radiohead, Thom York, Lamb, Richard Devine.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/20 08:33

new portishead track, machine gun. any fans here? what do you guys think? also. . . dare I ask. . . is that an md?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/20 08:35

papertiger wrote:

new portishead track, machine gun. any fans here? what do you guys think? also. . . dare I ask. . . is that an md?

Where'd ya hear it?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/20 09:17

you can download it through their website -- have to jump through some hoops, but follow the links on the page and it will take you to island records download site. it's 79 pence, which is like, $5.00 with the exchange rate.

;-)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2008/03/20 19:09

papertiger wrote:

you can download it through their website -- have to jump through some hoops, but follow the links on the page and it will take you to island records download site. it's 79 pence, which is like, $5.00 with the exchange rate.

;-)

Will be buying the album when it comes out - I still like physical objects. Portishead is one of those bands that changed my perception on music.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/20 20:48

papertiger wrote:

you can download it through their website -- have to jump through some hoops, but follow the links on the page and it will take you to island records download site. it's 79 pence, which is like, $5.00 with the exchange rate.

;-)

Ah, forget it then. Not big on buying one song at a time.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/20 22:26

i agree completely -- I will be buying the physical CD as well. however, I could not resist an advance taste and was very curious to see if their sound has evolved.

it has. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/20 22:53

Oh, I will figure out how to listen...but I hate charging my CC with small crap like that.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/03/20 23:00

I've waited for 10 years so hopefully one month more won't be harmful to my health.

Of course PT made me curious now ...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/20 23:01

PH Video:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WrsEDT2myQk&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/03/21 00:04

jsrockit wrote:

PH Video:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WrsEDT2myQk&feature=related>

Thanks for those, Portishead has to be judged on listening through good hifi though, not from compressed files on crappy pc speakers.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/21 00:55

eminor9 wrote:

Thanks for those, Portishead has to be judged on listening through good hifi though, not from compressed files on crappy pc speakers.

ok. I'm sorry to have polluted your brain with such taint. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/21 01:40

jsrockit wrote:
taint

mmm, taint :D

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nils - 2008/03/21 05:25

pelektor wrote:
Just a tip to all wanting to hear great use of monomachine, hear this:
Susanna & The Magical orchestra

Oh yes, lovely music! Didn't know they used a Mono, though :-)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/22 23:53

J Dilla "Jay Love Japan"
Gnarls Barkley "The Odd Couple"
A Tribe Called Quest "People's Instinctive Travels and the Paths of Rhythm"
Clark "Turning Dragon"
J Dilla "Donuts"
A Tribe Called Quest "Midnight Marauders" holden "the idiots are winning"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/03/23 03:03

Japan

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/03/23 05:34

My year-long obsession with Modeselektor continues! And Clark is still doing it for me right now. Also lots of Apparat lately.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by daswesen - 2008/03/23 21:12

I'm pretty intense when I listen to something, mostly I don't listen to a lot of music. This is what's I've been listening to in the last few months:

richie hawtin - closer to the edit richie hawtin - live at gorod club

robert hood - minimal nation elliot smith - elliot smith joni mitchell - hejira (pastorius on bass!)

and that's about it. Each album got like 50 listens :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/03/24 01:27

Joao Gilberto - Joao voz e violao (such a warm, cozy album)

Thao Nguyen with the Get Down Stay Down - We Brave Bee Stings and All

Super Furry Animals - Hey Venus!

My live set from last night.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by sorgenkind - 2008/03/24 04:54

rotating in my player since a couple of weeks

tosca - opera
tosca - suzuki tosca - different tastes of honey k&d sessions
deadbeat - wild life documentaries

i just happend to dig in my old cd collection and started ripping those old cds. guess it's a nostalgic trip.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/03/28 04:08

Foals - Antidotes
Japan
Radiohead

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/03/28 04:25

Been listening to this Modeselektor live set constantly lately. If anyone wants to hear how to rock the crowd, I suggest you ch-ch-ch-check it, yo...

<http://www.divshare.com/download/1941267-2a3>

Tracklist:

Modeselektor feat. Puppetmastaz - The Darkside Of The Sun
Modeselektor feat. TTC - 2000007
Modeselektor feat. Ninjaman - Weed Wid Da Macka
Modeselektor - Godspeed
Thom Yorke - Skip Divided (Modeselektor Remix)

Modeselektor - Black Block
Modeselektor feat. Thom Yorke - The White Flash
Ghislain Poirier feat. Face T - Blazin' (Modeselektor Remix)
Modeselektor - Edgar

That bassline on 'Weed Wid Da Macka' is freakin me right at this very minute! :woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by D07N01R - 2008/03/28 04:34

Harold Budd
ENO
STARS of the LID
Autechre
FSOL "dead cities"
NEW MEAT BEAT MANIFESTO
LAURIE ANDERSON
VENETIAN SNARES "my downfall"
300 score
The FORMS
BILL HICKS
DINO FILEPE
NORA KINGS of LEON
EXHORDER
COCTEU TWINS
SOLARIS sndtrk

etc. on n on n on n on n on

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by salrip - 2008/03/28 17:44

townes van zandt
guy clark neil young set fire to flames krunch philip glass burzum
pet shop boys back to mine-album (both cd's are grrreat)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/03/28 21:04

J Dilla
Madlib
Can "Ege Bamyasi"
Burial "Untrue"
Dabrye Two/Three Instrumentals

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/03/29 01:00

fuck buttons! and they'll be in town on Sunday night with Caribou -- anyone seen either live?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/03/29 01:14

love most of D07N01R & JS's picks. all very good. though Can's 'Tago Mago' is the champion in their discography me thinks...Ege riding a tight # 2 position.

while doing house work i have lived and died by Black Mountain.

others this week:

The Faint
Tony Allen
Sonic Youth Evol/Rather Ripped
new Magnetic Fields
Liars
Flying Lotus
Don Cherry (i heart)
Autechre
and Dublab sets (love being a Proton giver!)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/03/29 02:02

actuel wrote:

Dublab sets (love being a Proton giver!)

They're great, aren't they?! One of my best friends used to date Kutmah, who was a dublab founder of sorts. Nearly everything they do is rather fantastic, imo.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/04/03 13:09

Been all up on Knifehandchop - 'How I Left You' this week. Mix seems to be a bit off to me (without the volume pumped you really lose some things), but the beats kill. Love how he jumps from bouncy to hardcore in a second.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/04/08 03:47

grab the latest free Daedelus single: <http://daedelusmusic.com/>

new shit is sounding hawt. you can also check his exclusive on the 45 Tribute dropping later this week!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ILM - 2008/04/11 08:59

this week its been steady rotations of popol vuh - aguirre wrath of god ost eyehategod - dopesick rob hood fabric mix gravediggaz
kool keith - personal album haswell / hecker - upic warp tracks its been a good week :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ILM - 2008/04/11 09:01

oh yeah i forgot, delia derbyshire - "electrosonic " aswell...really ace that one

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/11 09:05

Pixies "Doolittle"
Guilty Simpson "Ode to the Ghetto"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by andreruello - 2008/04/11 09:49

Clark - Turning dragon.. best new evil techno stuff ive heard in a while PUB is a wicked artist from scotland.. (i think)
The new Bola
the new Proem
new material object and ofcourse the 45 tribute

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/04/11 13:48

jsrockit wrote:
Pixies "Doolittle"
Guilty Simpson "Ode to the Ghetto"

Just finished watching the quietLOUDquiet documentary. I enjoyed it. Sometimes I forget how fantastic that band is/was. God, I used to listen to that shit all the time when I was like 15-16. The way Francis and Kim's voices melt together on 'Monkey Gone to Heaven' still gives me goosebumps! :)

How's that new Guilty Simpson album? I take it you like it??

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Katzenjammer - 2008/04/11 17:06

Currently listening to the 45 Tribute.

John Tejada - In the Moment - 5:45 (2008 45 Tribute)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reset - 2008/04/11 20:29

Duuuude EHG Dopesick. Killer!! Didn't think anybody here listened to EHG. Used to live in the NO and always hang out with Jimmy and Lil Daddy. One of the greatest drummers IMHO of all time. Once I rode the bus and Mike Williams strolled in all disoriented at 2pm. Oh, how bad do I miss seeing EHG go on at 1 am with free beers at the show. While I'm at it, check out the Mystick Krewe of Clearlight - Jimmy, Lil Daddy and Ross on keys. Great stuff. My fave EHG: Take as Needed for Pain. :silly:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/11 22:46

ThinkTanx wrote:

How's that new Guilty Simpson album? I take it you like it??

It's a little dissapointing...but some of the songs are still great...just not a solid overall album IMHO.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/11 22:46

ThinkTanx wrote:

How's that new Guilty Simpson album? I take it you like it??

It's a little dissapointing...but some of the songs are still great...just not a solid overall album IMHO.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/11 22:47

ThinkTanx wrote:

How's that new Guilty Simpson album? I take it you like it??

It's a little dissapointing...but some of the songs are still great...just not a solid overall album IMHO.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/04/12 02:38

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

How's that new Guilty Simpson album? I take it you like it??

It's a little dissapointing...but some of the songs are still great...just not a solid overall album IMHO.

Point taken! :) :P :silly:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/19 02:24

Oops...the site must have been on the fritz.

Lately:

Prince Jammy
Edan "Beauty and the Beat"
Quasimoto "The Unseen"
Kode9 and Spaceape
Why?
Modeselektor

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/04/20 05:10

The new tracks from Venetian Snares!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/04/24 05:17

ill try to limit to 10 lately and 10 all time

lately

10. Nosaj Thing
09. Justice/Uffie Crew
08. Boys Noize (it feels like filler and fluff to me but its got a sorta edge to it
- 07.45 Tribute Album - this album got me into listening to peoples stuff on the listening portion of this forum and gave me a little motivational boost.
06. Betrayed (ex-Champion SXE punk/hardcore)
05. Clint Mansell (mainly the fountain soundtrack)
04. Cliff Martinez (solaris soundtrack)
03. 2 Skinnee J's hahah yes getting ready for their i dunno 3rd or 4th reunion tour
02. Au Revoir Simone
01. Cuts of Culture
00. Prefuse 73

All time (in no particular order)

DJ Shadow
Cut Chemist
Portishead
Ratatat
DNTEL
EL-P Aseop Rock
RJD2
Sneaker Pimps
Atari Teenage Roit (man for some reason they never get old)
The Kings of Convenience

ok ok i could go on forever but ill stop here :) plus insert video game music (all kinds).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/04/24 15:57

xibalba wrote:

10. Nosaj Thing

:gangsta:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/24 21:58

ThinkTanx wrote:

xibalba wrote:

10. Nosaj Thing

:gangsta:

Wasn't familiar with this guy... sounds good per this:

<http://www.nosajthing.com/press/>

Is that his typical sound?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/04/24 22:37

ThinkTanx wrote:

xibalba wrote:

10. Nosaj Thing

:gangsta:

:laugh: yea i cant remember how the hell i came about his music and i only have about 5 tracks that i got from itunes but they are really great 5 tracks. nice glitchy music (not overkill) and a lot of good euphoric invoking tracks.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/04/24 22:39

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

xibalba wrote:

10. Nosaj Thing

:gangsta:

Wasn't familiar with this guy... sounds good per this:

<http://www.nosajthing.com/press/>

Is that his typical sound?

ill listen to it when im at home (cant dl mp3's at work) and ill let ya know but in the meantime if you have itunes and can get to the itunes store type in his name he should have a few tracks listed to where you can preview them.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/04/29 07:34

MRR-ADM - Untitled ft. Malcolm Catto. some of the best shit i've heard in years. fcking stunning. very limited and vinyl only. i highly highly recommend. like money back guarantee style:
http://www.fatbeats.com/catalog/product_info.php?products_id=7072

Music International - Earth Chorus 60
Velvet Underground - Loaded
Portishead - Third
Sea and Cake - The Fawn
Farben - Textstar
Marlena Shaw - Spice of Life
Caribou - Tour CD 2007
Peedi Crakk - some misc comp

BUY MRR-ADM!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/04/29 09:13

jsrockit wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
xibalba wrote:

10. Nosaj Thing

:gangsta:

Wasn't familiar with this guy... sounds good per this:

<http://www.nosajthing.com/press/>

Is that his typical sound?

I haven't listened to that dublab podcast he did in a while, so I can't answer your question directly. He has a myspace page with some of his tracks from his Views/Octopus EP (which are the 5 tracks you can buy on iTunes and other sites), and also some teaser tracks for his upcoming LP. Not sure when or where that's gonna drop but he says it's gonna be this year.

<http://www.myspace.com/nosajthing>

Anyway, he's on the come-up here in LA. He rocks Low End Theory here quite a bit and is my favorite producer in that scene (also includes Gaslamp Killer, EdIT, Nobody, Flying Lotus, Free the Robots, Daddy Kev, Daedelus, etc.). First time I saw him was there. They do these 'Unreleased Beat Invitationals' at Low End occasionally, where peeps bring in a couple of tracks to play for the crowd, and everyone kind of votes their favorite by applause. He played that 'Harrison Ford teaser' he has up on his Myspace and I was blown away.

He really rocks it live. He's also done some demo's/tip and tricks type stuff, if you will, with the Ableton team here in LA. I've been meaning to go to one of the meetings, but haven't made it. Be interesting to hear what he has to say about it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/29 09:47

actuel wrote:

MRR-ADM - Untitled ft. Malcolm Catto. some of the best shit i've heard in years. fcking stunning. very limited and vinyl only. i highly highly recommend. like money back guarantee style:
http://www.fatbeats.com/catalog/product_info.php?products_id=7072

BUY MRR-ADM!

I took his advice and it is so ridiculous! It is so much better than the Heliocentrics album as well. Much more raw. I haven't heard real drums played like this in a long time... the most mind blowing live drums since the first 2 Tortoise albums.

I'm also listening to:

Bumps
Nosaj Thing
Vex'd
Kode 9

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/04/29 15:31

Just rediscovered all the early (1977-1980) Human League stuff. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2008/04/29 17:58

futureimage wrote:

Just rediscovered all the early (1977-1980) Human League stuff. :)

Speaking of bringing back the raw :)

Bought the CD versions for peanuts last year of Reproduction and Travelogue.
Good investment - still sounds fresh today.

Was listening to Section 25's 'From the hip' last week-end. Most underrated Factory band ever imo.

Another favourite of mine from that era is Newcleus 'Automan' (especially the dub version on the B side of the 12-inch), it sounded futuristic in 1984 and still sounds futuristic today.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/04/30 01:20

The latest Erykah Badu is positively stunning--New Amerykah--wide variety of styles, Madlib on some tracks, mixing personal and political in a way that works while moving your butt, fearless pursuit of honest expression, and her most "weird" album to date in that it's pushing boundaries quite successfully. I'm still sorting out how to talk about it, cos it's doing my head in! Let the more accessible tracks guide you in, and you'll stick around for both them and the more "out" ones.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/04/30 01:28

scuto wrote:

The latest Erykah Badu is positively stunning--New Amerykah--wide variety of styles, Madlib on some tracks, mixing personal and political in a way that works while moving your butt, fearless pursuit of honest expression, and her most "weird" album to date in that it's pushing boundaries quite successfully. I'm still sorting out how to talk about it, cos it's doing my head in! Let the more accessible tracks guide you in, and you'll stick around for both them and the more "out" ones.

i love what i've heard from it. i need to scoop it up.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/30 01:32

scuto wrote:

The latest Erykah Badu is positively stunning--New Amerykah--wide variety of styles, Madlib on some tracks, mixing personal and political in a way that works while moving your butt, fearless pursuit of honest expression, and her most "weird" album to date in that it's pushing boundaries quite successfully. I'm still sorting out how to talk about it, cos it's doing my head in! Let the more accessible tracks guide you in, and you'll stick around for both them and the more "out" ones.

How out there are we talking? I mean, her last few albums are boring to me. I love madlib...but generally not the stuff he does for non-stones throw artists. Didn't she use some Dilla on this one too? Out there in what sense?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/04/30 02:26

eminor9 wrote:

futureimage wrote:

Just rediscovered all the early (1977-1980) Human League stuff. :)

Speaking of bringing back the raw :)

Bought the CD versions for peanuts last year of Reproduction and Travelogue.

Try finding the demo/unreleased compilation put out on Black Melody called "The Golden Hour Of The Future", now THAT really is RAW.

I've also been hoarding demo versions and other rarities etc. off the internet. Hopefully over the Summer I'll remaster them and DEFINITELY upload them somewhere.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/30 02:30

actuel wrote:

MRR-ADM - Untitled ft. Malcolm Catto. some of the best shit i've heard in years. fcking stunning. very limited and vinyl only. i highly highly recommend. like money back guarantee style:

http://www.fatbeats.com/catalog/product_info.php?products_id=7072

BUY MRR-ADM!

Don't sleep on this! :angry:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/04/30 03:10

Ive had the new Portishead on my player for a while now but always afraid to listen to it. Then i read the article on them in the new issue of Remix (which btw i found that Geoff Barrow seems very eccentric about his gear and to some may come off as an asshole in the interview) but its a big reason why they are so good. Also Beth Gibbons doesnt do interviews!!! That actually hurt my heart.

Anyways finally put it in my rotation and so far ive liked what i heard, Machine Gun and Silence being my faves so far sigh.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/30 03:20

xibalba wrote:

Ive had the new Portishead on my player for a while now but always afraid to listen to it. Then i read the article on them in the new issue of Remix (which btw i found that Geoff Barrow seems very eccentric about his gear and to some may come off as an asshole in the interview) but its a big reason why they are so good. Also Beth Gibbons doesnt do interviews!!! That actually hurt my heart.

Anyways finally put it in my rotation and so far ive liked what i heard, Machine Gun and Silence being my faves so far sigh.....

Just bought it today and didn't listen to it yet. Read that article and liked his honesty. I would say he wasn't that far off in what he said...but he did come off like an old man...a category I'm starting to fit into as well.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/04/30 03:28

ya know i will say for the record i'm a big fan of the latest Portishead. but i didn't really have any expectations going into it. i have talked to numerous friends about this record and all of the conversations have different opinions.

i think the one thing i keep hearing is people expecting a lot or comparing where they're at today to their prior material, which is bound to happen. but the album on it's own if very solid in my opinion. i wonder if this was first Portishead album how people would feel about it.

i have experienced this with Sonic Youth. i have been a fan since the late 80's, and man they're diverse and seem to meander all over the path. after a while and several initial disappointments i started trying to listen to each album as if there was no other material to wage judgement against. it really helped me to just enjoy the records for what they were instead of continually holding them to my ideals of what they ought to be.

neither here nor there, folks will dig this album or won't. i enjoy the retro-ish through back vibe. some Broadcast moments even.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/04/30 03:42

jsrockit wrote:

How out there are we talking? I mean, her last few albums are boring to me. I love madlib...but generally not the stuff he does for non-stones throw artists. Didn't she use some Dilla on this one too? Out there in what sense?

I guess a (loose) comparison would be that this album pushes the recent soul/R n' B/funk category that she was lumped into against her will like Radiohead pushed the boundaries of rock. She brings much more funk and hip-hop flavor to this album. <http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B0012K1ILW/> And click the preview all for a sampling/idea and see how you like it. I liked her voice before, but now her music has hooked me. I don't see any credits for Dilla in the liners, but some of the production is certainly indebted to him.

Interesting--the track times listed on the album don't include the additional material at the end of some of the tracks.

Re: The Remix mag Portishead interview, I definitely thought Barrow came off a little curmudgeonly--blanket statements are useless (heheh, itself an ironic statement!), but I'm glad to find someone else who was unimpressed with DJ Spooky. I quite enjoyed reading about the way they work, cos I can relate strongly to that DIY spirit, as well as imposing limitations on yourself/your process to make some truly creative things happen or to get through writer's block. Third is steadily growing for me, which is great--I love the variety on this one and of course the production.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/04/30 05:25

jsrockit wrote:

xibalba wrote:

I've had the new Portishead on my player for a while now but always afraid to listen to it. Then i read the article on them in the new issue of Remix (which btw i found that Geoff Barrow seems very eccentric about his gear and to some may come off as an asshole in the interview) but its a big reason why they are so good. Also Beth Gibbons doesnt do interviews!!! That actually hurt my heart.

Anyways finally put it in my rotation and so far ive liked what i heard, Machine Gun and Silence being my faves so far sigh.....

Just bought it today and didn't listen to it yet. Read that article and liked his honesty. I would say he wasn't that far off in what he said...but he did come off like an old man...a category I'm starting to fit into as well.

i think it was the "america's music is shit" quote that jumps right off the first page that got me. i mean yea a lot of the MAINSTREAM is absolute shit but there are enough jems if you dig deep enough. also i hate or rather dislike pretentious people and he was very pretentious about his gear or anything for that matter. there is a fine line between loving one thing and being absolutely pretentious about the same thing. but that doesnt change the fact that i heart portishead and still have a deep fondness for beth gibbons and her voice and writing ability. :silly:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by megawatt - 2008/04/30 07:33

GTAIV soundtrack...

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/30 08:45

xibalba wrote:

i think it was the "america's music is shit" quote that jumps right off the first page that got me. i mean yea a lot of the MAINSTREAM is absolute shit but there are enough jems if you dig deep enough. also i hate or rather dislike pretentious people and he was very pretentious about his gear or anything for that matter. there is a fine line between loving one thing and being absolutely pretentious about the same thing. but that doesnt change the fact that i heart portishead and still have a deep fondness for beth gibbons and her voice and writing ability. :silly:

I think he said "America's music is just dying right?" ...and then goes on to talk specifically about pop music and pop rap. He then disses Mark Ronson and DJ Spooky...and then praises Madlib. I can't argue with that... and if you listen to their record and how lo-fi and weird it is ...then you can see why they like Madlib over the other artists they dissed. Stuff like songs just ending when they shouldn't, weird drum rolls, weird interludes (in their case synths instead of samples)...it is all Madlib influenced in my opinion. However, I don't know I would have got that if I didn't read the article. ;)

I have to say this album is very cool. It is like getting to hear Portishead demos.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/30 08:54

scuto wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

How out there are we talking? I mean, her last few albums are boring to me. I love madlib...but generally not the stuff he does for non-stones throw artists. Didn't she use some Dilla on this one too? Out there in what sense?

I guess a (loose) comparison would be that this album pushes the recent soul/R n' B/funk category that she was lumped into against her will like Radiohead pushed the boundaries of rock. She brings much more funk and hip-hop flavor to this album. <http://www.amazon.com/gp/product/B0012K11LW/> And click the preview all for a sampling/idea and see how you like it. I liked her voice before, but now her music has hooked me. I don't see any credits for Dilla in the liners, but some of the production is certainly indebted to him.

So, I guess Madlib produced My People? Who made Soldier? and Twinkle? 9th wonder on Soldier, Madlib on Twinkle? or someone else?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/04/30 10:13

i am probably one of the few who seems to think Madlib is waaaaay overrated. i dig the Unseen, Lootpack, a few songs on collabos but all-in-all i think he's far from the ball polishing he gets. i can think of a bizillion producers i who i think are underrated and actually are bringing a lot more to the table. that's not to say he sucks, just overrated.

throw your stones! :D

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/04/30 21:31

I understand that actuel, I've thought that myself at times, but then I keep going back to listen to all of his stuff while other producers fade into the past. While I like his late 90s stuff...and the first Lord Quas album is great (a great SP1200 album)...it is the more lo-fi stuff he does with the SP-303 I find more appealing. There is just something refreshing about it to me. I think it is the fact that he really is just really loose, fun, and simple. That is something that is missing from alot of hip-hop today.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/04/30 21:55

yeah, i would co-sign all that JS. i think his sound and approach is quite refreshing. i actually really enjoy his shit but i just hold him in as high regard as many folk do. as if he can do no wrong, but i'm not negating his much needed place in hiphop.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/01 02:35

OMG!! I just listened to The Rip (Portishead) its probably my fave portishead track ever!! i love anything that makes me think of snow and loneliness and this is very capable of both..... wow if i could make a track this good.....

sorry to keep up on the Portishead

Tried listening to the new Jamie Lidell.....ehhhhh.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/05/01 02:38

Good points--I dig him, but can't give him my undying allegiance. Heh. I do like the disc of broken beat he did under the name DJ Rels (no Myspace page for it, though).

@ JS--Madlib produced The Healer and My People. Twinkle by "Taz Arnold & Shafiq Husayn for The Sa-Ra Creative Partners. Soldier by Kariem Riggins. Badu co-produced most of the tracks barring the Madlib ones.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/01 03:31

scuto wrote:

Good points--I dig him, but can't give him my undying allegiance. Heh. I do like the disc of broken beat he did under the name DJ Rels (no Myspace page for it, though).

@ JS--Madlib produced The Healer and My People. Twinkle by "Taz Arnold & Shafiq Husayn for The Sa-Ra Creative Partners. Soldier by Kariem Riggins. Badu co-produced most of the tracks barring the Madlib ones.

Kariem Riggins is doing some good stuff... he and madlib are making an album as well. That should be good.

Listening to today... still Portishead and MRR-ADM...can't get enough.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/05/01 13:40

What other stuff has KR done? I'll look for that album.

I'm also listening to the original Doctor Who theme by Delia Derbyshire. All tape and mechanical, mid 1906s, I believe. Still a great piece of music, and even better considering how it was made!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/01 21:29

scuto wrote:

What other stuff has KR done? I'll look for that album.

!

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Karriem_Riggins

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/01 23:26

i think tonight ill listen to RJD2.....live :) (hopefully he brought his MPC with him)

then next thursday ill be listening to EL-P.....live as well hehehe

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/05/02 02:15

jsrockit wrote:

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Karriem_Riggins

Nice! Thanks...

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/06 12:29

Nosajthing live on Dublab: http://www.dublab.com/audio/podcast/10_23_07_nosajthing_live.mp3

:feelin:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/05/06 12:41

actuel wrote:

Nosajthing live on Dublab: http://www.dublab.com/audio/podcast/10_23_07_nosajthing_live.mp3

:feelin:

:laugh:

I've been listening to this and almost nothing but this for like the last 3-4 days!! I had forgotten about it until Rockit posted it the other day. Cool symmetry.

Can't wait for his full-length!

:lvl:

EDIT:

Proof is in the pudding... my Last.fm playlist:

Nosaj Thing â€œ live on dublab (10.23.07) 20h and 4m ago
Nosaj Thing â€œ live on dublab (10.23.07) 20h and 36m ago
Nosaj Thing â€œ heart entire 1d, 9h and 41m ago
Cocteau Twins â€œ Carolyn's Fingers 2d, 22h and 28m ago
Belle and Sebastian â€œ The Fox in the Snow 2d, 22h and 36m ago
Amadeus M â€œ Cop Dat Shit 2d, 23h and 8m ago
Nosaj Thing â€œ live on dublab (10.23.07) 3d, 19h and 40m ago

:lol:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/09 06:15

Bob Dylan
Dudley Perkins

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 64hz - 2008/05/09 09:28

Dub, dub and some more dub.

:word:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/05/09 10:04

BORIS

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/09 10:28

Devendra

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/05/09 12:40

actuel wrote:
Devendra

Dude's dating Natalie Portman... seriously... wtf???

:suspect:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/09 12:43

ThinkTanx wrote:
actuel wrote:
Devendra

Dude's dating Natalie Portman... seriously... wtf???

:suspect:

what you really mean to say is, they're having sex! :D

(i have all inappropriate responses in which i want make off the air...clean version:i like her)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/05/09 14:16

actuel wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
actuel wrote:
Devendra

Dude's dating Natalie Portman... seriously... wtf???

:suspect:

what you really mean to say is, they're having sex! :D

(i have all inappropriate responses in which i want make off the air...clean version:i like her)

I can't disagree with any of it. :laugh:

Btw- Actuel do you have a favorite Sonic Youth album?? I've been listening to Sonic Nurse and Goo all week (it's been cloudy and a little chilly here this week (read 60 degrees!)). :P

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/05/09 15:29

Beck - Guero

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/10 09:10

Busdriver - all of his tracks cant believe i never took the chance to listen to this guy until last night when i saw him with el-p and the shitty dizze rascal ugh!

busdriver along with antimc stole the show imo

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by koshimazaki - 2008/05/15 21:25

I'm listening to Jan Jelinek and triosk again and still Younger Brother is quite often on my headphones on the way to work.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Tarekith - 2008/05/15 21:37

The new Kettel CD "Myam James" is pertty much on constantly these days.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/05/15 22:25

Going through my Art of Noise collection which has been collecting dust for almost 20 years.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/15 22:30

Four Tet - Ringer
Too Short - Life is...
Erica Badu - Amerykah
Sun Ra - My brother the Wind i
MRR ADM - Untitled

Local Folk Radio station on the way to work. eases my mind :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2008/05/15 22:54

I blame PunkDisco for the following.....:laugh:

Subhumanz - The Day the Country Died
Crass - Penis Envy
Discharge - WHY
Flux of Pink Indians Album (cant remember its name right now)

The Mrs. is not impressed by this haul of past glories rescued from my garage, and my TTX is not a happy bunny - but hey its an education for the uninitiated!

Oh and i'm still hung up on listening Murcof and Monolake and Squarepushers Go Plastic.

A

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/15 23:33

Aesop Rock has currently been taking over my Ipoodz love the float album especially it has a lot of nice string samples

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/05/16 05:11

After writing it off, I've somehow gone back to enjoying Burial again. Specifically the first album, so...

Burial - Burial
Boxcutter - Oneiric and Glyphic
Sonic Youth - Sonic Nurse
Asobi Seksu - Citrus
Lil Wayne - Lollipop
Flying Lotus - 1983
Nosaj Thing - live on dublab.com
Arvo Part - Berliner Messe
Dabrye - Two/Three

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/05/16 05:19

autechre - every album.... endless diversity....

and of course monolake, hot chip and manu chao! :D

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/05/16 05:27

I didnt want to admit this... :dry:

I wanted to look cool but I am really listening to Kenny G..... Sorry... :feelin:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nick the Zombie - 2008/05/16 05:32

Photek - Form & Function

Kammarheit - Asleep and Well Hidden Burial - S/T
Dubstep.fm internet radio
Seabound - Double Crosser
Amon Tobin - Permutation
Eagleroad's virb page

- Nick

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/21 04:01

Junior Boys
Madlib
Kraftwerk
BOC
Flying Lotus
Mr. Oizo
J Dilla
DJ Vadim
Hi-Tek

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/21 04:07

Eliot Lipp
Crystal Castles (although the hanin elias vocals of ATR have to go, only Mrs. Elias could pull that off wonderfully)
8 Bit Weapon
Covox
Bit Shifter

ive been on a mostly chiptunes fueled escapade

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by augustus green - 2008/05/21 05:42

jsrockit wrote:

Mr. Oizo

dope

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by augustus green - 2008/05/21 05:44

xibalba wrote:

00. Prefuse 73

also dope

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by augustus green - 2008/05/21 05:49

45 tribute
radiohead
air
bob dylan
the beatles ugly cassanova broadcast
two lone swordsman
prefuse 73
white stripes
mr. oizo
daft punk radioactive man

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/21 10:02

augustus green wrote:

xibalba wrote:

00. Prefuse 73

also dope

yes yes he is then i stupidly went and bought his MPC 2kxl that he graft and used on one word (the auction was legit i assure you) i over paid and was barely able to get my money back

one of the stupider times in my gear buying and selling days

but i did get a nice zip disk with a crap load of samples (that was the main thing that attracted me to the auction) i had to hear what was one those they are still on my computer waiting to be used.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/21 22:34

Cool Kids - The Bake Sale
Pharoah Sanders - Village of Phaoahs
The Legendary Pink Dots - Lovers
Dorothy Ashby - Dorothy's Harp
Flying Lotus - Los Angeles
Terry Riley - Poppy Nogood and The Phantom Band

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/21 23:13

actuel wrote:

Flying Lotus - Los Angeles

How?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/21 23:15

jsrockit wrote:

actuel wrote:

Flying Lotus - Los Angeles

How?

hahah. it's good to have a few friends in the biz.

speaking of i was in contact with Flylo for a while about being on the 45 tribute but he had sold his MD to get a Macbook.
oh well...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/21 23:54

Oh, I see... yeah, I have no connections to anything / anyone. I can wait though. Yeah, I had heard he sold his MD as well. Weird how such geekery makes its way around the web. I even know he is using a Monome now from the Monome forums. What a weird world it is.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/22 00:00

jsrockit wrote:

Oh, I see... yeah, I have no connections to anything / anyone. I can wait though. Yeah, I had heard he sold his MD as well. Weird how such geekery makes its way around the web. I even know he is using a Monome now from the Monome forums. What a weird world it is.

it is a small geeky world we thrive in. btw, having connections is nice at times and has benefits but i feel like a douche bag mentioning. i hate being that guy...but it's just the truth. it's good btw. not that you doubted :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/22 10:03

Got the newest Matmos today... a truly fucked up synth album. What does anyone else think?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/22 10:13

jsrockit wrote:

Got the newest Matmos today... a truly fucked up synth album. What does anyone else think?

I like it but it's just like all their releases to me, 2-3 really bad ass songs and the rest kinda 'meh' or feel unfinished. I still love the OG Soft Pink album.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/22 20:51

actuel wrote:

I still love the OG Soft Pink album.

You lost me.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/22 21:36

jsrockit wrote:

actuel wrote:

I still love the OG Soft Pink album.

You lost me.

<http://www.amazon.com/You-Party-Soft-Pink-Truth/dp/B00008MHC8> imagine Matmos making groovy fun music...that's the The Soft Pink Truth.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2008/05/22 22:18

actuel wrote:

I like it but it's just like most today's releases to me, 2-3 really bad ass songs and the rest kinda 'meh' or feel unfinished. I still love the OG Soft Pink album.

Typo fixed :silly:

Well at least this is how I feel about most albums released this decade.

I sometimes have the impression that Portishead's 'Third' sounds like a collection of bored post 1997 sessions :ohmy:

Or maybe it's just me :huh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/22 22:53

hahah. well played.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/23 23:52

listening to

Voices of a Distant Star OST

5 Centimeters Per Second OST

Silent Hill (1-5....5 meaning orgins) OST

I just watched 5 Centimeters Per Second (anime) last night I highly recommend it if youve cared for someone (i.e. soulmate or something along those lines) but arent together yet you still think about that person.

His (Shinkai) movies are so damn brilliant its worth watching for the amount of emotion even if you dont like anime (i use to be a big fan of a lot of things now i only selectivly watch a few - ones that are outside the norm)

he has had three dvds out so far

Voices of a Distant Star

The Place Promised In Our Early Days

5 Centimeters Per Second

im pretty much very very very down right now i dont quite like being reminded of her but alas its a really good movie all around.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/05/24 00:44

Pattern is Movement - All Together

Captain Beefheart - Doc at the Radar Station

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nlj dj - 2008/05/24 05:07

Mark Henning - Geezer.

<http://www.myspace.com/djmarkhenning> sick!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nlj dj - 2008/05/24 05:23

Check out his album on Soma too. He is a great "techno" producer.. ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dethdeth - 2008/05/24 05:37

BURIAL

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/05/24 08:23

Echospace - Coldest Season
The Fall - The 27 Points

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/05/24 09:50

Really looking forward to Flying Lotus and Ellen Allien's new albums, which both drop in the next couple weeks.

Actuel, you seen this?:

<http://blog.myspace.com/index.cfm?fuseaction=blog.view&friendID=15726394&blogID=382206370>

Mind your P's and Q's buddy!! :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/24 10:49

ThinkTanx wrote:

<http://blog.myspace.com/index.cfm?fuseaction=blog.view&friendID=15726394&blogID=382206370>

...not till you mentioned. i haven't shared this with anyone per the givers request, and am not hiding the fact i have it either...nor promoting as some "look what i got". i'm fortunate to have met some good friends in the business. some of which shake hands directly with many of my favorite artists. LA is good. i will buy both the vinyl and from Bleep when it drops as i with all the promos handed my way that i enjoy.

(shrugs)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/05/24 12:01

actuel wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

<http://blog.myspace.com/index.cfm?fuseaction=blog.view&friendID=15726394&blogID=382206370>

i will buy both the vinyl and from Bleep when it drops as i with all the promos handed my way that i enjoy.

(shrugs)

Hey you could always hand some promos my way :D

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2008/05/24 16:19

Flying lotus LA is brill! :)

It's a cleaner sound then the usual Lotus but much, much, more intricate. He really is 'flipping' and trashing keyboards; conjuring up deep growling synth-electro-funk..... esp with the track entitled GNG BNG - at first glance I thought the title was a reference to the MD, oh well.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/24 21:00

Hey man, actuel is a stand up guy. The last person who is going to share unreleased music.

Anyway:

Cluster 71
Matmos Supreme Balloon
Amon Duul 2 Yeti

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/25 00:15

damn JS, didn't know you were a Cluster fan! long time fan here. Zuckerzeit & Swoiesoso are my favorites from them...though II is pretty amazing. you may also checkout Harmonia 'S/T'. then to follow the krautrock tree you are now meandering toward Neu!.

oh how i love zee musics.

great kraut'y sources:
<http://myweb.tiscali.co.uk/ultimathule/krautrockers.html>
<http://annexus.homestead.com/krautrock1.html>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/05/25 00:56

.... The Elektron Dream Team! :D

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/05/25 02:00

liars
radiohead

(still on it from the show. radiohead is simultaneously totally inspiring and totally decimating when it comes to making music. . .)

ae ep (quaristice version whatever!)

the "unplayed" playlist on my ipod. . . there are some real "treasures" on there, let me tell you. =P mostly mine!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/05/25 08:45

actuel wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:

<http://blog.myspace.com/index.cfm?fuseaction=blog.view&friendID=15726394&blogID=382206370>

...not till you mentioned. i haven't shared this with anyone per the givers request, and am not hiding the fact i have it either...nor promoting as some "look what i got". i'm fortunate to have met some good friends in the business. some of which shake hands directly with many of my favorite artists. LA is good. i will buy both the vinyl and from Bleep when it drops as i with all the promos handed my way that i enjoy.

(shrugs)

Oh, I know you aren't gonna share it, I just thought it was an interesting story, and wondered if you had heard it in light of your having the album. The person who wrote him that message had some nerve, man.

I've met pretty much all the cats in that scene, including Steven. All really cool, down to Earth peeps. I met Nosaj Thing last week. I really love his music, so I was looking forward to seeing what kinda cat he was. He's a real nice dude. I hope he gets his just rewards (a la FlyLo). Not that they're rich or something, I just mean proper representation and the ability to keep on releasing music. LA is poppin'! :lvl:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/27 08:57

actuel wrote:

damn JS, didn't know you were a Cluster fan! long time fan here. Zuckerzeit & Swoiesoso are my favorites from them...though II is pretty amazing. you may also checkout Harmonia 'S/T'. then to follow the krautrock tree you are now meandering toward Neu!.

oh how i love zee musics.

great kraut'y sources:

<http://myweb.tiscali.co.uk/ultimathule/krautrockers.html>

<http://annexus.homestead.com/krautrock1.html>

I'm new to cluster. I pulled out my Neu and Can stuff recently and then was at a store and the only names that came to mind from that period were Cluster and Amon D. I read about '71 recently as well...in a 10 year old copy of wire. I get on kicks where I listen to different things. Mostly hip-hop and newer electronic stuff...but you can't live on that alone.

Today:

Oval 94diskont

Can Ege Bamyasi

Neu! 2

BOC Trans Canada Highway and in a beautiful place out in the country

Jay Dee Fuck The Police

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/27 09:03

this weekend i dled probably 90% of the 8bitpeoples catalogue

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by augustus green - 2008/05/27 13:19

xibalba wrote:
augustus green wrote:
xibalba wrote:

00. Prefuse 73

also dope

yes yes he is then i stupidly went and bought his MPC 2kxl that he graft and used on one word (the auction was legit i assure you) i over paid and was barely able to get my money back

one of the stupider times in my gear buying and selling days

but i did get a nice zip disk with a crap load of samples (that was the main thing that attracted me to the auction) i had to hear what was one those they are still on my computer waiting to be used.

nice. that sounds like something that i would do if i was drunk while surfing ebay. i would totally justify it in the moment. i would think that just the samples alone should be worth the money. then i would wake up the next day in a pool of my own vomit and say to myself: " did i really buy prefuse's mpc on ebay last night?" frantically, i would check "my ebay" and finally realize that i did do it and end up trying to re-sell it a week later. ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/05/27 16:36

jsrockit wrote:
...in a 10 year old copy of wire.

thumbs up

Got a massive collection myself! The most beautiful magazine in the business, imo. The articles go without saying. Truly journalism as art. I love pulling out the old ones. I just wish the subscriptions weren't so expensive.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/27 20:03

ThinkTanx wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
...in a 10 year old copy of wire.

thumbs up

Got a massive collection myself! The most beautiful magazine in the business, imo. The articles go without saying. Truly journalism as art. I love pulling out the old ones. I just wish the subscriptions weren't so expensive.

I stopped buying it as much...so much of the magazine is beyond my taste. I buy it when they have articles I actually want to read. The one I'm talking about is from Sept 98 "100 Records That Set The World On Fire"... it is worth going back to every few years.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/27 20:03

dupe.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 64hz - 2008/05/27 20:51

This is an overall chart of what i listen to <http://www.last.fm/user/ManOrMachine/>

Though it only gives you a basic impression of my taste.... i listen to way to much music lol :D

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/05/27 21:14

Actually yeah! Good point!
www.last.fm/user/futureimage

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by hageir - 2008/05/27 22:08

UB40.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2008/05/27 23:23

I had a retrospective evening on Saturday -

Little Lois
Renegade Soundwave
Humanoid

Moving on to -

Wishbone Ash
Gong
Traffic
Groundhogs
Grand Funk Railroad

All on vinyl, all popping and crackling and all superb.

A

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/05/27 23:35

64hz wrote:
.... i listen to way to much music lol :D

you think you've got a problem? then I have no idea how you would label what i've got. . .

<http://www.last.fm/user/papertigrrrrr/>

;-)

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/28 07:55

Royal Trux "Cats and Dogs"
Run DMC
Beck "One Foot In the Grave"
Matmos "Supreme Balloon"
Steve Reich "Come Out"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Syn303 - 2008/05/29 04:47

Mike Oldfield tonite for some strange reason (his 70's stuff)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/05/29 11:06

currently listening to the new ellen allien.

(1) reverb is the new 303. lol. she's playing it like ae, portishead, and radiohead.

(2) serious serious drugs. 5th track. prosecution rests.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/05/29 12:15

papertiger wrote:
currently listening to the new ellen allien.

(1) reverb is the new 303. lol. she's playing it like ae, portishead, and radiohead.

(2) serious serious drugs. 5th track. prosecution rests.

Gave it the first listen on my walk today. It's definitely... umm... spacious. I'll give it a few harder listens on my flight to Montreal tomorrow. B)

And Last.fm just doesn't work out for me because I mostly listen to music on my iPod, but I manually manage it, so I can't get it to show up on my Last.fm lists. Sux!! :(

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/29 21:32

(1) reverb is the new 303. lol. she's playing it like ae, portishead, and radiohead.

Portishead Third
Dntel

Posted by actual - 2008/05/29 21:39

(1) reverb is the new 303. lol. she's playing it like ae, portishead, and radiohead.

i thought this last night when i read it. Portishead & Radiohead seem pretty standard issue 'verb. Ae definitely is soaking in reverb.

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/29 21:43

Still into Chiptunes and now reviving Battles (coming to DC in June!!) and DJ Shadow/Cut Chemist Hard Sell Tour (coming back to DC as well) two OMG shows

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/29 22:16

Mike Boo & Ricci Rucker - Sketchbook
Philippe Besombes - Libra
John Coltrane - Giant Steps
Pataphonie - "s/t"
Jim O'Rourke - Iâ€™m Happy and Iâ€™m Singing and a 1, 2, 3, 4

Posted by futureimage - 2008/05/30 02:46

^Those in particular.

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/05/30 11:32

good friend of mine made a hot latin/afrobeat/world music mixtape on, errr, muxtape: <http://futererapper.muxtape.com/> good shit, worth a gander.

also just got hippped to Ricci Rucker's new(old) shit under the name "The Ruckazoid - RRRRAP". you can stream the full-length here: <http://www.asisphonics.net/listenrockcompute/?p=56>

i suggest anyone who likes out there hiphop and Sun Ra to check his Fuga album. dude is incredibly talented and wayyy underrated.

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/05/30 21:22

actuel wrote:

also just got hippped to Ricci Rucker's new(old) shit under the name "The Ruckazoid - RRRRAP". you can stream the full-length here: <http://www.asisphonics.net/listenrockcompute/?p=56>

i suggest anyone who likes out there hiphop and Sun Ra to check his Fuga album. dude is incredibly talented and wayyy underrated.

Thanks.

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/05/30 21:54

actuel wrote:

also just got hippped to Ricci Rucker's new(old) shit under the name "The Ruckazoid - RRRRAP". you can stream the full-length here: <http://www.asisphonics.net/listenrockcompute/?p=56>

i suggest anyone who likes out there hiphop and Sun Ra to check his Fuga album. dude is incredibly talented and wayyy underrated.

agreed the Ruckazoid is very tight check out the bastard language tour dvd its got rucker and yoga frog plus others playing a set akin to invisible scratch and birdy nam nam

i dont kno rucker personally but he is the one who sold me my Vestax Controller One :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Lovlss - 2008/06/02 04:55

Belbury Poly - The Owl's Map/The Willow's
Mount Vernon Arts Lab - The SÃ©ance at Hobs Lane

The Advisory Circle - Other Channels/Mind how you go
The Focus Group - We are all Pan's People
Dj Krush - Reload the remix collection
Blue Break Beats vol. 1-4
Iron Maiden - The Number of the Beast/Piece of mind/Powerslave
Benga - Diary of an Afro Warrior
Portishead - 3
Midnight Juggernauts - Dystopia
Salsoul - (everything I can find)
High Contrast - "Kiss kiss bang bang"(the first minute and the break)
Etro Anime - See the sound

...and a bunch of funk, breaks, italo, library, concrete, psychedelic stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2008/06/02 05:01

Ital tek - Blood Line
Ital tek - Terminator 2 EP
General Elektrijs - Cliquety Kliqk :kiss:
Fingathing - Just Practise CDS
Fingathing - Superhero Music
Dual Purpose - Hobs
Autechre - Quadrange
Yvat - Cyma
Yvat - Blue Cones
Yvat - Analog Orchestra

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/02 23:30

Mudhoney "Super Fuzz Big Muff"
8-bit Operators

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/02 23:40

actuel wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
papertiger wrote:

(1) reverb is the new 303. lol. she's playing it like ae, portishead, and radiohead.

I understand this in regards Ae...but RH's and PH's use seems to be standard to me. What are you hearing that I'm not?

i thought this last night when i read it. Portishead & Radiohead seem pretty standard issue 'verb. Ae definitely is soaking in reverb.

I guess what I mean to say is that there is a difference, at least to me, with producers/musicians/artists that apply reverb in a very generic sense and others that really use it/exploit it to create unique spaces. For instance, plastikman, and ae (on quaristice, etc.). I think radiohead and phead do this as well. I might get flamed for this, but I'm not a huge fan of the new phead. However, when I do listen to it, I like the clausterphobic "space" that they've created. With radiohead, on in rainbows I felt like it was an otherworldly sound or space (whereas Ok Computer was outer space).

Or maybe I just think too much about this. . . =P

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/06/03 00:17

papertiger wrote:

I might get flamed for this, but I'm not a huge fan of the new phead. However, when I do listen to it, I like the clausterphobic "space" that they've created.

Or maybe I just think too much about this. . . =P

M

Not by me because I wholeheartedly agree. I have a hard time listening to that album in one go. For the time being it seems like my description is closer to 'dull' than claustrophobic.
I am often comparing this album to PJ Harvey 'Is this desire' (her best imho). But then this was ten years ago and sounded fresh to my ears at that time, whereas today I'm still in doubt wether it's me getting too old/critical or ...whatever.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kuniklo - 2008/06/03 01:18

Lovlss wrote:

Belbury Poly - The Owl's Map/The Willow's
Mount Vernon Arts Lab - The SÄ©ance at Hobs Lane
The Advisory Circle - Other Channels/Mind how you go
The Focus Group - We are all Pan's People

I just got turned onto this stuff myself lately. Anyone raised on 70's BBC productions is going to love these.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kuniklo - 2008/06/03 01:20

howdragonsdisappear wrote:

Ital tek - Blood Line
Ital tek - Terminator 2 EP

I'm not generally that into dubstep but I'm kind of liking these. Any other dubstep recs for someone that things that Kode 9 and Burial aren't that interesting?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/03 02:30

i have the Boxcutter album Oneiric and I like it. However, if you don't think that Burial is that interesting, I don't know that you would find Orneiric anymore so -- it's better than the super generic Loefah type stuff, but to me is a step below the Burial in terms of artistry/complexity/textures, etc.

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kuniklo - 2008/06/03 02:35

I didn't really get into the Boxcutter album, although I only listened to it a couple of times. I like Dubstep that's really raw & dark, but also dynamic and loose, with a lot of variety. Burial bores me because he just lets stuff loop for too long.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/03 02:45

papertiger wrote:

I guess what I mean to say is that there is a difference, at least to me, with producers/musicians/artists that apply reverb in a very generic sense and others that really use it/exploit it to create unique spaces. For instance, plastikman, and ae (on quaristice, etc.). I think radiohead and phead do this as well. I might get flamed for this, but I'm not a huge fan of the new phead. However, when I do listen to it, I like the clausterphobic "space" that they've created. With radiohead, on in rainbows I felt like it was an otherworldly sound or space (whereas Ok Computer was outer space).

Or maybe I just think too much about this. . . =P

M

I guess what you mean is you like tasteful use or blatant misuse of reverb vs. reverb for reverb sake. It is no secret that each of the artists you mentioned go to great lengths to make great recordings as well... and tend to be tasteful in what they choose to do in all phases of the creation process.

I love the pHead album... truly love it. They're a very versatile group and it works. Very creative recordings. (kinda too folky with the lyrics though).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/03 02:50

jsrockit wrote:

I guess what you mean is you like tasteful use or blatant misuse of reverb vs. reverb for reverb sake.

yeah! I think that makes sense. =)

perhaps instead of blatant misuse we could say abusive? =P

when I spin that album I really only listen to machinegun, magic doors, the rip (although I end up skipping through it halfway) and maybe the last song.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/03 02:54

My faves are the first 4, deep water (I'm a ukulele fan), and machine gun. It's funny that people dissed machine gun as being a first single due to the fact that it sounds amateurish...but in the context of the album...it makes sense as the first single. All the other stuff is even more out there or doesn't have the same energy.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/03 02:58

jsrockit wrote:

papertiger wrote:

I guess what I mean to say is that there is a difference, at least to me, with producers/musicians/artists that apply reverb in a very generic sense and others that really use it/exploit it to create unique spaces. For instance, plastikman, and ae (on quaristice, etc.). I think radiohead and phead do this as well. I might get flamed for this, but I'm not a huge fan of the new phead. However, when I do listen to it, I like the clausterphobic "space" that they've created. With radiohead, on in rainbows I felt like it was an otherworldly sound or space (whereas Ok Computer was outer space).

Or maybe I just think too much about this. . . =P

M

I guess what you mean is you like tasteful use or blatant misuse of reverb vs. reverb for reverb sake. It is no secret that each of the artists you mentioned go to great legnth's to make great recordings as well... and tend to be tasteful in what they choose to do in all phases of the creation process.

I love the pHead album... truly love it. They're a very versatile group and it works. Very creative recordings. (kinda too folky with the lyrics though).

id have to agree with the in rainbows comment its def "otherworldly" they had a live intimate show on the HDMTV (cant quite remember the name of the channel but its HD and only shows music stuff, not the crap MTV or MTV2) and the reverb was emmensie YET it filled up every space perfectly even though it was live. very intense and very full.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/03 03:04

was it "from the basement"? That's the one they recorded in the VH1 studio, I think. If it is, you're correct -- the sound was excellent! (I think because Nigel Godrich (Radiohead's producer) mixed the show). someone gave me a DVD of it! =) watching lots of recorded live performances by radiohead I'm amazed by how much each member contributes -- I used to think Ed was useless (well, aside from the sexiness factor) but his guitar parts/shenanigans are often as interesting as Johnny's.

M

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/03 04:15

papertiger wrote:

was it "from the basement"? That's the one they recorded in the VH1 studio, I think. If it is, you're correct -- the sound was excellent! (I think because Nigel Godrich (Radiohead's producer) mixed the show). someone gave me a DVD of it! =) watching lots of recorded live performances by radiohead I'm amazed by how much each member contributes -- I used to think Ed was useless (well, aside from the sexiness factor) but his guitar parts/shenanigans are often as interesting as Johnny's.

M

yea i think it was from the basement i dont quite remember and i only caught the last 15 min of it but damn all i remember is that the swell of reverb etc. was like equal parts perfect, but i guess if youve been playing for that long your live sound would be damn near tight.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/03 04:17

yeah, it's a kickass performance. they ended with where I end and you begin which sounded SO great.

ok -- radiohead hijack over. sorry y'all!

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/03 09:03

Faust "The Faust Tapes"

Ellen Allien "Sool"

Silver Apples

James Pants "Welcome"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/05 09:23

The Cool Kids "The Bake Sale" (Wow, slept on this... not mind blowing but fun)

Stereolab "Space Age Bachelor Pad Music"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/05 09:32

Lemon Kittens - Spoonfed & Writhing

45 Tribute - Free Content

Banten - "s/t"

Dom - Edge of Time (which i swear Tortoise sampled)

The Books - Lost and Safe

Ellen Allien - "Sool"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2008/06/05 10:01

alva noto and ryuichi sakamoto silje nes

Valet - naked acid

flying lotus - LA

Windmill - Puddle City Racing Lights

roam the hello clouds

kurt elling - night moves bracken - we know all about the need white rainbow - sun shifts

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/07 00:37

So part of the joys of being a Dublab Proton giver, besides just feeling good supporting them, is you get all kinds free goodies. Received a link with over a 1gb of mixes from tons of great folks: Nobody, Dntel, Gas Lamp Killer, Flying Lotus and a heap of others. Should keep my busy for the next couple of weeks.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/06/07 01:09

Haha I dunno how many times I've listened to these songs in the recent weeks:

Echo & The Bunnymen - The Cutter

Brian Eno - The True Wheel

Brian Eno - The Great Pretender

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/07 02:02

actuel wrote:

So part of the joys of being a Dublab Proton giver, besides just feeling good supporting them, is you get all kinds free goodies.

?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/07 02:31

Dublab is online radio. Shit is hot and really diverse. This is the link to the Proton drive:

<http://www.dublab.com/protondrive/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/07 02:38

the newest notwist

saberpulse

kid koala and his cover of moon river

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/07 02:39

xibalba wrote:
the newest notwist

damn, didn't no that dropped already. glad i got payed today... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/07 02:48

;) :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=b34U3-CutuU&url=http://www.popmatters.com/pm/music/reviews/58867/the-cool-kids-the-bake-sale-ep/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/07 02:52

actuel wrote:
Dublab is online radio. Shit is hot and really diverse. This is the link to the Proton drive:
<http://www.dublab.com/protondrive/>

Damn, you must never sleep... I can't keep up...I'm getting old.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/07 02:55

hahah. it's just how i get through the 8 hours of coding at work. having a good arsenal of tunes helps a ton.
yeah, the Bake Sale shit is hot...i mean i prefer the og shit but all it's takes is dope drum machines and i'm in.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/07 03:32

actuel wrote:

yeah, the Bake Sale shit is hot...i mean i prefer the og shit but all it's takes is dope drum machines and i'm in.

The video is funny ... it is what many 80s rap videos should have been if those OG guys weren't renting cars / girls for their videos. Rolling up to girls on bikes (and them riding on your pegs), rolling up to pay phones when your pager blew up, and talking about the easy wins in life like clothes and bikes... that's alot truer to my 80s life than the real 80s rap was...though I never had a pager.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/07 03:55

jsrockit wrote:

The video is funny ... it is what many 80s rap videos should have been if those OG guys weren't renting cars / girls for their videos. Rolling up to girls on bikes (and them riding on your pegs), rolling up to pay phones when your pager blew up, and talking about the easy wins in life like clothes and bikes... that's alot truer to my 80s life than the real 80s rap was...though I never had a pager.

all that is true of a certain group of 80's/90's hiphop, but all of it wasn't about hoes, money, and bullshit. Boogie Down, MC Shan, and a whole host of other 80's pioneers were kickin hot, fairly humble, and dope shit.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/07 04:17

actuel wrote:
xibalba wrote:
the newest notwist

damn, didn't no that dropped already. glad i got payed today... :)

i dont kno if its dropped offically but its on torrent (yes ill still buy the album)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/07 04:25

actuel wrote:
Boogie Down, MC Shan, and a whole host of other 80's pioneers were kickin hot, fairly humble, and dope shit.

No doubt that is true... but then again, the 80s had many different styles all at the same time...and rappers of many different age groups. The real young guys would still talk about the same stuff as the older guys...when they could have been talking about young guy shit. Those are the ones I'm talking about. Also, you know if they have all of this great stuff on their debut album cover...they rented it. Rappers weren't getting paid huge signing bonuses at that time and, despite stereotypes and boasts, none of them were real gangsters or big time drug dealers.

By the way, I have no problems with 80's money and bullshit...at least it was fresh at the time. NWA was dope when they came out. Unfortunately, after 20 years ... and me becoming an old man...it doesn't sound as fresh when done now...especially over pop beats with sugary sweet R&B singers.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/06/07 06:32

Tycho - Dictaphone's Lament

Makes me want to die go to hell its too pretty.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/06/07 11:05

Moby - Southside.:P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2008/06/08 09:38

<http://www.jahtari.org/main.htm>

laptop-8bit-dub

DISRUPT!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/06/08 11:17

:)

wow this jahtari stuff is good!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/08 11:37

Megasoid - Speed Knots Vol. 1
Knifehandchop - How I Left You
Alter Ego - Fuckingham Palace (Modeselektor Remix)
Ghislain Poirier - Bastard Bass (Miami Bass Mixtape)
Spank Rock & Benny Blanco are... Bangers & Cash

Hot! Hot! Hot!

:gangsta:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by monofever - 2008/06/08 19:36

Scanner - Lauwarm Instrumentals
Sool - Ellen Alien

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by yourmama - 2008/06/08 22:53

The Black Dog - Radio Scarecrow
Luke Vibert - Chicago, Detroit, Redruth
Mr. 76ix - 3 (minority of one)
DÂ´Arcangelo - Eksel
Two Banks Of Four - Junkyard Gods

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/08 23:27

J Dilla - Jay Love Japan, Donuts, Ruff Draft

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/09 00:33

sunday's jam: Feedback - s/t a real rare boy: <http://mutant-sounds.blogspot.com/search?q=ennio+feedback>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/06/09 01:03

Currently got the free content of the 45 Tribute on!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/09 15:29

while waiting for the latest Venture Bros., i noticed this Chocolate Industries freebie on AdultSwim:
<http://www.adultswim.com/williams/music/wwrp/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/09 19:47

actuel wrote:

while waiting for the latest Venture Bros., i noticed this Chocolate Industries freebie on AdultSwim:
<http://www.adultswim.com/williams/music/wwrp/>

Thanks for all of the downloads!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/09 22:57

BOC "The Campfire Headphase"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2008/06/10 19:36

if you dig Jahtari

check

DISRUPT - Foundation Bit
Werk records

next level disc!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/11 08:48

Flying Lotus - Los Angeles

(unlike you cool folks, I had to wait until the release date)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/11 09:59

Chris de Luca & Phon.O - all kinds of shit... together, separate... albums, singles, mixes, etc.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/06/11 10:12

ThinkTanx wrote:

...all kinds of shit... together, separate... albums, singles, mixes, etc.

you so crazy! :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/06/11 10:49

Proem - You Shall Ever Been.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/11 10:56

actuel wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

...all kinds of shit... together, separate... albums, singles, mixes, etc.

you so crazy! :P

:lol:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by amenbrother - 2008/06/11 21:48

Last week Ive been listening a lot to

Adam Beyer, and
His fabric mix cd
Lekebuch
Calibre
Prototype years
The knife
Social ambitions

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/12 03:53

Earth 2: Special Low-Frequency Version

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2008/06/12 04:03

i keep getting hooked on "legiac - mings feaner" which is a funckarma alias but it's an album they made w/this synth guy so it's sort of like FSOL meets funckarma w/o the pretentious vibe tat for me always accompanies any FSOL album... plus it's just er.. way better.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2008/06/12 17:34

Air 'The virgin suicides' soundtrack
Coldcut 'Let us play'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/13 01:01

aseop rock (pretty much anything by him) dj shadow w/ cut chemist and dj numark - pushing buttons and lots of ambient subtle music during downtime for this summit forgot solaris (remake) soundtrack and the fountain soundtrack two very moving soundtracks.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/13 01:04

was the fountain soundtrack aranofsky? no wait, clint mansell. aranofsky was the director.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/13 21:37

papertiger wrote:

was the fountain soundtrack aranofsky? no wait, clint mansell. aranofsky was the director.

yes it was mansell for the soundtrack aronofsky as writer/director its my all time fave movie and cliff Martinez that wrote the solaris soundtrack

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/14 01:59

xibalba wrote:

its my all time fave movie

Interesting. I haven't seen it. I loved all of Aronofsky's other films. I had always heard that The Fountain was a bit of a clanger. My best friend who is a big film buff said it had no ending, and that it kind of meandered. Now you've peaked my interest again.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/14 03:28

"Weird Al" Yankovic

"Weird Al" Yankovic in 3-D

Dare to Be Stupid

Polka Party!

Even Worse

"Weird Al" Yankovic's Greatest Hits 1988

UHF - Original Motion Picture Soundtrack and Other Stuff 1989

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/14 04:23

jsrockit wrote:

"Weird Al" Yankovic

"Weird Al" Yankovic in 3-D

Dare to Be Stupid

Polka Party!

Even Worse

"Weird Al" Yankovic's Greatest Hits 1988

UHF - Original Motion Picture Soundtrack and Other Stuff 1989

:S :side:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Illiac - 2008/06/14 05:15

El-p I'll sleep when you're dead INSTRUMENTALS

New Flying lotus

New Portishead

Hudson Mohawke

new lcy demons

Sun o)))

Just discovered Dimlite (super duper dope).

Also re-living albums that I've played to death in the past such as:

Dilla Doughnuts
Mr. Bungle Disco volante
Fantomas Suspended animation and the first self-titled one
David S. Ware Godbelized

Me!
You!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/14 06:52

The Rub Radio: Hip-Hop History 1979-1998

Wowzers, these mixes are incredible! :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2008/06/15 04:39

Lately for me I have been listening to a lot of Deru and Deadbeat.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/16 07:08

ThinkTanx wrote:
xibalba wrote:
its my all time fave movie

Interesting. I haven't seen it. I loved all of Aronofsky's other films. I had always heard that The Fountain was a bit of a clanger. My best friend who is a big film buff said it had no ending, and that it kind of meandered. Now you've peaked my interest again.

i dunno for some strange reason it hit home when i watched it in theaters like it struck me to the very core on the down side of the emotional scale only a few movies have done this solaris (remake because of the beautiful soundtrack) eternal sunshine

the fountain
5 centimeters per second
voices of a distant star

they all have this sense to it that i eat up its hard to explain

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/16 07:11

Illiac wrote:
El-p I'll sleep when you're dead INSTRUMENTALS

nice

although for the most part i do like El-p's vocals and his writing there are a few songs that draw ?marks when i listen to him and i saw him play live not to long ago at the 9:30 (when i thought he was headlining but it was actually dizzee rascal (booooo) well his live show was eh alright.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/16 09:35

bumps

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/16 10:42

top ten artists for this week:

Sigur RÃ³s
Burial
Spiritualized
Weezer
mÃ³m
Gridlock
Thom Yorke
Tetsu Inoue
Bloc Party
Vladislav Delay

<http://www.last.fm/user/papertigrrrr/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by swords - 2008/06/16 13:19

kettel, Myan James - gets a little too enya for me but the a-side acid stuff is awesome doubtful guest, acid sauna - didn't impress me at first but requires a nice thorough listen

eliot lipp, the outside - great album. great live show. glad he's set up shop in NYC autechre, tri repetea - why not?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/16 13:29

papertiger wrote:

top eleven artists for this week:

Sigur RÃ³s
Burial
Spiritualized
Weezer

mÃm Gridlock
Thom Yorke
Tetsu Inoue
Bloc Party
Vladislav Delay
battles
<http://www.last.fm/user/papertigrrrr/>

fixed hahaha :silly:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/17 02:51

<http://www.retrothing.com/2008/06/radioheads-nude.html>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/06/17 03:50

jsrockit wrote:
<http://www.retrothing.com/2008/06/radioheads-nude.html>
Old. :P

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/17 23:59

futureimage wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
<http://www.retrothing.com/2008/06/radioheads-nude.html>
Old. :P

Nothing wrong with listening to something old. Do you throw away stuff once it becomes old?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/18 00:01

i do. especially old people. ugh.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/18 00:14

papertiger wrote:
i do. especially old people. ugh.

Please, you've been pulling our your Debbie Gibson records lately...stop frontin!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/06/18 00:17

oh man! that reminds me that I haven't listened to the halcyon-debbie gibson--bon jovi orbital remix in a loong time!

<http://www.soundoffcolumn.com/images/debbie-gibson.jpg>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/06/18 02:02

jsrockit wrote:

futureimage wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

<http://www.retrothing.com/2008/06/radioheads-nude.html>

Old. :P

Nothing wrong with listening to something old. Do you throw away stuff once it becomes old?

You did check the link right?

That's an amazing video btw, and I definitely think old>new in most cases.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/18 02:10

futureimage wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

futureimage wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

<http://www.retrothing.com/2008/06/radioheads-nude.html>

Old. :P

Nothing wrong with listening to something old. Do you throw away stuff once it becomes old?

You did check the link right?

That's an amazing video btw, and I definitely think old>new in most cases.

Yeah, I did...but the thread is called "what are YOU listening to lately", not who knew about this video first. That happened to be what I listened to yesterday (thin day for music for me)...today, it is dudley perkins. :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/18 02:14

papertiger wrote:

oh man! that reminds me that I haven't listened to the halcyon-debbie gibson--bon jovi orbital remix in a loong time!

<http://www.soundoffcolumn.com/images/debbie-gibson.jpg>

My best friend is also friends with Debbie Gibson. She keeps tryin' to hook up with him and he keeps shooting her down.

:laugh:

LA, dude... :lol:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/06/18 05:32

jsrockit wrote:
futureimage wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
futureimage wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
<http://www.retrothing.com/2008/06/radioheads-nude.html>
Old. :P

Nothing wrong with listening to something old. Do you throw away stuff once it becomes old?
You did check the link right?
That's an amazing video btw, and I definitely think old>new in most cases.

Yeah, I did...but the thread is called "what are YOU listening to lately", not who knew about this video first. That happened to be what I listened to yesterday (thin day for music for me)...today, it is dudley perkins. :P
Fair 'nuff :P
But yeah that is a superb vid, I had to rip the audio from it cos I was listening to it so much.
...Now, my friend has a dot matrix printer... :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/18 10:17

aesop rock (still) blockhead
jel
new mc chris (well im not sure when it came out) it doesnt even compare to any of his older ones the beats are alright but with out dj john fewells production it just doesnt feel the same.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/06/20 18:35

Orbital (just got back into them)

Listened to SND's latest "4,5,6" and Luke Vibert's Chicago, Detroit, Redruth last night. Both good albums.

Currently listening to Girl Talk's new album, "Feed The Animals", pretty cool.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by sorgenkind - 2008/06/20 20:32

this week toska and kruder & dorfmeister

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emminor9 - 2008/06/20 22:06

futureimage wrote:
Orbital (just got back into them)

Was listening to Insides during my unch break.

It's no coincidence since Mr Hartnoll is featured on Elektron's new site :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nick the Zombie - 2008/06/20 22:11

The last few days I have had The Birthday Massacre's new album and the Sweeney Todd score on heavy rotation.

I really should feel dirty for listening to TBM because of how gummy-goth they sometimes get. Something about their melodies/harmonies really nicely skates the line between shoegaze and 80's goth ala The Cure or Echo and the Bunnymen, which I really enjoy. They mix that with industrial and metal pretty nicely, IMO. Almost like Britney Spears after a night out with Hunter Thompson. It's not for everyone ;)

As for the Sweeney Todd score, Sondheim is a genius. Some of the most progressive and refreshing harmonies I have heard in a long time, and I believe this is a musical originating in the 70's.

So yeah, musicals and contemporary goth music. I should go shoot myself now.

- Nick

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/21 02:45

as soon as i get home ill get looking for the newest Ratatat album. I had no idea they were getting ready to release a new one, heres to hoping they tour near the DC VA area. I also heard/read its supposed to be a little more hip hop :)

also of course still kicking Aesop Rock current faves are the tracks Water (unreleased), Basic Cable, Keep of the Lawn after listening to the new mc chris its eh ok a few good jems and a lot of not so good ones.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by multidisk - 2008/06/22 00:14

first this forum is one of the best I've ever read...

On my pod-

basic channel (allllll of it)
Deepchord
Rhythm & Sound
Burial
Quantec
'45 (elektron compilation)
Tresor compilations (keep finding used gems)
Digable Planets
Lee "Scratch" Perry
King Tubby
Autechre
The Tuss
AFX
Aphex Twin
Deadbeat
Benga
Pinch
Skream!

Vainquerer
Substance
Portable
WIRE
Joy Division/ New Order
antiLogic
Detronik
rustdub

(this list may have no end.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/22 01:27

I haven't been listening to much lately, but when I have I'm still stuck all over...

Megasoid - Speed Knots Vol. 1 (as well as the instrumentals) and also...

Phon.O - Burn Down the Town

...quite a bit.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/23 21:46

gathered a bunch of new stuff (or stuff i havent heard yet) over the weekend daedelus - entire catalogue (listening now) ratatat - LP3 (so far so eh not quite as strong as their other ones)

The grouch - show you the world (not listened yet) Molemen - (pretty good so far) the bird and the bee - one too many hearts ladytron - new one teargas & plateglass - black triage venetian snares - cavalcade and the latest album armor for sleep - new one evergreen terrace - wolfbiker girl talk - feed the animals (haha not bad for what its worth, nostalgic in a weird way) and some mitch hedberg still rocking the aesop rock like it was the first time i heard his album float edit forgot to add polyphic & reanimator - the ugly truth

i feel behind on the times

edit2: kings of convenience

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/06/23 23:06

Dosh - Pure Trash
duo505 - late

Lord Quas
Gescom

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/06/26 02:19

Amplive's remix of radioheads inrainbows called rainydayz remixes.

a few gems in there (video tapez w/ del the funky homosapien and Reckonerz w/ chali2na) plus its free to download (i mean legally free :P) and i dont wanna go all off topic but im looking for a half-life 2/portal weighty companion cube plush (sold out on valves website). pm me if you have one.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/06/26 03:15

Mike Oldfield (wow, I forgot he was such a good composer!)

Haircut 100 (haha yes, party funk!)

Japan (again)

Venetian Snares - Detrimentalist (Gentleman in particular... WASN'T YOU THE TYPE etc.)

...oh and this. :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/06/26 03:21

So far today...

Flying Lotus - Los Angeles

edIT - Certified Air Raid Material

Modeselektor - Hello Mom!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/06/27 08:54

multidisk wrote:

Digable Planets

YES!!!!!! :lol: they always come out in summer time!! classic.

-peace be the greeting of the insect tribe.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/07/04 04:40

today of late...

Four Tet - Ringer EP (Ribbons at 3:00 minutes...i call Monomachine. it's very evident)
Notwist - The Devil...
RRine - various
Baden Powell - E de Lei
Chris Hinze - Mission Suite
The Books - (did their whole discography) and other shits i can't think of.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/07/04 08:44

actuel wrote:

Four Tet - Ringer EP (Ribbons at 3:00 minutes...i call Monomachine. it's very evident)

hmmm, would like hear this now! Overall, how do you like the EP? I really like Four Tet, but Everything Ecstatic left me a bit lackluster.:(Whats you fav. F.T. album?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/07/04 09:16

Rew wrote:

actuel wrote:

Four Tet - Ringer EP (Ribbons at 3:00 minutes...i call Monomachine. it's very evident)

hmmm, would like hear this now! Overall, how do you like the EP? I really like Four Tet, but Everything Ecstatic left me a bit lackluster.:(Whats you fav. F.T. album?

you can preview the album over at Bleep.com. i really like it but it's far less sample based then anything he's done before. a lot less dense then 'Everything Ecstatic' and less avant. slow evolving ideas, more synthetic sources. sounds to me like he discovered his inner Terry Riley. :D

as far as favorites, oof, that's a tough one...if i had to pick one i'd say, 'Rounds'. Dialogue, Pause, and Rounds all seem like a natural progression to me. i have to be in a mood for any of them as whole albums though. the tempos on all of those are really relaxed. which is nice but at times i need to fullfill my audio ADD. so that's where Everything Ecstatic comes in.

i dig what he's doing and done. i don't love it all but he has some great songs under his belt. some of his remix stuff is really, really nice. i'd preview Ringer before buying, while it still has the Hebden touch its also a new direction.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/04 09:25

Airborn Audio
BOC
Antibalas

Dangerdoom
James Pants
LL Cool J

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/07/04 09:33

actuel wrote:
Rew wrote:
actuel wrote:

Four Tet - Ringer EP (Ribbons at 3:00 minutes...i call Monomachine. it's very evident)

hmmm, would like hear this now! Overall, how do you like the EP? I really like Four Tet, but Everything Ecstatic left me a bit lackluster.:(Whats you fav. F.T. album?

you can preview the album over at Bleep.com. i really like it but it's far less sample based then anything he's done before. a lot less dense then 'Everything Ecstatic' and less avant. slow evolving ideas, more synthetic sources. sounds to me like he discovered his inner Terry Riley. :D

as far as favorites, oof, that's a tough one...if i had to pick one i'd say, 'Rounds'. Dialogue, Pause, and Rounds all seem like a natural progression to me. i have to be in a mood for any of them as whole albums though. the tempos on all of those are really relaxed. which is nice but at times i need to fulfill my audio ADD. so that's where Everything Ecstatic comes in.

i dig what he's doing and done. i don't love it all but he has some great songs under his belt. some of his remix stuff is really, really nice. i'd preview Ringer before buying, while it still has the Hebden touch its also a new direction.

cool, thanks:lol: I feel the same way about Rounds, Dialogue, and Pause... i tend to be more of a "whole album" type listener ... so i gravitate toward them more than Everything Ecstatic.

Have you seen him live? I missed a change two years ago in Tokyo... and have been kicking myself ever since. really curious as to what his live set-up is.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/07/04 09:37

Rew wrote:
Have you seen him live? I missed a change two years ago in Tokyo... and have been kicking myself ever since. really curious as to what his live set-up is.

i got see him one in chicago. this was 3 years ago. he was running to PC laptops and a SP-303. it was ok. i would like to see him again but i hope he evolves performance before then.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/07/04 09:59

ahh, i see.

oh yeah..... a friend just sent me the new Monolake Hong Kong remaster!:cheer: I like it alot! havent done a detailed back-to-back listen of the original yet... but its pretty tight!!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/07/04 11:51

pan sonic (all of it) sigur ros - takk
thom yorke - remixes, album, mini-album radiohead (can't stop)

. . . and i can tell from the few songs i've just digested that i will be listening to the julee cruise album "floating into the night" on repeat. my twin peaks obsession is nearly complete.

been meaning to pick up that monolake remaster too.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/07/04 23:58

Aril Brikha - Winter
:woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by megawatt - 2008/07/05 01:23

The Glove - deluxe reissue
Steppers Delight - Soul Jazz
Skull Disco
Charlie Mingus Sextet and Eric Dolphy
Hercules and Love Affair
Depeche Mode Black Celebration - deluxe reissue

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ozu - 2008/07/06 16:53

the black dog - spanners top ten ever!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by crashdamaged - 2008/07/06 17:00

Coldplay - Viva La Vida
Bonobo - Days To Come
The Herbaliser - Same As It Never Was Jean Michelle Jarre - Oxygene
45 Tribute
Amon Tobin - Foley Room

Yeah I know, strange combination but I love good music. :huh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by chiasticon - 2008/07/06 21:41

weakerthans - reunion tour (possibly my favorite album so far this year) duo505 - another illusion van basten - select tracks from recently posted discography lindstrom & prins thomas - s/t four tet - ringer (mostly in the car, but it's incredible everywhere)

i'm only maybe halfway thru the new ratatat. not really feeling it yet. i don't like the new radiohead (in fact, i'm pretty much sick of that band entirely anymore) and i've had the new sigur ros for weeks but haven't been in the mood for it yet.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by hyphen - 2008/07/07 00:37

chiasticon wrote:

i don't like the new radiohead (in fact, i'm pretty much sick of that band entirely anymore)

+1, literally, yesterday, I was in a shop that had some radiohead on, and I thought, wow, I may have reached saturation point with this band...granted it was an older track that I've heard 400000 times before, but as someone who felt that _OK Computer_ was one of the best albums since _Darkside of the Moon_, I suddenly maxxed out on their sound/feel...I'm kinda bummed actually...

listening to:

- Caribou
- Beta Band
- that sea and cake track from 45
- magnetic fields
- Maeshi
- low levels of SlagsmÅ¶lsklubben
- Raconteurs
- Superwolf/Palace/Will Oldham
- Dabrye
- I seem to always have some Ed Banger produced stuff floating around
- Pheonix

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/07/07 01:28

chiasticon wrote:

and i've had the new sigur ros for weeks but haven't been in the mood for it yet.

i'll be interested to see what you think. I've listened to it a few times and have some thoughts -- so hurry up!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nick the Zombie - 2008/07/07 02:26

+1, literally, yesterday, I was in a shop that had some radiohead on, and I thought, wow, I may have reached saturation point with this band...

+1,000. I have felt that way about Radiohead for a really long time now. Mostly it's just that I can't stand Thom Yorke. I could have said that in a meaner, shittier way, but I'll remain civil. I think the band is very musically competent, though.

They have some cool gear on stage when the play live. Just get a new singer, please.

- Nick

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actual - 2008/07/07 02:32

this is really amazing, i thought my feelings for Radiohead were shared only by myself. i have never been a Radiohead d!ckrider. i think they are very talented, have written some good songs, but i doesn't get any deeper for me.

i managed a record store for 5 years. i can't tell you how many times i've heard radiohead albums over and over. none of them bad, but i have never onced thought, "i want to hear radiohead".

i'm not bashing, just had to speak-up when i heard others mutter something besides, 'omg! this album...OMG'. heh

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/07 04:04

^^ i agree with the can of worms that has been opened. while i dont deny their talent i was never and will never been a fan of pablo honey or the bends. I am an avid as in rarly listen to ok computer and on up. its just never struck me that hey i need to listen to them. it wasnt until i heard girl talk's newest album on a track where he blended parnoid andriod with some rap lyrics that i was kinda intersted. also Amplive's mix of in rainbows with chali2na and a few other artist.

anyways currently Jel from anticon
Alias from anticon as well
13 & god
Ten yard fight
Uffie
Evergreen Terrace
Old darkest hour, walls of jericho and poison the well
xlooking forwardx
aesop rock of course

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by crashdamaged - 2008/07/07 07:28

chiasticon wrote:

i don't like the new radiohead (in fact, i'm pretty much sick of that band entirely anymore) and i've had the new sigur ros for weeks but haven't been in the mood for it yet.

I have to admit I have avoided Radiohead since OK Computer as it was one of my favorite albums but the later ones were dire. However, the new album I like but I am putting it down to the fact I have avoided them for 10 years. :huh:

The worst band in the world IMO is Red Hot Chili Peppers, they make my blood boil. I have to turn off the radio if they come on. :walkaway: :X

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2008/07/07 08:44

osborne
(the newest) paavoharju

odd nosdam PSE Daedelus - Love To Make Music To (wow!)
telepathe
tricky kowle west boy

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/07/07 10:53

Megasoid - Speed Knots Instrumentals
Knifehandchop - Dirty New York EP
Sixtoo - Jackals and Vipers in Envy of Man
Ellen Allien - Sool
edIT - Certified Air Raid Material
Dabrye - Two/Three
Depeche Mode - Various
Junior Boys - Last Exit (been a long time, still dig those subtle, tricked-out beats)
Flying Lotus - Los Angeles

Sticking with the latest theme, I was/am a long-time Radiohead fan. Imo, they reached their peak at Kid A. That album is a classic in my mind. They've been well on their way to R.E.M./MOR-land for a while now. Since HTTT really. I do dig Thom's solo stuff, and Jonny's film/composition work. I'd rather they left the whole Radiohead thing behind at times. I wouldn't be surprised if they did so after this tour.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/09 04:18

Oh No - Dr. No's Oxperiment
8-Bit Operators
Madlib Vol 3-4

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by credo - 2008/07/09 04:44

Since so many mention Autechre here on the forum I bought the latest on iTunes store. But I was a little disapointed. Nothing special, made me nervous... Should I try something of older date? Any suggestions? Or is it just a matter of taste?

Otherwise im a lot into Freq Mod (found it here on E-Users Love it!)
and TrentemÅller and old FSOL and early Front 242.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/10 02:16

instead of starting a new thread ill ask here does anyone know if there is an official acoustic version of radioheads paranoid android perferably on vinyl or mp3/wav would be fine. yes i plan on cutting it after i heard Set it off by girl talk its just head bengin. and for some reason paranoid android is my fave song but only the verses i dont like thechrouses at all.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/07/10 03:11

xibalba wrote:

instead of starting a new thread ill ask here does anyone know if there is an official acoustic version of radioheads paranoid android perferably on vinyl or mp3/wav would be fine. yes i plan on cutting it after i heard Set it off by girl talk its just head bangin. and for some reason paranoid android is my fave song but only the verses i dont like thechrouses at all.

I thought I had one, but no luck. I've got a 10-disc set of rarities, b-sides, remixes, demos, etc., called Towering Above the Rest, but all it had was a live version and an early demo version with a bit of a different arrangement (and some poor audio quality!). No acoustic version though.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/10 03:29

is the different arrangement apply to the verse? i may have to track it down...thanks.

oops when i say verse i mean the instrumental parts before the verses and in between the verses. ugh haha ill just dl it when i get home and see.

thanks agian.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/07/10 03:57

xibalba wrote:

is the different arrangement apply to the verse? i may have to track it down...thanks.

oops when i say verse i mean the instrumental parts before the verses and in between the verses. ugh haha ill just dl it when i get home and see.

thanks agian.

Honestly, there's not a whole lot of difference from the recorded version. Thom riffs on the lyrics a bit, and it's just a shittier quality. :laugh:

There are probably a few other little things, but nothing that jumps out at you as being wholly different. There aren't any new 'acoustic' parts, if you will.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kuniklo - 2008/07/10 04:30

credo wrote:

Since so many mention Autechre here on the forum I bought the latest on iTunes store. But I was a little disapointed. Nothing special, made me nervous... Should I try something of older date? Any suggestions? Or is it just a matter of taste?

Try their albums "Draft 7.30" and "Amber".

While I'm here - can anybody recommend some really top notch 4/4 minimal techno?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by daswesen - 2008/07/10 04:36

kuniklo: modern stuff? cause else i can't get enough of richie hawtin - closer to the edit (listening to it for 6 months straight), and gaiser is very nice too.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/07/10 04:51

kuniklo wrote:

credo wrote:

Since so many mention Autechre here on the forum I bought the latest on iTunes store. But I was a little disappointed. Nothing special, made me nervous... Should I try something of older date? Any suggestions? Or is it just a matter of taste?

Try their albums "Draft 7.30" and "Amber".

While I'm here - can anybody recommend some really top notch 4/4 minimal techno?

Not super minimal, but...

The Field - 'From Here We Go Sublime' is one of the best 4/4 albums I've heard in ages. It's on Kompakt. If you haven't, do yourself a favor. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/10 04:59

ThinkTanx wrote:

xibalba wrote:

is the different arrangement apply to the verse? i may have to track it down...thanks.

oops when i say verse i mean the instrumental parts before the verses and in between the verses. ugh haha ill just dl it when i get home and see.

thanks agian.

Honestly, there's not a whole lot of difference from the recorded version. Thom riffs on the lyrics a bit, and it's just a shittier quality. :laugh:

There are probably a few other little things, but nothing that jumps out at you as being wholly different. There aren't any new 'acoustic' parts, if you will.

thanks!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/11 02:23

What good / new hip-hop stuff has come out recently... not the straight forward stuff, the weirder stuff?

Already got Flying Lotus' new one...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/11 02:35

^^ Girl Talk's newest one Feed the Animals i find quite funny and weird i guess it would be considered "hip-hop"
Amplive - Rainydayz Remixes is pretty interesting

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by credo - 2008/07/15 01:32

Thanks for Autechre suggestions. Tried out Amber and I really like it!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Illiac - 2008/07/15 02:18

Count base d did a record with jeff parker of tortoise and josh abrams (prefuse's bassist) recently. not sure if it's out yet.
<http://www.obeyyourbrain.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/07/15 02:24

Illiac wrote:

Count base d did a record with jeff parker of tortoise and josh abrams (prefuse's bassist) recently. not sure if it's out yet.
<http://www.obeyyourbrain.com/>

that sounds pretty hot. i have seen quite a few of jeff parker's solo show's with herndon, and chad taylor.

my favorite abrams effort has to be his work with 'Town & Country'. the shit is heavy.

*edit: what's the name of that project. i don't have my 3-D glasses handy for that site :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/15 02:46

actuel wrote:

*edit: what's the name of that project. i don't have my 3-D glasses handy for that site :P

what he said...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Illiac - 2008/07/15 03:03

i'm not sure. I'll see Josh later today though and will ask.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/15 09:19

Jean Grae "Jeanius"
Ice-T "Power"
Aesop Rock "Float" (thanks for reminding me)
Gang Starr "Hard to Earn"
Slick Rick "The Great Adventures Of..."
Kankick "Seriuos Business This!"
Tortoise S/T

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2008/07/15 11:42

hippty hip 2 it:

http://reader.feedshow.com/show_items-feed=4cb01d97dd442b198c7b3b3fb6f301fd?page=0

Roland Youngâ€™s Isophonic Boogie Woogie
24 Carat Blackâ€™s Ghetto: Misfortuneâ€™s Wealth
chico freeman - the outside within
Khaliq Al-Rouf Salaamâ€™s The Elephant Trot Dance
Lemon Kittenâ€™s Spoonfed & Writhing
East of Underground

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/07/15 11:51

orwell wrote:

hippty hip 2 it:

http://reader.feedshow.com/show_items-feed=4cb01d97dd442b198c7b3b3fb6f301fd?page=0

Roland Youngâ€™s Isophonic Boogie Woogie
24 Carat Blackâ€™s Ghetto: Misfortuneâ€™s Wealth
chico freeman - the outside within
Khaliq Al-Rouf Salaamâ€™s The Elephant Trot Dance
Lemon Kittenâ€™s Spoonfed & Writhing
East of Underground

Very nice selections my friend. that 24 Carat Black shit is amazing! i mean it all is but gawddamn. any Rakim fans should nab that one, Eric B. just yanked there stuff.

You can also see all of those post/shares and about 50 more here: Rainbow Over Curved Air btw, Orwell i can't tell you how happy it makes me knowing you're digging this stuff. that's pretty much the purpose of why i shared all of those. so people can dig on some of the things i've found over the years.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nlj dj - 2008/07/15 12:48

autechre

robert babicz

monolake

trentemÃller

guy gerber

minz

sunchase

hot chip

and anything else good?:blink:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2008/07/15 13:35

24 Carat Black, has absolute soul without the Mc-cliches.

true, there are strings, swirls and breaks I recognize were chopped up or blatantly sampled

Big ups, back at you mate; I can't tell you how happy that you are sharing such life changing music.....:know:
It's all gonna help me get thru the weeks/months/years; hopefully it will do the same for many others. B) btw - Jon Appleton's "World Music Theater of Jon Appleton", freaks me out, in a good way - it sounds like someone created him as 21st new-wave fax-parody :lol:

Deserving of the term 'pioneer'; although he would have been thought of as an eccentric loon in his day

He'd love to wave scan thru my eps 16+ :laugh:

oh, sorry a majority of those LP' uploads do have dead links. I look forward to the new wave of actual releases, time permitting. Meantime I'm going to track down some LP mp3 collections from a friends very-very weird and very massive collection, and upload.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/07/15 21:09

orwell wrote:

oh, sorry a majority of those LP' uploads do have dead links. I look forward to the new wave of actual releases, time permitting. Meantime I'm going to track down some LP mp3 collections from a friends very-very weird and very massive collection, and upload.

boo. i will look over the links today and start replacing them. looking forward to our uploads!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/07/16 23:01

MC900ft Jesus - 'One step ahead of the spider'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by MAZ2099 - 2008/07/16 23:54

Franco Battiato

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2008/07/17 16:35

At the moment I enjoy to load my ipod shuffle at random. I just create a playlist with all the albums i own and let itunes pick at random what it loads to the pod. It's always surprising what comes up. A lot of times i get to hear track i've never listened to before because they were at the end of a unexciting album. Or i get to hear tracks i didn't like in a different context, and suddenly understand them in a different way.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2008/07/17 17:34

Marconi Union - 'A lost connection'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nick the Zombie - 2008/07/17 23:03

Forss - Soulhack (an interesting take on sample-based hip-hop)

Airiel - The Battle of Sealand (new-school shoegaze)

Fancey - Schmancey (70's soft-rock sounds with updated production values and insightful lyrics)

- Nick

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/19 09:09

The Bug - Pressure

cLOUDDEAD - Ten

Aesop Rock - Float and Labor Days

Thanks for reminding me about Aesop guys... great stuff I hadn't listened to in years. How do I get my hands on the stuff before float?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nick the Zombie - 2008/07/19 10:19

daswesen wrote:

kuniklo: modern stuff? cause else i can't get enough of richie hawtin - closer to the edit (listening to it for 6 months straight), and gaiser is very nice too.

Easily my favorite techno ever. I listen to Closer to the Edit at least once a month.

- Nick

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/23 04:31

The Dark Knight - Hans Zimmer and James Newton Howard. I cant get past this movie Ive seen it twice (one at midnight thurs and once in IMAX) and probably again at IMAX because we had pretty bad seats. But i havent obsessed over a movie in a while (since 06 when fountain came out but even then it seems pretty tame).

Ive always been a batman fan due to the dark tones and non super powers but its really pushed beyond its limits now that im planning on basing my second and third tats around batman. I want to get One side of two-faces coin on my upper left wrist (good side) and the bad side on my upper right wrist with HA and HA on the underside of my arm.

Its hit me like a GAS attack for synths would.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/23 04:51

I've got a batman tattoo on my nifkin.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2008/07/23 04:58

Autechre

Funckarma

Freq Modif

Plastician

Ital Tek

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/07/23 09:29

xibalba wrote:

The Dark Knight - Hans Zimmer and James Newton Howard.

Superb movie, but the orchestration was heavy-handed at times. I mean, jesus, we know we're supposed to feel suspense at this scene or that. Let the story speak for itself, Hans!

JSrokit: don't you feel Aesop Rock tries to fit too many words into his raps?

Listening to:

Clipse - Lord Willin (but Hell Hath No Fury is better)

Jedi Knights - ...I forget

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/23 09:33

glitched wrote:

JSrokit: don't you feel Aesop Rock tries to fit too many words into his raps?

Sometimes, but alot of indie rappers (especially EL-P and Aesop) do that...and bedroom rappers too (like myself)... ;)

However, I don't need things to be perfect and for everyone to sound like KRS-ONE.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/23 11:52

glitched wrote:

xibalba wrote:

The Dark Knight - Hans Zimmer and James Newton Howard.

Superb movie, but the orchestration was heavy-handed at times. I mean, jesus, we know we're supposed to feel suspense at this scene or that. Let the story speak for itself, Hans!

i may have to disagree because to me it was subtle especially after listening to the soundtrack nonstop all day and listening to the parts that were left out especially in Jokers Why So Serious Track. Im gonna see DK again (for the third time in IMAX) so ill def give the music another listen.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2008/07/23 15:24

right now listening to J Dilla's "rough draft" instrumental versions.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/07/23 19:04

Foals. A LOT of Foals.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/23 21:25

ignatius wrote:

right now listening to J Dilla's "rough draft" instrumental versions.

Great stuff...I have it on CD...but I have the cassette tape coming my way. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/25 23:44

glitched wrote:

don't you feel Aesop Rock tries to fit too many words into his raps?

hah NEVAR

"This is a never dug disco. Spread feelers. Tonka zonk Gepetto bred beezers. Jeepers, gee wilikers, goshes galoshes, Christ, god almighty. They tore his limbs off kilter, still the hostage moshes slightly"

or

"I was chewing my tongue out of my mouth one day when the blood in my beard hit the dirt by the blazers. Would have said 'curb it' like any nervous habit 'til maverick told me the coyote pack could smell the wound for acres, and labor to cater fang to fisherman gut fritters, oblivious to the glimmer of innocent duck feathers. Fuck it. Want a carnivore war? Bet. I'll be at the Bronx Zoo with a lock pick kit. On the eject for cockpit bench, helicop clip Nazi cops on kamikaze belly flop shit. Roger. Hop-fence-kill-a-crop, monster. We are the tired and poor, we come for your water. Boom. Bounce when the church corrupt. When the mayor knuckle dust city worker bugs."

I love it!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/26 00:58

I don't think he had a problem with the lyrics being too wordy, just using too many words per line so he has to say them too fast messing with his "flow"... or maybe I misunderstood.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/26 01:22

jsrockit wrote:

I don't think he had a problem with the lyrics being too wordy, just using too many words per line so he has to say them too fast messing with his "flow"... or maybe I misunderstood.

i dunno if i understood it either but i dont really have a problem with the way he flows i quite enjoy it :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/07/26 01:30

I hear ya... I do as well.

Listening to:

Beans "thorns"
Portishead "third" (still)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/07/26 02:10

Trentemoller - The Last Resort (just got this and I can't quite decide if I totally dig it or not. There are some very good tracks certainly, and he is a talented engineer, clearly, but some tracks are leaving me a bit 'meh'.)

Modeselektor - The White Flash (Trentemoller Remix) - Now, this I like! It's what convinced me to buy The Last Resort.

Bjork - Homogenic, and the Volta tracks that have contributions by Mark Bell.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/07/26 02:49

been awhile...

Grampall Jookabox - Rope Chain (forthcoming)
The Books - (all) > i can't get enough of these guys ever Gandalf - 's/t' > maybe one of the best psych records i've ever heard
Pascal Comelade - Sentimientos > all hail
High Places - 03/07 - 09/08 > love, love, love these shit. just picked up on Thrilljockey.com
Too Short - Life is... > thread here reminded me of this ol' goodie
Black Sheep - Wolf in.. > i'm old balls. i have been listening to this since i was 15 regularly. that was 17 years ago! oof!
Siah & Yeshua Dapoed - Anthology > word smifs that need due recognition
Erykah Badu - New Amerykah > love the record, but loses points for the overuse of the overused Roy Ayers samples
Laurence Vanay - Gateway - Evening Colours > brilliant psych
The Notwist - The Devil > great record. took me a minute to warm up to it but i do dig it

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/07/26 03:02

Haven't heard much about the new Notwist album, but I may check it.

Gotta love some Too Short! That ish takes me straight back to high school!! :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/07/29 02:32

^^ new Notwist is def hot ish

Listening
MC frontalot
YTcracker
GZA liquid swords

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by rivas3 - 2008/07/29 03:40

Portishead-Third

Rockin my world. I love the production on it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by megawatt - 2008/07/29 03:57

Spirits of Life - Hatian Vodou- Soul Jazz comp Diplo Vs Santogold - Top Rankin mix cd

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/07/31 18:16

Mainly stuff I've been "remastering":
Unreleased Aphex DAT extracts

The Human League's Travelogue demos

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/01 02:50

J Dilla Ruff Draft on Cassette.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by AfroRouge - 2008/08/01 03:25

Today, Archie Shepp's "Fire Music." Great album. I love Shepp's beautiful, edgy aesthetic.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/08/04 11:54

Been listening to my n5MD series MiniDiscs.

Quench - Punctuation is about the best I own. So great. It is one of the best "electronic" albums I have heard for a while. Very emotional. I remember one night induced on the L listening to this album watching the stars. Amazing.

Check it out if you have not heard. Italian brother duo - Quench.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/08/04 13:28

nljdj wrote:

Quench - Punctuation is about the best I own. So great. It is one of the best "electronic" albums I have heard for a while. Very emotional. I remember one night induced on the L listening to this album watching the stars. Amazing.

Check it out if you have not heard. Italian brother duo - Quench.

From what I could tell they are Dutch and the album is called 'Punctuated', but thanks for the recommendation, I'm gonna check it out... :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/06 02:47

Bought a few things recently...

Four Tet - Ringer
The newest Notwist

Not feeling those two at all...

Radiohead - OK Computer (lost my old copy)...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by skeksi - 2008/08/06 06:10

these lot been keeping my ears busy for the past few weeks talking heads - remain in light
autechre - quadrangle
jan hammer - complete miami vice russell haswell - second live salvage last but not least...
parmeggiani - grm box set

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/08/06 06:24

skeksi wrote:
parmeggiani - grm box set

noice, talk about synchronicity, i was just listening to Bernard's "Violostries"!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/07 23:49

A Tribe Called Quest - The Low End Theory
dudley perkins - expressions
J Dilla - The Shining Instrumentals
Bjork - Homogenic

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/08/08 01:22

Damu the fudgemunk/ Y Society
M.I.A. - blame it on pineapple express but im gald to pull this one out again
Jaylib
2 skinnee j's "reunion" tour is coming here friday :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/08 01:44

OH yes!!! I was able to pick up Main Source "Breaking Atoms" today... very happy!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/08/08 03:05

JS--"Breaking Atoms" is one of my favorite tapes, ever. Where did you find it, and in what format? If on CD, you're a damned lucky bastard!

Me: King Sunny Ade, Pogues boxed set, Ae EP7, Various "The Woman's Voice" (female vocal music from India--truly marvelous!)

No matter how hard I try, the typo in the thread subject still bugs the crap out of me.

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/08/08 03:13

scuto wrote:

No matter how hard I try, the typo in the thread subject still bugs the crap out of me.

:laugh:

I had actually gotten used to it now.

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by jsrocket - 2008/08/08 03:24

scuto wrote:

JS--"Breaking Atoms" is one of my favorite tapes, ever. Where did you find it, and in what format? If on CD, you're a damned lucky bastard!

I got it on CD at J&R in NYC... and they had a clip of them, so it must have been re-released finally. Been looking for awhile...and listening to too many bad MP3s of it instead.

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/08/08 03:31

ThinkTanx wrote:

scuto wrote:

No matter how hard I try, the typo in the thread subject still bugs the crap out of me.

:laugh:

I had actually gotten used to it now.

What is amazing is that there was a typo and I wasn't involved!

It's a simple fix, but would require Relaspe808's permission.

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/08/08 04:10

this week>

Dabrye - Two/Three

Dom - Edge of Time

Decibel - El Poeta Del Ruido Plus...

Don Cherry - Eternal Rhythm, Brown Rice, Mu Part 1

Don Caballero - Singles Breaking Up (vol. 1)

was just strolling through some of my 'D's' :)

Grampall Jookabox - Rope Chain,

Bennie Maupin - The Jewel in the Lotus

Parmegiani - Violostries
Clark - Body Riddle / Throttle Furniture
Nice - Thoughts of the Emerlist....
Percee Pee - Now and Then
Paalaala - Live
MRR-ADM - Untitled
Masta Ace - Slaughtahouse
The Cool Kids - The Bake Sale > after many listens, i pan this as some real "Poser" hip-hop. throw back is fine but they don't even do it well. weak sauce is applied Tony Allen - Jealousy/Progress > maybe the best summer album this year, for me.

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/08 08:19

actuel wrote:

The Cool Kids - The Bake Sale > after many listens, i pan this as some real "Poser" hip-hop. throw back is fine but they don't even do it well. weak sauce is applied.

I'm starting to feel this way as well...but some of those songs are still good. I chalk it up to them being too young to really know what went on in the time frame they love. They are definitely posers when it comes to bikes...they don't know jack.

On the other hand two/three is one of the best hip-hop albums ever...

Just downloaded jdilla "pay jay" ... I was a little late on this one.

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by tIB - 2008/08/08 09:49

Finally got the new portishead, absolutely love it: feels a bit like an unexpected gift.
Anyone heard the new spiritualized?

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/08/08 11:02

jsrockit wrote:I got it on CD at J&R in NYC... and they had a clip of them, so it must have been re-released finally. Been looking for awhile...and listening to too many bad MP3s of it instead.

:woohoo: I'm so excited that this is now out on CD! I'll still rock the cassette in my car. It took long enough for them to reissue it. Large Pro is my man--amazing he's only a couple years older than I am. When I first heard "Just Hangin' Out" on Yo! MTV Raps I went nuts, mainly because of the beat-juggled/scratched "Bam Bam" by Sister Nancy.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by monofever - 2008/08/08 17:22

The Field - From Here We Go Sublime
Niederflur - TYPO EP
Girl Talk - Feed The Animals

Just ordered 'Breaking Atoms', hoping this is a straight re-release, no one would mess with that production surely?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/08 20:59

monofever wrote:

Just ordered 'Breaking Atoms', hoping this is a straight re-release, no one would mess with that production surely?

It sounds untouched to me... even the levels are low like the the older rap CDs were...I don't think it was touched or "remastered" at all...just re-released.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/08/08 22:17

monofever wrote:

Girl Talk - Feed The Animals

I love this album simply because it reminds me of all those shitty times in HS back in the day. There are some god awful mashups there but for some reason i always go back and listen to it. I always think who in the right mind would want to listen to "come n ride it" mashed up with chicago and then i stop and say "well apperently me...." i think its to early for me to be reminded about the 90's :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by monofever - 2008/08/08 22:57

I just got word from the sleazebay outfit I ordered a copy of 'Breaking Atoms' from, despite showing 16 available on the bay page they claim they are 'out of stock', what's that about?

Good to hear they have decided not to compress it to 'modern' levels, those beats are so subtle in the background. Re-mastering could easily have killed it.

Oh well I will have to wait until I get back from holiday, maybe they will have filtered through to the uK by then.

I love 'Feed The Animals' in the car driving around london, how did he squeeze 'The Weight - The Band' into that, and the Carpenters, no time to get bored, I enjoy joints on that I would have no time for in their original condition.

Still if you can remember the 90's you weren't really there.....B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/08/08 23:43

monofever wrote:

Still if you can remember the 90's you weren't really there.....B) haha unfortunately for me i can i mean after all "high school the GREATEST years of your life" sigh.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/09 01:44

Speaking of Portishead...

<http://www.thefader.com/articles/2008/6/13/freeload-mickey-factz-machine-gun>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zPPH1qg8Qo4>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/08/10 12:47

The Rip is the best song on that album...that and Machine Gun. Brilliant cover by Radiohead.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/08/11 07:50

glitched wrote:

The Rip is the best song on that album.

MFing Co-sign, thats almost my fave song in their entire catalogue

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/11 08:14

That whole album rules... best album of 2008 so far.

Today:

Antibalas Security

dictaphone m. = addiction

Bjork - Debut

Sonic Youth - Washing Machine

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/16 22:18

The Bug - London Zoo

Eazy-E - Eazy-Duz-It

AC/DC - Back in Black

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/08/17 02:06

How are you liking the London Zoo album, Rockit?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/17 09:18

ThinkTanx wrote:

How are you liking the London Zoo album, Rockit?

Not sure yet...it is different from the other album I have of his...which I love...I have to give it more time.

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/08/20 15:59

Burial - Untrue
Ellen Allien - Sool
Flying Lotus - Los Angeles
Boxcutter - Oneiric

Don't know what the deal is, but I've been obsessed with listening to Burial lately. I had almost written it off at one point, but now I can't turn it off. 'Los Angeles' has also been spinning a lot. It has really grown on me. Same for Sool. Sool really took a while to come around for me. I'm normally not a big 'minimal' fan, but that album is so well crafted and I just love all the 'space' as well as 'the spaces' in there. :)

Actually, it's interesting to note that quite a bit of the music on those four albums incorporates a lot of 'ambience' and space. I guess it's a phase for me. On the flip side, almost none of my music makes really good use of space, so I'm gonna use these for inspiration in that department, me thinks. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/08/26 01:57

finally got all my vinyls organized after sitting on the floor since we moved in 4 months ago. i how i love thee:

Ego Trips - The Big Payback
Express Rising - S/T
Silver Jews - S/t
Supperappin' - vol. 1
The Books - Lemon of Pink, Lost and Safe
Villian Accerelate - Maid of Gold
Isotope 217 - Commander Mindfuck
Boogie Down Prod. - By All Means Necessary Gang of Four - Entertainment

dusty dusty

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/08/26 02:05

You are a big fan of The Books, eh Actuel?

I freakin love those dudes. First time I heard Lemon of Pink, my wig was fully flipped! :laugh:

Have you ever seen them live?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/08/26 02:14

ThinkTanx wrote:

Have you ever seen them live?

regrettably, no. next tour for sure though. yeah, i like them when they first came out and have followed them on each album. they just get heavier and heavier rotation the last few years. good work music.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/08/26 02:20

actuel wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Have you ever seen them live?

regrettably, no. next tour for sure though. yeah, i like them when they first came out and have followed them on each album. they just get heavier and heavier rotation the last few years. good work music.

I'm always so jealous of peeps who do visual design/art work because they get to listen to music while they work. :(

No such luck when you do audio work for work. :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/26 02:23

I do regulation of a stock exchange for living and I get to listen to music all day as well... but I do get some strange looks from time to time... most people here are radio listeners.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scuto - 2008/08/26 02:53

Yeah, The Books are quite fun! I had no idea what to do with "Thought for Food" until I heard "Getting the Done Job." Then it all started to make sense.

I really enjoyed them live. Others have poo-pooed their playing over a DVD with video and backing music, though they do it well enough to not be a problem for me. A cozy venue helps the live Books experience, for sure. Anyone own their DVD? The "meditation" segment is genius! I saw it on the tour, and have to buy the DVD soon.

King Sunny Ade - Best of the Classic Years.

Zs - The Hard EP. (absolutely rules!)

Pattern is Movement - All Together.

V/A India - The Women's Voice. (some stunning tracks--proves what the human voice is capable of)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sinusoid - 2008/08/28 00:22

Patsy Cline

Tim Buckley

burial

Harmonia

Lillenthal
Amon Duul II
Ibex
The Beach Boys
Desiderii Margenis

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/28 00:38

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

How are you liking the London Zoo album, Rockit?

Not sure yet...it is different from the other album I have of his...which I love...I have to give it more time.

Ok, I've had more time with it...and I do like it... there is no real rowdy stuff on it like "killer" from pressure, but it has some really great songs on it.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ural - 2008/08/28 02:45

jsrockit wrote:

I do regulation of a stock exchange for living and I get to listen to music all day as well... but I do get some strange looks from time to time... most people here are radio listeners.

wow, cool job! i'm now thinking about to invest money (what i got for selling my advertising agency to fins) in USA papers...

any recomendations? :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/28 03:14

ural wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

I do regulation of a stock exchange for living and I get to listen to music all day as well... but I do get some strange looks from time to time... most people here are radio listeners.

wow, cool job! i'm now thinking about to invest money (what i got for selling my advertising agency to fins) in USA papers...

any recomendations? :)

Nope, no recommendations... I think of my job as just a job. Therefore, I only learn what I have to for the job at hand. Sorry, I'm just not that into it...but it pays the bills. My only advise is to seek the guidance of a professional...and do research on that professional to make sure they are not crooked. I've seen to many people, in the industry even, piss away cash thinking they knew everything...only to lose everything. Also, do not spend money you can't afford to lose... it is a gamble.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ural - 2008/08/28 03:30

jsrockit wrote:

ural wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

I do regulation of a stock exchange for living and I get to listen to music all day as well... but I do get some strange looks from time to time... most people here are radio listeners.

wow, cool job! i'm now thinking about to invest money (what i got for selling my advertising agency to fins) in USA papers...

any recomendations? :)

Nope, no recommendations... I think of my job as just a job. Therefore, I only learn what I have to for the job at hand. Sorry, I'm just not that into it...but it pays the bills. My only advise is to seek the guidance of a professional...and do research on that professional to make sure they are not crooked. I've seen to many people, in the industry even, piss away cash thinking they knew everything...only to lose everything. Also, do not spend money you can't afford to lose... it is a gamble.

thanks for advice! of course you are right.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by hyphen - 2008/08/28 14:31

ThinkTanx wrote:

actuel wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Have you ever seen them live?

regrettably, no. next tour for sure though. yeah, i like them when they first came out and have followed them on each album. they just get heavier and heavier rotation the last few years. good work music.

I'm always so jealous of peeps who do visual design/art work because they get to listen to music while they work. :(

No such luck when you do audio work for work. :laugh:

unless you work in a studio where there is a VNC machine/shared music library, and all that gets played over the shared speakers are:

Animal Collective like the burned out ghosts of lost beach boys albums trapped in an acid induced hall of mirrors....

The Black Angels or the Black Keys: heard a velvet underground album once, and thought they could do the same thing...

Kanye: the earth's largest ego...

over and over and over and over and over and over and over and over and over and over

Other's that I in fact used to enjoy and now would rather poke my ears out with an icepick due to over exposure at work: Hot Chip, Cat Power, Fiery Furnaces, My Morning Jacket, Dr Dre, Arcade Fire, Coco Rosie, etc...

I like all the artists I listed above, just don't enjoy being bludgeoned by it all day at work...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/08/28 15:42

hyphen wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

actuel wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Have you ever seen them live?

regrettably, no. next tour for sure though. yeah, i like them when they first came out and have followed them on each album. they just get heavier and heavier rotation the last few years. good work music.

I'm always so jealous of peeps who do visual design/art work because they get to listen to music while they work. :(

No such luck when you do audio work for work. :laugh:

unless you work in a studio where there is a VNC machine/shared music library, and all that gets played over the shared speakers are:

Animal Collective like the burned out ghosts of lost beach boys albums trapped in an acid induced hall of mirrors....

The Black Angels or the Black Keys: heard a velvet underground album once, and thought they could do the same thing...

Kanye: the earth's largest ego...

over and over and over and over and over and over and over and over and over and over

Other's that I in fact used to enjoy and now would rather poke my ears out with an icepick due to over exposure at work: Hot Chip, Cat Power, Fiery Furnaces, My Morning Jacket, Dr Dre, Arcade Fire, Coco Rosie, etc...

:laugh: Shame.

I've been really diggin this new Modeselektor mix for XLR8R.

<http://xlr8r.com/podcast/2008/08/modeselektors-jetlag-mix>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/08/29 00:01

rivas3 wrote:
Portishead-Third

Rockin my world. I love the production on it.

Yeah! me too! the production is amazing right? its really the first thing i noticed about it. first thing i heard. some of my friends aren't feeling it.... but i think its a great album.

Also, Vitaminsforyou - Legend of Bird's Hill. --- just can't get enough of this!:cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/08/31 01:02

Madlib Remixes 2
Sharon Jones & The Dap-Kings - 100 Days 100 Nights
The Bug - London Zoo
Kankick - Serious Business This
M.I.A. - Kala

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/08/31 01:45

JS,

What's the Bug album like? I looked for it on bleep but didn't see it. They did have some other stuff by a Bug (not sure if THE Bug) and if it's the same person. . . well then I'm not so sure. . .

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/02 00:11

Yes, Bug and The Bug are the same... I'd describe the Bug as digital dub. This is a good start for the new album:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-aW7NFSGkIM>

Also, here it is on bleep:

<http://www.bleep.com/?bleep=ZENDNL132>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by salrip - 2008/09/03 02:57

blood axis and joyuax de la princess or whatever they call themself and their absinthe-album, it's superawesome!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/09/03 05:03

Been into some video game soundtracks as of late.

Castle Crashers (xbox live button masher game from the makers of Alien Hominid HD)
Braid Soundtrack (xbox live puzzle game best game up there) on the braid soundtrack are tracks from Jami Sieber and tracks from Shira Kammen

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2008/09/03 05:19

salrip wrote:

blood axis and joyuax de la princess or whatever they call themself and their absinthe-album, it's superawesome!

Yeah very nice, i just listened it yesterday too.
one of the best of les joyaux de la princesse edit: listening also the myspace of Ruin . :kiss:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Illiac - 2008/09/03 07:15

Fuck man, I'm listening to how dragons disappear!
"stay here cloud" is extra extra dope, plus all your stuff i've been secretly stalking is fantastic.

Any insight into how you put that track together?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2008/09/03 08:06

thank's a lot !

to answer you quickly,for this one, i made first a pattern on the machinedrum,then i plug my guitar on guitar rig 2, found a nice melody, arrange the machiendrum pattern, record the two on wavelab, -> cubase, i add some synth (massive here), create some variation for rythmic and guitar, repeat this sequence a lot of time, then do some copy and cut, and masterise (waves ssl4000 for all, C1 for guitar, and reverb don't remember wich one)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nils - 2008/09/04 20:21

Amon Tobin
Yann Tiersen
Kuniklo
Burial
MÃ¼d

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/04 21:07

The Jon Spencer Blues Explosion - Orange
Kraftwerk - Radio-Activity
Madlib - Blunted in the Bomb Shelter
Burial - Burial
The Bug - Pressure

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/09/04 22:27

Wolfgang Voigt 'Pop'
Juno 6 (Paalaala) in my mp3 player
Franz Liszt (practicing piano playing)
Vladislav Delay 'Anima'

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/05 04:45

today i have managed to go through the whole EPMD catalog. POP POP POP goes ma 9!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/09/05 08:00

Alias - Resurgam
Telefon Tel Aviv - Map of What Is Effortless

The Birthday Massacre - Walking With Strangers (yes, I'm embarrassed)
Milosh - Meme
Yppah - You Are Beautiful At All Times
Leak Bros. Waterworld (personal favorite, never sits out of rotation for long) Slowdive - Souvlaki
The Reflecting Skin - "Year Of The Knife"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/05 15:20

Diggin on that newish Benga album, "Diary of An Afro Warrior". :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ural - 2008/09/05 21:08

Buddy Rich - a MD "alter ego" in human world :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/10 02:19

James Pants - Welcome
Kode 9 + the Space Ape - Memories of the Future
Fourtet
Clark - Turning Dragon

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/09/10 03:08

listening to soundtracks lately

Dark Knight: Hans Zimmer and James Newton Howard
The Fountain: Clint Mansell
Eternal Sunshine for the Spotless Mind - Various Artist
Solaris (Remake) - Cliff Martinez
The Prestige - David Julyan
Kikuijiro
Birth - Alexandre Desplat

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/10 05:41

What do you mean lately X? I think you mean always... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/09/10 14:20

jsrockit wrote:

What do you mean lately X? I think you mean always... ;)

yea haha i always find some time to sneak in my listening routine with a few soundtracks or video game or anime OST's. some times i need a break from all of the breaks that take up my music listening pleasures. so i can clear my head and focus on damn recording.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/10 16:24

Digging through Danton Eeprom's stuff. I'm really enjoying it. I've never been a huge minimal/house/tech-whatever person, but I do dig the occasional joint, like stuff by Ben Klock, Sascha Funke, definitely Gui Boratto. I'm a big fan of The Field, but that is so unique and different, imo. Also, I like quite a bit of Matthew Dear's stuff.

Anywho, I'm quite digging Danton's tracks. And, I saw him live at Mutek and he uses a Machinedrum, so extra points scored there... :)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2008/09/11 11:20

In a bizarre twist of fate last night I ended up listening to George Benson and Al Jerrau at their concert, please do not tell anyone.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/11 11:24

tIB wrote:

In a bizarre twist of fate last night I ended up listening to George Benson and Al Jerrau at their concert, please do not tell anyone.

Did they have a Machinedrum on stage?? :ohmy: :silly:

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2008/09/11 12:28

Unfortunately not, they were rocking jomox and vintage roland gear, you should see what al jerrau can do with a 303! :woohoo: :dry:

They were all amazing musicians, played with all the soul/smooth jazz greats... lost on me though, I sat there for two hours thinking about pressing buttons and twisting knobs. Who needs musical talent when you've got sequencers?! :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/11 12:32

Smooth jazz is about as utterly dire as music gets, imo. :laugh:

I do appreciate the talent and the time put in though. I actually know quite a few peeps in the smooth jazz scene out here. :blush:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/11 12:54

it's really hard to hate on Benson and Jarreau. while they're both mostly known for their commercial successful stuff, which isn't something i can digest, they both had solid early records and have the chops. can't say i know any of their recent stuff, but that can be said for many jazz legends who went that route.

i mean who ever thought McCoy Tyner, Coltrane's go to piano player for the majority of his career would be make 'soft' jazz decades later. regardless McCoy is an incredible pianist.

examples go on and on. just go look at the line-up on Miles Davis's "Bitches Brew", which was fcking amazing and 'edgy' the time, then look at their careers years later. oof! only a couple retained that pioneering integrity.

not to go on and on, but what happened to jazz around '69 is happening with has been happening with hiphop/rap now = mass commercialization (homogenization) ie MONEY!!!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2008/09/11 14:36

Ive always struggled to like any jazz at all to be honest, but smooth jazz is the devils work for me really- its just too smooth! I suppose I'm drawn to things a bit rough, raw and edgy; we were never going to get on!

Actuel is right though, they certainly command some respect- its easy to forget that at one point they were pioneers. Benson's playing is phenominal and although Jarreau's voice has gone (according to the geezer I went with who's a long time fan) for 68 years old he's enjoying himself.

Smooth old dogs!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by zoot - 2008/09/11 22:18

i listen to the radio mostly when i have time

luckily in melbourne we have 2 good community stations 3 RRR 3 PBS and kiss fm used to be into 'weather report' as far as some jazz stuff

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/11 22:57

tIB wrote:

Ive always struggled to like any jazz at all to be honest, but smooth jazz is the devils work for me really- its just too smooth! !

I fall into this category.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/12 02:58

Well, I'll listen to some classic Miles, Coltrane, Monk, Jarrett, etc., any time. And I love to go hear live jazz, but I don't listen to it much on record.

But, yeah, I find smooth jazz to be nothing but quite distasteful. :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/15 00:22

http://farm4.static.flickr.com/3168/2856464436_6e47be8b13.jpg

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/09/15 02:32

tIB wrote:

I've always struggled to like any jazz at all to be honest, but smooth jazz is the devil's work for me really- it's just too smooth! I suppose I'm drawn to things a bit rough, raw and edgy; we were never going to get on!

Have you heard On The Corner - that is one of the most bad-ass 'jazz' records out there.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/15 02:47

Ookpikk wrote:

tIB wrote:

I've always struggled to like any jazz at all to be honest, but smooth jazz is the devil's work for me really- it's just too smooth! I suppose I'm drawn to things a bit rough, raw and edgy; we were never going to get on!

Have you heard On The Corner - that is one of the most bad-ass 'jazz' records out there.

Except for the whole record sounds like the same idea over and over...it can be annoying if you aren't in the mood.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/16 00:22

jsrockit wrote:

Except for the whole record sounds like the same idea over and over...it can be annoying if you aren't in the mood.

I would say that you can cast that same judgement on 95% of all records ever made. When I managed a record store for several years I'd hear this all the time. Being forced to listen to multiple genres for 8 hours a day, 5 days a week, for 5 years, I realized that anything and everything is samey. I personally don't think it's a bad thing. I want Tortoise, Clark, John Fahey, Black Sheep, James Brown, Miles Davis, Autechre, etc to sound like themselves, and they all work over a general theme on each album.

All that said, there's definitely albums I have to be in the mood for. Nothing wrong with obviously not liking and digging 'On the Corner', but it's no more samey than anything else IMO.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ping panic - 2008/09/16 00:43

Above and Beyond - Trance Around The World#216.mp3

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by udenjoe - 2008/09/16 01:04

Spiritualized - Songs in A&E

Just saw them live too. Great album. They did some Spacement 3 songs at the show!

The Black Angels - Directions to See a Ghost

Good band. Download "Black Grease" free.

Six Organs of Admittance - Shelter From the Ash

A masterpiece.

Wooden Shjips - Anything by them will be good.

Pink Mountaintops - Axis of Evol

Sorry. All guitar bands. Getting tired of electronic music lately. The guitar/psychedelic music coming out these days is much better.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/16 01:30

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Except for the whole record sounds like the same idea over and over...it can be annoying if you aren't in the mood.

i would say that you can cast that same judgement on 95% if all records ever made. when i managed a record store for several years i'd hear this all the time. being forced to listen to multiple genres for 8 hours a day, 5 days a week, for 5 years, i realized that anything and everything is samey. i personally don't think it's a bad thing. i want Tortoise, Clark, John Fahey, Black Sheep, James Brown, Miles Davis, Autechre, etc to sound like themselves, and they all work over a general theme on each album.

all that said, there's definitely albums i have to be in the mood for. nothing wrong with obviously not liking and digging 'On the Corner', but it's no more samey then anything else imo.

I understand, but this album is not making me think that "wow, this sounds like miles" ...it makes me say "wow, this sound like one long song"... that is what I meant. You cannot say that about the rest of music you listed (except maybe John Fahey). Of course, when viewed in the grand scheme of Miles's catalog...it is very different.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/16 01:48

yeah, i think what i mean is that anyone can come along and say that any Tortoise, Autechre, or {fill in the blank} artist albums sound samey. for example, my brother in-law use to say that "rap all sounded the same", and i'd defend it but really, he's mostly right. most genre's sound like their genre. just as most artist albums sound pretty much like themselves. on a micro level there are nuances or tempos, melodies, etc that differentiate one song from the next but all having similarities as well. those nuances are generally only appreciated and noticed by fans of that music.

blah, blah, blah...i'm paraphrasing and marginalizing my thoughts here as this is something i have considered writing about many times, but not just with music, but language, food, culture, etc. hell even Gurdjieff/Ouspensky would get into the frequencies and how certain frequencies connect with certain people due to their social, economic, cultural, language, mental, etc. backgrounds.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/16 02:13

just to get back on topic, (ignore my mutterings....ignore button in next version :))

Chinaboise - The Greatest Story Ever Told (bloomington represent...lol)
Delarosa & Asora - Sleep Method
Dennis - Hyperthalamus
Don Cherry - Relativity Suite (Holy Mountain i heart thee)
Fennesz, Jim O'Rourke, Peter Rehberg - Return of Fenn O'Berg
Piero Umiliani - Musica Elettronica

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/16 02:33

actuel wrote:

yeah, i think what i mean is that anyone can come along and say that any Tortoise, Autechre, or {fill in the blank} artist albums sound samey. for example, my brother in-law use to say that "rap all sounded the same", and i'd defend it but really, he's mostly right.

That's not what I mean...though... I mean "on the corner" basically has the same bassline through side 1...with only little changes here and there, and veers off a bit at times. Side 2 the bassline does veer off...but eventually comes back to basically the same thing. It gives each sode a groove that has a sameness... I can't think of any tortoise album that is like that....or any rap album that is like that...not even the earliest stuff that is based on one drum machine.

Yesterday was a cassette day, today is a vinyl day:

Miles Davis "On the Corner"
MHE 007 / 008
Songs Ohia 7"
J Dilla "Mash's Revenge"
BPD "Criminal Minded"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/16 03:06

jsrockit wrote:

That's not what I mean...though... I mean "on the corner" basically has the same bassline through side 1...with only little changes here and there, and veers off a bit at times. Side 2 the bassline does veer off...but eventually comes back to basically the same thing.

i understand what you mean. my points we're mainly commenting on your 'samey' comment, and was making a larger point about how that sameness is common, and not a bad thing.

speaking directly about 'On The Corner', i think there's a lot of variety and music to digest here. i am a huge Miles/Jazz fan and while i can see how someone could make a blanket 'samey' comment, i think there's a lot variety on this LP. tempos, percussion, guitars, melodies, keyboards, bassline, horns, etc all improvising over a few central themes. the jazz formula alive and well. these are just extended jams, live at that. i can think of a near infinite amount of jazz albums and shows i've been to like this...for better or for worse would depend on the listener. maybe the extended jams aren't everyone. all-in-all, it makes since that it's samey.

I can't think of any tortoise album that is like that....or any rap album that is like that...not even the earliest stuff that is based on one drum machine.

i don't want to mix points. there aren't any Rap albums i know of that are specificylike "On The Corner" as a extended jam album but i wasn't maintaining there was. again, purely talking on the point of 'sameness'. which now, you've made clear wasn't what you meant.

per our usual conversations, communication incomplete #343. (smiles) la, la, la connecting dots.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/16 03:14

actuel wrote:

per our usual conversations, communication incomplete #343. (smiles) la, la, la connecting dots.

And yet further proof of why you have over 4,000 posts between the two of you. :laugh: :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/16 03:20

Yeah, extended jam...exactly. Must be in the right mood. If you are, it is cool. Since Jazz is not one of my true loves, I guess my point just comes off sounding like a uneducated fool. However, I've listened to the album many times...and there is variety in there...but I guess I like my variety in 4 minute snippets...not in extended jams.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/09/16 03:26

For the record - OTC is way too edited to be called a jam - it was very directly inspired by the tapework of Stockhausen and I could be wrong, but also Xenakis. The OTC boxset has the original james, and there is a huge difference between them and what wound up on record.

And on topic, I am, curiously enough, listening to Electric Ladyland...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/16 03:32

Ookpikk wrote:

For the record - OTC is way too edited to be called a jam - it was very directly inspired by the tapework of Stockhausen and I could be wrong, but also Xenakis. The OTC boxset has the original james, and there is a huge difference between them and what wound up on record.

And on topic, I am, curiously enough, listening to Electric Ladyland...

very true! this is true with the majority of the Davis fusion years. Bitches Brew, In a Silent Way, etc. they'd jam for hours then edit them into a more commercially acceptable length and digestable portion.

btw, Electric Ladyland is soooo good! Steve Winwood's playing on Voodoo Chile (not the revisted) the full-length is bananas.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2008/09/16 03:36

the audio book of "consider the lobster" by david foster wallace. he hung himself recently.. like a couple days ago so i'm mourning the loss and getting ready to start reading all his books again and savoring his genius. :(:(:(:(:(:(:(:(:(:(:(

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/16 03:37

Ookpikk wrote:

For the record - OTC is way too edited to be called a jam - it was very directly inspired by the tapework of Stockhausen and I could be wrong, but also Xenakis..

I bought it due to Stockhausen being an influence on the album... that said, they are still jams...editing or not. A lot of music is made that way. I mean Jams in the way that they work a lot of the same ideas over and over throughout the album....not Jams as in 1 unedited cut for an hour.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/16 03:42

ignatius wrote:

the audio book of "consider the lobster" by david foster wallace. he hung himself recently.

yeah, i was just talking about this with PT and my buddy in japan. really sad. Infinite Jest is a absolute masterpiece. was just watching this....old: <http://www.charlierose.com/shows/1997/03/27/2/an-interview-with-david-foster-wallace>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/16 04:02

Infinite Jest gets a massive thumbs up.

I was reading the article about his journalism on the Time website, and it had links to various pieces. I had never really read any of his journalism. I was reading his article, which was immaculate, about Roger Federer, and found myself almost feeling guilty. Why hadn't I read this before?? Why is it that so often an artist has to die before we can truly appreciate them?? Although, I suppose it is that way in so many areas of life. You don't know what ya got, till it's gone.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ural - 2008/09/16 05:14

Take a look at Squarepusher's LP "Just A Souvenir". Perfect mystification...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/09/16 05:28

ignatius wrote:

the audio book of "consider the lobster" by david foster wallace. he hung himself recently.. like a couple days ago so i'm mourning the loss and getting ready to start reading all his books again and savoring his genius. :(:(:(:(:(:(:(:(:(:(:(

What!
Fuck!
And I was just thinking the other day that it would be great if he got round to writing another full on novel...
:(

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2008/09/16 12:20

Going back a bit Ill have to give OTC a spin.

Jazz is one of those things I feel I should like (musically challenging, suprising etc) but Ive never been able to get on with it. Its funny because I really like a lot of classically trained jazz musicians but prefer them playing in a different context, for example Mitch Mitchel's drumming with Hendrix.

Im open to anything musically but I cant see me converting, Ive seen a fair bit of live jazz over the years and despite being wowed by the musicianship Ive rarely enjoyed the sounds made.
Im probably a heathen but Im much more inspired by other genres.

Before the Benson and Jereau gig they played a smooth jazz cover album of Marvin Gaye's whats going on... Even in smooth jazz flavour that album still sounds amazing, been listening to that again since: Beautifull.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/16 23:05

I dissed Fourtet's Ringer EP a few pages back...I have to take that back. I still don't think Ringer is a good track, but Ribbons and Swimmer are ridiculously good.

Also, the song "my tree" by James Pants is another favorite at this moment.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/09/17 00:51

Just got in the mail four albums by The Opus
Great stuff so far. Ordered it because they produced my all time fave track by Aesop Rock "Take Me To The Basement".
The beat on that track is just sick and haunting and very reminisant of silent hill.

Give em a listen
www.theopusonline.com

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/09/17 03:12

Cocteau Twins - Head Over Heels + The Spangle Maker EP = OMG.
The Durutti Column - The Guitar And Other Machines = Wow, late 80s and it doesn't sound awful, in fact it sounds superb!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2008/09/17 05:33

actuel wrote:

yeah, i was just talking about this with PT and my buddy in japan. really sad. Infinite Jest is a absolute masterpiece. was just watching this....old: <http://www.charlirose.com/shows/1997/03/27/2/an-interview-with-david-foster-wallace>

thanks for that.

and sorry for derailing the thread a little.

oh, and go read Oblivion (fiction) and Consider the Lobster (non-fiction)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/09/18 07:36

xibalba wrote:

Just got in the mail four albums by The Opus

Great stuff so far. Ordered it because they produced my all time fave track by Aesop Rock "Take Me To The Basement". The beat on that track is just sick and haunting and very reminisant of silent hill.

Oh man, didn't even know they had a new album out. Thanks for the heads up.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/19 09:17

The Gaslamp Killer - Box Set

Arabian Prince - Innovative Life

Watching: Kraftwerk and the Electronic Revolution DVD

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2008/09/24 20:07

Now that I'm getting more used to posting here, I'll give this one a go.

The Emperor Machine - What's In The Box

Squarepusher - Just A Souvenir

Pivot - O Soundtrack My Heart

A lot of these recently. Does anyone else like The Emperor Machine?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/24 20:55

Kraftwerk 1 & 2

Madvillain Box Set

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by salrip - 2008/09/24 21:51

townes van zandt - kathleen

"Maybe I'll go insane
I got to stop the pain"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/24 22:02

Koushik - Out My Window
Portable Sunsets - PDF Tommorrow's
L.O.N.S. - TIME / A Future without a Past
Quasimoto - Unseen
E. Torrini - Me and Armini
Organized Konfusion - Demos (wow)
D. Ashby - Rubaiyat...

...on and buy any and all High Places if you are a lofi, jangley sounds lover. like organic idm w/ lazy teenage like female vocals and a array of guitar pedals > sandwich :)

<http://www.myspace.com/hellohighplaces>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2008/09/24 22:16

-Richie Hawrin (And Plastikman)
-KJ Sawka
-Squarepusher
-Leftfield
-DJ Shadow

...and tons of youtube videos featuring elektron gear :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/25 00:38

Rick James the B-Boy from Buffalo on constant repeat: <http://jp.youtube.com/watch?v=2vmNqBy3ie0>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/09/25 00:48

actuel wrote:

Organized Konfusion - Demos (wow)

Where did you get that?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/09/25 00:52

jsrockit wrote:

actuel wrote:

Organized Konfusion - Demos (wow)

Where did you get that?

hard to find. was never released officially but some cassettes are still floating around. try this link:
<http://www.megaupload.com/?d=V82VHHKX> if that doesn't work. email me.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/25 03:11

Sascha Funke - Mango

M83 - Saturdays=Youth

Lots of 80's Synth Hits :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2008/09/26 16:23

Vladislav Delay & Uusitalo

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by enapa - 2008/09/26 17:45

Mostly black metall and grindcore....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by zoot - 2008/09/26 20:10

ThinkTanx wrote:

Sascha Funke - Mango

M83 - Saturdays=Youth

Lots of 80's Synth Hits :)

for your 80's pleasure

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NCZT2sijQB4>

:laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/09/27 02:48

zoot wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
Sascha Funke - Mango
M83 - Saturdays=Youth
Lots of 80's Synth Hits :)

for your 80's pleasure

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NCZT2sijQB4>

:laugh:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NbhXmSBIS_U

:silly:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by NoiseLab - 2008/09/27 05:18

Gary Numan - Jagged Edge (remix album of Jagged)

Very good and always a bit of PolyMoog sentiment!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/10/01 00:02

Prefuse 73 Vocal Studies and Uprock Narratives
Quantic - 5th Exotic, An Announcement to Answer

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/01 00:10

Black Sabbath and Slayer...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by russellventilla - 2008/10/01 01:05

Recloose B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/10/01 23:27

Souls of Mischief - 93 Til Infinity
Lungfish - Rainbows From Atoms
Unspoken Heard - EP
Koushik - Out My Window
Luc Marianni - Six Syntheic Suites

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/02 00:22

Madlib - WLIB AM King of the Wigflip
Slayer - Reign in Blood

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/10/02 00:49

Matthew Dear - Asa Breed
Late Of The Pier - Fantasy Black Channel

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/02 08:57

Madvillain Demos Cassette... so damn raw...crazy how much cleaning up and mix tricks had to be done to make the CD sound regular lo-fi instead of unpolished bedroom lo-fi.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by salrip - 2008/10/02 21:35

burzum - filosofem

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2008/10/03 04:11

phoenecia live set from the warp magic bus tour:

<http://www.basterdized.com/forum/showthread.php?t=9946>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2008/10/03 18:10

UNKLE - Psyence Fiction
Tortoise - TNT

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2008/10/03 23:12

Yvat - Tear duct
Clockwork orange - Wendy Carlos's complete original score
Norman Bambi - West of space adventures Plaid - Tekkon Kinkreet OST

some old cursor miner also

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/10/04 01:53

MPC-forums comp Vol 1
Alias - Resurgam
The Faint- Fascination
Koushik - Out My Window

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/06 03:12

I've been listening to pop music songs ... go ahead, diss... I just needed to listen to something different... I guess easy listening... lol.

The Game
Jason Mraz (my girl likes this)
Lil Wayne - A Milli
etc.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by skeksi - 2008/10/06 09:46

this week on ipod
carcass - necrotism, descanting the insalubrious boris + merzbow - rock dream hanatarash - 2
organized konfusion demos (that i got off here, thanks for that who ever it was...ace)
the melvins - various LPs boris / sunn o))) altar satanstornade LP (again)
Dark energy - collided energy
Made - tracktitle
arthur russell - calling out of context

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2008/10/06 17:31

I was ironing shirts on Saturday while Man Machine & Autobahn were playing.

It's good to have tight steady rythm when performing this job :side:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by salrip - 2008/10/06 18:35

ulver - Eos

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/06 21:25

Nas - Illmatic

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GoumLeChat - 2008/10/09 04:04

I've been listening to JosÃ© GonzÃ les's first album Veneer, and so I decided to listen to original version of Heartbeats from The Knife. And damn it's very, very good music.

So I've bought Deep Cuts and Silent Shouts : An audio visual experience.

Oh and In Our Nature, JosÃ© GonzÃ les's second album :)

Also I've found a website with old gigs of Pink Floyd, with rare stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/10/09 04:10

GoumLeChat wrote:

Silent Shouts : An audio visual experience.

You will not be disappointed my friend. My favorite cut on that album is constantly changing, but right now it's 'Like A Pen'. The whole album is incredible though. A very clear mood.

And, of course, it's all Elektron. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GoumLeChat - 2008/10/09 04:33

All Elektron ? Nice.

And the visual is cool too. Simple and original.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by rdekoch - 2008/10/09 05:03

Ellen Allien - Sool

Clark - Turning Dragon (I admire the craftsmanship more than I like the Music)

BCD2

The new Girl Talk

The new TVOTR

The new Fiery Furnaces live album, Remember (The only album by them that I don't love. It's actually pretty awful!)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/10/09 05:24

GoumLeChat wrote:
All Elektron ? Nice.
And the visual is cool too. Simple and original.

Well, I'm not sure about 'all'. But there's a lot. You can obviously hear it. Here's an interview, from the Elektron site, with Olof:

<http://www.elektron.se/extras/?sPage=stories&ild=2&iSubId=3>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GoumLeChat - 2008/10/09 19:46

thank you :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/09 21:58

The Isolationist (DJ Vadim and Anti-Pop)
Edan - Beauty and the Beat

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/10/09 23:24

lots and lots of a place to bury strangers, which led to some flying saucers attacking, bloody valentines appearing, and investigating career opportunities at the joy division.

oh and gang of four and siouxsie and the banshees.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/10/10 01:18

papertiger wrote:
and investigating career opportunities at the joy division.

:blink: :unsure: :blink: :unsure: :blink: :unsure: :blink: :unsure: :blink:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/10 01:52

papertiger wrote:
lots and lots of a place to bury strangers, which led to some flying saucers attacking, bloody valentines appearing, and investigating career opportunities at the joy division.

oh and gang of four and siouxsie and the banshees.

Good lord, someone done put some funny mushrooms on your "organic" pizza.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/10/10 03:53

papertiger wrote:

lots and lots of a place to bury strangers, which led to some flying saucers attacking, bloody valentines appearing, and investigating career opportunities at the joy division.

oh and gang of four and siouxsie and the banshees.

i can't help but think your recent visit with 'lord darkness' hasn't influenced this beautiful but murky riddle.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/10/10 18:56

jsrockit wrote:

Edan - Beauty and the Beat

Love that album. Wonder when Edan's next release will be.

I am currently listening to:

Jake One - White Van Music

Blue Sky Black Death - Jean Grae: The Evil Jeanius (remixes)

Mux Mool - Drum EP

Yppah - You Are Beautiful At All Times

every track by The Reflecting Skin that I can get my grubby mitts on

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/10/11 00:37

flying lotus - LA - best hip hop music to come out in a bit.

echonomist - ika

autechre - quadrangle

bola - soup

afx - analog bub bath 5

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/10/11 01:11

Ratatat - LP3 didnt really like it at first until i heard it live.

I am robot and proud - a mix selection of tracks

Squarepusher - the new new one, very jazzy and discoy and punky.

Beastie Boys - just the track So what'cha want , for some reason that beat is infectious.

Wu-Tang - 7th chamber part II

weathermen - the new left

del the funky homosapien - the 11th hour

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/11 01:30

nljdj wrote:

flying lotus - LA - best hip hop music to come out in a bit.

I wonder if he'll ever do an album with a rapper? That would be ill.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/10/11 03:13

i dunno about rapping but the singers he has featured with are doing a great job.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/11 03:56

nljdj wrote:

i dunno about rapping but the singers he has featured with are doing a great job.

Those are my least favorite tracks of his... the ones with singers. I know he has stated that he'd love to work with girl pop singers like Beyonce and stuff...but he'd make some great beats for rapping over... he needs to go the Dabrye route and hook up with the best from the underground and make a rap record... (to satisfy my selfish needs)... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by salrip - 2008/10/12 19:39

nadja - radiance of shadows really good "ambient metal" or whatever it's called

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/12 22:03

Ultramagnetic MC's Critical Beatdown

De La Soul is Dead

Eric B. & Rakim - Follow the Leader

Kool Keith - Matthew

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Vader77 - 2008/10/13 09:18

Quadrangle LP

essential listening for all Elektron owners. B)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/10/15 04:20

Tons of Sonic Youth - Rather Ripped, Sonic Nurse, Goo, Daydream Nation, EVOL...
Thurston Moore - Psychic Hearts
Various Nirvana tracks (it's been a loooooonng while...)
My Bloody Valentine - Loveless (saw them two weeks ago, it was sick...)
Ride - Nowhere
The Radio Department
Benga - Diary of an Afro Warrior
Pole - Steingarten
Philippe Cam - Karat #36

Mostly guitar music... B)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/10/15 04:24

ThinkTanx wrote:

Tons of Sonic Youth - Rather Ripped, Sonic Nurse, Goo, Daydream Nation, EVOL...
Thurston Moore - Psychic Hearts
Various Nirvana tracks (it's been a loooooonng while...)
My Bloody Valentine - Loveless (saw them two weeks ago, it was sick...)
Ride - Nowhere
The Radio Department
Benga - Diary of an Afro Warrior
Pole - Steingarten
Philippe Cam - Karat #36

Mostly guitar music... B)

i approve!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/10/15 04:38

actuel wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Tons of Sonic Youth - Rather Ripped, Sonic Nurse, Goo, Daydream Nation, EVOL...
Thurston Moore - Psychic Hearts
Various Nirvana tracks (it's been a loooooonng while...)
My Bloody Valentine - Loveless (saw them two weeks ago, it was sick...)
Ride - Nowhere
The Radio Department
Benga - Diary of an Afro Warrior
Pole - Steingarten
Philippe Cam - Karat #36

Mostly guitar music... B)

i approve!

:happyday:

:P :laugh:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/15 05:20

Earth 2

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by salrip - 2008/10/16 18:50

death in june - 13 years of carrion philip glass - einstein on the beach various russian folk-music kirsty hawkshaw - Leafy Lane
Silver Mt. Zion - God bless our dead marines

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/10/18 02:32

Holyfuck - LP
Foals B-Sides

^Saw both bands earlier this week and they were both awesome.

Mr. Oizo - Lamb's Anger (it got leaked :D)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/20 00:47

Another Cassette Listening Day:

Most of the Worst Some of the Best of Sentridoh
The Ah Club - Squeeze my Cares Away
Madvillain Demo Cassette
Parliament / Funkadelic

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lotus-eater - 2008/10/20 08:21

There are a few tracks off Lowfish's new album, Frozen & Broken, that are really doing it for me right now. I've also been listening to Spookey Ruben's Bed and Breakfast -- Tricky Boy Wonder is fantastic!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/28 08:29

Cypress Hill - S/T

Group Home - Livin' Proof
Cannibal Ox - The Cold Vein
Matmos -S/T
MF Doom - Operation : Domsday
Gang Starr - The Ownerz
DJ Premier - Beats That Collected Dust
High Priest - Ghost in the Drum Machine

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/10/28 14:34

Paper Tiger - False Hopes
Doomtree S/T
Sage Francis - Still Sick... Urine Trouble, Personal Journals and A Healthy Distrust
Black Milk - Tronic
School of Seven Bells - Alpinisms

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/10/28 14:37

jsrockit wrote:
Cannibal Ox - The Cold Vein

Still break this out every couple of months. Love El-P's production.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/10/28 20:25

lameaim wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
Cannibal Ox - The Cold Vein

Still break this out every couple of months. Love El-P's production.

Yep, it is probably the best example of his production style ever IMHO.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/10/28 21:22

after finally watching the 6th season of aqua teen hunger force, i dusted off Dangerdoom.

new ones
Tobacco - Fked up friends (it sounds just like Black Devil Disco Club)
The Mighty Underdogs - Droppin' Science Fiction
Dj/rupture
Squarepusher - Just a Souvenir

oldies quantic - an announcement to answer nujabes

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/10/31 01:28

http://www.mp3lyrics.org/c/cocteau-twins/blue-bell-knoll_2x2.jpg

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nlj dj - 2008/10/31 02:29

Schöne Neue Extrawelt & Electronic Frank by lee jones.

Best albums this year.

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/10/31 19:32

ThinkTanx wrote:

http://static.rateyourmusic.com/album_images/1178.jpg

:)

Autechre - Tri Repetae? If so, it's a little more brown. :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/11/01 01:06

How odd!! That used to have the Blue Bell Knoll album cover in it. At least, it did yesterday... bizarre. :dry:

--- Fixed!! B)

----- Oh! And today...

<http://www.residentadvisor.net/images/reviews/2007/burial.jpeg>

Love that album cover... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/11/01 01:09

Matt Valentine + Erika Elder & The Bummer Road - Green Blues
Over and over again - it's just that good.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/11/01 01:55

Right now listening to stuff i havent listened to in a while

Dangerdoom
Comeback Kid
Scraps & Heart Attacks
Ten Yard Fight
xlooking forwardx
The Minus Tide
Hot Hot Heat

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/11/04 17:27

DJ Signify - Sleep No More is back in rotation. Love the drums on this record.

Also, I am breaking in the following:

Q-Tip - The Renaissance

Subtle - ExitingARM

Foreign Exchange - Leave it All Behind

Black Milk - Tronic

RJD2 - The Third Hand Instrumentals (I deeply respect RJ for doing what he wanted to do and getting his sing on, but this is so much better without his vocals. One track on Since We Last Spoke worked for me; an album full of them, not really. I still find myself singing some of the choruses though :D)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/11/04 20:53

lameaim wrote:

DJ Signify - Sleep No More is back in rotation. Love the drums on this record.

Also, I am breaking in the following:

Black Milk - Tronic

RJD2 - The Third Hand Instrumentals

I've been looking for that DJ Signify for awhile...

How's the Black Milk?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/11/05 04:50

A steady diet of Autechre for me has been treating me well recently.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/11/05 05:51

jsrockit wrote:

lameaim wrote:

DJ Signify - Sleep No More is back in rotation. Love the drums on this record.

Also, I am breaking in the following:

Black Milk - Tronic
RJD2 - The Third Hand Instrumentals

I've been looking for that DJ Signify for awhile...

How's the Black Milk?

I'm really digging it, he's also a member of the I'm Jealous of Your Drums Club. They knock something fierce. Milk on the mike.... well, it's a rapper/producer record. He's got a line every now and then, but the flow is dope and works for me. Listen to the first three tracks (Long Story Short, Bounce, Give The Drummer Sum), should give you a good idea as to whether you'll like it.

Sent you a PM regarding the DJ Signify record.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/11/05 21:47

Thank you for the PM... I'll most likely pick up the Black Milk.

Luke Vibert - Lover's Acid

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by onthefly - 2008/11/06 00:31

Kieran Hebden & Steve Reid - NYC
V/A - Sleepwalk (mixed by Optimo)
Kelp - Ex-Aquarium

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/11/06 08:18

GLK - mixes vol. 1 & 2
Edan - Primitive Plus & Sprain Your Tapedeck
Koushik - Out my Window
Sea & Cake - Car Alarm
Faust - IV
Marcus - Belgrave - gemini ii
V/A - habitat

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/11/06 08:41

BarBQ - Man on the Moon.

It's silky.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/11/06 10:10

deerhunter, atlas sound
wire
shoegaze stuff (flying saucer, skywave, place to bury strangers, my bloody valentine, others)
burial (perfect rainy day music)

. . . things that are making me want to buy a guitar and take lessons. . . and "sing"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/11/06 10:23

I'm on a major guitar trip right now. Must be somethin in the air! B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/11/06 10:50

ThinkTanx wrote:

I'm on a major guitar trip right now. Must be somethin in the air! B) yeah, all those dollar bills your dropped on your new guitar. :P

my hands are in the air too, though. . . invizible gitar!!one1!!1!11

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/11/06 11:12

papertiger wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

I'm on a major guitar trip right now. Must be somethin in the air! B)

yeah, all those dollar bills your dropped on your new guitar. :P

my hands are in the air too, though. . . invizible gitar!!one1!!1!11

:laugh: :laugh: :laugh:

OMG, you're such a dork! Ha ha.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/11/13 02:52

Jake One - White Van Music > hottest hiphop i've heard and long times. x7. production makes me happy.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by KidOne0 - 2008/11/13 04:40

actuel wrote:

Jake One - White Van Music > hottest hiphop i've heard and long times. x7. production makes me happy.

Check out Black Milk - Tronic

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/11/13 04:50

yeah, BLK MLK is hot as well. haven't nabbed Tronic yet. have be been following him since he was 12" only from Fat Beatz. so much music to try to keep up with. feet don't fail me now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/11/14 02:57

Q-Tip - The Renaissance (A few seriously good songs on this...some easy listening / smooth bullshit too though) Bought the Jake One ...it better be good! :) Also, bought the new squarepusher...hmmm. Haven't listened yet.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2008/11/14 03:20

Marko_Fuerstenberg-mon_mar_21_000325_2005

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/11/14 09:53

actuel wrote:

Jake One - White Van Music > hottest hiphop i've heard and long times. x7. production makes me happy.

Some great songs on here...thanks for bringing it up. The first song is great and the MF Doom songs are great... for all the songs which have MCs I don't care for, they were kind enough to include the instrumentals cd.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/11/16 01:38

I'm listening to this Harmonic 313 mix for Mary Anne Hobbs:

<http://www.mediafire.com/?jwcczpfmlyb>

Rustie - â€ŽZig Zagâ€™™ (Wireblock)
Drexcia 4 - â€ŽTake your mindâ€™™ (Submerge)
Flying Lotus â€Žâ€™$tuntsâ€™™ (Warp)
Black Milk feat. Phat Kat and Elzhi - â€ŽGoatitâ€™™ (Music House)
Samiyam - â€ŽFireballâ€™™ (White Label)
Magic Mojig - â€ŽThe Clawâ€™™ (White Label)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽThe Dawnâ€™™ (Warp)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽNeonâ€™™ (Warp)
Heralds of Change - â€ŽSpottedâ€™™ (All City)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽCyclotronâ€™™ (Warp)

Sick, sick, sick!!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/11/16 01:44

glitched wrote:

I'm listening to this Harmonic 313 mix for Mary Anne Hobbs:

<http://www.mediafire.com/?jwcczpfmlyb>

Rustie - â€ŽZig Zagâ€™™ (Wireblock)
Drexciya 4 - â€ŽTake your mindâ€™™ (Submerge)
Flying Lotus â€Žâ€Žâ€™™ (Warp)
Black Milk feat. Phat Kat and Elzhi - â€ŽGoatitâ€™™ (Music House)
Samiyam - â€ŽFireballâ€™™ (White Label)
Magic Mojig - â€ŽThe Clawâ€™™ (White Label)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽThe Dawnâ€™™ (Warp)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽNeonâ€™™ (Warp)
Heralds of Change - â€ŽSpottedâ€™™ (All City)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽCyclotronâ€™™ (Warp)

Sick, sick, sick!!

Ohhhh... thanks for that! Looks dope!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/11/18 14:09

ThinkTanx wrote:

glitched wrote:

I'm listening to this Harmonic 313 mix for Mary Anne Hobbs:

<http://www.mediafire.com/?jwcczpfmlyb>

Rustie - â€ŽZig Zagâ€™™ (Wireblock)
Drexciya 4 - â€ŽTake your mindâ€™™ (Submerge)
Flying Lotus â€Žâ€Žâ€™™ (Warp)
Black Milk feat. Phat Kat and Elzhi - â€ŽGoatitâ€™™ (Music House)
Samiyam - â€ŽFireballâ€™™ (White Label)
Magic Mojig - â€ŽThe Clawâ€™™ (White Label)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽThe Dawnâ€™™ (Warp)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽNeonâ€™™ (Warp)
Heralds of Change - â€ŽSpottedâ€™™ (All City)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽCyclotronâ€™™ (Warp)

Sick, sick, sick!!

Ohhhh... thanks for that! Looks dope!

Hell yes, this mix is sick as hell. I have fallen for that Black Milk/Elzhi track hard.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/11/18 21:02

Black Milk - Tronic
Jake One - White Van Music
Riow Arai - Mind Edit

Ol' Dirty Bastard - Return to the 36 Chambers: The Dirty Version
The Harmonic 313 mix posted above...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2008/11/20 06:59

Dub Trio. Engineering and Processing on the ASID album is too sick.

Invisible Inc <http://www.myspace.com/officialinvisibleinc> electronical hip hop with psych lyrics. Love this stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by chiasticon - 2008/11/20 17:43

luomo - convival.
solvent - solvent city.
ricardo villalobos - alcachofa.
matthew dear - asa breed.
pete yorn - music for the morning after.
eliot lipp - the outside.
vladislav delay - whistleblower.
principles of geometry - lazare.
interpol - turn on the bright lights.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/11/23 03:15

Illa J - Yancey Boys

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/11/23 18:55

Went through a load of Neu! last night, I love that stuff.

Klaus Dinger R.I.P.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/11/24 00:42

aw man, i love Neu! adding to today list of musics.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/11/24 02:11

primarily,

sigur ros (both before and after watching heima) radiohead (have dethroned autechre!)
deerhunter
bright black morning light (first album)

sprinkled with some skywave flying saucer attack

burial
spring heel jack rapture
place to bury strangers

i've been concentrating on listening to what I have, rather than continually getting new stuff. maybe it was suggested by ookpikk's quest to go through his collection.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/11/26 00:27

lameaim wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

glitched wrote:

I'm listening to this Harmonic 313 mix for Mary Anne Hobbs:

<http://www.mediafire.com/?jwcczpfmlyb>

Rustie - â€ŽZig Zagâ€™™ (Wireblock)
Drexciya 4 - â€ŽTake your mindâ€™™ (Submerge)
Flying Lotus â€Žâ€Ž$tuntsâ€™™ (Warp)
Black Milk feat. Phat Kat and Elzhi - â€ŽGoatitâ€™™ (Music House)
Samiyam - â€ŽFireballâ€™™ (White Label)
Magic Mojig - â€ŽThe Clawâ€™™ (White Label)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽThe Dawnâ€™™ (Warp)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽNeonâ€™™ (Warp)
Heralds of Change - â€ŽSpottedâ€™™ (All City)
Harmonic 313 - â€ŽCyclotronâ€™™ (Warp)

Sick, sick, sick!!

Ohhhh... thanks for that! Looks dope!

Hell yes, this mix is sick as hell. I have fallen for that Black Milk/Elzhi track hard.

Yeah, that's one of the premier tracks, fo sho.

Interview with Black Milk:

<http://smokingsection.uproxx.com/TSS/?p=13703>

FYI: New Harmonic 313 EP on WARP:

<http://bleep.com/?bleep=WAP262D>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/11/26 02:37

papertiger wrote:

bright black morning light (first album)

Oh man. Funny-ass story time.

So, I went to see BBML at the Troubadour right after that first album came out. It was getting towards the end of the set, and you could see there was a lot of banter going on between them on stage, which looked to be getting more and more heated. Finally, mid-song, it boiled over, and the guitarist/lead cat threw his guitar down and got right in the girl playing the Rhodes face! (We were all like -> :ohmy:)

Then, he storms across the stage, pushing his bandmates out of the way, jumps off the stage, goes running up the stairs and tries to break into the soundbooth, which is perched up high and has a door! Like five security guys take off after him and pull him away (screaming!) from the soundbooth!! It was bananas!! :laugh:

I love when you get a little something extra for your money at shows! :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/11/26 03:35

The new Spectral sound. Sick. :cheer: :cheer: :cheer: :cheer: :cheer: :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/11/26 04:03

glitched wrote:

FYI: New Harmonic 313 EP on WARP:

<http://bleep.com/?bleep=WAP262D>

This will go along perfect with the Diverse EP I was gonna snag from iTunes. Thanks!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/11/26 04:11

guess that's what peace love and loads of drugs gets you, TT. That album is like aural nyquil, like a giant blanket of slowmoving time you can get all snuggly in.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/11/26 04:25

papertiger wrote:

guess that's what peace love and loads of drugs gets you, TT.

They learned to brawl down on the commune. :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by misty - 2008/11/26 07:45

This has been coming out of my speakers the last couple of days

RA128: Murmur

Speedy J: Red Shift EP

Ricardo Villalobos: Fabric36
Tricky: Maxinquaye
Radiohead: In Rainbows
Autechre: Quadrange EP
Pole: Pole3
Deadbeat: Something borrowed, something blue and lots of stuff from the minitek festival (richie hawtin, troy pierce, guido schneider, ambivalent....)

misty.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/11/26 12:45

So now the rotation looks like:

Moodgadget's No New Enemies vol. 1 compilation
Harmonic 313 - Dirtbox EP
Diverse - Move EP
School of Seven Bells - Alpinisms
Black Milk presents Caltroit
Joe Beats - Indie Rock Blues
several Nosaj Thing tracks (looking for more)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 22tape - 2008/11/26 17:08

marvin gaye. goddamn.

fugees--the score-- those were the days

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/11/26 22:28

lameaim wrote:

several Nosaj Thing tracks (looking for more) seriously Ive only got the Views/Octopus EP it makes my heart sad.

As far as listening goes..
El-P on heavy heavy rotation.

The only new things ive got are DeVotchKa - How It ends (only because i heard the title track on the gears of war 2 commerical)
Lisa Miskovsky - still alive (mirrors edge commerical)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/11/27 02:19

xibalba wrote:

lameaim wrote:

several Nosaj Thing tracks (looking for more)

seriously Ive only got the Views/Octopus EP it makes my heart sad.

You guys should find the live set he did for dublab.com. It's ridiculous. Can't wait for him to drop his debut on Alpha Pup. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/11/27 03:59

ThinkTanx wrote:

xibalba wrote:

lameaim wrote:

several Nosaj Thing tracks (looking for more)

seriously Ive only got the Views/Octopus EP it makes my heart sad.

You guys should find the live set he did for dublab.com. It's ridiculous. Can't wait for him to drop his debut on Alpha Pup. B)

Yeah, the liveset is better than the EP...by far IMHO. Any rumor as to when his full length is due?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/11/27 07:38

ThinkTanx wrote:

xibalba wrote:

lameaim wrote:

several Nosaj Thing tracks (looking for more)

seriously Ive only got the Views/Octopus EP it makes my heart sad.

You guys should find the live set he did for dublab.com. It's ridiculous. Can't wait for him to drop his debut on Alpha Pup. B)

Live sets found. Thanks for the arrow-pointing!

Now I gotta fix my iPod since it shit the bed during the last update. :angry: :angry: :angry:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/11/27 10:53

The dublab set is crazy awesome. Like JS said, I listen to it way, way more than his EP at this point.

Not sure about the Alpha Pup debut. He had originally said it would be in 2008, but I'm assuming he is shooting for early 2009 now since we haven't heard anything official.

Btw- here's a Flying Lotus remix from ya boy right here... :)

http://rcrdlbl.com/artists/Flying_Lotus/track/Camel_Nosaj_Thing_Remix

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/11/27 23:17

Thanks TT.

Benge - Twenty Systems
Kanye West - 808s & Heartbreak

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/12/02 01:30

Ugh seriously ive been on this weird kick lately of listening to absurd "hip-hop" i use the term very losely.

ICP - man i use to listen to these guys back in high school (95-99). i was never a hardcore fan (didnt do the face painting or merch buying) but i did have a few of their albums (Carnival of Carnage up to Jekel brothers and some of the b-sides in between Beverly Kills, Tunnel of Love etc.) I did attend a few of the shows it was fun getting drenched by faygo and they were always entertaining but its like a passing fad for me i grew up.
I still get a knack to listen to them every once in a while but havent heard nor do i care to hear there newer stuff (anything beyond jekel brothers).

Also Cash Money Millionaires.

man these two "groups" i love because their lyrics are so absurd and ludicrous that its funny especially cash money because i can never tell if they are writing to be funny or serious. but it takes either some really strange geniusness or just plain stupidity to do what they do.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2008/12/02 01:39

last couple weeks..

- Dubfire
- Grevious (best dubstep/ambient ever heard..)
- Wesen (I'm inspired!!)
- Lcvi (superb deep tecnho/dub music)

other than that, I have to say that I've heard so much great music on myspace lately, I can't believe how many people make high quality stuff that's a million times better than what's being sold in music-stores today...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/12/02 05:22

A funny thing about those Cash Money Millionaires (or are they Thousand-aires thanks to the economy): As silly and unintentionally ironic they seemed, that music ("Bling Bling", "Ha", etc.) now seems like "The Dark Side of The Moon", compared to what's on the radio today.

I won't get started on that...

Anyway, I'm back on the Squarepusher tip. Hello Everything is his best in a long time.
I have a hankering for some Plaid right now. (When are they coming out with a new album?)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2008/12/02 05:52

soon soon !!!!

Plaid for the soundtrack of heaven's door 20 december (same realisor of teknon kinkreet !!) and heard some rumors about a rave album for squarepusher on the beginning of 2009.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/12/04 23:50

going through some youtube surfing last night and came upon Enya's track Boadicea (keyword search was juno 60 i believe) and had no idea that is where the fugees ready or not was from.

Listening to Jami Sieber - again

Silent Hill Homecoming OST

Blockhead

Jel

Daedelus

Infectious Grooves

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/05 00:10

Infectious Grooves...shit! I, unfortunately, bought that on cassette back in the day.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2008/12/05 00:16

Basic Channel

Fluxion

Deepchord

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/12/05 00:31

jsrockit wrote:

Infectious Grooves...shit! I, unfortunately, bought that on cassette back in the day.

hahaha yea i totally agree my bro (whos 5 years older than me, me=27) had all three on cassette as well (plague, sarsippius and groove family cyco). def garbage but it has some history with me. and since ive been on this garbage train i figured why not.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by Opuswerk - 2008/12/05 00:48

today was spent listening to deepmix.ru . amazing radio station.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lcvi - 2008/12/05 01:15

Mika Technika wrote:

Basic Channel

Fluxion

Deepchord

some real quality you mentioned there... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2008/12/05 02:18

lcvi wrote:

Mika Technika wrote:

Basic Channel

Fluxion

Deepchord

some real quality you mentioned there... :)

http://cache.hyves-static.net/images/smilies/default/smiley_happy_thumbup.gif

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/12/05 03:05

howdragonsdisappear wrote:

soon soon !!!!

Plaid for the soundtrack of heaven's door 20 december (same realisator of tekton kinkreet !!)
and heard some rumors about a rave album for squarepusher on the beginning of 2009.

That's great news! I'm sorta sick of Squarepusher's jazz/rock noodlings.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by WestBerliner - 2008/12/05 07:39 recently lots of depeche mode....recent depeche mode (Playing The Angel, and some stuff off of Songs of Faith and Devotion)

Max Richter

Olafur Arnalds

NIN - Ghosts is my study music :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/12/05 07:44

glitched wrote:

That's great news! I'm sorta sick of Squarepusher's jazz/rock noodlings.

You mean, everything he's done :)

It would be pretty cool if he released something conceptually along the lines of what Clark did with Turning Dragon (i.e., album drawn from live performances with emphasis on immediacy rather than polish)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/05 07:57

Turning Dragon is riiiiidiculous. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/05 09:14

Ookpikk wrote:

It would be pretty cool if he released something conceptually along the lines of what Clark did with Turning Dragon (i.e., album drawn from live performances with emphasis on immediacy rather than polish)

Ah, that album still sound completely polished to me...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/05 09:15

k-the-i??? - "yesterday, today & tomorrow" This is a great CD.

The Beach Boys - Pet Sounds

APC: Unreleased 1996 97 98

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/12/05 10:10

Tried 808s & Heartbreaks, liked some moments but most of it is a mixture of :silly: and :(:(to me.

Now I have added:

Moodgadget - The Synchronicity Suite

Wale - The Mixtape About Nothing (this guy needs an album with nasty Kanye/Neptunes production STAT)

Orgy - Transmission

D. Gookin - When You're Lonely Everybody's a Celebrity

DJ Shadow - The Outsider (always felt like this album got a bad rap)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2008/12/05 12:37

Finally attempting to change my listening habits...Taking advantage of the thai kings birthday ive hit the beach armed with mobile web and 4gb of unheard tunes... So far done some 3tronik and bauri. Left my usual bonnie prince, beach boys, belle and seb, tapar zukie at home. Happy days! ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening to lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/05 14:09

Tons of Aphex Twin lately for me... (Classics, Richard D. James, and Drukqs...)

Also lots of Cocteau Twins (Treasure and Blue Bell Knoll)

Tonight I've been listening to Styrofoam - Nothing's Lost (this always feels like a guilty pleasure to me, but I'm not even sure if it should...) :blush:

And, last but not least, Why? - Alopecia (I love, love, love this album...) :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teej - 2008/12/05 14:41 suddenly back on a DJ Spooky kick past few weeks. lots of old John Cale too. tons of Biosphere. and i'm psyched on Paul Winter's "Icarus" record this week. don't ask me why. something about the bass. lots of good samples on there too. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/05 21:08

lameaim wrote:

Tried 808s & Heartbreaks, liked some moments but most of it is a mixture of :silly: and :(:(to me.

I'll admit that I like more than a few of the songs... sure, there is some silliness and questionable execution of autotune, but if I just relax and let the songs be what they are...pop rap... it is better than most stuff on the radio and is a good alternative to most of the rap I listen to.

Anyone who likes Anti-Pop Consortium should pick up the k-the-i??? album.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2008/12/06 18:58

jsrockit wrote:

lameaim wrote:

Tried 808s & Heartbreaks, liked some moments but most of it is a mixture of :silly: and :(:(to me.

I'll admit that I like more than a few of the songs... sure, there is some silliness and questionable execution of autotune, but if I just relax and let the songs be what they are...pop rap... it is better than most stuff on the radio and is a good alternative to most of the rap I listen to.

Hearing the autotune effect tricks every now and then is cool to me, but I have my limits and the overindulgence on 808s & Heartbreak really, really hurt the album for me. I feel like if he dropped the autotune madness and rapped more, I might have gotten at least a few listens out of it (I definitely like the strings on several tracks)... but as it stands now I'll pass. Those of you who are fans of Kanye's earlier albums should definitely be checking for Wale if you haven't started already.

I will definitely reevaluate the album if an instrumental ever gets released - I thought RJD2's The Third Hand was garbage too, until I heard the instrumental version....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/07 04:46

And now, for the last couple of days, I'm totally stuck on Clark, both Body Riddle and Turning Dragon. But Body Riddle in particular.

I can honestly say that there might not be anything else that sounds as good, sonically, as Clark on my Genelecs. Both the mixing and mastering is just incredible... not to mention the sound design and composition, of course.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/12/07 04:59

Chris Clark is in my 20 of all-time artists, easily. from the first time I heard "Empty the Bones Of You" I was fan. I have followed his whimsical stylings since.

Anyway, a great artist to be 'stuck' on :)

Now send me your Genelecs and then I can co-sign your post ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/07 05:43

Seriously, I cranked the 8050's up, sat in the sweet spot, and just listened for a couple of hours late on Thursday night. I wasn't planning on doing that. But his stuff just enveloped me. It's what the term 'listening experience' was created for! They should use his shit to demo these monitors!! :)

Haha! I just found this quote by Chris Clark, and, in light of all the talk we've had lately of mixing, compressing, EQ'ing, etc., I thought it was interesting:

The drums were made from a combination of domestic sounds -- scissors, doors, chairs -- that created a backdrop for other 808 and 909 hits. Then these were put through the mash factory several hundreds of times. The bones were baked, the brittle ones were sorted from the juicy, tough ones. No, but seriously, I think most of the drums were put through all sorts of things that changed the dynamics and made them more fluid. Most "tidy" engineers like to separate each drum track out and have it perfectly EQed. Although this is admirable in a sort of old skool watch-your-grandma-knit-you-a-nice-beige-sweater sort of way, I find it doesn't excite me. What I tend to do is just jam stuff through as many boxes as I can, until everything sort of bleeds into itself and all its surrounding parts.

:)

I really think you can hear this too. His stuff is really 'glued together'...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/08 01:11

ThinkTanx wrote:

The drums were made from a combination of domestic sounds -- scissors, doors, chairs -- that created a backdrop for other 808 and 909 hits. Then these were put through the mash factory several hundreds of times. The bones were baked, the brittle ones were sorted from the juicy, tough ones. No, but seriously, I think most of the drums were put through all sorts of things that changed the dynamics and made them more fluid. Most "tidy" engineers like to separate each drum track out and have it perfectly EQed. Although this is admirable in a sort of old skool watch-your-grandma-knit-you-a-nice-beige-sweater sort of way, I find it doesn't excite me. What I tend to do is just jam stuff through as many boxes as I can, until everything sort of bleeds into itself and all its surrounding parts.

:)

I really think you can hear this too. His stuff is really 'glued together'...

Cool...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/12/08 12:14

Me three! Body Riddle is an amazing album. :cheer: love his stuff.

That quote is really interesting, def. gets me thinking about all the different ways to approach the signal path.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/12/08 13:49

Haha, I'll bet the MEs love him :)

I still think Clarence Park is an amazing album, right up there with the rest of his stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/12/08 13:50

ThinkTanx wrote:

I can honestly say that there might not be anything else that sounds as good, sonically, as Clark on my Genelecs. Both the mixing and mastering is just incredible... not to mention the sound design and composition, of course.

What about TNT by Tortoise? I doubt I will ever make a record that sounds 1/10th as nice as that. Burnt Friedman's stuff is really well engineered and mixed too...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/08 15:32

Never been a big Tortoise fan, myself. I have some of their stuff (including TNT), but haven't listened to it in ages, really. It's not that I don't like it, it just never really got me like it did for a lot of others. Who knows? I might like it more now.

Never really listened to Burnt Friedman. Always been curious about him. Do you have any recommendations Ookpikk??

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/12/09 03:18

i've still been listening to quite a bit of Sigur Ros and Deerhunter. Barely been listening to anything electronic for a couple of months now, except for Burial now and then and some one off songs. Some Spring Heel Jack and Radiohead in there too. Spring Heel Jack is great for winter months.

I think it's actually doing me good, to have gotten away from e-music for a spell. I think one reason is that I always end up trying to make beats like the ones I am listening to because, after doing this for ten years or so, I feel like I should have the talent or ability to do so (silly me!). In contrast, when listening to guitar music, since I've just started playing, I don't have the same expectations of myself and I feel far less pressure. Like it's ok that I can't play Bodysnatchers. . . but if I can't imitate or "play"/sound like AE, Ellen Allien, etc. I've failed somehow.

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/12/09 03:29

ThinkTanx wrote:

Never been a big Tortoise fan, myself. I have some of their stuff (including TNT), but haven't listened to it in ages, really. It's not that I don't like it, it just never really got me like it did for a lot of others. Who knows? I might like it more now.

Never really listened to Burnt Friedman. Always been curious about him. Do you have any recommendations Ookpikk??

Regardless of whether you enjoy Tortoise or not, TNT is a marvel of audio engineering, mixing, and producing. Listening to it through a good DA is sometimes an extremely disheartening experience as you realise that your music will never sound that good.

The best Burnt Friedman albums are the Secret Rhythms ones he does with Jaki Liebezeit - any of the 3. It's probably not going to jump up in your face and wow you immediately, but it is deep, rich, rewarding stuff.

If you want immediate wow and haven't heard it, get Templates by Flanger, which is BF and Uwe Schmidt. 2 weeks, a drum kit, bass, keys, and an MPC. In terms of a real fusion of electronic production technique with live playing, I think it floors anything I've heard.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/12/09 03:38

Shadow & Chemist - the hard sell
Gorilla Aktiv - misc 45's
Belgrave - odyssey
A. Coltrane - hunnington...
Edan - Primitive Plus

and tons of soul, funk, and psych 45's. me and my new business partner have put our records in our new office. it has been a vinyl listening orgy. hard to bitch about work in these kinds of conditions.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/09 03:40

Every Tortoise album is a marvel of studio engineering IMHO... those first two albums are a marvel to me in every aspect... great playing, effects, recordings, mixing, etc...and timeless to me. Saw them live multiple times during that time period and they were wonderful.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/09 03:45

actuel wrote:

Shadow & Chemist - the hard sell

That was a great live show. :)

Also, I feel I should clarify my thoughts on Tortoise, as I see they may have sounded dismissive, but I actually have quite a bit of respect for what they have done. But even moreso, I've been a fan of John McEntire's engineering work for a long time, in particular the work he's done both in and on behalf of Gastr Del Sol, Sea and Cake, Jim O' Rourke, Sam Prekop, Wilco, and Trans Am, to name just a few...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/12/09 04:22

The first song off of TNT is amazing. I love that I can recall it in my head even after not listening to it for ages.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2008/12/09 04:24

You can definitely here the influence of Jeff Parker and his stylings on TNT. McEntire is definitely a master at his craft. I think his work on Stereolabs Dots & Loops might be his finest hour as far as production. After that Gastr Del Sol.

Though I'll take Jim O'Rourke on the boards any day.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/09 04:24

ThinkTanx wrote:

But even moreso, I've been a fan of John McEntire's engineering work for a long time, in particular the work he's done both in and on behalf of Gastr Del Sol, Sea and Cake, Jim O' Rourke, Sam Prekop, Wilco, and Trans Am, to name just a few...

It is funny how he transforms each bands sound once he touches it... especially Wilco and Trans Am.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/09 04:32

actuel wrote:

Though I'll take Jim O'Rourke on the boards any day.

This.

I Am Trying to Break Your Heart is an absolute marvel of mixing.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/12/09 04:52

actuel wrote:

Shadow & Chemist - the hard sell that was the first time i ever saw them live. ah man that was a great experience. would do again and again!

highlights:

kid koala - a huge plus to the show HUGE!

strapped on kids "portable" turntables with those tiny vestax pmc mixers scratching to metallicas (i think it was "one") solo!

the worst song ever! (as quoted by Cut Chemist himself).

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Kerouac78 - 2008/12/09 05:03

Today on the way to work was:

Deepchord presents Echospace - The Coldest Season
and
Jesus Lizard - Liar

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/12/09 05:17

I like the contrast!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/09 05:22

xibalba wrote:

strapped on kids "portable" turntables with those tiny vestax pmc mixers scratching to metallicas (i think it was "one") solo!

Ha ha! Yeah, that was pretty dope! :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/12/09 07:08

The Game - The Documentary (unfortunately!)

There's some great production on this album by the likes of Dre, Timbaland, Just Blaze, etc., but The Game is such a weak rapper.

I'm more of a "music guy", but his inane lyrics ruin it for me. Do you have to mention Dr. Dre and NWA in every song, Game?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2008/12/10 20:56

Growing - All the Way

great album.... some really intelligent modulations in there IMHO

Wall-E Soundtrack

ever since American Beauty been all about Thomas Newman's scores

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Eye_nal - 2008/12/11 02:24

Cabaret Voltaire â€” The Conversation

Ornette Coleman â€” Complete Science Fiction Sessions

Outland (Laswell/Namlook) â€” first album

Willie Nelson â€” Phases and Stages

Upsetters â€” 14 Dub Blackboard Jungle

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/11 02:36

Tortoise - S/T

Tortoise - Millions Now Living Will Never Die

Portishead - Third

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nlj dj - 2008/12/11 02:38

Guy J - Esperanza

;)

so good.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/12/11 03:09

jsrockit wrote:

Tortoise - Millions Now Living Will Never Die

My friend joked that he was going to start a pro-life post-rock band and release an album called 'Millions never living will now die'

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2008/12/11 03:16

Ookpikk wrote:

My friend joked that he was going to start a pro-life post-rock band and release an album called 'Millions never living will now die'

i just lol'd loudly at my desk and drew some looks. thanks for making me giggle!

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2008/12/11 21:48

while I compose me final thesis and essay for comp this semester, I must start off the turnover day from the all-nighter with

So Short - Lackluster.

:cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2008/12/13 04:47

Nine Horses - Snow Bourne Sorrow.

I hope that when I'm middle-aged, I can put together mature, thoughtful pop like this.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by salrip - 2008/12/13 21:52

Bathory - Hammerheart

The Bathers - Kelvingrove Baby & Pandemonia

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/13 22:17

Yo Majesty - Futuristically Speaking ... Never Be Afraid

Anti Pop Consortium - Unreleased 1996 97 98

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Eye_nal - 2008/12/18 01:22

Chris Carter - "Electronic Ambient Remixes Three"

This CD features ambient industrial remixes and soundscapes by Chris Carter.

The tracks utilise his original 1970's and 80's Throbbing Gristle rhythm tapes as a foundation for each piece.

This CD contains sub-sonics and resonant frequencies which lower specified audio apparatus may find difficult to faithfully reproduce.

Not mono compatible.

All sonic artifacts and audio anomalies heard on this CD are intentional.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2008/12/23 09:57

High Places
Mr. Lif - I Phantom
MC Shan - Down By Law
Max Richter - 24 Postcards in Full Color
Flying Lotus - LA EP 1 x 3 and LA EP 2 x 3
Tittsworth - Twelve Steps

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2008/12/23 16:38

delby L: yellow 6 - ep remote viewer - all their stuff opiate - split ep 3
phoiod - medusa's coil
black diamond - buraka som sistema djs danger mouse and shadow caetano veloso: livro sasha - involver 2

always listening to (good examples) :

west african mbalax styles (senegal) - cheikh lo samba - cartola, sambas de enredo (annual samba school compilation) jazz - adam rodgers - killing guitar player!!!! indian classical all- hariprasad chaurasia and more...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2008/12/23 18:14

Ookpikk wrote:
Nine Horses - Snow Bourne Sorrow.
I hope that when I'm middle-aged, I can put together mature, thoughtful pop like this.

Make sure you get the 'Money for all' ep - lots of Burnt Friedman wizardry and extremely funky.
Have no words to describe the beauty of the version of 'Wonderful World' on here.
David Sylvian and his carefully chosen collaborators stand FAR above all pop crafters that I am aware of.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2008/12/24 00:10

Cymande - The Message

The Meters - The Meters

Plaid - Tekkonkinkreet

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/24 00:47

Burial
Benga
Zomby
Flying Lotus

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/12/24 01:47

GZA - Legend, Liquid, Pro Tools, etc
Ghostface - More Fish
Wu-Tang - 36
Molemen

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2008/12/24 05:02

Also listenin to Rinse FM today... B) lovin the Breaks, Jungle, and Dubstep mon... :raw:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2008/12/24 13:11

"door of our home"
Goldmund

"Cygnes (original mix)"
Mr Sam

"Dark Flower - Joris Voorn Magnolia mix" original by Robert Babicz

"Brontohouse born to house mix"
Glitterbug

"My Little Ladybirds - remix"
by Gyash & Til Yali

"Sister - orginal mix - re edit"
by Cid Inc

"starlight - intrusion extended mix"
by Model 500
(ultrachilled deep chill 14 minute track, one of the best, imho)

also, a track called "Pussy" by Nadaström.
somewhat controversial title, however the track itself is a really fun nordic mixup style.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2008/12/26 20:08

AFX - Boxing Day

It has to be done.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2008/12/27 01:53

Reggie and the Full Effect - Last Stop: Crappytown - i had no idea this was out ah i miss those days.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2008/12/27 03:14

harmonic 313 - Dirtbox

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2008/12/27 05:09

Plaid - Heaven's Door OST.

B)

(add it to my top 5 2008 album)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2008/12/27 06:54

howdragonsdisappear wrote:

Plaid - Heaven's Door OST.

B)

(add it to my top 5 2008 album)

Hum...I can't seem to buy this anywhere in the US. Only available in Japan.

I guess I'll have to "find" it somewhere. Sigh.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2008/12/29 07:06

tape - luminarium (thank's glitched, just found it today while reading your twitter ! excellent) sunken foal - fallen arches

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/01/01 06:59

aril brikha - winter. :ohmy:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/01/01 07:29

black dog - "Riphead" and "Diallers 1"

josh bugen - "polyform"

the Mfa - "the difference it makes (superpitcher remix)"

mr rogers - "Life"

tycho - "the daydream" and "the disconnect"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Kerouac78 - 2009/01/02 09:27

The Smiths - Strangeways Here We Come

And by the way...the new SND album 'Atavism' is going to be released on Raster Noton in the begining of Jan. Yay!!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/01/02 09:34

Kerouac78 wrote:

The Smiths - Strangeways Here We Come

And by the way...the new SND album 'Atavism' is going to be released on Raster Noton in the begining of Jan. Yay!!!!

o_O

will it be a "normal" release, or super duper diamond shaped vinyl limited to 77 copies?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/01/03 05:46

altered natives: a thousand days of patience coolest stuff i've heard in a long while

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2009/01/06 06:52

oHgR - DIMD

Last Step - 1961

VA - event.white

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/01/06 18:02

oops, i have to hit this thread again with emphasis:

yassou n'dour

w/ etoile de dakar -- any vol. especially vol 1

solo: badou - this album might be the best $7.00 you ever spend on african music.

this shit is unbeatable. if your into any kind of roots music, worldbeat, or music in general please listen to this. the repetitive, highly syncopated and rhythmic nature of this music is also very inspirational when laying down electronic beats.

unless you buy cds for $40-60 a pop, just go to itunes :S for the etoiles de dakar stuff though.

that is all

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/01/06 18:44

put The Postal Service - Give Up back in rotation again. A little overrated IMO, but still a personal favorite.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/06 20:53

Ah Lameaim... there are some great, great songs on that disc...sure, it's not a tweaks per second glitch fest with off kilter beats and what not, but just great songs and lyrics.

K-The-I??? - Yesterday, Today & Tomorrow - I need to stress (again) that anyone who's into off-kilter hip-hop should check this out...

<http://www.mushrecords.com/release/150>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/01/07 03:32

papertiger wrote:

Kerouac78 wrote:

And by the way...the new SND album 'Atavism' is going to be released on Raster Noton in the begining of Jan. Yay!!!! will it be a "normal" release, or super duper diamond shaped vinyl limited to 77 copies?
From what I've seen, it's gonna be a normal release, not strictly limited :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/01/07 04:09

jsrockit wrote:

Ah Lameaim... there are some great, great songs on that disc...sure, it's not a tweaks per second glitch fest with off kilter beats and what not, but just great songs and lyrics.

I definitely agree. There's at least one thing about almost every song on there that makes me smile. Even now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/08 09:12

Prefuse 73 - Preperations
NWA - Straight Outta Compton
Band of Horses - Everything All the Time

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/01/08 10:08

lately

pusher - go plastic (never tire of that one) burial - burial
mars volta - deloused...
autechre - tri repatae (it's been my bedtime listening lately)

i did go on a big fugazi + primus kick a while ago as well though and some PE too. god.. PE was the shit. they don't make it like that anymore. hip hop is boring compared to the 90's... but viktor vaughn is the shit.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/01/08 10:29

Damn near anything and everything on Hyperdub... Ikonika, Zomby, Burial, Kode 9, Samiyam...

Also, a lot of Flying Lotus. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/01/09 02:12

Just got this in over the weekend

2 skinnee j's "the big green book" box set - 5 cd's & 1 dvd & a 200 pg booklet with many many picks and words from the some of the skinnee greats

Every released song is on there from the cassette only 6 songs for 5 bucks all the way to sexy karate with mad unreleased tracks. one of my faves being the message capricorn records left indicating they had just been dropped. They are one of a few reasons why i am glad i lived in the VA area (unfortunatily i still do). As they rocked this area countless times and take the cake on the band/music preformer that i have seen the most. great bunch of guys and even greater music.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/09 02:36

ignatius wrote:

i did go on a big fugazi + primus kick a while ago as well though and some PE too. god.. PE was the shit. they don't make it like that anymore. hip hop is boring compared to the 90's... but viktor vaughn is the shit.

They sure don't make it like that anymore...even in regards to Primus and Fugazi...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/01/09 02:49

Early Roxy Music. Can't beat that stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Kerouac78 - 2009/01/09 02:58

Autechre Tri Repatae
Flat & Scruggs 4 CD Boxset (bluegrass)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/01/09 04:49

jsrockit wrote:
ignatius wrote:

i did go on a big fugazi + primus kick a while ago as well though and some PE too. god.. PE was the shit. they don't make it like that anymore. hip hop is boring compared to the 90's... but viktor vaughn is the shit.

They sure don't make it like that anymore...even in regards to Primus and Fugazi...

yeah.. i'm waiting for the 90's style to come back like the 80's did... or at least the influence of it all ya know..

a new fugazi record would make life that much sweeter.. anytime.. no rush.. anytime between now and like when i'm 70 years old and i'd be satisfied. fugazi is like autechre in a way.. autechre makes autechre music and fugazi makes fugazi music.

i need to check out ian mackaye's other project. i think they're called the Evens or something.. also on dischord of course.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/01/09 04:49

jsrockit wrote:
ignatius wrote:

i did go on a big fugazi + primus kick a while ago as well though and some PE too. god.. PE was the shit. they don't make it like that anymore. hip hop is boring compared to the 90's... but viktor vaughn is the shit.

They sure don't make it like that anymore...even in regards to Primus and Fugazi...

yeah.. i'm waiting for the 90's style to come back like the 80's did... or at least the influence of it all ya know..

a new fugazi record would make life that much sweeter.. anytime.. no rush.. anytime between now and like when i'm 70 years old and i'd be satisfied. fugazi is like autechre in a way.. autechre makes autechre music and fugazi makes fugazi music.

i need to check out ian mackaye's other project.. i think they're called the Evens or something.. also on dischord of course.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/01/12 15:57

whomever recommended Riphead by The Black Dog .. couple of months ago .. thanks so much, i listen every day to this track .. everything else is just a prequel to Riphead!

i bet there's some other good tracks .. Dials and Diallers is very enjoyable sound vibe, although imho they should have released V1 and V2 as a single track, rather than two one minute tracks.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/01/12 16:39

100 percent enjoying "Piece of Me" - Junior Vasquez remix.

listening to the lyrics and the vibe .. and sample work .. totally into it.
yeh Britney's my new hero

the way the entire media wrote her off .. and now she is totally doin' it, empowered, strong .. good for her, imho.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/01/13 22:55

Pete Rock

Jel

Massive Attack - specifically the track teardrop (title track from House MD which ive be obsessed with lately)

Metal Gear Solid 1 - 4 OST

Solaris - remake

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/01/14 03:12

xibalba wrote:

(title track from House MD which ive be obsessed with lately)

Me too! I don't watch much TV (other than sports), but my wife was watching House reruns one day, and I got hooked. That dude has the most spectacular narcissistic sense of humor ever! :laugh: And having Massive Attack for the theme music didn't hurt at all either!

Anywho, since I'm here I may as well tell you cats what I've been listening to lately:

Ikonika (love this chick!)

Burial (if you haven't heard the track 'Shutta'... do yourself a favor)

Hudson Mohawke
Rustie
Mike Slott
Harmonic 313
Samiyam
Zomby

Flying Lotus - EP 2 x 3 and 1 x 3 (love the remixes, and the extra tracks on 1 x 3... 'Rickshaw' is killa)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2009/01/21 10:57

<http://images.juno.co.uk/full/CS1377674-02A-BIG.jpg>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/01/21 17:04

Rumpistol - 'Dynamo'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/21 20:58

Jeru the Damaja - Come Clean ...

I was listening to this this morning, walking to work, and when the sampled chorus says, "heads up cause we're dropping some shit" ... a pigeon dropped shit on my shoulder. crazy.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/01/21 21:32

Cheers MikaTechnika! All proceeds go towards helping a student struggling with gear lust :P

Parts & Labor - Mapmaker (OMG AWESOMES)
Mute Audio Documents box set (never knew they put out so much abstract stuff!)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Kerouac78 - 2009/01/21 21:37

PUBLIC IMAGE LIMITED - GREATEST HITS SO FAR

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2009/01/21 22:58

futureimage wrote:

Cheers MikaTechnika! All proceeds go towards helping a student struggling with gear lust :P

:P ;) great sounds

also listening:

FUTURE_IMAGE_-_Reign_Vent_-_Future_Image

FUTURE_IMAGE_-_Hodds_Hill_-_Future_Image

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Ronin - 2009/01/21 23:11

ignatius wrote:
lately

i did go on a big fugazi + primus kick a while ago as well though and some PE too. god.. PE was the shit. they don't make it like that anymore. hip hop is boring compared to the 90's... but viktor vaughn is the shit.

Fugazi will always be a top 5 for me, still listening to their entire catalog.

Naked Raygun: All Rise and Understand are my two favorites from this Chi-town quartet.

P.E. - I will never be tired of listening to someone who actually has something to say!!!

Also in no specific order:

Spacetime Continuum
Loscil
Higher Intelligence Agency
Hecq
Anything on the Sandwell District label
09 - Church of The Ghetto PC
Early Autechre

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Jims computer beats - 2009/01/21 23:35

Will soon listen to the new Squarepusher EP Â«Numbers LucentÂ»

He's back to his roots! Hell yeah!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/01/22 00:19

Jims computer beats wrote:
Will soon listen to the new Squarepusher EP Â«Numbers LucentÂ»

He's back to his roots! Hell yeah!

let me know what you think of it when you listen to it. thinking of picking it up.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/01/22 04:13

jsrockit wrote:

Jeru the Damaja - Come Clean ...

I was listening to this this morning, walking to work, and when the sampled chorus says, "heads up cause we're dropping some shit" ... a pigeon dropped shit on my shoulder. crazy.

That's incredible! :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/22 04:38

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Jeru the Damaja - Come Clean ...

I was listening to this this morning, walking to work, and when the sampled chorus says, "heads up cause we're dropping some shit" ... a pigeon dropped shit on my shoulder. crazy.

That's incredible! :laugh:

Yeah, incredible, but no fun... I was pissed, but then had to laugh. Luckily, I had a bunch of napkins in my pocket.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/01/22 04:46

They say thats supposed to be good luck JS so "they" say ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/01/22 04:48

Long wait for this bet its great

<http://www.furthervexations.com/holdingpage.html>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/01/22 04:51

Mr Projctile's live set from portland last week. hardware only. G2, MD, and XOXbox. great stuff. only about half the set is there but it's worth checking out. pretty slamming once it gets going and very off kilter/acid/techno type stuff. it was a great set.

<http://www.phidelity.com/blog/dj-mixes/mr-projectile-live-in-portland-podcast/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by KidOne0 - 2009/01/22 08:02

Mika Technika wrote:
harmonic 313 - Dirtbox

+1 Harmonic 313 mix on Mary Ann Hobbs BBC One is dope.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/01/22 08:13

KidOne0 wrote:
Mika Technika wrote:
harmonic 313 - Dirtbox

+1 Harmonic 313 mix on Mary Ann Hobbs BBC One is dope.

Mark Pritchard is the shit.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2009/01/23 14:18

shed - shedding the past (emotive and lovely) animal collective :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/23 21:16

Large Professor - Main Source

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Jims computer beats - 2009/01/23 22:29

xibalba wrote:
Jims computer beats wrote:
Will soon listen to the new Squarepusher EP Â«Numbers LucentÂ»

He's back to his roots! Hell yeah!

let me know what you think of it when you listen to it. thinking of picking it up.

It's awesome!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/01/24 01:23

been awhile...

Express Rising - s/t
Samiyam - Rap Best vol. 1
Erykah Badu - New Amerykah

Flying Lotus - Los Angeles
Pan & Regaliz - s/t
John McLaughlin - Extrapolation
Autechre - Confield
Redman - Whut? thee album
Diplo - Florida

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by CloakvsDagger - 2009/01/24 01:28

I am for the moment really into Double Exposoure and ther album Ten percent. The song called " My love is free" is amazing!:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/01/24 01:28

45Tribute

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2009/01/24 08:05

I havent been listening to anything lately. Anyone got some melodic idm picks or dub picks?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2009/01/24 08:57

also on heavy repeat;
gang gang dance
the fun years friendly fires pivot
the chap (absolutely hilarious indie-pop parody!)
claro intelecto
high places
lukid foma

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Roob - 2009/01/24 22:17

Luna
Galaxy 500
Loop
Air Liquide
Deepchord

Bye!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/25 00:22

The Geto Boys - S/T (wow, forgot how crazy this was...in so many ways)
Cypress Hill - Black Sunday

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/01/25 02:15

moody DJ lately. the ipod has been on random because i don't feel like listening to anything in particular. BUT. . .

"my girls" and "summertime clothes" from the new animal collective. i can't get into the rest of the album but these songs are so great.

spring heel jack i suppose because it's such great winter weather listening to me.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2009/01/27 14:22

Kero - Kerologistics

very nice ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tox - 2009/01/27 14:42

been putting mixes together recently, the hits have been anything-kit-clayton plaid - double figure muslimgauze, the one on clorophyll kron

andrew pekler - station to station kirtan and the spectral filters :silly:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/27 21:30

Itunes Playlist today:

http://farm4.static.flickr.com/3525/3230694149_c9a033d17a_o.jpg

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/01/28 02:47

jsrockit wrote:

Itunes Playlist today:

http://farm4.static.flickr.com/3525/3230694149_c9a033d17a_o.jpg

Been a long time since I listened to any Buck 65! Nice selection. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Kerouac78 - 2009/01/28 03:56

SND - MAKESND CASSETTE TRAGICALLY HIP - PHANTOM POWER

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Tarekith - 2009/01/28 06:02

The new Yagya CD, Rigning, awesome!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/01/29 04:42

Benge - 20 Systems (finally received this today, awesome stuff) + 2 Systems 7"
Mr. Oizo - Lamb's Anger + Positif 12"
Parts & Labor - Mapmaker
Mute Audio Documents boxed set (awesomes)
Last Step - 1961
Impakt - Universal Frequencies 12"
Pendle Coven - Trouble At Mill 12" EP
Foals - Balloons singles

All of the above are pretty much excellent releases, some of the best of 2008 up there.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/01/29 05:12

futureimage wrote:

Benge - 20 Systems (finally received this today, awesome stuff) + 2 Systems 7"

I didn't know anything about the 7" ... cool write ups on the synths as well (like the CD)?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/01/30 02:48

The 7" is pretty different... more minimal/acid/techno based than the CD but still pretty cool. It's a picture disc as well - the Moog on the one side, the Elektor Formant system on the other. No writeups like the CD, but still worth the £5 I paid for it. It's seriously limited though, not sure how many places will still have it in stock.

The CD is awesome - it's been on repeat since I received it yesterday. The textures/soundscapes are so nice, very very warm stuff (mostly). The VCS3 track makes such a good Radiophonic Workshop appreciation piece :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/01/30 20:32

DJ Signify - Of Cities
P.O.S. - Never Better

Kinda jumped the gun on the second one, but I'll definitely be buying it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/01/30 22:08

i bought in to five tracks this evening...

"Pokerface" by Lady Gaga (Jody den Broeder Remix)
"I hate this part" by The Pussycat Dolls - Dave Aude remix
"Magic Touch" feat Mary J Blige - Monto Blanco mix
and also
"The Perspective Space" by Ronski Speed feat. Sir Adrian vs. Rex Mundi
"Jorvic" - the Kaura DJ Remix

i am not usually so mainstream, however the magic is in the mix, and these individual mixes work it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by zoot - 2009/01/30 22:39

the radio

streaming kiss from oz in bkk

first time in weeks

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tox - 2009/01/31 00:34

pimmon's (paul gough) got a weekly show these days:

<http://www.abc.net.au/rn/quietospace/>

it's def alot of outback drone stuff, but good listening none the less

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2009/01/31 01:24

Christophe Rousset - Pancrace Royer, PiÃces de clavecin 1746
so impressive :woohoo:

Le Vertigo & La Marche des Scythes are totally revolutionary track

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2009/01/31 03:59

had a listen to the minimum maximum live cd by kraftwerk, damn that's some fine electronic music :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/02/02 05:57

Secret Frequency Crew - The Underwater Adventure Hop Secret Treasure
My Bloody Valentine - Loveless
Autechre - Tri Repatae

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/02/02 07:32

Black Dog - Bytes
Malcom Kipe - Lit
Brian Eno - Descrete Music
Mr Projectile - Pug Times
Isolee - We are Monster
Dj Shadow - Preemptive Strike
...and a bunch of other dusty vinyls I am ressurecting.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/02/07 07:11

Fuse (aka. Richie Hawtin baby!) - Dimension Intrusion (warp Â©1993)....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by EvilTB303 - 2009/02/07 08:08

The Kills - Midnight Boom
Prototype 909 Live @ Equal

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/02/07 08:17

Rustie - Zig Zag and also the Jagz the Smack EP... dude absolutely kills. B) tons of Flying Lotus - EP 1 x 3 is ridiculous. Rickshaw... oh man. :gangsta:
New Hudson Mohawke EP - Polyfolk Dance ...sick. :silly:
Zomby - self-titled EP and Where Were U in '92?

Anybody got the new Harmonic 313 album? I've heard conflicting reports on it. :huh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2009/02/07 09:16

claro intelecto - wharehouse sessions
this man always gives us the true techno deal!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/02/07 09:20

Kreo - Burn For You .. a classic.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by danthouin - 2009/02/07 10:18

Hey there,

- Barry Lynn "Balancing Lakes"
- Q-tip "The Renaissance"
- Neil Landstrumm's latest
- Kraftwerk's Trans Europe Express
- Nine Inch Nails's Ghost
- Japan "Tin Drum"
- Polygon Window "Surfing on sine wave"
- Brian Eno "On land"
- John Coltrane "Crescent"
- Portishead "Third"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Ronin - 2009/02/07 22:32

Telefon Tel Aviv - Immolate Yourself (R.I.P Charlie)
NIN - The Fragile
Polygon Window - Surfing On Sine Waves (Kooky, 2 posts in a row)
Loscil - First Narrows
Ken Ishii - Jelly Tones
Kangding Ray - Automne Fold
Portishead - Roseland NYC Live

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2009/02/08 03:54

Just about every hard-to-find MV+EE CD-R release ever!
<http://therealnittygritty.blogspot.com/2009/01/mv-ee-just-about-everything-1.html>

So good.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2009/02/08 06:13

15+ listens lately... to four of my own tracks + one of Syn303's tracks as I prepare my EP release :p

..and Tarekith's DJ sets have got decent rotation on my iPod :)

..and "Just a Souvernir" by Squarepusher is on it's way...

.....

..and, don't laugh, but I recently dug out Ayreon - Into The Electric Castle (and had quite a few laughs while listening), and cheezy as it might be, there's some wicked hammond and minimoog in there :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/02/08 18:33

A lot of ambient stuff:

-John Foxx - Cathedral Oceans III

-Brian Eno - Discreet Music

-A load of old tape loops I made

-Aphex Twin - Selected Ambient Works on tape, played back slowed down.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2009/02/08 23:33

home: Mala - changes car: Future Image - Reign Vent

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by KidOne0 - 2009/02/09 02:59

Foals - Antidotes

Illa J - Yancey Boys

Paper Route Gangstaz - Fear and Loathing in HuntsVegas (Chopped & Screwed) Mad Descent radio

Telepathe - Dance Mother

Harmonic 313 - When machines exceed human intelligence

Bright Black Morninglight - Motion to Rejoin

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by b0t23 - 2009/02/09 12:13 tracks by ben milstein/Dr. Evil

autechre

si begg

silicon scally/Carl Finlow/Voicestealer

bola
Microthol
Mariel Ito
Gescom
S-Max
Cane
Andrea Parker
AFX/Aphex Twin
Dexter
Soul Oddity/Phoenecia
WeeDjs

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/02/09 17:56

Richard H. Kirk - 'Virtual State'

Probably one of my favourite Africa influenced techno albums.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2009/02/09 19:07

Gong's Gazeuse LP - Just in awe of Pierre Moerlen as a drummer

Harlod Budd's Abandoned Cities - Ambient goodness

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/02/12 20:59

Omar Rodriguez Lopez - Old Money
Wilco - Sky Blue Sky
The Beat Konducta - Vol 5-6

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/02/16 14:05

Joris Voorn BALANCE!!! - EFFING AMAZING. No matter what style you like you should check this mix out. It is beyond what ANYONE has done in techno / dub / ambient / minimal in years.

Also...

Jel - Soft Money
Gimmik - Toytronic 6
Malcom Kipe - Lit
Tigerskin - Sei
Tina Brooks - True Blue

Check out the new balance... It is bad aZZ!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/02/16 16:12

where and how .. this is v. exciting!
Joris Voorn is a superlative producer/remixer.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2009/02/19 21:32

Flying Lotus - Los Angeles

M83 - Saturdays = Youth

Piana - Ephemeral

Senking - Silencer

and for some reason I really feel these albums all work really well together. Maybe its just the space im in right now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ural - 2009/02/19 23:27

TOP February:

Derek Bailey

Django Reinhardt

Tom ZÃ©

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/02/19 23:38

Madlib, JDilla, and Oh No...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/02/21 17:07

sufjan stevens : greetings from michigan

ural wrote:

Derek Bailey

nice ural. you should check out joe morris from boston.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/02/23 07:05

Just bought this all from Bleep:

X L.V. - Globetrotting EP 2.69
X Ikonika - Please / Simulacrum EP 2.69
X Pressure Feat Warrior Queen - Money Honey EP 2.69
X Kode 9 and Daddi Gee - Spit EP 2.69
X Samiyam - Return EP EP 3.99
X Kode9, The Spaceape - Konfusion EP 2.69
X Harmonic 313 - Dirtbox EP 3.99
X Harmonic 313 - When Machines Exceed Human Intelligence LP 9.99
X The Bug - Skeng (Kode 9 Remix) 1.35
X Burial - Distant Lights (Kode9 remix) 1.35
X Kode9 & the Spaceape - 9 Samurai 1.35
X Kode9 & the Spaceape - Kingstown (dub) 1.35
X Kode9 + Daddi Gee - Stalker 1.35
X Massive Music - Find My Way 1.35

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/02/23 07:32

Ikonika is the shit. :lv:

Nice selection. :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/02/23 10:13

still the moody DJ with ipod on random most of the time and/or the following:

untitled 03 - aphex twin (SAWII, disk I) blue calyx - aphex twin (SAWII) untitled 08 - aphex twin (SAWII)

and

Fennesz - Venice

also been waking up to Zomby - Where were U in '92 and some old dnb/jungle

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by paants - 2009/02/23 10:37

Anything on Ghost Box records, and Phil Collins.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/02/24 00:00

trans am - surrender to the night.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2009/02/24 08:38

Dilated Peoples

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/02/24 08:46

Edan - Sprain your Tape Deck
Linda Perhacs - Parallelograms
Dabrye - Instrmntl
Prefuse - Uprock
Erykah Badu - Amerykah (forever in rotation)
Directions in Music - untitled Clinic -
I Heart Lung -
Opiate -

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by chiasticon - 2009/02/24 11:53

jsrockit wrote:

trans am - surrender to the night.

eff yea. that takes me back to '97. fresh out of high school, driving around with the windows down :) i can't listen to trans am until the spring tho. it just doesn't seem right in the winter for some reason...

my recents:

modest mouse - building nothing out of something telefon tel aviv - immolate yourself

man i fell in love with - dis yourself

eliot lipp - the outside

maps - we can create

the party of helicopters - abracadaver and please believe it and i've been playing drums to pedro the lion's "it's hard to find a friend" a lot.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/02/25 15:56

In the car:

Aesop Rock - None Shall Pass (burned copy lives in the car now, OG safe in storage)

The Roots - Rising Down (same for this one too)

P.O.S. - Never Better

Flying Lotus - Los Angeles

Ammo purchased for the headphones today:

Harmonic 313 - When Machines Exceed Human Intelligence

Ben Benjamin - The Many Moods of Ben Benjamin Vol. 1

Deastro - Keepers

Telefon Tel Aviv - Immolate Yourself

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ipassenger - 2009/02/25 16:51

This morning on the way to work:

FSOL : From the Archives Vol 1

Last night:

Alessandro Cortini Buchla lecture

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/02/26 00:11

actuel wrote:

Prefuse - Uprock

my fave :)

listening to Mr. Lif right now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ccclipper - 2009/02/26 15:26

Kanding Ray - Automne

Byetone - Death of A...

Cult of Luna - Eternal Kingdom

Ike Yard - Collected Works

Atom TM - Unbekanntes

Pan Sonic - Everything I can get my hands on

Alva Noto - Unitxt

Agoraphobic Nosebleed/Insect Warefare split 7"

Jeff Mills - Contact Special

HTRK - Marry Me Tonight

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by KidOne0 - 2009/03/02 11:35

jsrockit wrote:

Just bought this all from Bleep:

X Harmonic 313 - Dirtbox EP 3.99

X Harmonic 313 - When Machines Exceed Human Intelligence LP 9.99

Download the Mary Anne Hobbs mix. It's crazy.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2009/03/03 04:38

Yeah, I posted (but didn't upload, mind you) that a while back. I wonder if it's still available.

That Harmonic is the most bass-tastic stuff you'll ever hear. Well, besides MBM's "Autoimmune". Gives subs a workout.

Harmonic is definitely into SID's, that's for sure.

I wonder when Dabrye will come out with a new one? Anyone hear anything?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/03/03 04:52

glitched wrote:

I wonder when Dabrye will come out with a new one? Anyone hear anything?

Nope, but I can't wait as well... feeling that 313 album though...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by KidOne0 - 2009/03/03 06:08

Did a quick search and found the 313 mix on Mary Anne Hobbs.

http://rapidshare.com/files/204576915/Harmonic_313_Mix.mp3.html

Comtron - "Follow the money" is old but still dope and the new album from Fever Ray (Karin Dreijer from The Knife) is also dope. Got a lot of MD sounds in there.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/03 06:50

I gotta say my favorite Mary Anne Hobbs mixes right now are the Hyperdub Showcase (epic!) and the Mike Slott mix.

Incidentally, there is a new Hyperdub showcase from Benji B's show floating around that features 2 new Burial tracks and new Ikonika. Both are releasing albums this year. :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/03/04 02:43

Thinktanx... any links to those? Already have the 313 one, but none of the ones you mention...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Jims computer beats - 2009/03/04 02:51

To go with the -20Â°C temperature here:

3 albums from The Dillinger Escape Plan - Calculating Infinity, Miss Machine and Ire Works.

Bang!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/04 11:06

jsrockit wrote:

Thinktanx... any links to those? Already have the 313 one, but none of the ones you mention...

I don't know what happened but all of a sudden I can't find these links anywhere. I may just upload them to Rapidshare myself tomorrow because I've had several people around the intertubes asking for them.

The Mike Slott mix was actually accompanied by a Gaslamp Killer mix. Mike Slott vs. Gaslamp Killer... gangsta-style...

:gangsta:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/04 11:09

Alright! Found the Mike Slott mix:

<http://s3.amazonaws.com/luckymedia/21Mary-Anne-Hobbs-Session.mp3>

Tracklisting:

Mike Slott - '23 halves' (unreleased)
Mike Slott - 'Black Keys' (unreleased)
Mike Slott - 'Musics Fun' (unreleased)
Mike Slott - 'Flunky' (All City Records)
Rustie - 'Quick Tunnels' (unreleased)
Mike Slott - 'Knock Knock' (All City Records)
Yann Kesz - 'Like a Purple Shade'
Mike Slott - 'Bamhouse' (unreleased)
Nicole willis - 'Soul Investigators Theme Mike Slott Reflunk' (ATC Recordings)
Heralds of Change (Hudson Mo+Mike Slott) 'Future' (All City Records)
Mike Slott - 'Cadet' (unreleased)
Mike Slott - 'My Lightbridge' (All City Records)
Mike Slott - 'Home' (unreleased)
Flying Lotus - 'Roberta Flack' Mike Slott Reflunk (Warp Records)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/04 11:12

AND I found the Hyperdub showcase from Benji B's show! New Burial! B)

http://rapidshare.com/files/200423967/Deviation_Benji_B_2009_02_20.mp3

Kode 9 comes on about 55 minutes into it or so... the second half basically. Interesting interview bits with him in between tracks too! :)

Tracklisting:

Dam-Funk â€“ Hood Pass Intact (White)
Jaylib â€“ The Red (Stones Throw)
TI ft Dr Dre & Nas â€“ Topless (CDR)
Sa-Ra Creative Partners â€“ Bad B (CDR)
DJ Haircut â€“ Liftoff (CDR)
Mayer Hawthorne â€“ Maybe So, Maybe No (CDR)

Alan Kaufman â€™ Ivory Fantasy No1 (Joey Negro Edit)
Betty Padgett â€™ Get Up & Dance (Luv N Haight)
Unknown â€™ Eastside (CDR)
Hudson Mohawke â€™ Monde (Warp)
Mark Pritchard ft Omâ€™™Mas â€™ Wind It Up (Dubplate)
Joker â€™ Do It (CDR)
D Bridge â€™ Wonder Where (Dubplate)

 Kode9 Live In The Studio â€™ Hyperdub Label Showcase **

Samiyam â€™ Return (Hyperdub)
Kode9 â€™ Black Sun (Hyperdub)
Cooly G â€™ Love Dub (Refix) (Hyperdub)
Ikonika â€™ Sahara Micheal (Hyperdub)
2000F & JKamata â€™ You Donâ€™™t Know What Love Is (Hyperdub)
Dark Star â€™ Digital (Hyperdub)
Burial â€™ Untitled (Hyperdub)
LV â€™ Take Away (Hyperdub)
Burial â€™ Untitled (Hyperdub)
Kode9 â€™ Too Far Gone (Hyperdub) Terror Danjah â€™ Sonar
Lemon D â€™ Manhattan Melody

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/03/04 21:07

Pole 3
Madlib Beat Konducta Vol. 5-6
Harmonic 313
Mr. Oizo - Analog Worms Attack

Oh yeah, thanks TT.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Kerouac78 - 2009/03/05 01:56

The new Snd Album...'atavism'. Amazing. Kinda a combination of 4,5,6 and stdio.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/03/05 02:10

ThinkTanx wrote:
Lemon D â€™ Manhattan Melody

Lemon D is making dubstep now?

As for me:

Fennesz - Venice
Deerhunter - Cryptograms
Fennesz - Black Sea

On repeat. In that order.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/05 02:34

papertiger wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Lemon D â€“ Manhattan Melody

Lemon D is making dubstep now?

Nah. Kode 9 throws down some old skool flava at the end. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2009/03/05 09:43

Arovane - Tascel_7

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2009/03/05 12:38

a new snd? - thanks for the heads up, wow!

latest playing on the ipod v5:

lotus plaza

ratatat

kelpe

ben klock

delay

odd nossdam

toob

Eero Johannes

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2009/03/05 18:53

papertiger wrote:

As for me:

Fennesz - Venice

Deerhunter - Cryptograms

Fennesz - Black Sea

On repeat. In that order.

Big fan of Venice here.

From the snippets I've heard from Black Sea it sounds much more abstract. Am I wrong?

Thanks to enlighten me.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/03/06 20:56

The Bug - Pressure
Takako Minekawa - Fun 9
Bjork - Medulla
Battery Collection - S/T

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by chiasticon - 2009/03/07 01:20

jsrockit wrote:
Battery Collection - S/T

teehee :D

there's a new digi single over here by the way: <http://www.actualarchives.com/batterycollection.htm>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/03/07 02:24

eminor9 wrote:
Big fan of Venice here.
From the snippets I've heard from Black Sea it sounds much more abstract. Am I wrong?
Thanks to enlighten me.

venice grabbed from the opening. . . sounds? notes? black sea has not had that impact on me. I don't know if that's due to black sea being more abstract than venice, or what, but it just hasn't captured my attention in the same way. my opinion might change with repeated listens, though, so i'll let you know.

for what it's worth, venice is the only fennesz album that i've been able to get into. i don't "get" endless summer. maybe when i grow up.

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/07 02:43

papertiger wrote:
eminor9 wrote:
Big fan of Venice here.
From the snippets I've heard from Black Sea it sounds much more abstract. Am I wrong?
Thanks to enlighten me.

venice grabbed from the opening. . . sounds? notes? black sea has not had that impact on me. I don't know if that's due to black sea being more abstract than venice, or what, but it just hasn't captured my attention in the same way. my opinion might change with repeated listens, though, so i'll let you know.

for what it's worth, venice is the only fennesz album that i've been able to get into. i don't "get" endless summer. maybe when i grow up.

M

I just got Black Sea a couple of days ago. It doesn't do anything for me. Might change though after a few listens. :(

Now, Endless Summer, on the other hand, is one of my favorite experimental records of all-time, and it grabbed me right from the start. So much fractured beauty there. 'Shisheido' and 'Happy Audio' do it for me every time. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2009/03/07 03:07

Bitstream - Retreat Pod

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/03/07 04:10

just got this in the mail today and i'm really digging it. "Lissom - Nest of Iterations". amazing tones.

<http://www.dragonseyerecordings.com/catalog/de5020.html>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tox - 2009/03/07 07:30

just picked up these profan oldies:

mike ink - dadajack
m:i:5 - autogen
sweet reinhard - kulture ep + M kulture has a ridiculously thick acid track, which... i like very much

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2009/03/08 14:02

if you are a deru fan he has posted a lot of his older songs for download free of charge.

<http://musicstore.deru.la/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/03/09 03:16

relapse808 wrote:
if you are a deru fan he has posted a lot of his older songs for download free of charge.

<http://musicstore.deru.la/> awesome! thanks for that. deru rocks.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/03/09 03:33

silence.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/03/09 17:13

papertiger wrote:

venice grabbed from the opening. . . sounds? notes? black sea has not had that impact on me. I don't know if that's due to black sea being more abstract than venice, or what, but it just hasn't captured my attention in the same way. my opinion might change with repeated listens, though, so i'll let you know.

for what it's worth, venice is the only fennesz album that i've been able to get into. i don't "get" endless summer. maybe when i grow up.

M

It'll probably remain like that. Endless Summer has a few highlights but that's it. Venice is simply one of those masterpieces that is most unlikely to be repeated I'm afraid. His collaboration with Ryuichi Sakamoto - Cendre is ace too imo.

Listens of the past week-end:

Harold Budd - Avalon Sutra

Tortoise - It's all around you (McEntire remains the master in low end and crunch)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/03/10 07:52

now 100 percent enjoying two tracks by Fennesz: "Rivers of Sand" and "Haru - Original Mix" cheers for the heads up about this great artist.

just purchased two tracks from b-port, brilliant music..
glad to keep it to a couple of tracks for now.
prolly going back for one more: the guitar piece from 'Venice'.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/03/10 08:44

previewlounge wrote:

glad to keep it to a couple of tracks for now.

prolly going back for one more: the guitar piece from 'Venice'.

get the whole thing. seriously. the whole works and flows so well as an album.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2009/03/10 09:10

eminor9 wrote:

Venice is simply one of those masterpieces that is most unlikely to be repeated I'm afraid.

Funny - I thought that Black Sea was sort of next-level for him...

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/03/10 09:38

papertiger wrote:

previewlounge wrote:

glad to keep it to a couple of tracks for now.

prolly going back for one more: the guitar piece from 'Venice'.

get the whole thing. seriously. the whole works and flows so well as an album.

upon consideration..

thanks, great advice. Venice is awesome. :)

i thought the first track was the best.. upon returning to listen to previews today, sound like every one's a winner.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ccclipper - 2009/03/10 18:01

Pan Sonic - Aaltopiiri

SND - Atavism (thanks for the heads up!)

KTL - IV

Seefeel - Succour

Datach'i - Black Trees

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/03/10 19:29

Luke Vibert - Yoseph

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ipassenger - 2009/03/10 21:27

Nice, I have Big Soup on my iPhone at the mo. Saw him play not too long since, he was great.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/03/13 03:12

Michna - Magic Monday (repeat over and over again)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Ronin - 2009/03/15 00:55

Nick Cave and The Bad Seeds - Murder Balads

VInce Watson Detroit Inspired DJ sets

Lusine - Language Barrier

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rooob - 2009/03/16 02:24

The Ronin wrote:

Nick Cave and The Bad Seeds - Murder Balads

WOW!!!

Galaxie 500 - This is our music

Spacemen 3 - Recurring

bye!

R

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2009/03/16 15:04

Autonomic Podcasts Layer 1 & 2

strongly recommended

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/18 17:08

Kode 9 - Black Sun / 2 Far Gone

Kode 9 - Sine of the Dub / Stalker

Flying Lotus - 1 x 3, 2 x 3 EP's

Gui Boratto - Chromophobia

Pinch - Midnight Oil / Joyride

Dabrye - One/Three

Radiohead - In Rainbows (Disc 2)

Moderat - Moderat

Joker - Digidesign / 2000F & J Kamata - You Don't Know What Love Is

Hudson Mohawke - Polyfolk Dance EP

The Bug - London Zoo

Rustie - Jagz the Smack EP

King Midas Sound - Cool Out EP

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Opuswerk - 2009/03/18 19:42

Loco Dice at under 300 tour 2009 djoon (paris, france) 27.02.2009 awesome set!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/03/18 20:26

The Ronin wrote:
Nick Cave and The Bad Seeds - Murder Balads

Thats the spirit! Love it; been listening to the rare/b-sides album recently, omalleys runs in three parts that last forever:
pure psychotic bliss!
Stagger lee remains my favourite on that since the day i heard it.

So far this holiday ive been searching for melody in...

Sparklehorse- its a wonderful life
Spiritualized- ladies and gents.
Mokira- clip hop
And embarrassingly a bit of reflecting over my own recent shit!:laugh: :blush:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/03/18 20:32

The Ronin wrote:
Nick Cave and The Bad Seeds - Murder Balads

Thats the spirit! Love it; been listening to the rare/b-sides album recently, omalleys runs in three parts that last forever:
pure psychotic bliss!
Stagger lee remains my favourite on that since the day i heard it.

So far this holiday ive been searching for melody in...

Sparklehorse- its a wonderful life
Spiritualized- ladies and gents.
Mokira- clip hop
And embarrassingly a bit of reflecting over my own recent shit!:laugh: :blush:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/03/18 21:24

actuel wrote:
Michna - Magic Monday (repeat over and over again)

That album owns so hard. "Believe In It" always gets repeated two or three times.

This week I will be going through:

Burial - Untrue (yeah yeah I'm lagging behind the known free world on this one)
Mux Mool - Just Saying Is All (first track was kinda ehhe but second track was kinda YEAHHHH)
Brother Ali - The Truth Is Here EP (bumped the first half on the drive to work, digging this so far) Themselves - theFREEhoudini mixtape (a free mixtape and an album this year?!)
Turf Talk - West Coast Vaccine (keep hearing good things)
The Decemberists - The Hazards of Love (I find them to be kinda hit or miss, but The Crane Wife got so much air time from me that I'll keep trying 'em)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Ronin - 2009/03/18 21:41

tIB wrote:
The Ronin wrote:

Nick Cave and The Bad Seeds - Murder Balads

Thats the spirit! Love it; been listening to the rare/bsides album recently, omalleys runs in three parts that last forever: pure psychotic bliss!
Stagger lee remains my favourite on that since the day i heard it.

When you are an impressionable youth moved away from home and the album is dropped in your lap by an ex-meth addict alcoholic co-worker, the album takes on a new level of significance and each day after is a blessing you are not a lyric...This guy could have been Stagger Lee for all I know and he was passing out his auto biography.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by d1rtynyc - 2009/03/18 22:34

A couple artists that I recently bought. All of which will be rotated heavily in my dj sets:

Rickzor Rumme (his No Berlin ep is excellent)
Popof
Nicole Billy Dalessandro
Dusty Kid
Abe Duque (everything he does is excellent!)
Nicole Moudaber
B-Series
Matthew Hyatt (Giant Slayers)
Maetrik
Marbert Rocel
Dj Rob3
Pig & Dan
Soundstream
RadioSlave (always!!!)
Anton Pieete
Mox Codeta
Paul Play
Dj T
Tim Weeks

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/21 12:30

Listening to clips of the upcoming Boxcutter album on Barry Lynn's Myspace. Sounds incredible. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/03/21 19:37

Missy Elliot

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Ronin - 2009/03/21 21:20

Concrete Blonde - Mexican Moon
The Orb - Live 93

DJ Stingray - Bleep43 podcast (Proper Electro!!!)
Jane's Addiction
Surgeon - This is for you Shits

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by KidOne0 - 2009/03/23 06:52

Fever Ray - Fever Ray
Salem
8 Ball & MJG - Memphis Under World

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2009/03/23 08:03

Mala - Changes
DJ Distance - Radical

Monographic#36: Deepindub Mixed By Maurizio Miceli

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ldgu - 2009/03/23 12:04

autechre
lee perry fela kuti
lightning bolt flying lotus appleblim bass clef peverelist
the bug

my stuff on the MD

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/03/24 00:46

deerhunter collective:

deerhunter
atlas sound (solo project of deerhunter singer/guitarist) lotus plaza (solo project of other deerhunter guitarist)

neko case (esp. middle cyclone)

nothing good is coming from listening to my own stuff. =)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/03/24 01:16

DJ Vadim
One Self
Lauryn Hill
The Bug
Portishead

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/03/25 01:30

Althea and Donna - Uptown Top Ranking

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/03/28 12:28

Clark - Growls Garden

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/03/28 13:15

actuel wrote:

Clark - Growls Garden

Oh wow! I didn't even know this had been released. Thanks for the heads up! :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/03 05:07

Fantastic Mr. Fox & Rich Reason - Plimsoul Single Untold - Yukon / Walk Through, Discipline / Bones Singles
Martyn - Natural Selection
Mike Slott - Funky / Deux Three
Clark - Growls Garden
The Bug - London Zoo
Harmonic 313 - When Machines Exceed Human Intelligence

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/04/03 08:34

ThinkTanx wrote:

Harmonic 313 - When Machines Exceed Human Intelligence

yes!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GYS - 2009/04/03 09:12

FSOL - Lifeforms. Still unbelievably awesome. :laugh:

Also lately been listening to a lot of Vir Unis, Monolake, and Freaky Chakra.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/03 09:18

Doom

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/03 10:32

jsrockit wrote:
Doom

Been listenin to this one too. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glitched - 2009/04/04 02:45

Ahem...

Flying Lotus at Future Roots Radio, KPFK 90.7FM - Los Angeles (31-01-2009)
<http://tinyurl.com/dnczvx>

Feeling it.

BTW, that link came from this guy on Twitter: warp50cd . Definitely follow him. Lots of good links to electronic mixes and such.

Follow me as well: d01.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/04/04 08:34

this guy has a bunch of ambient though rythmic/melodic stuff all done on the modcan modular up on his page for streaming. some really nice compositions and sounds. drew me in big time.

<http://www.mwmusic.org/MUSIC.html>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/04/04 21:16

Gaslamp Killer Live at Hella International

<http://www.stonestrow.com/podcast/>

#43

Sweeeeet

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2009/04/05 01:33

Plaid - rest proof clockwork.

(where can I find Richard devines Cautella CD album?)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/05 03:38

spleaf wrote:

Gaslamp Killer Live at Hella International

<http://www.stonestrow.com/podcast/>

#43

Sweeeeet

Love this as well...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/05 03:55

jsrockit wrote:

spleaf wrote:

Gaslamp Killer Live at Hella International

<http://www.stonestrow.com/podcast/>

#43

Sweeeeet

Love this as well...

Ya can't go wrong with Gaslamp Killer. Dude is wild. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/09 23:39

The Miseducation of Lauryn Hill

Ghostface Killah - Supreme Clientele

The Bug - London Zoo + Pressure

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GYS - 2009/04/10 01:50

Kraftwerk - Minimum Maximum

...for the ultimate city commute! ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Kerouac78 - 2009/04/10 03:59

METALLICA - MASTER OF PUPPETS!!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ookpikk - 2009/04/10 04:10

Just saw Acid Mothers Temple for the 2nd time. So fucking good.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/10 08:36

Hudson Mohawke - Polyfolk Dance EP

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rew - 2009/04/10 12:58

Yelle - Pop Up just can't get enough of this album in the spring time!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by neonleg - 2009/04/10 13:28

<http://robotdj.net>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/10 14:22

jsrockit wrote:

Hudson Mohawke - Polyfolk Dance EP

That's a good one.

If you haven't already, you should try and pick up Rustie's Jagz the Smack EP if you like HudMo. They run in the same crew. Don't sound exactly the same, but it was Rustie who coined the phrase 'aquacrunk', so you can imagine what he's all about... :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/04/12 02:29

B12 - Archive Volume 2

Carl Craig - Landcruising

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/12 06:59

Guilty and Oh No:

<http://www.stonethrow.com/jukebox/killer.mp3>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/12 07:59

Kode 9 + Flying Lotus was excellent last night. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/12 08:52

ThinkTanx wrote:

Kode 9 + Flying Lotus was excellent last night. :)

What? Where?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/12 14:51

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Kode 9 + Flying Lotus was excellent last night. :)

What? Where?

The Echoplex in LA. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2009/04/12 15:35

Killing Joke, Bauhaus - having a retro thing at the moment

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/04/12 19:13

Foals - Live @ Coventry Kasbah

I was there man! I was there! :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/12 21:48

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Kode 9 + Flying Lotus was excellent last night. :)

What? Where?

The Echoplex in LA. :)

Good, thank god...I thought you were going to say NYC and I was going to croak. :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2009/04/14 03:03

<http://obliq.net/index2.cfm>

<http://obliq.net/images/kabaret-kgnu.jpg>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/04/14 03:35

this morning...

this funckarma mix on soundcloud.. sick

<http://soundcloud.com/funckarma/rfunckekko100409>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/14 12:33

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Kode 9 + Flying Lotus was excellent last night. :)

What? Where?

The Echoplex in LA. :)

Good, thank god...I thought you were going to say NYC and I was going to croak. :laugh:

If I was in NYC, I'm pretty sure we would have traded some gear by now! :laugh:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/14 21:41

ThinkTanx wrote:

If I was in NYC, I'm pretty sure we would have traded some gear by now! :laugh:

Yeah, for sure... :laugh:

Listening to this:

http://www.fatbeats.com/catalog/catalog_product_images/.products_image.TEG1103.jpeg

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/15 03:50

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

If I was in NYC, I'm pretty sure we would have traded some gear by now! :laugh:

Yeah, for sure... :laugh:

Listening to this:

http://www.fatbeats.com/catalog/catalog_product_images/.products_image.TEG1103.jpeg

I saw this at Turntable Lab! :laugh:

Did you actually buy the dongle or you just listening to an old copy?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/15 04:29

I bought the dongle from the turntable lab store in NYC... I couldn't resist. They were aiff files on the drive too.

Top Ranking Santogold - A Diplo Dub

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/15 08:38

<http://www.amazon.com/gp/mpd/permalink/m386YV2CNSD51Y> :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/15 08:43

jsrockit wrote:

Top Ranking Santogold - A Diplo Dub

Love that mixtape.

I threw down some rock today... :)

The Libertines
The Clash

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by neuromodulator - 2009/04/15 10:52

<http://www.moshcam.com/#?page=player&type=gig&id=481>

"Cause I'm lost and I'm gone...
And this life is too long...
And my willpower's never too strong."

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/04/17 01:43

any of you dubstep fools listened to ultrablack? just came up on random on my ipod and it sounds pretty nice!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/04/17 02:29

Today at work I listened to:

Silversun Pickups - Swoon
Prefuse 73 - Everything She Touched Turned Ampexian
Robust - Potholes In Our Molecules
The Roots - Rising Down

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/17 02:43

lameaim wrote:
Today at work I listened to:

Prefuse 73 - Everything She Touched Turned Ampexian

How is it?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by astronout - 2009/04/17 02:46

I listen to KCRW.COM most of the day at work. Santa Monica community radio.

They are always playing something interesting.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/04/17 03:37

jsrockit wrote:

lameaim wrote:

Today at work I listened to:

Prefuse 73 - Everything She Touched Turned Ampexian

How is it?

On the first pass I definitely like it more than Preparations & Interregnums. There's a touch of the psychedelic in this, plus he went back to keeping most tracks short and everything flows together well. I think it may have a shot at Extinguished for the title of "Second Favorite Prefuse Album."

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/17 03:40

lameaim wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

lameaim wrote:

Today at work I listened to:

Prefuse 73 - Everything She Touched Turned Ampexian

How is it?

On the first pass I definitely like it more than Preparations & Interregnums. There's a touch of the psychedelic in this, plus he went back to keeping most tracks short and everything flows together well. I think it may have a shot at Extinguished for the title of "Second Favorite Prefuse Album."

Awesome, I'm going to pick it up then. I liked Preparations a lot...and hated Interregnums.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/04/17 04:31

jsrockit wrote:

lameaim wrote:

Today at work I listened to:

Prefuse 73 - Everything She Touched Turned Ampexian

How is it?

I agree with the above. This is the best thing he's done since One Word Extinguisher. Even more ADD though. I just love the mix tape vibe of it.

2 thumbs up.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Syn303 - 2009/04/17 04:35

Vangelis - Mask, one of my favourite albums from the maestro, fast sequencer lines, dark sounds, bombastic choirs and percussion.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/17 05:20

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

lameaim wrote:

Today at work I listened to:

Prefuse 73 - Everything She Touched Turned Ampexian

How is it?

I agree with the above. This is the best thing he's done since One Word Extinguisher. Even more ADD though. I just love the mix tape vibe of it.

2 thumbs up.

That makes three of us. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/17 08:39

Got the Prefuse 73... so far ok.

Junior Boys - Begone Dull Care = great album as always.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/04/18 09:40

The most played album of my recent hols was Matt Berry's Witchazel Final. It is (or maybe was?) available for free download at his myspace.

Matt Berry played Lucian Sanchez in Darkplace, Witchazel is a fairly tongue in cheek 60's influenced prog folk and it is great!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/18 23:29

<http://www.rappcats.com/?p=72>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/22 03:00

Ok, so the new Prefuse 73 is great... thanks for the recommendation all.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/22 12:26

Starkey - Ephemeral Exhibits
Jamie Vexd - In System Travel EP, Lucky Me Mixtape, and Scuba remix
Flying Lotus - Shhh! EP, and Robo Tussin' (feat. Lil Wayne)
El-B - Roots of El-B
Burial - South London Boroughs EP
Joker - Kapsize 001, Kapsize EP, Play Doe (w/ Rustie)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/04/22 12:53

Atom TM's latest "Liedgut" especially the tunes with vocals and the waltzes.

<http://www.raster-noton.net/>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/23 15:21

Martyn - Great Lengths

Fantastic record! :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2009/04/23 16:09

still listening to the newish lukid -foma just amazing

still on fever ray, another great record

some Pendle coven

The Jaun Maclean

Newish kenny larkin

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/04/24 01:03

in the post today ...

The Black Dog - Further Vexations

sooooo goodseriously ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/04/24 01:29

ahh, the black dog.

i'll always have a place in my heart for the black dog and plaid.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/04/24 02:45

<http://www.theblackdogma.com/tbd/?p=911>

Sweeeeet ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/04/24 23:27

Flying Lotus - Raw Cartoons

Just a collection of Flying Lotus tracks used for bumps on Adult Swim.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/04/24 23:45

boards of canada. I feel the boys are overdue.

May is shaping up to be a good new music month, too:
nathan fake (although rumor is it's more dancefloor than "drowning in a sea")
the field deerhunter EP
patrick wolf sometime soon I think (yeah yeah, what can I say in my defense? :side:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reignbear - 2009/04/25 02:10

lately i've been listening to a lot of dug up lp's lately, mostly psychedelic stuff.

chrysalis - definition

the beacon street union - the eyes of the beacon street union

the rotary connection - songs

salvation army - s/t

ramsey lewis - mother natures son

as for more contemporary stuff:

kankick - acid massive musical vol 1&2 jamie vex'd - luckyme mix (still need to get the in system travel 12")

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by darenager - 2009/04/25 05:57

Today I have been mostly listening to:

Aril Brikha - Ex Machina

The Other People Place - Lifestyles of the laptop cafe

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/04/28 03:37

Why? Elephant Eyelash

Santogold

The Miseducation of Lauryn Hill

Vex'd Degenerate

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/04/28 08:03

reignbear wrote:

jamie vex'd - luckyme mix (still need to get the in system travel 12")

Get it! It's awesome! B)

jsrockit wrote:

Why? Elephant Eyelash

My calling card. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2009/04/28 17:44

Larry Levan Tribute Mix

<http://www.sixmillionsteps.com/drupal/node/422>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/04/29 01:01

and more ...

The Black Dog: One Hour With The Psychick Warriors Ov Gaia

<http://www.theblackdogma.com/tbd/?p=921>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Syn303 - 2009/04/29 04:31

Underground Resistance - Galaxy 2 Galaxy, Final Frontier, Jupiter Jazz

nothing like the sound of Detroit Techno

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Play Along - 2009/05/03 02:35

Omar-S new Fabric Mix

Fourtet DJ Kicks Mix

Pinch new Mix

Snd Atavism

Tim Hecker An Imaginary Country

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/05/05 23:57

ThinkTanx wrote:

Martyn - Great Lengths

Fantastic record! :)

+100

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/06 01:44

It's been mentioned a couple of times already, but this Jamie Vex'd LuckyMe mixtape is ridiculous! Linkage:

<http://s3.amazonaws.com/luckymedia/25sundaywalkmanmix.mp3>

Tracklist:

Jamie Vexâ€™d - Saturnâ€™s Reply

Rich Reason & Fantastic Mr Fox - Bleep Show

Scuba - Twitch - Jamie Vexâ€™d remix

Starkey - Creature
Jamie Vex'd - In System Travel
Erykah Badu - Twinkle
Darkstar - Aida's Girl's A Computer
Cannibal Ox - F Word (Instrumental)
Zomby - Fantastique remix
Falty DL - To London
Shawty Lo feat. DG Yola vs Timeblind - Lets Decay It (Dev 79's Blend)
Stagga - Lopside - Doshy Remix
Modeselektor - Black Box - Rustie remix
Joker - Psychedlic Runway
Starkey - Mutter Music VIP
Naptha - Soundclash - Grevious Angel VIP
Tim Hecker - Sundown6093
Falty DL - Paradise Lost

Jamie Vex'd himself, Rich Reason & Fantastic Mr. Fox, Zomby, Starkey, Rustie, and Joker are all favorites of mine currently, and when have you ever heard someone throw down some Tim Hecker in a mix like this?!?! Erykah Badu?! Bananas. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/05/06 01:47

ThinkTanx wrote:
this Jamie Vex'd LuckyMe mixtape is ridiculous!

Tracklist:

Jamie Vex'd - Saturn's Reply
Rich Reason & Fantastic Mr Fox - Bleep Show
Scuba - Twitch - Jamie Vex'd remix
Starkey - Creature
Jamie Vex'd - In System Travel
Erykah Badu - Twinkle
Darkstar - Aida's Girl's A Computer
Cannibal Ox - F Word (Instrumental)
Zomby - Fantastique remix
Falty DL - To London
Shawty Lo feat. DG Yola vs Timeblind - Lets Decay It (Dev 79's Blend)
Stagga - Lopside - Doshy Remix
Modeselektor - Black Box - Rustie remix
Joker - Psychedlic Runway
Starkey - Mutter Music VIP
Naptha - Soundclash - Grevious Angel VIP
Tim Hecker - Sundown6093
Falty DL - Paradise Lost

what genre is this, out of curiosity? The only name I know is Erykah . . . and Modeselektor, but remixes can sound very diff. . .(oh and zomby!)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/06 02:26

Genre is for the birds. :)

It's a bit of dubstep-ish stuff, a bit of hip-hop, that kind of thing. My favorite music these days falls somewhere in between dubstep and hip-hop. Some like to call it 'wonky', which is pretty much the worst genre name anyone has tried to conjure up. :blink:

Just listen to it and decide for yourself. :)

Did you go to that Caps game last night, PT?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GYS - 2009/05/06 02:29

Syn303 wrote:

Underground Resistance - Galaxy 2 Galaxy, Final Frontier, Jupiter Jazz

nothing like the sound of Detroit Techno

UR = da shit. There's a little documentary on UR & Submerge Records on youtube...cool stuff for sure. I didn't realize some of those dudes were involved in the whole motown scene.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/05/06 21:06

Low End Theory podcasts.

<http://www.lowendtheoryclub.com/podcast/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/05/06 22:25

burial + four tet release

really liking moth. . . over and over again. . .

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by D07N01R - 2009/05/06 22:59

kangding ray

alva noto

exhorder

melvins

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2009/05/06 23:42

the luckyme thing is fantastic. thanks for the link.

Im liking this a lot

<http://www.club-autonomic.com/> mellow clinical electronics from a drum and bass direction.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/07 01:25

papertiger wrote:
burial + four tet release

really liking moth. . . over and over again. . .

Yep, yep. B-side hasn't really grabbed me yet though.

LIVESEQ wrote:
the luckyme thing is fantastic. thanks for the link.

No problem! :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/05/07 01:27

ThinkTanx wrote:
papertiger wrote:
burial + four tet release

really liking moth. . . over and over again. . .

Yep, yep. B-side hasn't really grabbed me yet though.

oh they've both grabbed me. in a kung-fu grip. they're different enough that listening to them back to back doesn't get boring. . . just makes me wanna chairdance!

if i had to pick just one, though, i would pick moth. it also reminds me of the field.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/05/07 03:49

papertiger wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
papertiger wrote:
burial + four tet release

really liking moth. . . over and over again. . .

Yep, yep. B-side hasn't really grabbed me yet though.

oh they've both grabbed me. in a kung-fu grip. they're different enough that listening to them back to back doesn't get boring. . . just makes me wanna chairdance!

if i had to pick just one, though, i would pick moth. it also reminds me of the field.

Did you folks order the vinyl, or is the single available for sale as mp3s?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/05/07 04:04

been listening to that jaydiohead mash up and the funckarma DubStoned EP

<http://jaydiohead.com/>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2009/05/07 15:15

just downloaded and headbanging to:

-Lemon8 - "New York New York & Model8"

-Hawtin - "Orange/Minus"

-Jambi - "Lost EP" (now there's some good minimal techno that does not sound just like all other minimal techno)

-Plastikman - "Nostalgik 1,2 & 3" (I can see why these were not first picks for his albums tho.. but Aquatik is quite good (and on a side note, I called my first EP/Demo "Aquatik EP", not even knowing the name was already taken..)) and DUBFIRE! wow, in your face music, this is dance music I'd like to make, so well arranged and for once, I dig the use of reverb ;)

(Spastik remix and Jamaica remix are both brilliant) and a little dubstep:

-Bar9 - "Murda Sound/Untitled Symphony" (hard dubstep)

-Gravious - "Mixtape 3" (free download from www.myspace.com/Gravious the three mixtapes are some of the best electronic music I've heard for quite some time)

-Gravious - "Fall/Winter Sound"

-Gravious - "Wormsign/Monolith" and finally, a local gem, "Amish82", labeled as "TrÃnder-house" (translates to something like House from the Trondheim region), their free album is on <http://sutemos.net/en/player> and it's worth checking out if a mix between New Order and royksopp sounds good to ya ;)

Oh yeah, and the Twin Peaks soundtrack has really got me lately, it was pretty much the soundtrack to April for me. It's just soooo cheezy and nice. I love it

Oh, and finally, Syn303's "Koncept" album which I got yesterday, sounds a lot better on my stereo from CD than from the bandcamp player, and while a little long, still very well made with short interludes to keep your ears from getting tired. It's of course very similar to Hawtin's original Concept albums, but this is taken into 2009. I played Koncept 7 on a local student radio, and the DJ loved it :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/05/18 21:00

no updates in a week and a half. WTF

Mike Mictlan & Lazerbeak - Hand Over Fist (dope)

P.O.S. - Never Better - (listen to "Optimist" if you haven't already)

Aesop Rock - Labor Days (still fantastic)

Neon Neon - Stainless Style (kinda hit or miss for me)

Geinoh Yamashirogumi - Akira Soundtrack (forgot how open this was... definitely gonna twist some sounds from here and see where it goes)

M83 - Saturdays = Youth (never not good)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Ronin - 2009/05/18 21:43

Oscar Mulero and Svreca - As Thin As Christ - Semantica Records
Smear - Transect _Broadwave Execution Mix - Froward Strategy Group
O.V.R - Interior EP - Blueprint
Everything on the Sandwell District Label Miles Davis
Ornette Coleman
CJ Bolland - Electric Highway - R&S Records

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/19 02:34

Clark - Growls Garden EP, Body Riddle, Turning Dragon (new album coming in July!)
Prefuse 73 - Everything She Touched Turned Ampexian
Starkey - Ephemeral Exhibits
Flying Lotus & Declaime - Whole Wide World
Moderat - Moderat
Mount Kimbie - Maybes
Hudson Mohawke - Oops!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/05/19 04:34

I have fallen hard for this new Lusine single up on ISO50... actually all the tracks in that post kick tons of ass.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Burs - 2009/05/19 22:59

I liked Growls Garden... the artwork for his new one looks cool too

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/20 21:03

ThinkTanx wrote:
papertiger wrote:
burial + four tet release

really liking moth. . . over and over again. . .

Yep, yep. B-side hasn't really grabbed me yet though.

Can I buy the MP3 version of this anywhere or only the vinyl?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/05/20 22:12

RA: 155 + 153 B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/21 22:36

ThinkTanx wrote:

papertiger wrote:

burial + four tet release

really liking moth. . . over and over again. . .

Yep, yep. B-side hasn't really grabbed me yet though.

Man, I was the opposite, moth is lame and wolf cub is really good. :laugh: Then again, I hate when songs turn into 4/4 dance beats... boomp/boomp/boomp/boomp :blink:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/22 01:47

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

papertiger wrote:

burial + four tet release

really liking moth. . . over and over again. . .

Yep, yep. B-side hasn't really grabbed me yet though.

Man, I was the opposite, moth is lame and wolf cub is really good. :laugh: Then again, I hate when songs turn into 4/4 dance beats... boomp/boomp/boomp/boomp :blink:

For me, it was nice to hear Burial change up the rhythm a little beat. Wolf Cub has a bit more of the standard 'Burial beat', although it has since grown on me.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/22 01:57

I can see that TT, but those beats are why I listen to him... 4/4 BDs are not! :) That said I only listened once so...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/22 02:01

jsrockit wrote:

I can see that TT, but those beats are why I listen to him... 4/4 BDs are not! :) That said I only listened once so...

Oh, trust, I loooooove those rhythms. But you would have to say Burial hasn't progressed a lot throughout his, admittedly short, career. It was just cool to hear a new twist. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/22 03:45

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

I can see that TT, but those beats are why I listen to him... 4/4 BDs are not! :) That said I only listened once so...

Oh, trust, I loooooove those rhythms. But you would have to say Burial hasn't progressed a lot throughout his, admittedly short, career. It was just cool to hear a new twist. :)

Haha true... if you like one burial song, you most likely like them all. If you don't like a song, you can almost assume you won't like the rest. :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/22 21:10

Edan - Primitive Plus / Beauty and the Beat
The Isolationist
Animal Collective - Merriweather Post Pavillion
Madlib - Beat Konducta Vol 5-6
Prefuse 73 - Various Flying Lotus - Raw Cartoons
Dana Dane

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/05/24 00:18

Fad Gadget - Everything of his in the Mute Audio Documents set.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/05/24 05:12

MF Doom - Born Like This.

awesome in every way. simply stunning production and beats and all the flavor you expect from Doom is in there. stoked :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/05/24 05:21

ignatius wrote:

MF Doom - Born Like This.

Indeed, it's a great record. I still maintain that maybe best MF Doom and most certainly the most underrated album is King Geedorah. Shit is mindblowing.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/24 08:07

actuel wrote:

ignatius wrote:

MF Doom - Born Like This.

Indeed, it's a great record. I still maintain that maybe best MF Doom and most certainly the most underrated album is King Geedorah. Shit is mindblowing.

I'll co-sign this. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/05/24 08:41

actuel wrote:

ignatius wrote:

MF Doom - Born Like This.

Indeed, it's a great record. I still maintain that maybe best MF Doom and most certainly the most underrated album is King Geedorah. Shit is mindblowing.

i'll have to seek that one out. i don't have it!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/25 02:20

actuel wrote:

ignatius wrote:

MF Doom - Born Like This.

Indeed, it's a great record. I still maintain that maybe best MF Doom and most certainly the most underrated album is King Geedorah. Shit is mindblowing.

Take me to your leader!!! The new one though, I can't help but feel the vocals are too high in the mix... still dope is my fave.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/26 23:43

The Great Adventures Of Slick Rick

Gescom - 666017171821

Air- Talkie Walkie

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/27 04:34

jsrockit wrote:
The Great Adventures Of Slick Rick
Gescom - 666017171821
Air- Talkie Walkie

That list is awesome! :laugh:

Btw-

new Nosaj Thing record 'Drifts' dropped today. So dope. Some of the most 'composed' beat-oriented music I've heard in a long, long time. Good to hear a dude who ain't afraid of a melody. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/27 04:55

Thanks for the tip TT!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2009/05/27 06:00

Amish82 - Shovels and Cava. free download at sutemos.net

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/05/27 15:28

ThinkTanx wrote:
new Nosaj Thing record 'Drifts' dropped today. So dope. Some of the most 'composed' beat-oriented music I've heard in a long, long time. Good to hear a dude who ain't afraid of a melody. :)

Oh man I agree. I've given the album a couple of play-throughs today, love it so far. Melodic but still very groove-centric and has atmosphere for days. "IOIO" is officially my shit right now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/05/27 15:47

ThinkTanx wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
The Great Adventures Of Slick Rick
Gescom - 666017171821
Air- Talkie Walkie

That list is awesome! :laugh:

Btw-

new Nosaj Thing record 'Drifts' dropped today. So dope. Some of the most 'composed' beat-oriented music I've heard in a long, long time. Good to hear a dude who ain't afraid of a melody. :)

listened to some clips of it today. i have to agree w/your assessment. seems like a great record though sounds very "laptop" if that makes sense. not a criticism just a characterization. i was pleasantly surprised when i heard the clips because i was half expecting it to be very glitchmob mosh pit mash up type stuff.. even though i've seen noasjthing live and know that he has more to him than that. anyway.. form what i've eheard it's very carefully crafted w/some really nice programming and lot's of moods and dynamics.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/27 16:11

ignatius wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

The Great Adventures Of Slick Rick

Gescom - 666017171821

Air- Talkie Walkie

That list is awesome! :laugh:

Btw-

new Nosaj Thing record 'Drifts' dropped today. So dope. Some of the most 'composed' beat-oriented music I've heard in a long, long time. Good to hear a dude who ain't afraid of a melody. :)

listened to some clips of it today. i have to agree w/your assessment. seems like a great record though sounds very "laptop" if that makes sense. not a criticism just a characterization. i was pleasantly surprised when i heard the clips because i was half expecting it to be very glitchmob mosh pit mash up type stuff.. even though i've seen noasjthing live and know that he has more to him than that. anyway.. form what i've eheard it's very carefully crafted w/some really nice programming and lot's of moods and dynamics.

I do think he's strictly digital, if that's what you mean. At least, compositionally (not sure about mixes and mastering). I know he's a big fan of the Nord Modular, and he uses Logic.

Lameaim - I think my favorite right now is Light #1 or Caves. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ipassenger - 2009/05/27 17:25

Nothing... forgot my headphones. :(

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/28 09:12

ThinkTanx wrote:

ignatius wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

The Great Adventures Of Slick Rick

Gescom - 666017171821

Air- Talkie Walkie

That list is awesome! :laugh:

Btw-

new Nosaj Thing record 'Drifts' dropped today. So dope. Some of the most 'composed' beat-oriented music I've heard in a long, long time. Good to hear a dude who ain't afraid of a melody. :)

listened to some clips of it today. i have to agree w/your assessment. seems like a great record though sounds very "laptop" if that makes sense. not a criticism just a characterization. i was pleasantly surprised when i heard the clips because i was half expecting it to be very glitchmob mosh pit mash up type stuff.. even though i've seen noasjthing live and know that he has more to him than that. anyway.. form what i've eheard it's very carefully crafted w/some really nice programming and lot's of moods and dynamics.

I do think he's strictly digital, if that's what you mean. At least, compositionally (not sure about mixes and mastering). I know he's a big fan of the Nord Modular, and he uses Logic.

Did I say Logic, cause I meant Ableton. :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KSnjMhd52TQ>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/05/28 15:28

ThinkTanx wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

ignatius wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

The Great Adventures Of Slick Rick

Gescom - 666017171821

Air- Talkie Walkie

That list is awesome! :laugh:

Btw-

new Nosaj Thing record 'Drifts' dropped today. So dope. Some of the most 'composed' beat-oriented music I've heard in a long, long time. Good to hear a dude who ain't afraid of a melody. :)

listened to some clips of it today. i have to agree w/your assessment. seems like a great record though sounds very "laptop" if that makes sense. not a criticism just a characterization. i was pleasantly surprised when i heard the clips because i was half expecting it to be very glitchmob mosh pit mash up type stuff.. even though i've seen noasjthing live and know that he has more to him than that. anyway.. form what i've eheard it's very carefully crafted w/some really nice programming and lot's of moods and dynamics.

I do think he's strictly digital, if that's what you mean. At least, compositionally (not sure about mixes and mastering). I know he's a big fan of the Nord Modular, and he uses Logic.

Did I say Logic, cause I meant Ableton. :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KSnjMhd52TQ>

Heard an interview recently where he copped to using both...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/28 16:32

lameaim wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

ignatius wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

The Great Adventures Of Slick Rick
Gescom - 666017171821
Air- Talkie Walkie

That list is awesome! :laugh:

Btw-

new Nosaj Thing record 'Drifts' dropped today. So dope. Some of the most 'composed' beat-oriented music I've heard in a long, long time. Good to hear a dude who ain't afraid of a melody. :)

listened to some clips of it today. i have to agree w/your assessment. seems like a great record though sounds very "laptop" if that makes sense. not a criticism just a characterization. i was pleasantly surprised when i heard the clips because i was half expecting it to be very glitchmob mosh pit mash up type stuff.. even though i've seen noasjthing live and know that he has more to him than that. anyway.. form what i've eheard it's very carefully crafted w/some really nice programming and lot's of moods and dynamics.

I do think he's strictly digital, if that's what you mean. At least, compositionally (not sure about mixes and mastering). I know he's a big fan of the Nord Modular, and he uses Logic.

Did I say Logic, cause I meant Ableton. :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KSnjMhd52TQ>

Heard an interview recently where he copped to using both...

Yeah, I was just being a bit cheeky, thought somebody might be interested in the video and a tiny look at his studio. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reignbear - 2009/05/28 17:22

well thanks to this thread i've been listening to the new nosaj thing, can't wait to give it a few more times through.

also:

autechre - untitled
tempa - time to run EP
asonic garcia - senzu beans EP masta ace - born to roll cassette single (complete w/sextramental):blush:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/05/29 20:00

Finally got my copy of Junior Boys' 'Began dull care'.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/05/29 20:35

ThinkTanx wrote:

Yeah, I was just being a bit cheeky, thought somebody might be interested in the video and a tiny look at his studio. :)

I'm definitely one of them, I love seeing other gear setups. Gives me ideas on how to organize mine. Thanks for the link!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/05/29 20:52

eminor9 wrote:

Finally got my copy of Junior Boys' 'Began dull care'.

Nice huh?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/05/29 22:51

ThinkTanx wrote:

Light #1

def my fave ever since i heard that section on his live dublab set.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/05/29 23:13

jsrockit wrote:

eminor9 wrote:

Finally got my copy of Junior Boys' 'Began dull care'.

Nice huh?

Not groundbreaking ;) but I love the sonic character/minimal approach to their pieces. Started of a bit uneasy but getting more impressed towards the end. If I had the guts to do vocals this kind of music would definitely be my direction.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Jims computer beats - 2009/05/29 23:28

Weird Nightmare: Meditations on Mingus

I like the vibe of it a lot...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/05/29 23:46

nouns by no age ("brain burner" kills!)

wild life documentaries by deadbeat (especially now that i figured out my neighbors can't hear my sub!)

person pitch by panda bear (along with "my girls" and "summertime clothes" by animal collective)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reignbear - 2009/05/30 01:08

ThinkTanx wrote:
ignatius wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
The Great Adventures Of Slick Rick
Gescom - 666017171821
Air- Talkie Walkie

That list is awesome! :laugh:

Btw-

new Nosaj Thing record 'Drifts' dropped today. So dope. Some of the most 'composed' beat-oriented music I've heard in a long, long time. Good to hear a dude who ain't afraid of a melody. :)

listened to some clips of it today. i have to agree w/your assessment. seems like a great record though sounds very "laptop" if that makes sense. not a criticism just a characterization. i was pleasantly surprised when i heard the clips because i was half expecting it to be very glitchmob mosh pit mash up type stuff.. even though i've seen noasjthing live and know that he has more to him than that. anyway.. form what i've eheard it's very carefully crafted w/some really nice programming and lot's of moods and dynamics.

I do think he's strictly digital, if that's what you mean. At least, compositionally (not sure about mixes and mastering). I know he's a big fan of the Nord Modular, and he uses Logic.

Lameaim - I think my favorite right now is Light #1 or Caves. :)

not sure if he had it when he was recording the album or not, but i did see that he got a little phatty on his blog.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Jims computer beats - 2009/05/30 02:41

oh, and I just had a listen of samples of totems flare, by Clark... that will be good! ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/05/30 02:49

Too much good music these days. Love it. :)

xibalba wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
Light #1

def my fave ever since i heard that section on his live dublab set.

I'm really digging the laid back vibe of 'Us' right now. 'Coat of Arms' straight through 'Light #2' just kills! According to the man, Drift is #1 on Bleep right now. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/05/30 19:38

i'm listening to the pre-release Bibio tracks
<http://warprecords.com/bibio/Bibio-Ambivalence-Avenue-Album-Sampler.mp3>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/01 03:02

The new SND... a strange one. This has MD on it huh?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/06/01 12:18

Ive been grumpy recently so Ive been getting a daily fix of the commodores' machine gun to cheer me up.

Also been hitting some decent lyricists over the weekend...

Nick Cave, Syd Barret, Joy Division, Bonnie Prince and Belle and Sebastian

(^ May explain my mood :lol:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by birdy - 2009/06/01 16:15

antonelli- soul killer

i saw him perrforming with only a monomachine fascinating

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/01 20:48

tIB wrote:

Ive been grumpy recently so Ive been getting a daily fix of the commodores' machine gun to cheer me up.

Bonnie Prince

Nothing like a little will oldham to make you sadder... :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/06/01 21:14

^:lol: he's great but i just wish he'd cheer up so we could both get on with our lives...

he's like a destructive friendship; you know you shouldnt but every now and then you cave in thinking it might have got beyter, meet up and then wish you hadnt!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/01 22:00

I've met him in real life down in South Carolina and Georgia back in the 90s. He was touring the area and we saw him at the beach and at a bar. Weird guy in general.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/06/01 22:11

yeah he always seems pretty out there... i could never work out if his strangeness was part of his act but i guess not. i still think some of his earlier bonnie prince stuff is stunning even if a little wallowy (is that even a word?).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by earsmack - 2009/06/01 22:43

Today is an Album Leaf day for me...trying to ease into the week and get some stuff done!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/06/01 23:02

iPod's been reloaded for the work week.

Nosaj Thing - Drift
Band of Horses - "No One's Gonna Love You" Infamous OST (half of these are Amon Tobin tracks)
Grizzly Bear - Veckatimest
Yppah - They Know What Ghost Know
Lusine - "Two Dots"
Chessie - Manifest
EI-P - I'll Sleep When You're Dead Instrumentals

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/01 23:18

tIB wrote:

i still think some of his earlier bonnie prince stuff is stunning even if a little wallowy (is that even a word?).

I'm more of a fan of the Palace stuff myself... love it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/06/01 23:30

jsrockit wrote:

I'm more of a fan of the Palace stuff myself... love it.

Same here. Big fan of Palace Music. My two favs are: Lost Blues and Other Songs, and Days in the Wake.

Since I'm here, I suppose I'll check in...

Lee Morgan - Rumproller
Delorosa and Asora - Agony Pt. 1
Electro 4 - Keystroke One
Prefuse 73 - DJ set from MOMA
Superrappin - Comp

Epstein Y El Conjunto - Canto De Hermanos
Nosaj Thing - Drift
King Geedorah - Take me to your Leader
Can - Tago Mago
Kinks - The Kink Kontroversy

(thank gawd for 'Recently Played' in iTunes :))

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/02 00:11

actuel wrote:

My two favs are: Lost Blues and Other Songs, and Days in the Wake.

I have to agree. Though I like them all.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/02 00:58

yesterday and todays playlist:

prince jammys computerdub (while cleaning mother in-laws cellar)
a willie nelson CD (spending time with m-in-law) Atom-TM - Liedgut (while cooking) bruce haack - electric lucifer (still cooking) kpt michigan - 10 self modulating pieces while fasting (while eating) these arms are snakes, harkonin split CD while driving downtown this morning.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/02 02:48

Will Oldham thumbs up

He's a good friend of a good friend, though I've never met him myself. Heard some pretty crazy stories though. :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/06/02 02:54

quick update, today i have done Michna's 'Magic Monday' 3x's. the album just kills.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by majorleagues - 2009/06/07 19:03

Clark's 'Totem's Flare' is kicking around at the moment if you're prone to downloading. I haven't heard but if it's anything like 'Growls Garden' then it'll own.

Does anyone here like Donnacha Costello? I'm prety new to the Elektron church but I think I can hear a something familliar on 'Closing Circles', can anyone confirm?

<http://www.minimise.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/06/07 20:24

Jumping back to will oldham, which palace album is regarded as a standout? The only one I have is viva las blues... maybe I should hunt down the others.

Not actually checked any of his newer stuff either, I got turned off a bit around superwolf. Anyone heard any of his studio stuff since then?

Oh, and for this week Ill add vincent gallo's when/buffalo soundtrack.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jesQuick - 2009/06/07 23:43

Spinning the mp3 version of Burial / Four Tet - Moth / Wolf Cub 12".

Great stuff...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/08 02:04

tIB wrote:

Jumping back to will oldham, which palace album is regarded as a standout? The only one I have is viva las blues... maybe I should hunt down the others.

You have one of the greats, but any of the albums with Palace instead of Will Oldham are a safe bet. I would say the self titled (now called Days in the Wake) is his classic. It was critically acclaimed when it came out and got mainstream press. The funny thing is it is his most lo-fi album... just his voice, an acoustic guitar, great lyrics, mistakes and all.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/08 02:44

Last couple of days:

Nas - Illmatic and God's Son

Eazy E - Eazy-Duz-It

Mount Kimbie - Maybes

Nosaj Thing - Drifts (been listening to this almost constantly since it dropped...)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/06/08 04:07

My favorite solo Will Oldham is "I see a Darkness". so good. Otherwise, I'd hit iTunes or Amazon and just preview the Palace catalogue. They're all a bit different. 'Lost Blues & Other Songs' pretty much covers the gamut though.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/06/08 04:11

ThinkTanx wrote:

Nosaj Thing - Drifts (been listening to this almost constantly since it dropped...)

Wish I could say the same. There are a few stellar tracks but quite a few of them bore the shit out me. There's just something a little too formulaic about a few of them. Not that it's a bad record, but it's losing shelf-life for me already.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/06/08 04:13

actuel wrote:

My favorite solo Will Oldham is "I see a Darkness". so good.

agreed. "i see a darkness" is excellent. title track is very moving.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/08 05:02

actuel wrote:

My favorite solo Will Oldham is "I see a Darkness". so good.

True, but that was Bonnie "Prince" Billy! (only to confuse TIB more). :laugh: The Lost Blues one is all the 7" singles... and covers a lot of years, so actuel's right, that is a good starting point.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/08 05:06

papertiger wrote:

actuel wrote:

My favorite solo Will Oldham is "I see a Darkness". so good.

agreed. "i see a darkness" is excellent. title track is very moving.

That makes three of us. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/08 05:09

actuel wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Nosaj Thing - Drifts (been listening to this almost constantly since it dropped...)

Wish I could say the same. There are a few stellar tracks but quite a few of them bore the shit out me. There's just something a little too formulaic about a few of them. Not that it's a bad record, but it's losing shelf-life for me already.

Hmm... I'm quite the opposite. Great to me to hear someone actually writing some beat-oriented music with melodic and harmonic content in a day where so many are blatantly ripping the Dilla, FlyLo steez.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/08 05:16

Ah, Dilla used melody a lot... look at Donuts!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actual - 2009/06/08 05:18

indeed there are some nice cuts, but if you're looking for hip hop beats and melodies you needn't look too far. the Dilla, Flying Lotus biters are hot right now. i guess i just don't find Nasaj's stuff that original in the context of that comparison.

without being comparative and talking about 'beat biter dope style taker' (MC Lyte circa 1988) it's good on it's own. it's even refreshing amongst the current trend of instrumental beat music, but he's by no means traveling new lands. additionally, i'm surprised you mentioning him as not biting Flying Lotus, you can clearly hear he's been affected by that sound. adding a more notes and arpeggiations doesn't remove you from a trend and formula.

either way, it doesn't suck. again, i few cuts i completely ride for, but others just are tossers, FOR ME. glad you're digging it though. he has a promising future for sure.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/08 05:26

No, no, I wouldn't call it wildly original. It is different in the context of the scene out here though, 'refreshing' as you said. That said, he is part of the scene! I probably should have clarified that it was a bit of an insular point of view. :)

Btw - that might be my favorite hook ever! 'I tell you to your face you ain't nuttin but a faker' B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/08 05:52

jsrockit wrote:

Ah, Dilla used melody a lot... look at Donuts!

Oh yeah. I wasn't hating on Dilla or FlyLo at all! Shit, I'm huge fan of both. And they've both written some great melodies. It's more about the feel of it, ya know? Nasaj's shit is more of a 'composed' music, if that makes sense.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/08 06:26

Is the Nasaj Thing album only MP3? I would say Flylo bit JDilla as well... he just took it somewhere else along the way.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/08 06:29

I believe the vinyl and cd versions of Drift drop on Tuesday.

Have you heard FlyLo's old beats (July Heat, I believe the collection is called)??? Pretty much straight Dilla rip. None of the interesting flavor he's added now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/06/08 06:30

Sander Kleneinbergs Er'body mix.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/08 06:44

ThinkTanx wrote:

Have you heard FlyLo's old beats (July Heat, I believe the collection is called)??? Pretty much straight Dilla rip. None of the interesting flavor he's added now.

Nope, but I will now. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/08 06:48

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Have you heard FlyLo's old beats (July Heat, I believe the collection is called)??? Pretty much straight Dilla rip. None of the interesting flavor he's added now.

Nope, but I will now. :)

Yeah, you can download them. Just look around. They are just a bootleg, I believe.

Tbh, I had them, listened to them a bit and chucked them because they didn't interest me at the time and my hard drive was getting full. I may have to give them another go, myself. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/08 08:33

I downloaded them... thanks for the tip. By the way, Arise Therefore by Palace hasd drum machines TIB!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/06/08 18:58

Hehe I've been listening to a lot of Underworld lately... just got Second Toughest In The Infants through the post this morning.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/06/08 19:21

jsrockit wrote:

By the way, Arise Therefore by Palace hasd drum machines TIB!

Shit no way! Im all over that... though Im imagining sparklehorse with more vocal/yrical power (which isnt a bad thing).

Thanks for the suggestions, Ill try and get those in this week. Funny, while I agree that i see a darkness is bonnie's standout, Ive probably played master and everyone more- a less angry/despairing slice of melancholy.

mmmmm melancholy.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/06/08 19:37

Bola 'Gnaysy' - thanks Reignbear!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2009/06/08 19:43

futureimage wrote:

Hehe I've been listening to a lot of Underworld lately... just got Second Toughest In The Infants through the post this morning.

Great album. Ive got a live set of theirs on cassette from that era. Yeah the lager lager thing was a bit much but the way the drop euphoric chords is just superb.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/08 21:14

tIB wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

By the way, Arise Therefore by Palace hasd drum machines TIB!

Shit no way! Im all over that... though Im imagining sparklehorse with more vocal/yrical power (which isnt a bad thing).

Well, they are those preset 70s style machines... CR-78, CR-68 style.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/06/09 01:56

pole - 1-3

deadbeat - wild life documentaries (LOVE this album)

vladislav delay - anima, multila, and entain

basic channel - BCD

on album random

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/09 02:13

right this very moment i'm listening to : the modern lovers.

earlier today : byteone: death of a typograph saw byteone and alva noto Live in brooklyn on the weekend.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/09 02:29

Cibo Matto
Biz Markie
Nice and Smooth

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Jims computer beats - 2009/06/09 02:35

Cibo Matto is nice!

For me it's Wagon Christ - Studio Session.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/06/09 02:46

jsrockit wrote:
Nice and Smooth

"sometimes i rhyme slow" is still awesome. it gets stuck in my head sometimes, randomly.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/09 03:25

J Dilla - Jay Stay Paid

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2009/06/09 16:25

papertiger wrote:
pole - 1-3
deadbeat - wild life documentaries (LOVE this album)
vladislav delay - anima, multila, and entain
basic channel - BCD

on album random

I think Anima and especially Huone from Multila are amazing. Constantly listening to Vladislav Delay's stuff. I also like his Uusitalo albums very much.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/10 09:28

All Joker's stuff. My God that dude is awesome. Take some grime, add some West Coast G-Funk, and just a dash of dubstep. The new Tectonic Plate with FlyLo on the A-side, Joker on the B-side... not one of my favorites from FlyLo, but the Joker joint jams. And then 'Do It'... that track breaks necks. Not to mention his collabo with Rustie, 'Play Doe'. Put a big name rapper on some of this shit and it could dominate the charts. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/10 10:18

TT, are you buying all this on vinyl or MP3? Any full lengths by Joker?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/10 10:26

Nah, I'm straight digital. My turntable is broken (has been for a few years now! :blush:). One or two of his releases are strictly vinyl, so you have to get a bit 'creative', if you will. It's not normally something I advocate, but if it's a strictly vinyl release, a man's gotta do what a man's gotta do... :dry:

No full-lengths from Joker. His first release was a four-track EP, which is on iTunes, I believe. Everything since has been singles. Beatport has a decent collection of his stuff, as I recall. Bleep has some. Another great track of his is 'Digidesign', which came out on Hyperdub earlier this year and is quite easy to find. I would start with 'Digidesign', 'Do It', and the 'Play Doe' track with Rustie. The Tectonic Plate is rad if you can find it, and the 'Hollybrook Park' single and the Joker & Ginz release are tight, as well.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Ronin - 2009/06/10 12:57

On the techno tip...

Deuce (Marcel Detman + Shed) - Deuce EP on Ostgut Ton
OVR - Interior EP on Blueprint
Selected Eps on the Echospace label ... 313 respect Satellite Religion - From Within The Drone Tunnel on Statik Entertainment
both EPs on the Forward Strategy Group Label... Highly Recommended

Rougher Stuff
Surgeon - Hello Oslo EP on Counter Balance
Ancient Methods
Makaton
Oscar Mulero

Proem radio on Pandora - lot of nice IDM found in the genome

For the techno lovers on the list, check www.ds2shop.co.uk
Quality over quantity

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2009/06/10 16:46

Anyone here into When Horses Die by Thomas Brinkmann? It's quite a strange album but still really good! In general most of the Brinkmann stuff is nice i think and most of his releases have well thought concepts to them.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/12 08:56

Loving the new Black Moth Super Rainbow album...

also,

ediT
The Emperor Machine
Omid
Sigha
and Joker

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/12 14:25

How's the Joker hittin ya, Rockit? Some days it's a little too 'crunk' for me, if that makes sense. Kinda like ediT, which is too 'crunk' for me on most days! :)

If you like Joker, you should check Starkey, if you haven't! He's from Philly. Here he is on Mary Anne Hobbs' show on the BBC (all his own material, mostly from his 'Ephemeral Exhibits' full-length):

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2Dd8NgurHBM>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/12 20:56

The Joker stuffs ok so far, haven't got a chance to listen multiple times yet. By the way, I'm leaning towards actuel's thoughts on the Nosaj Thing album.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/13 02:59

jsrockit wrote:

By the way, I'm leaning towards actuel's thoughts on the Nosaj Thing album.

Kinda funny... I realized the next day that there are several tracks I had been skipping past without even really thinking about it, so I guess I'm not that far off his line of thinking either! :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/13 07:15

I like about three songs...very disappointed. Luckily, I've been surprised by some impulse buys lately, so not all is lost.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reignbear - 2009/06/13 08:07

yeah, the flying lotus thing is kinda funny. i like his music a lot, don't get me wrong, but it's all extremely derivative of dilla. which is ironic because there IS a lot of that going around lately and it seems(at least from his song titles and myspace page) that flyLO is getting annoyed at all the people "biting" his style when in my eyes they are all just coming from dilla, especially donuts...i mean i love dilla and i like most of the "post-dilla" music that's coming out. i just find it funny when someone who owes so much to one artist gets worked up about people making music similar to his...

anyway this week lots of analog and classic IDM goodies.

guineo - toss tones ep (push button objects alias, when is this dude gonna put out more stuff!)

Para One - Naissance des Pieuvres OST

Delia Gonzalez and Gavin Russom - The days of Mars

Push Button Objects - Cash EP

Elliot Lipp - Peace Love Weed 3D

flying Lotus - LA

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2009/06/16 06:20

lot's of synth oldies, bruce haack, hugo montenegro...

and Blindoldfreak.

I really think it's a way of the future music ..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/06/17 03:01

since im playing guitar most of the time ive been listening to a lot of "actual bands"

blood brothers - march on electric children fall of troy - various darkest hour - mostly older albums

FATA - 1st full length

Slapshot

The Bronx - 1st self titled

The Hope Conspiracy

No warning etc.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/17 03:18

i like both above and a little coincidental as was just listening to bruce haack yesterday and playing fall of troy "doppleganger" recently too.
though i put on the theses arms are snakes/harkonen split on after it and i still think it is an all time great post hardcore record.

long live the spirit of bruce haack.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/06/17 04:55

the voices in my head

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/06/17 04:59

papertiger wrote:
the voices in my head

Boring! :D

"if the APC just cuddled better, selling MD, Ryan's an asshole, Mark has nice buns, I think it's fine that I dream of hamburgers..."

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/06/18 09:14

i hope me and Papertiger's playful banter didn't scare you guys away.

last few days:

- Roberto Lange aka Epstein aka 1/3 Savath Savalas - intonations (forthcoming Asthmatic Kitty release) > mind blowing
 - Madvillian - Madvilliany
 - Simply Saucer - Cyborgs Revisted
 - Harmonia - both Ips
 - Nosaj Thing - still in rotation. good work music
 - UFO - Ufo 1
 - Eric Burdon & the Animals - ?
- =====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/18 09:19

actuel wrote:

- Roberto Lange aka Epstein aka 1/3 Savath Savalas - intonations (forthcoming Asthmatic Kitty release) > mind blowing[/quote]

Hmmm...sounds interesting.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/18 09:23

actuel wrote:

i hope me and Papertiger's playful banter didn't scare you guys away.

:unsure:

:P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/06/18 09:25

yay, ya'll is back. so what the fook have you guys been listening too?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/18 09:26

I put together a 90's R&B/Rap playlist for last weekend that I've been rockin. Everything from 2Pac and Biggie to Janet and SWV to Arrested Development and Neneh Cherry! :laugh: :blush:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/06/18 09:29

Dude, I had it bad for SWV when I was younger. I mean, like wank material. LOL

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/18 09:31

actuel wrote:

Dude, I had it bad for SWV when I was younger. I mean, like wank material. LOL

:laugh:

Every time I've listened to this playlist, I end up humming 'Right Here' all day. That shit sticks with me for whatever reason.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/18 09:44

The original Madvillain that was "leaked into cyberspace" on cassette.

Why?

Hud Mo - Ooops! (hate it)

A bunch of Joker

Rage Against the Machine

Tectonic Plates Vol. 2

Autechre - Chiastic Slide

Black Moth Super Rainbow - Eating Us

Talib Kweli and Madlib - Liberation

Omid - Monolith

Sean Lennon - Into the Sun

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by earsmack - 2009/06/18 11:39

Other than the sound of beer going down my throat...

I've just picked up Plume by Loscil this evening.

Excellent ambient with just a tad of glitch - really nice!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/06/18 22:58

lately,

cocteau twins - stars and topsoil (comp)

deadbeat - wildlife documentaries

some lush albums

sixousie and the banshees best of

today,

everything i own by aphex, dumped into a playlist on random (poygon window, AFX, etc.)

on the train,

songs for my own new songs

actuel was right -- the voices WERE boring. even to me. (malkovich malkovich? malkovich malovich, malkovich.) :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/06/18 23:04

all Hardcore Punk still

Nothing Personal (VBHC all stars)
xlooking forwardx
Ten Yard Fight
Betrayed
Cutback (another local HXC band)
The Comeback Kid
Shockwave (HXC with a transformers twist haha)
Bad Brains
Tenfold

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately
Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/18 23:53

ahh,, bad brains, i got to seem live back in the day.

at the moment i am listening to Alva Noto:xerrox vol2 and Kangding Ray:automne fold no hardcore today.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately
Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/19 00:00

oh and yesterday was a bit of a no wave fest in the basement while tidying up.

teenage jesus and the jerks
DNA
suicide

then to lighten things up at the end of the day, i had a beer and blasted some Prince Jammy computerized DUBS))))))

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately
Posted by LIVESEQ - 2009/06/19 00:15

three trapped tigers (proper tunes like squarepusher bred with dub trio pushed through a liverometer)

cobblestone jazz

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately
Posted by xibalba - 2009/06/19 01:55

dolfazoid wrote:

ahh,, bad brains, i got to seem live back in the day.

at the moment i am listening to Alva Noto:xerrox vol2 and Kangding Ray:automne fold

no hardcore today.

ah lucky!!

we covered Right Brigade at our show (1st show) last thursday. hopefully ill have video of it soon. haha

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/19 02:53

hey XIBALBA, i'm in the process of doing husker du's song powerlines on my monomachine.
one day i want to do an album of oldschoool HC and post HC on just the MnM.

a bad brains tune will definitely be included, maybe "sailing on".

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2009/06/19 07:07

I listened to about 3 hours of Led Zeppelin on the weekend. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/19 07:24

i have tried, i have really, really tried But, i just can't seem to stomach zeppelin ?

It's like zappa, some kind of genius at work but it just doesn't speak to me. maybe it's the flamboyance that just makes me wanna chew off my own arm? or my simpleton nature :silly: that wants to bang two sticks together and drool.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/19 09:00

I can hang with some Zeppelin... it's funny, I grew up in the suburbs and the big classic bands were Led Zep, Pink Floyd, and Black Sabbath. At that time (teen years) my favorites in order would be Black Sabbath, Led Zep, and then a very distant last would be Pink Floyd. I hated Pink Floyd. Now the order is Pink Floyd, Black Sabbath, and then Led Zep. Over the years, I've lost my taste for Led Zep and gained a huge amount of respect for Pink Floyd.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by koshimazaki - 2009/06/19 09:22

I had a blast recently with Burnt Friedman - First Night Forever, enjoy Andreas Tilliander - Show on the bike. Slightly disappointed with Moderat.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/19 09:26

ha, yeah i think this is why i sorta can't do zep. i grew up in the burbs too and all the tough guys were into ac/dc, zep, etc.
i was into skateboarding and devo. i was often chased by cars blaring the mucho tunes of hard rock. funny how a few years later i would be heavily into HC punk and have a soft spot for sabbath.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/19 10:17

Ah, I've always been an AC / DC fan... Back in Black was the first album I ever bought. Even through my hardcore punk, speed metal, rap, indie rock fazes, I could admit to liking AC / DC. Sleezy, but good.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2009/06/19 10:39

I grew up with Zeppelin, and was always impressed with their rhythm section. Bonham and Jones could really groove and that's what set the band apart from a lot of the "white" sounding rock of the time for me. I learned their entire catalogue on guitar as a kid and listened to them quite a bit. These days I might listen to Zeppelin once a year, if that. When I do I can't help but be impressed by the real air being pushed around... it actually makes me feel down about the itb bleeps and bleeps I create.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/06/19 23:06

dolfazoid wrote:

hey XIBALBA, i'm in the process of doing husker du's song powerlines on my monomachine.
one day i want to do an album of oldschoool HC and post HC on just the MnM.

a bad brains tune will definitely be included, maybe "sailing on".

haha ive always though about sampling indie, hc, post, metalcore etc. music. and making an insturmental album outta it.

if you do go through with that let me know am interested to hear that.

right now

Dillinger Escape Plan
The Haunted - Self titled Casey Jones
Strike Anywhere
Movielife

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/19 23:22

I think Joker bit Manny Fresh. ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/20 05:47

jsrockit wrote:

I think Joker bit Manny Fresh. ;)

:laugh: I like that take on it. It's definitely got some crunk to it.

I think Rustie is probably even better. And I'm really liking some Starkey these days too.

Rockit, look for Rustie's track 'Zig Zag'. I think it's the track for this kind of hip-hop/dubstep hybrid music.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bradleyallen - 2009/06/20 07:53

I've been listening to quite a lot of demos of various Serge modular systems. Interesting stuff, to the point where I recently ordered a two panel system. I'm not so into patch storage, and midi even less so. Finally, an instrument for me. :)

Yesterday I walked through Golden Gate Park listening to Cabaret Voltaire's 'The Covenant, The Sword And The Arm Of The Lord'. Brought back fond memories.

Tonight I'm going to see PJ Harvey & John Parish play at the Warfield in SF. Eric Drew Feldman is playing bass guitar on this tour.

I like - no, I love - every Vanda & Young produced AC/DC album. In other words, everything before 'Highway to Hell'.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bradleyallen - 2009/06/20 22:39

Redacted.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by stylinghead - 2009/06/21 01:01

leoparden " matsi " from his awesome free album " oneone ". pretty sure elektron gear is involved somehow. rest of the album is good listnin' too.
<http://www.myspace.com/leopardish>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/21 01:10

ThinkTanx wrote:

Rockit, look for Rustie's track 'Zig Zag'. I think it's the track for this kind of hip-hop/dubstep hybrid music.

I've heard that track. My fave is Play Doe by Joker and Rustie.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/21 06:24

jsrockit wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Rockit, look for Rustie's track 'Zig Zag'. I think it's the track for this kind of hip-hop/dubstep hybrid music.

I've heard that track. My fave is Play Doe by Joker and Rustie.

Yeah, that track is sick, too. :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2009/06/22 18:59

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jAFh3aAlHdE&feature=player_embedded

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by stylinghead - 2009/06/23 00:10

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=z659GHL20zA>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/23 00:33

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ogGWyGPpTsk>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/06/23 00:33

Haircut 100!!!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2009/06/23 00:57

Moritz Von Oswald Trio: Vertical Ascent
Tortoise: Beacons Of Ancestorship

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/23 02:59

I'm likin this Youtube link thing... get right to it. :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aZj-jhTcTRo>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/06/23 03:00

ThinkTanx wrote:

I'm likin this Youtube link thing... get right to it. :)

you do know we have an entire thread dedicated to youtube videos, right? :P

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GeneralBigBag - 2009/06/23 03:10

Heks wrote:

Moritz Von Oswald Trio: Vertical Ascent

Where'd you find a copy of that - I thought it wasn't out yet?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/23 03:11

papertiger wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

I'm likin this Youtube link thing... get right to it. :)

you do know we have an entire thread dedicated to youtube videos, right? :P

I didn't start it, just fallin in line... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2009/06/23 03:46

GeneralBigBag wrote:

Heks wrote:

Moritz Von Oswald Trio: Vertical Ascent

Where'd you find a copy of that - I thought it wasn't out yet?

I only got the mp3 version, but you can order the vinyl / cd release at honest jon's:

<http://www.honestjons.com/shop.php?pid=34157&CatID=124>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nuts - 2009/06/23 04:11

roots manuva & mudhoney day, today.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GeneralBigBag - 2009/06/23 05:30

Heks wrote:

GeneralBigBag wrote:

Heks wrote:

Moritz Von Oswald Trio: Vertical Ascent

Where'd you find a copy of that - I thought it wasn't out yet?

I only got the mp3 version, but you can order the vinyl / cd release at honest jon's:

<http://www.honestjons.com/shop.php?pid=34157&CatID=124>

Sweet! Thanks!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/06/23 06:10

tom waits : raindogs and swordfishtrombone.
code9 and spaceape
boxcutter theoretical girls primitive calculators
DNA
chet baker lets get lost

well i was lost this morning. down in the cellar trying to make sense of years of stuff!! aarrgh.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bradleyallen - 2009/06/23 11:55

Redacted.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2009/06/24 20:58

After having a long break in "rock" stuff i have recently been listening to:

Grails: Doomsdayer's Holiday & Take Refuge In Clean Living Sunn O))) : Monoliths & Dimensions

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/06/24 21:07

ThinkTanx wrote:

I'm likin this Youtube link thing... get right to it. :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aZj-jhTcTRo>

hefty bags full of caaaash, cars full of aaasssss

That just got me some looks at work, thanks.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/06/24 22:37

Been diggin' in my vinyl collection lately:

Severed Heads - 'Dead Eyes Opened' - youtube video posted by the artist himself - isn't that cool ?

This vinyl (preferably played at lower speed - abt -10%) remains one of the most hypnotic electroic tracks ever made in my book. Incredible layering of instruments + addictive arp.
Sometimes I wish it'd never end.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/25 01:37

lameaim wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

I'm likin this Youtube link thing... get right to it. :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aZj-jhTcTRo>

hefty bags full of caaaash, cars full of aaasssss

That just got me some looks at work, thanks.

:laugh: Sorry bout that...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/25 02:28

Starkey - Ephemeral Exhibits

Jamie Vex'd - In System Travel

Clark - Totems Flare

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/06/25 03:11

ThinkTanx wrote:

Starkey - Ephemeral Exhibits

:)

Forgot to get this, thanks for the reminder.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/06/25 21:07

ThinkTanx wrote:

lameaim wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

I'm likin this Youtube link thing... get right to it. :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aZj-jhTcTRo>

hefty bags full of caaaash, cars full of aaasssss

That just got me some looks at work, thanks.

:laugh: Sorry bout that...

eh it's my own fault. Had headphones on but I always sing that line when I hear that song. That album is still the shit.

Copped Bibio's Ambivalence Avenue today, looking forward to breaking it in.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/06/26 06:45

lameaim wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

lameaim wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

I'm likin this Youtube link thing... get right to it. :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aZj-jhTcTRo>

hefty bags full of caaaash, cars full of aaasssss

That just got me some looks at work, thanks.

:laugh: Sorry bout that...

eh it's my own fault. Had headphones on but I always sing that line when I hear that song. That album is still the shit.

Yep. Still probably my favorite hip-hop album of the last five years or so. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reignbear - 2009/06/26 07:12

lameaim wrote:

Copped Bibio's Ambivalence Avenue today, looking forward to breaking it in.

just downloaded that yesterday for the long drive home, great album.

while driving around long beach looking for apartments and then driving back home to wrap stuff up and pack my soundtrack was:

dilla - donuts

exile - radio

bibio - ambivillence avenue

all good summer time driving albums.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/07/01 22:24

Waking Life soundtrack

Pan-American

bibio

John Frusciante

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/07/08 04:54

Soundmurderer -Wired For Sound
The Flaming Lips - Yoshimi Battles The Pink Robots
Dangerdoom

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/07/08 05:16

Clark - Totems Flare (so, so sick... love it) mÃ¸m - various albums
a playlist I made of Neptunes productions

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2009/07/09 17:12

The Best Of Smooth Jazz

50% super cheese
50% stone cold classics

:woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/07/10 03:46

Simple Minds - Sons & Fascination

Fking KILLER!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/07/10 06:45

Been alternating between the recent Bibio and Deastro releases in the whip. Good times.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2009/07/13 21:43

futureimage wrote:
Simple Minds - Sons & Fascination

Fking KILLER!!!

OMG - never expected to see that here! Yeah, I can still do this stuff for sure... tho it's partly tied to the night I had seeing them on that tour in a small club with about 100 people.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2009/07/13 21:52

Late to the party, but I've been digging Fever Ray this weekend. I thought the non-pitched vox might be cringe-worthy for a minute, but the beautiful retro songs sucked me in and ultimately I kind of dig her voice now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/07/13 22:34

futureimage wrote:
Simple Minds - Sons & Fascination

Fking KILLER!!!

'Themes for great citiies' is one of those killer atmospheric tracks that sucked me to instrumental music.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/07/14 08:41

bibio - vignetting the compost
Tortoise - Beacons of Ancestorship
Black Dice - Repo
Wilco - the album

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/07/14 09:42

GRIZZZLY BEAR!

Hudson Mohawke

MaxÃ~mo Park

Born Ruffians

and other various stuff on warp. PS anyone buy the box set? I hope you do.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/07/14 09:42

GRIZZZLY BEAR!

Hudson Mohawke

Maxïmo Park

Born Ruffians

and other various stuff on warp. PS anyone buy the box set? I hope you do.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/07/14 10:17

POLE 1 2 3 re-release. i have had 3 for years But only got the 3 CD collection last year. they're remastered too.

i really can listen to this stuff for hours. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/07/14 10:36

I seem to be veering towards more traditional song structures with vocals lately (I think Clark's new one started me down this old path a bit...), so I went out and got...

Bibio - Ambivalence Avenue
Fever Ray - s/t

...based on you guys' recommendations. I'm definitely liking Bibio. Haven't really tapped into Fever Ray yet.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/07/14 10:37

bibio's album is good but the over-hype kind of made me expect more.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/07/14 10:45

I don't pay much attention to the typical hype channels. I just saw that some people on here were listening to it. I like the variation in form combined with the similitude in sound and atmosphere. Can't say if it will stick yet...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/07/14 21:46

nljdj wrote:

bibio's album is good but the over-hype kind of made me expect more.....

I love it and feel that the hype was warranted...especially vs. his other albums. Man, he does a great "family affair" rip, a nice dilla rip, etc. :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bigus - 2009/07/19 06:32

couple of new(ish) warp releases

Grizzly Bear B)

Biblio

Harmonic 313 :woohoo:

and

Moderat

Bat For Lashes

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by soundklinik - 2009/07/19 06:46

I really like WIRE and Gilbert/Lewis, He Said (Omala), Dome, Duet Emmo....WIR... fantastic stuff, probably my all time favorite "group"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2009/07/21 13:13

I have been listening to some of the free stuff Deru put out there

<http://musicstore.deru.la/>
(there are free downloads there) also esem's free stuff he released is also quite good.

<http://dot.cult.bg/esem/scateren/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by hyphen - 2009/07/21 14:44

jsrockit wrote:

biblio - vignetting the compost
Tortoise - Beacons of Ancestorship
Black Dice - Repo
Wilco - the album

It's funny, I seemed to have rediscovered my Toroise love randomly over the last month or two...then I find out they have a new release....gotta check that out...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/07/21 21:10

hyphen wrote:

It's funny, I seemed to have rediscovered my Toroise love randomly over the last month or two...then I find out they have a new release....gotta check that out...

Still, nothing compares to the first two albums in my opinion.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by deladonics - 2009/07/21 22:19

I don't when this came out or how I got the whole album on my computer, but I came across Gang Gang Dance's "Saint Dymphna" while shuffling through my music library. It's pretty sweet! I had it on repeat last night while I typed an Astronomy paper about asteroids crashing into the Earth.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/07/27 11:24

In Rainbows - Radiohead.
:lvl:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2009/07/27 20:03

Been a good weekend for music. Did live sound for these people. "Something beginning with L" They make some beautiful sound with MD in use.

Also if you like dub "Sideshow" Very very good.

Finally my friends "the future kings of england" have an album out today. If you listen to classic prog rock and psychedelia then these guys do just that very well.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/07/28 13:34

Nadsroic - Room Mist EP
Clark - Totems Flare (still stuck on this...)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by scifisol - 2009/07/29 08:19

i just found out about papertiger on this forum so i've been listening to that. and it's awesome!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/07/30 09:11

scifisol wrote:
i just found out about papertiger on this forum so i've been listening to that. and it's awesome!

:blush:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/07/30 09:25

lol

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/07/30 09:29

papertiger wrote:

scifisol wrote:

i just found out about papertiger on this forum so i've been listening to that. and it's awesome!

:blush:

For God's sake... Don't feed the monster!!! :P

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/07/30 09:46

the Birds - 5th dimension tortoise - it's all around you eero johannes - self titled warren suicide - requiem for a missing link

Pole - 1 2 and 3

husker du - zed arcade

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2009/07/30 09:47

oops, i mean Zen Arcade

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2009/07/30 19:29

CLARO INTELECTO

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/08/03 11:27

"Haru - original mix" from "Cendre", tune made by Fennesz and Ryuichi Sakamoto.

there is a background sound that is amazing;

the atmosphere is a kind of international beauty .. i cannot describe .. i have listened Haru for a few months now, and today realized just how much this tune is right on.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2009/08/04 00:06

wagawaga - full discograhly medeski martin & wood - john zorn book of angels.volume 11 zaebos (2008 tzadik) and lots of dorian concept

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/08/04 00:56

Cocteau Twins - Head Over Heels

perfection.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/08/04 02:09

All live this weekend...

Jay-Z
The Cool Kids
Flying Lotus
Kool Keith

All were great... Jay-Z blew me away and I'm not mainstream hip-hop guy at all.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/08/04 17:30

jsrockit wrote:
All live this weekend...

Jay-Z
The Cool Kids
Flying Lotus
Kool Keith

All were great... Jay-Z blew me away and I'm not mainstream hip-hop guy at all.

How was Flying Lotus?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by amenbrother - 2009/08/04 17:41

Neil Young - Harvest

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/08/04 21:14

lameaim wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
All live this weekend...

Jay-Z
The Cool Kids
Flying Lotus
Kool Keith

All were great... Jay-Z blew me away and I'm not mainstream hip-hop guy at all.

How was Flying Lotus?

Really good... started off playing his own stuff, then went into playing all kinds of other stuff from Radiohead to Drum and Bass etc. Very loud and bass heavy...all from a laptop. The speakers on stage were moving off their stands and almost falling.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2009/08/04 22:40

cool! i'll get to see Flying Lotus for the first time in two weeks!

i have mainly been listening to the moritz von oswald trio album (still). will most likely be my favorite of 2009!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/08/05 06:28

Seen FlyLo many, many times in LA-LA Land (and once at Mutek in Montreal...) and he brings it hard every time.

Funny JS, me and a buddy were just discussing seeing Jay-Z last Saturday night. He has... I haven't but want to. He said it was one of the better shows he's ever seen, particularly when it comes to bigger shows. I'm hoping he does a tour behind the new Blueprint. :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/08/05 11:08

Gaslamp Killer - My Troubled Mind EP
Rolling Stones - Anthology
John McLaughlin - Extrapolation
Organized Konfusion - Stress / Demos
Roberto Lange - (forthcoming)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/08/05 11:28

ThinkTanx wrote:

Funny JS, me and a buddy were just discussing seeing Jay-Z last Saturday night. He has... I haven't but want to. He said it was one of the better shows he's ever seen, particularly when it comes to bigger shows. I'm hoping he does a tour behind the new Blueprint. :)

I was shocked... completely. One of the best shows I've ever seen.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/08/05 11:29

actuel wrote:

Gaslamp Killer - My Troubled Mind EP

How is it?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/08/05 12:09

Mount Kimbie - Sketch On Glass EP

These cats are just way, way off the chain. Really need a full-length. If you don't have their first EP 'Maybes', it's absolutely killer too.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by amenbrother - 2009/08/06 03:23

Mash dem down (Give me a dubplate)-Rude & deadly

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/08/06 04:01

Let's see...

DJ Spinna - Sonic Smash (just what my car needed)

EI-P - Fantastic Damage / I'll Sleep When You're Dead (personal favorites, just too ill)

Also been working through Mew's discography. Amazing stuff, really.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by makko - 2009/08/14 20:47

Britney Spears - Toxic (16 Bit Remix)

this one is so nice... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rooob - 2009/08/14 21:18

Michna - Magic monday

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/08/14 22:10

Been listening to Bucketheads' solo albums this past week due to the recent (or at least recent for me) rumors that Gibson is going to release a Signature Les Paul based on his All whited out Les Paul drool

oh and RIP Les Paul :(

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/08/14 22:43

Company Flow - Little Johnny From the Hospital

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2009/08/14 23:13

Burnt Friedman / Jaki Liebezeit - Secret Rythms 3

Was amazed by siound & production (again), then looked at the credits 'Mastered by Rashad Becker at Dubplates'. Welcome to sonic heaven.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/08/14 23:38

ben klock - one

i think this album's appeal could reach far beyond the techno crowd.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by therk - 2009/08/15 05:40

brock van wey - white clouds drift on and on (intrusion interpretation)

a whole cd full of dubby goodness :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mr. Sound Boy King - 2009/08/15 11:27

"Goldfarb + Masterbathos" by Rokhausen. Completely nutty speedcore food joke shit. I love it + can't stop listening to it.

Amazing stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mr. Sound Boy King - 2009/08/16 12:03

Also: we got any Supersilent fans here? I know one of the dudes uses some Elektron stuff. If you haven't heard 'em, check 'em out --- Swedish electro-acoustic free-improv bash-outs in their early material + then bizarre electro-post-rock freak shit in their newer stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2009/08/18 22:50

ra 168 peter van hoesen.

Can't put my finger on why I like it so much. Think it's the rawness. Lots of groove also.

strange I used to detest uk garage grooves but with subtle soundscapes I love it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by makko - 2009/08/19 21:12

Math Head - Get Hype :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/08/20 23:30

Tectonic Plates Vol. 2 - wow, slept on this...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by makko - 2009/08/21 01:19

Nero - Night Thunder

jsrockit wrote:

Tectonic Plates Vol. 2 - wow, slept on this...

yeah thats a nice one! In the second part Pinch mixed this track; "Omen - Organ Grinder".. man! I can't wait till that one gets released :ohmy:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2009/08/21 01:50

makko wrote:

Nero - Night Thunder

jsrockit wrote:

Tectonic Plates Vol. 2 - wow, slept on this...

yeah thats a nice one! In the second part Pinch mixed this track; "Omen - Organ Grinder".. man! I can't wait till that one gets released :ohmy:

Pinch is a superb dj. Caught his opening set at bloc and it was the best of the weekend. Gonna have to get a copy of this. Such a great list of producers on one cd.

thanks for the heads up.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/08/27 03:15

Art of Noise
Sonic Youth
My Bloody Valentine
Asobi Seksu
Nels Cline
Boards of Canada
Flying Lotus
Radiohead
New Order
Pixies
Animal Collective

... been listenin to more guitars than beats lately... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/08/27 03:58

Burial
James Brown
Jay Dee
BOC - Twoism
Bibio - (I can't get enough of that new album)
Flaming Lips

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/08/27 04:18

Mr. Sound Boy King wrote:

Also: we got any Supersilent fans here? I know one of the dudes uses some Elektron stuff. If you haven't heard 'em, check 'em out --- Swedish electro-acoustic free-improv bash-outs in their early material + then bizarre electro-post-rock freak shit in their newer stuff.

quite a supersilent fan. also, basically anything arve henriksen plays on.

check out arve henriksen - cartography: not so noisy as delicate and beautiful.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2009/08/27 06:39

jsrocket wrote:
Burial
James Brown

quite the combo there :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrocket - 2009/08/27 09:10

Liking this album...

John Robinson - Who Is This Man? (Produced by MF Doom)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2009/08/27 09:46

Listening to kompakt 10, always so excited when a total comes out - still love this label

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by stiiiiive - 2009/08/27 18:02

I throw my currently listened not-that-electro albums:

QueenAdreena, Butcher and the Butterfly,
Radiohead, Hail to the thief,
BÅ tni on her virb,
General Eleciks, Good city for dreamers.

That french guy really rocks live, look for videos of "Tu m'intrigues", "Take back the instant" and "Raid the radio" for example !

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2009/08/28 00:15

Today I am mostly loving John Selway and Vincenzo Ragone's track Dream Stealer - nice, dark and minimal.

A

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/08/29 23:08

Human Action Network.

Young buck that can program the 303 better than anyone on the planet. Best leads on that beast.

Kind of reminds me of analord, but none the less really good.

Check out a track called "Doom Bells" : Killer.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nljdj - 2009/08/29 23:13

Oh yeah, cant forget Stan Getz & Charlie Byrd on Jazz Samba...

Sick.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/09/09 16:29

<http://img6.imageshack.us/img6/15/coveriw.jpg>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/09/10 21:23

Takako Minekawa - Fun 9

Lily Allen - Alright, Still...

Junior Boys - so this is goodbye and begone dull care

The Police

Sun Volt

David Bowie

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/09/11 05:54

jsrockit wrote:

Liking this album...

John Robinson - Who Is This Man? (Produced by MF Doom)

Digging this as well.

Also in rotation:

Bullion - Young Heartache EP

Raekwon - Only Built 4 Cuban Linx II

Washed Out - Life of Leisure EP

DJ Signify - Of Cities

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/09/11 08:51

lameaim wrote:

Raekwon - Only Built 4 Cuban Linx II
DJ Signify - Of Cities

How are these two compared to what they've done in the past?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/09/14 13:49

jsrockit wrote:
lameaim wrote:

Raekwon - Only Built 4 Cuban Linx II
DJ Signify - Of Cities

How are these two compared to what they've done in the past?

I half-expected Raekwon to throw out some garbage after all of the delays on this record, but it is surprisingly good, even great in spots. Definitely worth $10 to me. Ghostface can still black out on a verse, every Wu fan needs to listen to "10 Bricks". It'll live in the car for a while I'm sure.

As for Of Cities, I like it as much as I liked Sleep No More but for different reasons. Of Cities feels like a more focused/complete record to me... it manages to be emotional but not overtly moody, which is a small issue I have with some parts of Sleep No More. Probably because Of Cities is a good 15-20 minutes shorter and only has two vocal tracks (both Aesop Rock appearances). If you've liked any previous Signify releases, you'll like this one...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/09/15 02:22

Dorian concept
arovane - lilies

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/09/15 14:33

kirlian wrote:
Dorian concept

Yes.

The Smiths - s/t, The Queen is Dead, Meat Is Murder
Blonde Redhead - Melody of Certain Damaged Lemons
Talking Heads - Remain In Light

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/09/15 15:38

ThinkTanx wrote:
Talking Heads - Remain In Light
Yes please!!! :cheer:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/09/15 21:16

Eazy-E - Eazy-Duz-It
Kahimi Karie - e larme de crocodile
Mayer Hawthorne - A Strange Arrangement (so damn good)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/09/16 02:29

futureimage wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
Talking Heads - Remain In Light
Yes please!!! :cheer:

Here you are sir...

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SVIKF03KkVM>

Bands don't get any badder than that. :game:

Tina Weymouth... :kiss:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Roecker - 2009/09/16 03:03

schneider tm - the light 3000!!!! Love it!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/09/16 03:43

jsrockit wrote:

Mayer Hawthorne - A Strange Arrangement (so damn good)

damn! that's a lot of sexiness for a midday listen.

might have to get a bottle of red and call a friend...

B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/09/16 04:32

ThinkTanx wrote:
futureimage wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
Talking Heads - Remain In Light
Yes please!!! :cheer:
Here you are sir...

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SVIKF03KkVM>

Bands don't get any badder than that. :game:

Tina Weymouth... :kiss:

:cheer: I've seen that Rome footage before, it's brilliant. Stop Making Sense is a brilliant band film too.

Haha Tina Weymouth yes. ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/09/16 06:15

kirlian wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Mayer Hawthorne - A Strange Arrangement (so damn good)

damn! that's a lot of sexiness for a midday listen.

might have to get a bottle of red and call a friend...

B)

Haha, I've been listening to it non-stop since it came out no matter what time of day.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/09/16 06:54

onra - 1.0.8

this is fitting right in with the dorian concept and jaime vexd kick i've been on.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/09/16 07:00

kirlian wrote:

onra - 1.0.8

this is fitting right in with the dorian concept and jaime vexd kick i've been on.

be sure to listen to the chinoserries release too if you haven't already...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/09/17 05:17

yes i have, and it's bomb

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/09/20 04:58

dalís car - the waking hour | members of bauhaus and japan. essential.

i was lucky enough to get a copy of this in sixth grade...!!

i always knew i loved it, but it really has started to make more sense to me lately.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2009/09/20 10:48

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zxNEPqaW8_o&feature=player_embedded track of the year by far!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Oivest - 2009/09/20 17:17

Best of the Gipsy Kings

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/09/20 21:48

Simple Minds:

-Empires & Dance

-Sons & Fascination

-Sister Feeling Call

^All brilliant albums. Too bad they had to go so commercial :(

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/09/23 12:39

Nightbird - Paronator mix

Mist of Dreams - Adani&Wolf

Harvest - Climatic

Collective Thought - Rhenalt

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/09/24 12:44

Gold Panda - "Quitter's Raga" is on loop right now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2009/09/25 03:34

Having heard Goldfrapp's "Felt Mountain" and "Black Cherry" some ten times this week, and out of nowhere Smashing Pumpkin's "Adore" (such a good album). first time in a year I've put away the tons of fantastic music I've found on forums like these, myspace, soundcloud, youtube etc. for the old favourites :)

-Twin Peaks soundtrack.. so cheezy, but oh so lovely

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/09/25 03:40

I hear you man, I've been listening to mostly classic shit the last several weeks. It wasn't a conscious decision, but I guess I was just getting burned out on searching for hot new music...

The Smiths
Nick Drake
Radiohead
The Beatles
My Bloody Valentine
Sonic Youth
older Warp stuff (BoC, Aphex, etc.)

etc., etc., etc.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/09/25 03:52

right into this 12" Posthuman - Monsters And Vortices EP (b12 records)

freebies can be found over at <http://www.posthumanmusic.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2009/09/25 17:52

Its funny I was just listing to Posthuman when I saw this post
I'm a big fan of theirs, amazing drum programming

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/09/25 22:43

state of bengal - skip-lj :ohmy:

sick sick sick

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/09/25 23:18

Stuck on Skream and Mayer Hawthorne ...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/09/26 02:13

Warp 20 boxed set :D

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Oivest - 2009/09/26 08:29

kirlian wrote:

check out arve henriksen - cartography: not so noisy as delicate and beautiful.

I was checking out a couple of his albums. As a trumpet player, I'm VERY grateful that you posted this. Inspirational to say the least.... and that tone! Wow :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2009/09/26 09:51

TrondC wrote:

Twin Peaks soundtrack.. so cheezy, but oh so lovely get the Julee Cruise album "Floating Into the Night" -- it's basically an unofficial companion album to the series (has "falling," the song from which the theme for the show was derived (or vice versa!?), along with "the nightengale" and "rockin' back inside my heart"). it's awesome. period.

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2009/10/01 17:39

Mika Vainio

&

David Sylvian's 'Manafon'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Rooob - 2009/10/05 07:08

Fever Ray - Fever Ray

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/10/06 07:34

monolake - atlas-titan ep
toni williams lifetime

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/10/08 01:40

Momus
John Coltrane
Megadeth
Black Sabbath
Kahimi Karie
Fela Kuti
Antibalas
Anti Pop Consortium
Pole
Sun Volt
The Geto Boys (and Willie D solo)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reignbear - 2009/10/08 05:29

jsrockit wrote:

Anti Pop Consortium

the new one? I've been listening to it the past few days in the studio. makes me so happy they put out a new one..I dig it a lot so far!

also listening to:

teflon tel aviv - immolate yourself (perfect fall music imho)

james pants - welcome (coincidentally james was the one who introduced me to APC almost exactly 9 years ago in his dorm room)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 214 - 2009/10/08 05:35

Massive Attack - Splitting the Atom ep (wicked, looking fwd to the album)

Lusine - A Certain Distance

Ethernet - 144 Pulsations of Light

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2009/10/08 07:42

Max Cooper

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/10/09 04:54

reignbear wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Anti Pop Consortium

the new one? I've been listening to it the past few days in the studio. makes me so happy they put out a new one..I dig it a lot so far!

Yep, I also am happy they are back together. One of my favorites of all time.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2009/10/09 19:49

Vowels: The Pattern Prism
The Emperor Machine: Space Beyond The Egg - The Embryos
Tyondai Braxton: Central Market

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/10/12 02:42

Son House
Why?
The White Stripes
Phoreezye
Peanut Butter Wolf

<http://www.zootpatrol.com/wp-content/uploads/2009/10/tattoo51.jpg>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/10/13 02:46

taylor deupree - stil.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/10/13 06:57

Future Beat Alliance - Patience and Distance

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/10/13 15:46

The best bits of Neu!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/10/13 16:39

Live tonight : Ryuichi Sakamoto

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2009/10/13 16:49

i suggest this artists include: Danny Tenaglia, Argy, David Morales, Stephane K & John Creamer, Quentin Harris, Guy Gerber, Radioslave, Jerome sydenham, A Mountain of One, Nagano Kitchen, Brisa

+ alot of my own editing stream <http://soundcloud.com/chrislambrou> or download http://rapidshare.com/files/289583569/Chris_Lambrou_-_Forget_The_World.mp3 its a tribal/percussive influenced mix a bloke posted on another forum.. it is fantastic!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/10/18 04:33

The Human League - Travelogue

Pure brilliance, a perfect album.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/10/19 20:38

Various-In The North EP

Cant grumble , its free (for a couple weeks)

<http://www.dustscience.com/live/?p=682>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/10/20 00:46

eminor9 wrote:

Live tonight : Ryuichi Sakamoto

:cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eminor9 - 2009/10/20 01:00

kirlian wrote:

eminor9 wrote:

Live tonight : Ryuichi Sakamoto

:cheer:

His current tour is highly recommended. Humble man, anything he touches always sounds great and most important of all: sounds like him, coz noone else does or comes close.
The first part of the show were electronic noodles with him doing various things with the piano except touching the keys.

Then he played most of his famous solo piano stuff including some interpretations of older electronic stuff. Didn't say a word but always bowing with his hair falling like a curtain :) Class all the way.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jimmy1 - 2009/10/20 03:06

Brother - Hidden Depths (Fokuz Records)

2 x CDs = 21 tracks of smooth rolling dnb (unmixed). Not one stinker in there either, unheard of normally!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/10/20 06:02

Mayer Hawthorne (can't get enough of this)

Illa J

Oh No

DJ / Rupture

Phoreyze

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2009/10/27 16:34

TIPPER i may be late in discovering him but he is fantastic

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emisor9 - 2009/10/28 19:51

Le monde Ã©lectronique de François de Roubaix Vol I & II.

Highly recommended for the vintage analog / soundtrack vibe freaks.

It makes Air 'Virgin Suicides' OST sound like a whimpy attempt at reproducing this :ohmy:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by birdy - 2009/10/28 21:47

Frank Bretschneider

CD: Rhythm

Label: Raster Noton

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mr. Sound Boy King - 2009/10/28 21:51

"Gigolo Cop" by Lesser

From 97 I think. Noisy beat-mess. Not quite IDM not quite anything. Weird + cool.

"Diary of an afro-warrior" by Benga

The smooth jazz of dubstep :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by oevboev - 2009/10/29 03:04

I listen to Dolly Parton. Seriously. That shit rocks!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2009/10/29 05:22

Dubfire - Dubai (Global Underground) - very nice collection of melancholic house music, mixed to perfection. been getting into Dubfire a lot recently

Deadmau5 - various youtube stuff ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/10/29 05:23

oevboev wrote:

I listen to Dolly Parton. Seriously. That shit rocks!

Yeah, some of it does... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/10/29 07:58

Ametsub - The Nothings of The North

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/11/01 04:47

Der Zyklus - Biometry

Oh my shitting Jesus this album is awesome. Some totally inexplicable sound design here. Also I'm sure the last track, 4000 Irises, is Gerald Donald skipping back to late 70s Sheffield collaborating with The Human League back then.

Re:Enactment

Awesome unsigned(?)/obscure Australian band.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/11/01 05:09

Going through all of the studio snippets of the upcoming Black Keys Blakroc project... sweating this release pretty hard

now. I need that RZA track in my life.

Here's the youtube channel:

<http://www.youtube.com/user/endlessly45#p/u>

And a sample track - The Black Keys ft. Mos Def and Jim Jones - Hoochie Choo

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w6vEWyGnA3I>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by spleaf - 2009/11/05 20:49

The Moderator - MÃ¶bius strip (eevonext)

Der Zyklus Awesome!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/11/08 10:13

arvo part | choral works

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/11/12 18:57

two tunes from the Beach Boys - "Wouldn't it Be Nice" and "Pet Sounds"

"Help Me" and "Free Man in Paris" by Joni Mitchell

'Wild Night' - Van Morrison

'Old Old Woodstock' - cover by Jeff Sherman, (original version on 'Tupelo Honey', Van Morrison)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/11/14 01:40

Picked up a few new albums and some older ones.

Blockhead - The music scene. Sounds just like blockhead which is just fine with me.

Felt (Slug and Murs) - 1 & 2 - heard about these once i found out that Aesop Rock will be on the third one.

Diverse - One A.M.

The Bars - Introducing... - features members of American Nightmare and The Hope Conspiracy

Terror - Always the Hard Way

Agent Orange - Living In Darkness

Imogen Heap - Eclipse - wonderful probably her best album to date.

HORSE the band - entire catalogue

Austrian Death Machine - Double Brutal - a joke metal band from the front man of As I Lay Dying very well put together with all songs about arnold schwarzenegger.

Dethklok - Dethalbum II

Converge - Axe to Fall

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/11/14 21:19

Autechre's recent live sets - forgot how brilliantly funky they are.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2009/11/19 23:31

Felt 3 - A Tribute to Rosie Perez (Cage & Murs Rapping w/ Aesop Rock and DJ Big Wiz on beats)

Themselves - Them (Dose One and Jel)

Alias & Tarsier - Brookland/Oaklyn

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2009/11/21 06:27

Yacht
atlas sound
steven sufjan BQE
the mountain goats
joy division
thurston Moore dam funk

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/11/22 15:25

futureimage wrote:

Autechre's recent live sets - forgot how brilliantly funky they are.

totally. get stuck listening to those live sets as well... and that one from 1996. the first 20+ minutes of that one is rockin.

also get stuck listening to an Arovane live set from 2005 recorded here in Portland. it sounds very LP5-ish. not what i expected at all. very much full on crazy. one of my favs.

lately i'll i've been listening to are tracks i'm trying to finish. so, naturally i'm trying to not get sick of them as they loop around and around

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2009/11/22 15:28

lameaim wrote:

Going through all of the studio snippets of the upcoming Black Keys Blakroc project... sweating this release pretty hard now. I need that RZA track in my life.

Here's the youtube channel:

<http://www.youtube.com/user/endlessly45#p/u>

And a sample track - The Black Keys ft. Mos Def and Jim Jones - Hoochie Choo

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w6vEWyGnA3I>

thanks for those links. that shit sounds killer.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/11/22 23:29

5 Years of Hyperdub

Hudson Mohawke - Butter

Edan - Echo Party

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/11/23 09:28

jsrockit wrote:

Edan - Echo Party

i didn't think this was out till later this week? what i have heard from it is crazy good though.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by earsmack - 2009/11/23 11:24

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

Edan - Echo Party

i didn't think this was out till later this week? what i have heard from it is crazy good though.

Available now: <http://itunes.apple.com/us/album/echo-party/id338001347>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lotus-eater - 2009/11/23 11:37

Allied - relapse, panophobia

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/11/23 13:33

earsmack wrote:

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:
Edan - Echo Party

i didn't think this was out till later this week? what i have heard from it is crazy good though.

Available now: <http://itunes.apple.com/us/album/echo-party/id338001347>

woohoo! off to record store tomorrow.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/11/23 21:05

actuel wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
Edan - Echo Party

i didn't think this was out till later this week? what i have heard from it is crazy good though.

Yep, got it at a brick and mortor shop, so it is out. It's an enjoyable listen.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2009/11/28 01:12

Ghost.

<http://ghost.bandcamp.com/album/freedom-of-thought> and Juice Aleem

<http://www.juicealeem.com/juicealeem.php>

Relaxed weekend ahead.B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/12/07 11:46

Untold - It's Gonna Work Out Fine EP
Untold - I Can't Stop This Feeling / Anaconda
The Roots of El-B
Groove Chronicles - Stone Cold 12"
A Guy Called Gerald - Black Secret Technology
5 Years of Hyperdub (certain selections)
Digital Mystikz - Misty Winter 12"
Ikonika - Sahara Michael / Fish, Smuck
Mount Kimbie - Sketch on Glass EP
Fever Ray - s/t
lots of Burial...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Heks - 2009/12/07 17:24

Afx - Analord 8

Michael Bundt - Just Landed Cosmic Kid
Autechre - Quaristice.Quadrangle.ep.ae
Clark - Totems Flare
Op:l Bastards - 2

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/12/08 02:41

Natural Yogurt Band - Away With Melancholy
Mr. Chop - For Pete's Sake

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by shagghie - 2009/12/08 03:10

early plasticman acid

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2009/12/08 03:59

jsrockit wrote:
Natural Yogurt Band - Away With Melancholy

thank's for the discover !
excellent mix (alwas fan of extreme pan mixing) and composition.
.. and i love that band name :kiss:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2009/12/08 11:52

Avoided anything overly electronic this weekend, enjoyed Belle and Sebastians If You're Feeling Sinister, the beta band's 3 eps and broadcasts Tender Buttons most of all.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Lampeo - 2009/12/08 12:09

Bob Wills, Big Sandy, Wayne Hancock----> Thats what I be Diggin onB)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/12/08 23:29

howdragonsdisappear wrote:
jsrockit wrote:
Natural Yogurt Band - Away With Melancholy

thank's for the discover !
excellent mix (alwas fan of extreme pan mixing) and composition.
.. and i love that band name :kiss:

You're welcome... saw it on the Stones Throw site and it sounded great... so I bought it and was happy as well.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by avart - 2009/12/09 02:48

Tiny Vipers - Life On Earth (2xLP)

(I'm almost about to buy an acoustic guitar again... :O)
<http://subpop-public.s3.amazonaws.com/assets/images/column2/5570.jpg>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/12/09 22:32

Oh No - Ethiopium (wow)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2009/12/09 22:40

Boys Keep Swingin' - David Bowie
In the Zone, Showdown, Breathe, Touch - B. Spears
Pets - Porno for Pyros
The Violet Hour - Sea Wolf
Shooting The Moon - Ok Go
New Moon (the meadow) - Alexandre Desplat
Fledermaus Duetino - APM Orchestra

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/12/11 08:15

jsrockit wrote:
Oh No - Ethiopium (wow)

Anyone who likes the beat CDs by J Dilla or Madlib should get this... I think Oh No outdid Madlib at his own style finally.
This album is really very good.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/12/13 00:03

Wasn't Oh No working on an album with Alchemist? I think it may be called Gangrene?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/12/13 05:54

lameaim wrote:

Wasn't Oh No working on an album with Alchemist? I think it may be called Gangrene?

I think so... I think you'll be hearing more and more about him. You have to remember that Madlib is a bit of a wackjob and still gets semi-mainstream rappers buying his beats (not for hits, but for album fillers). If his brother is a bit more down to earth, he can probably do really well. His beats have come a long way IMHO.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2009/12/14 03:26

jsrockit wrote:

You have to remember that Madlib is a bit of a wackjob and still gets semi-mainstream rappers buying his beats (not for hits, but for album fillers). If his brother is a bit more down to earth...

:sauce:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2009/12/14 04:34

actuel wrote:

jsrockit wrote:

You have to remember that Madlib is a bit of a wackjob and still gets semi-mainstream rappers buying his beats (not for hits, but for album fillers). If his brother is a bit more down to earth...

:sauce:

I'm not sure how to take this...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2009/12/15 18:13

Boxcutter - Arecibo Message

one of more interesting electronic releases I've heard in a while....excellent.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2009/12/16 01:36

xmit wrote:

Boxcutter - Arecibo Message

one of more interesting electronic releases I've heard in a while....excellent.

Nice one for the reminder. I heard sidetrack months ago and have since forgotten. wicked track.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2009/12/17 11:29

Shackleton / Appleblim - Soundboy Punishments (...basically the Skull Disco back catalogue...)
TRG - Put You Down/Broken Heart
Ramadanman - Blimey EP
Pangaea - You & I/Router, Coiled/Nest/Deviant EP's

Basically anything on Skull Disco or Hessle Audio. Also, still listening to all the stuff on Hemlock Recordings a lot (Untold, James Blake, etc.).

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/12/23 06:17

Oh I'm familiar with Oh No's catalog... I think he's steadily improved since Exodus Into Unheard Rhythms. Actually been digging his work output more than Madlib's in the recent past, though Madvillian 2 may change that.

Lately I've been listening to the Deru tracks from Say Goodbye to Useless that have made it to the internet. There's the track from his I Am Lazer clip, and the video for "Peanut Butter & Patience" that can be seen here:
<http://vimeo.com/6958098>

Also:
Jogger - This Great Pressure
Fashawn - Boy Meets World
Doomtree - s/t
Tycho - Coastal Brake EP
random Jay Electronica tracks ("Exhibit C" is heat rocks)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2009/12/23 06:21

Also people, if you haven't watched the Oh No vs. Exile battle from the DJ Dusk Soundclash DVD.... you need to. :cheer:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2009/12/23 07:35

everything ostgut ton

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jimhesse - 2009/12/23 17:32

WISP is the new gun in town.

<http://wisp.kaen.org/>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2009/12/23 17:44

The long winter days of a winter holiday allow me to listen to the Autechre Webcast without interruption

Up, Down,

Sideways

Eclectic

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2009/12/26 13:53

jimmy behan - the echo garden

Erdem Helvaciglu - Altered Realities + wounded breath

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2009/12/26 20:23

Dirty Projectors - Bitte Orca

I have nothing but love for this album.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by drewzle - 2009/12/26 22:06

Hertzian Cone wrote:

The long winter days of a winter holiday allow me to listen to the Autechre Webcast without interruption link? :cheer:

I have been listening to :

Emiliana Torrini - Me and Armini
Slum Village - Villa Manifesto
Tom Phonic - Waking Old Beasts
Raekwon - Cuban Linx II
old Goa mixes

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ccclipper - 2010/01/05 18:51

Thom Yorke - Feeling Pulled Apart by Horses
SND - Atavism
Seefeel - Soccour
Monolake - Silence
Jon Hassell - Last Night the Moon Came...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ccclipper - 2010/01/05 18:54

Vladislav Delay - Tummaa

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dajaphonics - 2010/01/05 19:48

the XX - XX

Sometimes musicians seem that they want to fill every second of a song with sound. I find this album saves some space.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/01/06 14:16

nosaj thing - drift
brad shepik - places you go tim miller - trio vol 2

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2010/01/07 14:19

Stuff I love at the moment:

: Chromeo - DJ Kicks

: NSI - Eitherway

: Le Lendemain - Fires

: Tapes - Hissing Theatricals

: Peverelist - Jarvik Mindstate

: Monolake - Silence

: Solo Andata - Solo Andata

: Linkwood - System

: Luke Vibert - We hear you

All good stuff. It's a great time for music.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2010/01/07 14:20

ccclipper wrote:

SND - Atavism
Monolake - Silence

Great albums

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2010/01/07 14:21

dajaphonics wrote:
the XX - XX

Sometimes musicians seem that they want to fill every second of a song with sound. I find this album saves some space.

I have to get this. I've only heard one of their songs, I think it's named "The Intro", in a mix and I love it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/01/09 03:11

vic chesnutt - at the cut :ohmy: :ohmy:

this is one of the most stark, raw, and real albums i've heard in a looong time. he was featured on NPR at the beginning of december and died a few weeks later on christmas day 2009.

this album is haunted.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dajaphonics - 2010/01/09 17:33

Yeah "Intro" by the xx is a well good track.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/01/12 09:53

new mr projectile 'to the west'

great record. got it today at addictech. really great album.

http://www.addictech.com/store/product_info.php?clearcache=true&products_id=43368

datasette
faulty DL

have both also been featured in rotation lately..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/01/12 09:57

ignatius wrote:
new mr projectile 'to the west'

great record. got it today at addictech. really great album.

http://www.addictech.com/store/product_info.php?clearcache=true&products_id=43368

datasette
faulty DL

have both also been featured in rotation lately..

liking this! thanks.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2010/01/13 02:43

Vampire Weekend - Contra Delphic - Acolyte
Autechre - Untilted

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teacherofstalker - 2010/01/13 03:07

Tod Dockstader - Aerial #1 / #2 / #3
Autechre - 12 Hour Webcast
SND - Atavism
Basic Channel
Blurt
Underground Resistance - World 2 World
Seefeel
Killing Joke
Swans
D'Archangelo
Gang of Four
Gescom - D1
King Crimson - Discipline
Robert Henke - Indigo_Transform
Tortoise - High Class Slim Came Floatin' In Autechre

Just bought:
The Aloof - Seeking Pleasure

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/01/13 03:21

Pangaea - Bear Witness/Mosaix, Memories, Coiled/Nest/Deviant, You & I/Router (basically everything he has available digitally... dude is sick!)

Untold - Gonna Work Out Fine EP

Instra:Mental - Forbidden

Martyn - Great Lengths LP, Mega Drive Generation, TRG Remix, Fever Ray Remix, etc.

Joy Orbison - Wet Look/Hyph Mngo

Pinch - Attack of the Giant Killer Robot Spiders! B)

Shackleton - ThreeEPs

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/01/13 06:02

Here is an excellent resource if you don't know already.

<http://sound.modelfruit.com/>

Loads of links to relevance.

Autechre webcast - rob hall monthly - vintage gigs etc etc etc

Enjoy

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teacherofstalker - 2010/01/13 06:06

^^ Nah... sound.modelfruit.com is RIP as of 25/12 :(

Ae 12WC >> <http://5-against-4.blogspot.com/2009/03/autechre-webcast-updated-links.html>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/01/13 06:08

Just noticed - such a shame.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2010/01/14 02:54

ThinkTanx wrote:

Pinch - Attack of the Giant Killer Robot Spiders! B)

Thank's, long time i haven't heard any pinch stuff.
This one is great

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/01/14 03:05

howdragonsdisappear wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:

Pinch - Attack of the Giant Killer Robot Spiders! B)

Thank's, long time i haven't heard any pinch stuff.
This one is great

Yes it is! Incredible drum programming. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xheindricks - 2010/01/14 03:23

I'm listening to "Dropsonde" the last studio album from Geir Jenssen (Biosphere). Really interesting if you like deep-cold-ambient with some touch of jazzloops... First listening was a little disappointing (I was expecting something like "Substrata", one of the best ambient album ever made, and, the mix seemed bad to my hears), then, after, more and more interesting!

Bye

Xa

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2010/01/14 14:23

ThinkTanx wrote:

Pangaea - Bear Witness/Mosaix, Memories, Coiled/Nest/Deviant, You & I/Router (basically everything he has available digitally... dude is sick!)

Untold - Gonna Work Out Fine EP

Insta:Mental - Forbidden

Martyn - Great Lengths LP, Mega Drive Generation, TRG Remix, Fever Ray Remix, etc.

Joy Orbison - Wet Look/Hyph Mngo

Pinch - Attack of the Giant Killer Robot Spiders! B)

Shackleton - ThreeEPs

very nice selection.

I agree on Pangaea :lvl:

Somehow i can't get into the Martyn LP. I loved the singles, but most of the other tracks on the album leave me cold :unsure:

Also I'm not that much into Joy Orbison, but Insta:mental are sick :feelin:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/01/14 14:40

It also took me a while to get into the Martyn album outside of the singles. But now I love it! Not sure what happened. I think it's because his tracks are quite subtle. They don't beat your over the head with their 'genius'. They're just kind of smooth, if that makes sense. Well, that's how I hear them.

Different strokes for different folks...

Also, I actually just got the Joy Orbison tracks and I'm not really sold on them yet. Just giving them a few spins and checking them out. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2010/01/14 14:54

Art Bleek

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2010/01/20 01:39

These New Puritans - Hidden

A much better album than their debut, which had some pretty killer tracks on but didn't really hold up as an actual album. This one has more of a flow. The drums on it are HUGE.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/01/28 10:09

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZpAMV7rv72w>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by gosh - 2010/01/28 21:01

Rephlex Records goodness:

Jodey Kendrick - Plus Ten
Aleksi Perala - Boom Blaster
Aleksi Perala - Mental Union
DMX Krew - Wave Funk
D'arcangelo - The Album

All fantastic! :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/02/02 20:21

Been rediscovering Spoon lately. I enjoyed "Gimme Fiction" quite a bit when I first heard it, but never got into anything after that... currently correcting this mistake.

Also I was sifting through guitar videos on youtube the other day, found this gem:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Q2p52JNcbDc>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/02/02 21:01

Amon Tobin.

Been to all the London gigs since 2000.
And they were all sick, sick ,sick.
But especially @ Electrowerkz

He's a busy man with soundtracks and album in progress.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mu40pRrggjA>

Best album IMHO Supermodified

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xheindrichs - 2010/02/02 21:21

Some ambient eventide stuff...

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rtvqf9odwSs>

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-lt9Z_97JPg

Drifting around on youtube, searching some things about eventide eclipse, I found those superb tracks or demo...

It's making me wanting this gear (the H8000FW, actually), but... Too much money for me...

Great sound! Superb melodies!

Xa

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duffy - 2010/02/02 21:55

Lately? well, I hate to say it, but I've got a client who wants to work with a pop sound.
So... Lady Gaga instrumentals.

It's just research, I swear!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2010/02/03 02:58

Autechre

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by gigus - 2010/02/03 03:54

Clark Wisp.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2010/02/03 03:56

I listen to lots of ambient and modern classic with acoustic instruments to have a change from the digital glory of the monomachine :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2010/02/09 10:07

Strong Arm Steady - In Search of Stoney Jackson (best hip-hop album put out in a long time!!!)

Why? - Alopecia Demos (fans of Why? should download this demo immediately ...so f-ing good)

Why - Eskimo Snow

King Midas Sound - waiting for you...

Mayer Hawthorne - A Strange Arrangement Instrumentals

The Minimal Wave Tapes - Volume One

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/02/09 10:15

lately..

as yet unreleased tracks for a 4 track vinyl comp i'm putting out soon :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mselway - 2010/02/12 07:56

Howdy all, current listening on the slab.....

John Foxx - Sideways

John Foxx - From Trash

Robert Rich/Steve Roach - Soma

Lee Perry - Return of the Super Ape

T.G. - 20 Jazz Funk Greats

T.G. - CD 01

William Burroughs - Real English Tea Served Here

Misty in Roots - Live at Counter Eurovision 81

Today BJ Nilsen's Invisible City arrived so I'd add that one to the list too, I'm in for a bit of a chilly abstract evening tonight.....

Chin chin

M.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/02/19 20:09

No posts in a week? Time to fix that.

Them Crooked Vultures -- s/t
Freeway & Jake One -- The Stimulus Package

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/02/22 03:13

DJ C - Sonic Weapons

Nasty

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by catfingers - 2010/02/22 06:19

DJ Spooky! Mingus...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by AudioBlue - 2010/02/22 07:47

Ellie Goulding - Starry Eyed (Jakwob Remix)

Well done and not too much.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2010/02/26 00:10

Thavius Beck - Dialogue

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2010/02/26 00:14

Seven Ark
Ochre
Funckarma
Landau

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xheindrichs - 2010/02/26 00:52

Aphex Twin - Selected Ambient works volume II

Again....woohoo:

Bye

Xa

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/02/26 02:14

Hmm... I don't remember the last time I posted, so...

Kuedo - Starfox EP
Pangaea - Pangaea EP
Dorian Concept - Trilingual Dance Sexperience
Mike Slott - Lucky 9teen EP
Clark - Totems Flare
tons of Zomby!

...and a whole lotta other ish...

B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mika Technika - 2010/02/27 04:57

Autechre - Treale

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/03/02 06:28

wagner complete works for piano.

some epic chord progression to be had here.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reignbear - 2010/03/02 06:52

matt kelly - peridot CD and hiroshima 7" ocean - here where nothing grows
autechre - oversteps
william basinski - disintegration loops fulgeance eps

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GeneralBigBag - 2010/03/02 06:56

Saw Shackleton last night.
Holy Shit.

edit: Disintegration Loops Rule!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/03/02 07:01

GeneralBigBag wrote:
Saw Shackleton last night.
Holy Shit.

Jealous! :ohmy:

Didn't even know he was touring...

Edit:
March 6th in LA... B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by reignbear - 2010/03/02 09:04

ThinkTanx wrote:
GeneralBigBag wrote:
Saw Shackleton last night.
Holy Shit.

Jealous! :ohmy:

Didn't even know he was touring...

Edit:
March 6th in LA... B)
:lvl:
i'm there!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by makko - 2010/03/02 09:45

Foreign Beggars
Crystal Castles
Die Antwoord
Broken Note

listen a lot to mixes these days.

like;
eskmo glitch-hop mix
Bassnectar - 2010 IDJ Mixtape

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2010/03/08 04:59

Modeselektor - Body Language

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teacherofstalker - 2010/03/08 21:57

Eduard Artemiev - Stalker soundtrack, train section

Arvo Part - Pari Intervallo, arranged for Monomachine

Autechre - 2010 Webcast

Tangerine Dream - Rubycon

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2010/03/09 22:31

Killing Joke (still)

Siouxsie and the Banshees

Herbert Pyrne Podcasts

Mulligan and O Hare - Pancake Day :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2010/03/10 00:26

Justice - Cross

SebastiAn

Mr. Oizo

Autechre (ready for this coming Friday - gig in Birmingham :D)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/03/18 07:01

Bonobo - Black Sands (caved and downloaded early. buy this, i definitely will be)

Mux Mool - Skulltaste

Gorillaz - Plastic Beach

Gravenhurst - The Western Lands

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/03/18 09:07

Liars - Sisterworld

Liars - Proud Evolution (Thom Yorke 500qd Remix) - this track blows my mind into 2,001 pieces

Liars - Drum's Not Dead

Four Tet - There Is Love In You

Scuba - Aesaunic EP

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/03/19 16:49

ThinkTanx wrote:
Liars - Drum's Not Dead
Four Tet - There Is Love In You

How are these?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/03/19 21:01

Today, I have taken a days holiday.

I am listening to my Old Vinyl as I record into digital form.

Whilst I sit back and drink tea.

Currently playing:

Positron Island by Drexciya on Tresor 30

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cecil - 2010/03/19 21:34

Steve Reich - drumming
Gustav Mahler - lied von der erde
Chloe Harris - Transistions guest mix

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/03/21 05:06

lameaim wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
Liars - Drum's Not Dead
Four Tet - There Is Love In You

How are these?

Incredible. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mr. Sound Boy King - 2010/03/24 02:20

http://3.bp.blogspot.com/_M1yN9x2SCqw/SWJslqdkKel/AAAAAAAAAuE/_8HGhS_mHzI/s1600/d7e9793509a03d893d34811wk3.jpg

<http://www.etguitars.com/images/Zork-Metal-Smiley.gif>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dorfmeister - 2010/03/24 02:58

Beach Boys - Pet Sounds
Sun Kil Moon
Will Oldham
M83
Arcade Fire
Fiery Furnaces
Beck
Moby

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by candlesayshi - 2010/03/24 03:40

Haujobb - Ninetynine
Tonikom - The Sniper's Veil
Twinkle - Le Jouet
Autechre - Oversteps

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by wolfgang - 2010/03/24 04:19

Gary Numan - Pleasure Principle has been on heavy rotation past week.

Talking heads

new Sade album

Dan deacon - Bromst

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/03/28 03:28

black dog live. B) deep.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/04/17 12:58

jimmy behan - the echo garden

phronesis - organic warfare

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by udenjoe - 2010/04/17 13:41

Galaxie 500
Serena Maneesh
Swervedriver
Ulrich Schnauss - in all the wrong places I Aviv - Immolate Yourself
Loop
The Horrors - Primary Colors

Portishead - Third
Deastro
Various Ghostly Artists

I can't believe this thread is still going...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by alexbeatbox - 2010/04/17 13:59

Deftones "diamond eyes" . it's good

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/04/21 20:14

Dark Time Sunshine -- Vessel. Shit is hot hot hot.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/04/30 12:22

jonsi - go

lionel louecke - mwaliko - - - guitar players check it!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/04/30 15:36

Norwegian House Music.
80's Soul Funk and Electro.
Talk Talk

Devastating mix sessions by Greg Wilson

Building myself up for a 20 years club reunion this summer.
40 year olds
Raving
In a field.

Wut?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by catfingers - 2010/05/01 10:50

Stockhausen: studies I & II. - and Telemusik - lovely piece. I did have a copy sitting my comp after all.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/05/05 14:04

Tons of Burial. Can't wait for him to hopefully release his new album this year...

Flying Lotus - Cosmogramma. Not too sure about this one. Might grow on me. I think I'm just burnt on his sound (so many people in LA doing it). I also think the massive hype train is doing it a disservice for me. I'll probably play it in a year and love it... :laugh:

Four Tet - There is Love In You. Still loving this album. He really took it to the next level.

Tons of Joy Orbison. The DJ Dials Vocal Remix of Hyph Mngo is mad addictive like candy.

Actress. Can't wait for his new album. "Maze (Long Version)" is amazingly perfect yet so simple, "Machine and Voice" is dope.

Tons of Zomby. Always a mainstay for me. The snippets that he and Actress did together are mouth-watering. Would love to see a proper collabo release between those two! :ohmy:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/05/05 17:08

rio sol e mar - jazztronik

downed - cheap trick satellite heart - anya marina difference it makes - superpitcher remix

maybe so, maybe no - meyer hawthorne

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2010/05/05 21:06

Hertzian Cone wrote:
Norwegian House Music.

Heard of Amish82? good friends of mine, really like what they're doing :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/05/06 04:14

ThinkTanx wrote:

Flying Lotus - Cosmogramma. Not too sure about this one. Might grow on me. I think I'm just burnt on his sound (so many people in LA doing it). I also think the massive hype train is doing it a disservice for me. I'll probably play it in a year and love it... :laugh:

I've given it a couple of listens so far, not sure about it either. There's definitely tracks I really like, such as Galaxy in Janaki and the Thom Yorke guest appearance, but it's not coming together for me just yet.

Ah well. I just received a box of loaner records from my uncle and picked up a couple of Roberta Flack albums the other day... maybe I'll come back to it after those.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/05/06 04:37

lameaim wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Flying Lotus - Cosmogramma. Not too sure about this one. Might grow on me. I think I'm just burnt on his sound (so many people in LA doing it). I also think the massive hype train is doing it a disservice for me. I'll probably play it in a year and love it... :laugh:

I've given it a couple of listens so far, not sure about it either. There's definitely tracks I really like, such as Galaxy in Janaki and the Thom Yorke guest appearance, but it's not coming together for me just yet.

Ah well. I just received a box of loaner records from my uncle and picked up a couple of Roberta Flack albums the other day... maybe I'll come back to it after those.

I'm not sure about the Thom Yorke track. Bit underwhelmed by the vocal, but that could be on Thom. Not sure if that's just all he did, or how FlyLo arranged it. It really doesn't go anywhere. I get that it's kind of a continuous mix of shorter tracks, but I just wish he had developed some of these ideas more into proper tunes. Just my .02 cents though...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/05/06 07:54

ThinkTanx wrote:

lameaim wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Flying Lotus - Cosmogramma. Not too sure about this one. Might grow on me. I think I'm just burnt on his sound (so many people in LA doing it). I also think the massive hype train is doing it a disservice for me. I'll probably play it in a year and love it... :laugh:

I've given it a couple of listens so far, not sure about it either. There's definitely tracks I really like, such as Galaxy in Janaki and the Thom Yorke guest appearance, but it's not coming together for me just yet.

Ah well. I just received a box of loaner records from my uncle and picked up a couple of Roberta Flack albums the other day... maybe I'll come back to it after those.

I'm not sure about the Thom Yorke track. Bit underwhelmed by the vocal, but that could be on Thom. Not sure if that's just all he did, or how FlyLo arranged it. It really doesn't go anywhere. I get that it's kind of a continuous mix of shorter tracks, but I just wish he had developed some of these ideas more into proper tunes. Just my .02 cents though...

I don't disagree, but I like it despite that. Something about the ambiance works for me.

But yeah, the shortness of some of the tracks really does take the wind out of some of the record for me as well. Like when the heavy ass kicks came in at 0:23 on "Clock Catcher"... the shit got me amped on my first listen... and then we go somewhere else and fade out a minute later. I guess I just find it a bit frustrating that the moments on the record I find myself latching onto come out as flashes instead of actual fires. Then again, I'm the kind of person who'll figure out a 8-bar loop and let it roll for 20 minutes.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lu_ce71 - 2010/05/06 07:59

If he only had an Octatrack!

;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by candlesayshi - 2010/05/06 12:19

Oval - Ovalprocess

Just got it on CD again after not hearing it for so long, still absolutely love it.

My Bloody Valentine - Loveless

Quite simply, one of the greatest albums of all time. Just been listening to it a lot lately, and it's been real inspiring right now.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/05/06 12:24

My Bloody Valentine - Loveless

Quite simply, one of the greatest albums of all time.

Definitely in my Top 5 All Time... probably in my Top 2 or 3 actually.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/05/06 17:19

ThinkTanx wrote:

My Bloody Valentine - Loveless

Quite simply, one of the greatest albums of all time.

Definitely in my Top 5 All Time... probably in my Top 2 or 3 actually.

awesome record. going back to a lot of early to mid 90's stuff recently.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/05/07 09:40

Just realized I forgot one on my list yesterday!:

Insta:Mental - these dudes are just destroying everything right now. Their sense of spatial and time-based effects is amazing. And they are flipping so many different UK bass genres. They are amazingly versatile, everything from half-time 170 bpm and DnB to 125 bpm techno and, of course, some dubstep thrown in there as well. They've done some really brilliant work with D-Bridge over the last year.

Cheers! B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mr. Sound Boy King - 2010/05/08 23:38

http://ec1.images-amazon.com/images/P/B000001A08.01._SCLZZZZZZZ_.jpg 1980s proto glitch extended vocal dub jams, ruling.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/05/13 18:22

Guy called Gerald - Tronic Jazz Berlin Sessions.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by makko - 2010/05/18 20:48

really into crystal castles lately :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2010/05/26 23:25

all the free stuff from www.jahtari.org :feelin:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2010/05/26 23:55

I was hungry for some new Amon Tobin last night. Has anyone picked up his game sound track material?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2010/05/27 01:14

Autechre - y7

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/05/27 02:19

@ Polyslax - Has he done more than just Splinter cell?

He needs to do a tour again soon I have just recently recovered from the bass from last time round

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teacherofstalker - 2010/05/27 02:37

futureimage wrote:

Autechre - y7

:snap:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2010/05/27 03:11

Hertzian Cone wrote:

@ Polyslax - Has he done more than just Splinter cell?

He needs to do a tour again soon I have just recently recovered from the bass from last time round

Yeah, I'm not a gamer, but apparently there's another one called Infamous that he contributed solo and collabs to.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jbl - 2010/05/27 06:03

+1 for autechre

and I'll add the following to my list:

Boards of Canada

Beefcake

Benga

Speak

Mouse on Mars

Luke Vibert

Milanese

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/05/28 06:36

polyslax wrote:

Hertzian Cone wrote:

@ Polyslax - Has he done more than just Splinter cell?

He needs to do a tour again soon I have just recently recovered from the bass from last time round

Yeah, I'm not a gamer, but apparently there's another one called Infamous that he contributed solo and collabs to.

I never knew he did stuff for games. where can I find that? His collab with noisia is a beaut. Nothing like a bit of classic tobin he is one of the masters of abstract breaks alongside a guy called gerald. Bricolage is superb.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2010/05/28 07:19

LIVESEQ wrote:

polyslax wrote:

Hertzian Cone wrote:

@ Polyslax - Has he done more than just Splinter cell?

He needs to do a tour again soon I have just recently recovered from the bass from last time round

Yeah, I'm not a gamer, but apparently there's another one called Infamous that he contributed solo and collabs to.

I never knew he did stuff for games. where can I find that? His collab with noisia is a beaut. Nothing like a bit of classic tobin he is one of the masters of abstract breaks alongside a guy called gerald. Bricolage is superb.

I just found them on iTunes.

Infamous here:

<http://itunes.apple.com/ca/album/infamous-original-soundtrack/id315027527> and Splintercell Chaos Theory here:

<http://itunes.apple.com/ca/album/chaos-theory/id104879995>

D'you know the name of the noisia collab?

A guy called Gerald... don't know that, will check it. Thanks!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/05/28 07:51

noisia collab is sun hammer. you don't know a guy called gerald? damn. check his album black secret technology. I found this randomly today. awesome awesome beats.

<http://soundcloud.com/aguycalledgerald/24-7-2> cheers for the links I will have a listen to that. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/05/28 09:20

more on an amon tobin tip. <http://soundcloud.com/das-boy/amon-tobin-foley-room-recorded-live-theatre-alberta-brussels-be-2008-11> this +db guy has loads of random live recordings. some of them sound like bootlegs taken from the desk or the back of the room. interesting listens. I particularly like the stranglers track that was recorded 5 minutes from my current house. :blink:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2010/05/28 11:48

LCD soundsystem-this is happening. so many good songs on one LP!. The first single "drunk girls" is the worst song on the LP.... go figure.

Kangding Ray-stabl

Pixel-the drive

Alva-Noto Xerox II

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2010/05/28 14:55

some fellow norwegians:

<http://soundcloud.com/whiteshademusic>

emtex from this very forum:

<http://soundcloud.com/emtex>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/05/28 21:29

Spent some time last night watching/listening to this dude on youtube. He's a beast with the Roland MC-909 and a virus. I wonder what he could pull off with some Elektrons:

<http://www.youtube.com/user/siedgey>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by makko - 2010/05/28 22:02

Im really into the dark side of DNB these days. Dj-Hidden/Eye-D Prspct Recordings killingsheep filthcast mixes etc :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/06/04 10:03

loess - burrows - really beautiful album and some subtle and veery cool production ideas. loving this. can't stop listening to this. this is up in the arovane "lillies" territory for me at the moment. different to be sure, but pretty much as enjoyable a listen.

airhead and james blake - pembroke

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/06/05 17:11

Picked up a TON of vinyl over the last two weeks while traveling through Seattle, Portland and Philadelphia. Here's what's been rising to the top so far:

Sufjan Stevens - Illinoise
Sage Francis - Li(f)e
Washed Out - Life of Leisure EP
The Dead Weather - Sea of Cowards
Exile - Dirty Science

Still wading through the newer releases before I dig into the older stuff. Very nice problem to have, really :D

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/06/06 00:49

lameaim wrote:

Sufjan Stevens - Illinoise

great album. if you can find michigan, it's also great. i think it was marketed as a christmas album ... maybe compositions he made at christmas or something.

great songwriter.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nikitasummer - 2010/06/06 01:26

How to Destroy Angels - Trent Reznor and Mariqueen

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2010/06/06 01:45

since I discovered Solitude, I've been playing his mixes all day, every day. He's a dubsep dj, but has a unique focus, on the more mellow dubstep, and he's made 6 REALLY REALLY good sets covering what he calls "Ambient Dubstep". This is MUCH better than you avarage wobble-assault that is everywhere. this is quality electronic music, I'd almost call it IDM (only I hate that term). Man, I can't stop listening to this....

here's Mix #2:

<http://soundcloud.com/solitude/solitude-dubstep-ambient-vol-2>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/06/06 02:10

TrondC wrote:

since I discovered Solitude, I've been playing his mixes all day, every day. He's a dubsep dj, but has a unique focus, on the more mellow dubstep, and he's made 6 REALLY REALLY good sets covering what he calls "Ambient Dubstep". This is MUCH better than you avarage wobble-assault that is everywhere. this is quality electronic music, I'd almost call it IDM (only I hate that term). Man, I can't stop listening to this....

here's Mix #2:

<http://soundcloud.com/solitude/solitude-dubstep-ambient-vol-2>

very nice TrondC, thanks for the link.

Recently got this sent to me. Don't know if you've got it already but its a similar vibe to the solitude stuff. Definitely totally sick of wobble assault. dubstep is dead, long live dubstep.

<http://soundcloud.com/dubfetishrecords> such good bass production.

peace.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/06/06 06:00

kirlian wrote:

lameaim wrote:

Sufjan Stevens - Illinoise

great album. if you can find michigan, it's also great. i think it was marketed as a christmas album ... maybe compositions he made at christmas or something.

great songwriter.

Yeah, I should have mentioned that I already had the album on CD... came across it on vinyl while shopping out of state, snatched it up. Worth owning twice in my opinion.

And I agree on the greatness of Michigan as well. "For the Widows In Paradise" especially stands out to me.

Today I'm going to add The National - High Violet to the list. Can't wait to randomly belt out "I'm gonna eat your brains / 'cause I'm evil" the next time I'm drunk.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/06/07 07:39

jsrockit wrote:

Lately: Baby Elephant, Common, Oh No, Madlib, Dabrye, J Dilla, M.I.A., fat jon & styrofoam, Dntel, Pole, Pink Floyd, Autechre, Can, Tortoise, Bumps, and Boards of Canada. That's lately...

yo js

good to see you man.

anyway. i am rockin marc mac. part 2 nuff said fuckin rinse out future is golden.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by monoman - 2010/06/16 01:31 right now i am listening to "moloko - i am not a doctor" track 8 "pretty bridges" after skipping track 7 ;-)), next will be "saint vitus - live" - i like it extreme!

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2010/06/16 02:25

LIVESEQ wrote:

yo js

good to see you man.

anyway. i am rockin marc mac. part 2 nuff said fuckin rinse out future is golden.

Hey what's up?

I've still been playing out this Gonjasufi album.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/06/16 07:17

jsrockit wrote:

LIVESEQ wrote:

yo js

good to see you man.

anyway. i am rockin marc mac. part 2 nuff said fuckin rinse out future is golden.

Hey what's up?

I've still been playing out this Gonjasufi album.

hahahaha that's classic. I mustve been drunk when I quoted you cos you're post is from 2 years ago on the first page. and I thought you were back from knowhere :laugh: plus I have no recollection of posting. Haha

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/06/16 10:10

knowhere is a cool name for a song! :)

currently listening to Broadwalk by Rodriguez also a nice '95 tune by Kenny Larkin showing signs of deep house, techno and minimal, "Butterflies"
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PIEgcTzk7cQ>

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/06/16 11:04

album i WISH i was listening to lately:

new Boards of Canada.

plz?

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/06/16 11:13

papertiger wrote:

album i WISH i was listening to lately:

new Boards of Canada.

plz?

Me want new Burial. Supposed to be later this year. Can't wait. Heard some at a Kode 9 gig here a few months back. Sounded like the Four Tet collabo, ie. amazing... :)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2010/06/16 21:35

Yes, yes, yes... new BOC would be great.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by YNE - 2010/06/17 16:53

Caribou - Swim
Autechre - Amber
Boards of Canada - The Campfire Headphase
Efdemin - Chicago
Pantha du Prince - Black Noise

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emminor9 - 2010/06/17 17:40

Jan Bang '... and poppies from Kandahar'

Finally released on CD:

Marconi Union 'A lost connection'

and finally received in the mail today:

Nya 'Rootz Teknowledgy'

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2010/06/17 21:06

Autechre - Move Of Ten
Liquid Liquid - Slipping In And Out Of Phenomenon
Dopplereffekt - Calabi-Yau Space (I have a physics exam tomorrow so this has been on heavy rotation)
Haircut 100 - Pelican West (Perfect "Oh look it's a really sunny day, let's go driving" music)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/06/21 06:54

morton feldman:
rothko chapel
only(works for voice and insruments)

polyslax and emminor 9: listen now! :oof:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2010/06/21 08:39

frank bretttschneider_exp

eleh_location momentum (this is quite f@#kin special) lawn cigar_demos (this is me on mnm and a friend on guitar and vocals)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/06/21 12:51

kirlian wrote:

morton feldman:

rothko chapel

only(works for voice and insruments)

polyslax and emenor 9: listen now! :oof:

some of the paintings from that work, or perhaps all of them!, were on display in the matisse tower in the national gallery of art (east wing). my uncle was here the last time i went to the museum -- he loves the matisse cutouts, so we were making the pilgrimage to the tower and it had been converted to the rothko chapel! complete with sound installation featuring the music mentioned by kirlian.

anyway, i couldn't stay for very long (my mom and uncle took one look (and listen) and bolted), but from what I absorbed it was very affecting . . . and of course, the music was great.

all that to say thanks for reminding me! I wrote it down in my notebook, but of course I never go back and read it so i had forgotten.

woohoo!

:side:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/06/25 21:25

Patrick Pulsinger - Impassive Skies

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2010/06/25 21:45

lightspeed champion

New echospace - amazing stuff!!!!!!

Bob blank

gill scott heron

owen pallet

the radio dept - fav Lp of the year so far!!!

virgo

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nya - 2010/07/09 01:00

eminor9 wrote:

Nya 'Rootz Teknowledgy

Thanks for the heads up. Hope u like it still.

orwell wrote:

New echospace - amazing stuff!!!!!!

Gotta check that out for sure.

orwell wrote:

gill scott heron

He's playing here on Sunday, same night as Erykah Badu. I love his stuff but then again he has a bad reputation of not showing up...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/07/09 02:02

Haha, nice thread.. :laugh: well, from the top of my head:

fleetwood mac - greatest hits scientist - encounters pacman flying lotus - cosmogramma
bruce springsteen - darkness on the edge of town olivier messiaen - sept hakai gang starr - daily operation

.and the 'move on ten' mp3's, but I'm waiting for the vinyl to arrive!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2010/07/09 07:12

husc.sound wrote:
and the 'move on ten' mp3's, but I'm waiting for the vinyl to arrive!

Got mine this morning :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2010/07/09 07:28

Drums & Tuba
Tortoise
Don Caballero
Mice Parade
Volta Do Mar

No certain albums in particular, just revisiting some ole favorites!
The album called "Cryptonesia" has Zach Hill playing drums for the Mars Volta, essentially.
Check it if you want some.... new sounds. :P

/cheers

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/07/09 17:20

tenchi wrote:
husc.sound wrote:
and the 'move on ten' mp3's, but I'm waiting for the vinyl to arrive!

Got mine this morning :cheer:

I can't wait! The local recordstore f&#(@ up my order for the oversteps lp, which is supposed too look amazing. :angry:

I guess this one makes up for it and got me on the bleep wagon. Move on ten is amazing, I am luvng the tunes, almost a summer vibe!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by DanielW - 2010/07/09 17:45

Bathory
Bo Hansson
Basic Channel
60's garage punk
Sunn O)))
Godspeed You Black Emperor
Nordvargr

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2010/07/10 01:29

Autechre - Move of ten
anbb - ret marut handshake
Pan Sonic - Gravitoni

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2010/07/10 08:25

echospace: liumin

on repeat for a couple of weeks now ----- deep echo soul

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2010/07/10 08:59

NIN - Gohsts I-IV

Autechre - Oversteps

Richie Hawtin - DE9; closer to the edit

Arthur Russell - Calling Out of Context

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/07/12 22:35

David Sylvian
FSOL again

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mr. Sound Boy King - 2010/07/29 08:45

This amazing Hecq mix... holy shit.

Streaming here.

http://www.play.fm/recording/adnoiseammeetskillekillberghainkantineberlinfriedrichshain_de2010063034944

The chopped & screwed Squarepusher track blew my mind.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by shell - 2010/07/29 16:49

drexcia's the quest

this is amazing...

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KlfrllKYWKQ>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sauna Sound - 2010/07/29 17:26

lots of good LPs on my player. some stuff I can recommend:

ASC - Nothing is certain (there's still good drum&bass out there)

Taylor Deupree - Shoals (my sunday morning music atm)

Autechre - Oversteps & Move of Ten (the best autechre I've ever heard)

Deepchords Presents Echospace - Liumin (I prefer the pure field recordings)

Alva Noto - For 2 (simpy beautiful)

Mesak - Dada Wheel (lots of fun and very versatile)

Mount Kimbie - Crooks & Lovers (lots of hype, but deserved imo, I still prefer the EPs though)

Niederflur - Bipolar (mnml, the good stuff ;-))

Efdemin - Chicago (house music, lots of details and very warm sound)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/07/30 02:53

sound track to "The Fountain" by clint mansell .. amazing music.. great movie too.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2010/07/30 04:31

I loved his soundtrack for "Moon"

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/07/30 05:20

tenchi wrote:

I loved his soundtrack for "Moon"

i've been listening to that one too. "the Fountain" sound track blows me away.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/07/30 05:41

ignatius wrote:

tenchi wrote:

I loved his soundtrack for "Moon"

i've been listening to that one too. "the Fountain" sound track blows me away.

i just watched this again a few days ago and was way into the soundtrack this time around. might be picking it up tonight! the fountain that is.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/07/30 10:17

Sauna Sound wrote:

Efdemin - Chicago (house music, lots of details and very warm sound) amazing, love it. really new. hoping to purchase the .aif files, just listening to the Juno preview for now.
edit: im sure they used Metasynth on 'cowbell'

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/07/30 13:21

bingo

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2010/07/31 01:09

kirlian wrote:

ignatius wrote:

tenchi wrote:

I loved his soundtrack for "Moon"

i've been listening to that one too. "the Fountain" sound track blows me away.

i just watched this again a few days ago and was way into the soundtrack this time around. might be picking it up tonight! the fountain that is.

It's a bit hard to take in, from " Beaver Patrol" to this.....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by JANGWU - 2010/08/03 08:49

Atmosfear - Dancing In Outer Space (The Revenge Rework 2)
Cypress Hill - Hits From The Bong ...When I Take A Big Hit ;)
Daft Punk - Da Funk :(OMG How Ill miss them 2010 in Munich :( Tony Christie - (Is This the Way To) Amarillo ;)
Little Richard - Lucille
Link Wray - Ace of Spades
Nel Blu Dipinto Di Blu (Volare) Johnny Dorelli Version

Good Night :kiss:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by BUROMASCHINEN - 2010/08/03 09:01

Photon Photino, Zerkalo
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-EmgbvE5XTc>

Xeno & Oaklander
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E2thdcEAFy0>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BpGQ7lt0Yb4>

Shadow Dancer OST:
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j-8Sj4Y4rig>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hXskjHHFLZc>

Snoop Dog / Jan Hammer Crossover (AWESOME):
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fPWkRsZulls>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/08/03 09:28

tenchi wrote:
kirlian wrote:
ignatius wrote:
tenchi wrote:
I loved his soundtrack for "Moon"

i've been listening to that one too. "the Fountain" sound track blows me away.

i just watched this again a few days ago and was way into the soundtrack this time around. might be picking it up tonight! the fountain that is.

It's a bit hard to take in, from " Beaver Patrol" to this.....

was not a PWEI fan so i have no idea what you are talking about :silly:

i'm assuming that's a PWEI track?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/08/03 09:28

lately listening to the SMAK 2 disc compilation

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/08/03 09:41

Aphex Twin, Aphex Twin, Aphex Twin...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mr. Sound Boy King - 2010/08/03 11:19

BUROMASCHINEN wrote:

Snoop Dog / Jan Hammer Crossover (AWESOME):

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fPWkRsZulls>

holy shit this rules

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by koshimazaki - 2010/08/03 21:56

Just found out about open tape and made my first mixtape since a long time. This pritty much sums up what I'm listening to recenty: <http://koshimazaki.com/mixtape/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/08/03 22:51

Posthuman - Syn Emergence

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by blue_lu - 2010/08/04 00:42

Dimlite, Dorian Concept, Fulgeance, Fly Lo, and all that kinda stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/08/04 01:12

live guitar uw sessions :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/08/04 01:24

koshimazaki wrote:

Just found out about open tape and made my first mixtape since a long time. This pritty much sums up what I'm listening to recently: <http://koshimazaki.com/mixtape/>

Thanks. Awesome selection.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2010/08/06 00:25

Simple Minds - Sons & Fascination / Sister Feeling Call

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/08/06 00:33

underworld

. . . still waiting for a new BoC release. . .

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/08/08 19:47

"It's All Yours" by the Mighty Lovebirds like a doorway to another realm, i found beautiful peace whilst listening to this on the radio after dj'ing at a club the other night. there is something about the vocals that gives so much nice vibe. im gonna buy this one and play it. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/08/08 21:43

papertiger wrote:

underworld

. . . still waiting for a new BoC release. . .

Nice one. Underworlds quieter and more musical, lyrical tracks are some of my faves. They dont just make dancefloor bangers.

I'm listening to lots of Soundgarden reminiscing about riding around on a bmx back when drugs were fun, their creations are wonderful and they have an album of b sides and unreleased stuff on the way. Hope they tour the UK.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/08/08 23:27

Pantera - the vulgar videos

..great band, and when I watch the videos I'm always reminded what a tragedy it is to loose legends like dimebag, he made the rockin' world go round.

http://blog.limewire.com/wp-content/uploads/2009/12/dimebag_darrell.jpg

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by oevboev - 2010/08/11 21:13

I'm listening to other Elektron-users...Soundcloudy days:)

And another metal legend that died too soon: Ronnie James Dio

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/08/14 17:42

oevboev wrote:

And another metal legend that died too soon: Ronnie James Dio

:(

Listening to the singles collection by depeche mode. Going to watch the live in paris dvd later today..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/08/20 22:20

chancha via circuito. wow. :chirp:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by stufflinear - 2010/08/20 22:42

"0 oC" by ryoji ikeda > :woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2010/08/20 23:03

futureimage wrote:

Simple Minds - Sons & Fascination / Sister Feeling Call

Nice! I saw them tour that in a very small venue.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2010/08/21 00:14

futureimage wrote:
Simple Minds - Sons & Fascination / Sister Feeling Call

thanks for that
It's been years.
Iv'e just unpacked my CD's from moving so I played this and all albums till `Sparkle In the Rain'

Great stuff

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2010/08/21 02:54

Motorpsycho and Seigmen, my nations two giants in alt rock music, my goodness its been many many years since I heard the "Mountain EP", "Demon Box" and the brilliant "Timothys Monster" double CD.. its like Hawkwind mixed with Sonic Youth, only much better than both ;)

Oh, and I'm seeing BEARDYMAN tonight :D that is bound to be pretty legendary!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/08/21 17:13

^ check out Beardyman at the Underbelly - laughs o plenty.
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qciVXUHTN10>

Currently putting Prince Controversy and Dirty Mind through the rotation.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/08/28 12:46

enjoying Kollektiv Turmstrasse, a mix or tune set to some beautiful hand-drawn animations, looks like early Disney

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/08/28 13:12

previewlounge wrote:
enjoying Kollektiv Turmstrasse, a mix or tune set to some beautiful hand-drawn animations, looks like early Disney
I love that track and video!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GYS - 2010/08/28 13:25

previewlounge wrote:
enjoying Kollektiv Turmstrasse, a mix or tune set to some beautiful hand-drawn animations, looks like early Disney

This is fucking amazing. :blink:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by exper - 2010/08/30 01:04

Oversteps/Move of Ten - Autechre

Atavism - SND

Crooks & Lovers - Mount Kimbie

Sigha - Various 12" on Hot Flush

Hollo Lonely, Hold the Nation - Downliners Sect

also Klaus, mostly unreleased, but collaborates with Mount Kimbie:

<http://www.myspace.com/klausuk>

<http://soundcloud.com/nklaus>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2010/08/30 01:37

Can't stop listening to the Jaga Jazzist! The album "Stix" in particular. Great stuff. Almost an Aphex Twin meets Tortoise sorta sound kinda! :P

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by shell - 2010/08/30 06:13

Claude Y

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=PxJ55HSv2kU&feature=player_embedded

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by koshimazaki - 2010/08/30 06:27

Rubix have you heard new Jagas album One Armed Bandit? really cool.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2010/08/31 05:53

I have! All of it is so good. I am not too sure what to call groups like that but it is definitely a favorite musical texture. Something particularly ehheh passive aggressive? Not the right way to define a gorgeous timbre. Some how, Don Caballero found it's way back into regular rotation as well. Their album "American Don" is so fuckin musical that, even after so many years and relistens, I am still hearing new, little things ALL the time. A masterpiece album, if anyone asks me!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GYS - 2010/08/31 10:48

Just saw this today...had not heard of it before.

Wu Tang Clan vs. Autechre. Free download! :cheer:

<http://outerglowing.com/?tag=wutechre>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/09/01 13:13

<http://logreybeam.bandcamp.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/09/01 13:19

GYS wrote:

Just saw this today...had not heard of it before.

Wu Tang Clan vs. Autechre. Free download! :cheer:

<http://outerglowing.com/?tag=wutechre>

thank you. this is epic. i don't know how i missed it!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2010/09/02 08:58

That shit IS rather epic! Indeed!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/09/06 06:31

Spent the goodtime with Pink Floyd Dark side of the moon.

Deluxe.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/09/09 15:14

Sigur Ros. Lots of it. All day. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2010/09/09 16:24

RJ Valeo September Lp I picked up for 5$ - still amazing, even better on vinyl

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by manforthefirm - 2010/09/12 03:32

Gerald Mitchell... celestial highways

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RfhdBIFTheA>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2010/09/12 04:54

Bitches Brew 40th Anniversary re-release.

If you have the means, check it out. The 'never before released' video is very, VERY nice!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by YNE - 2010/09/12 05:07

Listening to some old Monolake albums and wonder how I could miss them in the past...
Great beats and atmosphere!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/09/12 05:59

ignatius wrote:

<http://logreybeam.bandcamp.com/>

this is awesome. thanks! been listening all afternoon.

it reeks of audiomulch in the best possible way.

and i'd be lying if i didn't admit to listening to the machine album over and over and over while i edit the last of the press release materials....

17 September: MACHINE!!!!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/09/12 07:46

kirlian wrote:

ignatius wrote:

<http://logreybeam.bandcamp.com/>

this is awesome. thanks! been listening all afternoon.

it reeks of audiomulch in the best possible way.

i think he did it in Max/Msp but not sure. there are a bunch of remixes in there from other people.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2010/09/12 22:58

Shuffle really seemed to like Mouse on Mars yesterday, so I got a whole bunch of that, along with a smattering of Loess (thanks kirlian!), Flying Lotus, Aphex Twin, Sigur Ros, Jon Hopkins, Tim Hecker, Byetone and Grischa Lichtenberger.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/09/13 02:16

Akira Kurasawa movie soundtracks 1950 - 1958

a breathtaking 4 lp box.. i cried when I bought it and was amazed the limited 1000 copies weren't sold out! This stuff is vinyl collector, music lover and crate digger's gold. Go on, get it!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Mr. Sound Boy King - 2010/09/13 05:09

Finally got my mitts on "Move of ten" by Autechre. Holy shit. Rules.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by therk - 2010/09/13 05:22

bvdub - the art of dying alone. awesome!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2010/09/13 05:29

Can't wait for MACHINE to release. Hope it's not the last community album!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teacherofstalker - 2010/09/13 06:25

Swans - Eden Prison

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by manforthe firm - 2010/09/13 07:29

Making Prodigy's "Smack My Bitch Up" & "Voodoo People" in Ableton

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eU5Dn-WaEII>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6ZYLp5uX9Yw&NR=1>

Liam Howlett sample wizard. Pure class!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/09/14 18:05

listening to a track called Five8, re-connected with a pal from years ago,
at a cafe by chance in byron bay..
they told me about their soundcloud account,
and the first tune is pretty cool.

<http://soundcloud.com/daluka-1/five-seven-master>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/09/14 23:29

husc.sound wrote:

Akira Kurasawa movie soundtracks 1950 - 1958

a breathtaking 4 lp box.. i cried when I bought it and was amazed the limited 1000 copies weren't sold out! This stuff is vinyl collector, music lover and crate digger's gold. Go on, get it!

Great, now I need to try and track this down... :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/09/15 13:18

john hughes - scarlet diva soundtrack

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/09/15 15:00

lameaim wrote:

husc.sound wrote:

Akira Kurasawa movie soundtracks 1950 - 1958

a breathtaking 4 lp box.. i cried when I bought it and was amazed the limited 1000 copies weren't sold out! This stuff is vinyl collector, music lover and crate digger's gold. Go on, get it!

Great, now I need to try and track this down... :laugh:

<http://www.jazzloft.com/p-52256-akira-kurosawas-movie-soundtracks-1950-1958-180g-4-lp-set.aspx>

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/09/18 15:59

husc.sound wrote:
lameaim wrote:
husc.sound wrote:
Akira Kurasawa movie soundtracks 1950 - 1958

a breathtaking 4 lp box.. i cried when I bought it and was amazed the limited 1000 copies weren't sold out! This stuff is vinyl collector, music lover and crate digger's gold. Go on, get it!

Great, now I need to try and track this down... :laugh:

<http://www.jazzloft.com/p-52256-akira-kurosawas-movie-soundtracks-1950-1958-180g-4-lp-set.aspx>

:)

Asked my local music store friend to see if he could track it down, but I ended up taking this problem to the internet and placing a order with Sound Stage Direct (actually it was 15 dollars cheaper.) First time I've ordered anything there... and I'm sure I will be doing business with them again. Nice, overpackaged box, single LPs in individual sleeves, etc. - sent out within a couple hours of my order.

As for the box set, I received it today. Haven't gotten to listen yet but it is definitely one of the best looking vinyl box sets I've seen in a good while. Can't wait to break it in this weekend.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/09/21 03:11

Coldcut 70 mins of madness. for free this week from Ninjatune. Its historic. and essential.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/09/21 04:14

Hertzian Cone wrote:
Coldcut 70 mins of madness. for free this week from Ninjatune. Its historic. and essential.
Where for free? Ninjatune site? I'm so there, dude! Journeys by DJ/Coldcut is one of my favorite all-time mixes!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/09/21 04:29

<http://www.ninjatunexx.com/>

Its actually from the 2002 mix but pretty much the same.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xheindrichs - 2010/09/22 04:06

Another free thing: an Autechre remix...

Not bad!!

Bye

Xa

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2010/09/22 05:10

Thanks xheindrichs!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/09/22 06:20

poonti wrote:

Hertzian Cone wrote:

Coldcut 70 mins of madness. for free this week from Ninjatune. Its historic. and essential.

Where for free? Ninjatune site? I'm so there, dude! Journeys by DJ/Coldcut is one of my favorite all-time mixes!

real djing. All tempos, all styles, no compromise. Absolute classic.

edit. sounds different to the original though if my memory serves me correctly.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/09/22 08:00

LIVESEQ wrote:

real djing. All tempos, all styles, no compromise. Absolute classic.

:word:

That Coldcut DJD mix CD, Warp: BlechII Blechsdoittir, and The Chemical Brothers: Live at The Social were all awesome, no holds barred, all tempos, all styles... before everything really got pidgeonholed. Real journeys, they were....damn I'm getting all goosepimply now. Does anyone still produce mixes like those?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/09/22 15:44

@ Poonti

Try DJ Rob Hall That should give you the smiles. He did a series of 12 mixes, 1 a month, excellent each one. They all used to be on soundmodelfruit, but thats no longer running, I might just reupload myself if i get the chance.

+1 for Blech 2 - awesome.

http://www.play.fm/recording/wrongbboystance200707019595#play_9595

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/09/22 20:50

Thanks Hertz, I'll check this out!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/09/23 21:46

a nice track titled "Rekall" by plastikman.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/09/28 21:47

Speaking of ColdCut/NinjaTune/Etc, I just saw this (could be interesting reading for those that followed the sounds of NT): http://www.amazon.ca/gp/product/1907317007/ref=pe_4690_17072430_snp_dp

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/10/01 22:16

Going to Ninjatune XX tomorrow night Yay!

However, in the spirit of the impending Eno release i have been listening to a few bits and pieces.

Like

Eno and The Edge for Ghost in the Shell SAC http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tan_i7Z8RGo

Eno and Byrne
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=X_amHYX7cH0

This lead me to listen to this, just because of the sheer obtuseness of the sound placement of the samples and the like

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yL8N9Jn4IS4>

Funny old day.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/10/05 04:46

deerhunter - halcyon digest
no age - everything in between

...only albums this good were able to rip me away from a recent dnb kick, with dillinja's cybotron on repeat... =)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emminor9 - 2010/10/05 05:51

Bola 'Gnayse' as I'm typing. Happy rediscovery.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2010/10/05 15:15

deer hunter halcyon digest, on repeat here ATM shit robot shed- the traveler

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/10/08 18:58

Another gig tonight, busy doing great things, finishing my master in design, head over heels.. still slightly depressed with life and unemployment, fucking politics and people fucking things up. I'm too spoiled too survive and right now the drive by truckers are the only thing pulling me through the day.

the drive by truckers - the dirty south

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/10/09 01:43

I'm off to see Plaid and the South Bank Gamelan Players this evening. Which promises to be a rare treat.
:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/10/09 05:16

WHere do you live Hertz? It seems like you're getting to see a lot of my favorite techno artists from the 90's...none of that around here :huh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/10/20 02:23

@Poonti - I'm South London
But that was then

Now I'm listening to FSOL essential mix 1993

Its a dirty monkey:P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by shadowdancer - 2010/10/20 03:21

poonti wrote:

Does anyone still produce mixes like those?

While attempting not to make this look like some kind of spamming, you might be interested in this 150 minute mix I had to do for the Palms Out Sounds podcast. Not that I'm comparing it to said JDJ or Blech mixes, obviously ;)

<http://soundcloud.com/shadowdancerbnr/shadow-dancer-palms-out-sounds-of-summer-mix-july-2009>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2010/10/20 03:32

had my first experience of ben frost tonight... nice textures but really wished autechre were on percussion.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teacherofstalker - 2010/10/20 04:03

(^ Ben Frost has got a track called "We Love You Michael Gira", Swans' frontman)

Swans - My Father Will Guide Me Up A Rope To The Sky

Model 500 - OFI

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2010/10/20 04:17

^ I got some swans the other day, always meant to check them out... a job for tomorrow since you linked it so nicely!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teacherofstalker - 2010/10/20 05:00

^^ BTW, they're gigging in the UK - got tickets for the London gig next week (I think there're still available tickets).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2010/10/20 05:16

I nearly saw them (or maybe just michael gira) in bristol 5 or so years ago but decided against it... always meant to check them out but never did until now. think manc is the nearest for me but thats pretty doubtful. cheers for the headsup though.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/10/20 05:37

shadowdancer wrote:

poonti wrote:

Does anyone still produce mixes like those?

While attempting not to make this look like some kind of spamming, you might be interested in this 150 minute mix I had to do for the Palms Out Sounds podcast. Not that I'm comparing it to said JDJ or Blech mixes, obviously ;)

<http://soundcloud.com/shadowdancerbnr/shadow-dancer-palms-out-sounds-of-summer-mix-july-2009>

will have a listen shadowdancer!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/10/20 06:58

The Melvins. How can I never have heard them before? :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/10/20 08:55

:silly:

http://elektron-users.com/index.php?option=com_fireboard&Itemid=28&func=view&id=98583&catid=10&limit=10&limitstart=0

even though i've heard it a million times i find myself listening to it all the time. it makes it into the rotation.

that and Supercollider - Raw Digits have been heavy in rotation.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2010/10/20 09:00

Just ordered the new Eno. Previews sound quite mellow - well suited to an old fogey like me. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/10/20 17:26

Bardo Pond goes on repeat during loong prgramming sessions! Great thing about max is I have time to build stuff and listen to music. I hate that I can't listen to music while playing it.

Anyhoe, 'tantric porno' is the one song, the rest is slowly growing on me! Check 'm, get 'm.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tTgSQ1e-CtE>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2010/10/20 18:59

Sufjan Steven's The Age Of Adz
Avey Tare - down there

plus, a bit of a Drexciya binge and space travel; happens every year!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/10/20 22:01

Ninja Tune XX box set. Yow!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2010/10/20 23:55

husc.sound wrote:

Bardo Pond goes on repeat during loong prgramming sessions! Great thing about max is I have time to build stuff and listen to music. I hate that I can't listen to music while playing it.

Anyhoe, 'tantric porno' is the one song, the rest is slowly growing on me! Check 'm, get 'm.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tTgSQ1e-CtE>

thats some niiiice tuneage. thanks

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2010/10/21 10:46

Dub Taylor

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/10/21 11:09

just picked up the new tipper today "surrounded"

its quite beautiful and awesome. well needed in this current electronic music world.

http://www.addictech.com/store/product_info.php?products_id=60862

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/10/25 03:52

Just spent the last 48hrs in the Dunkerque.

French Karaoke 60's/80's/90's theme. :blink:

Actually not as fantastic as it sounds.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/10/28 09:02

Kollektiv Turmstarsse, Live @ Laguna

also the remixes of Zoe Xenia "Let The Music Play"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by johnathon doe - 2010/10/28 17:52

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pWi4hwoff98&hd=1> yummy.

p.s. if you haven't seen it, look for FOR ALL MANKIND. a lot of eno+lanois on the soundtrack. plus, it's some of THE best NASA footage ever.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2010/10/28 23:43

Foals - Total Life Forever
Phoenix - Wolfgang Amadeus Phoenix
Roxy Music - For Your Pleasure

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Biopharmer - 2010/10/29 15:44

I'm just listening to Erasure - Chorus. What an analog synth fest that album is. One of my favorite albums of all time.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2010/11/03 02:38

Pembls Lush downtempo liveset.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/11/03 02:48

still not a new BoC. . .

but since it's starting to get chilly, Spring Heel Jack and Sigur Ros.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by encym - 2010/11/03 03:24

Listening to the latest Brian Eno record, Small Craft on a Milk Sea.
Terrific work.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/11/03 03:26

i'm anxious for this to be released:

<http://www.planet.mu/discography/TIMESIG002>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2010/11/03 04:17

dj sprinkles mid town 120 blues mind-blowing release, seemingly a lecture about deep house within an actual music in action lecture on the construction of real house music, truly epic

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/11/03 19:05

cool man, i would like to hear that.

currently totally in the vibe of Kojak's "Crime in the city" - deep house mix. love it. so many good times, memories, times of liberation in 2000.

edit - although the version im listening to, has a jazz piano solo at the end, it is tripping me out, im sure that wasn't there before. cannot find my original cd, so listening on youtube, lol.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by teacherofstalker - 2010/11/05 00:27

Just got Anodyne's Corrosion - that Close Your Eyes track is awesome.

Semi-OT: I got it from Rough Trade East (London) - they started selling analog synths like Vermona MonoLancet, and they built this booth with a schneiders modular system..

<http://navsmodularlab.blogspot.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/11/05 01:09

Today so far...

Mount Kimbie - Crooks & Lovers

Talk Talk - Laughing Stock, It's My Life, Spirit of Eden

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/11/05 02:07

@ToS

Re Rough Trade.

Really, never knew. Since Turnkey closed down, Towns been missing something.

I will go forthwith the morn.

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lu_ce71 - 2010/11/07 23:29

Octatrack inspiring music:
Darkstar - North
Flying Lotus - Cosmogramma

Other:
Brian Eno - Small Craft on a Milk Sea
(my god is good!):woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/11/09 08:13

Blueprint - 1988.

Waiting for Shigeto - Full Circle.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by darenager - 2010/11/11 21:20

The Isley Brothers - bringin' some warmth on this cold windy November day, those fucking solos! Genius.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2010/11/11 23:45

on an abstack roll lately. I keep looking for minimalistic (NOT Minimal like the soul-less music that dominates modern clubs) music and keep coming back to these three..everything else I've found has been missing..something

Photek
Plastikman
Squarepusher

oldies but goodies. All the talk about Mt.Kimbey makes me consider checking him/her/them out, they're playing locally I think this weekend?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2010/11/12 00:26

TrondC wrote:

Photek
Plastikman
Squarepusher

oldies but goodies.

Can't go wrong with those three. On a minimalistic (but not club minimal) tip, I listened to Mouse on Mars', Vulvaland recently, after many years. One of my faves - very soothing... B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2010/11/13 05:18

Intrusion - The Seduction of Silence. One of the finest dub techno trips I've experienced.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/11/13 06:53

listening to Montego Bay from 'seduction of silence' right now, incredible, cheers for the info.

also enjoying a tune by Soulttek - "lost in love"
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AhJe6Bo9JQQ&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/11/15 08:27

Just come back from Cinematic Orchestra and the London Metropolitan Orchestra doing Amon Tobin, and Dorian Concept.

Deluxe.

Advice, At the Royal Albert Hall, get a seat in the Choir its like standing in the Percussion Gallery at the back, wicked and cheap too.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nya - 2010/11/15 08:40

Sun Ra - Lanquidity: Sun Ra at his grooviest
Bugge Wesseltuft & Sidsel Endersen - Out Here In There: loooooovely

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2010/11/15 09:51

Hertzian Cone wrote:

Just come back from Cinematic Orchestra and the London Metropolitan Orchestra doing Amon Tobin, and Dorian Concept.

Deluxe.

Advice, At the Royal Albert Hall, get a seat in the Choir its like standing in the Percussion Gallery at the back, wicked and cheap too.

Very cool... and a happy birfdays in order as well I believe.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2010/11/17 00:48

J. Garbarek / Hilliard Ensemble, "Officium Novum"

...Actually I lied: I haven't heard this yet, just heard it came out last month and as a fan of the original 1994 "Officium" I'm wondering if anyone else has checked it out.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by actuel - 2010/11/20 00:23

Two new titles from Ghostly International:

Shigeto - Full Circle: <http://cl.ly/3JY8>

Gold Panda - Lucky Shiner: <http://cl.ly/3JPM>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/11/20 00:50

polyslax wrote:

Very cool... and a happy birfday is in order as well I believe.

It was cool, as in the conductor and audience is looking at you kind of way, thank you, just hit my 40, old enough to be embarrassing, young enough to survive.

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/11/20 00:55

dubathonic wrote:

J. Garbarek / Hilliard Ensemble, "Officium Novum"

...Actually I lied: I haven't heard this yet, just heard it came out last month and as a fan of the original 1994 "Officium" I'm wondering if anyone else has checked it out.

i'll be checking it out. i'm a big fan of jan

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2010/11/20 03:51

^ Sweet....post a review here in case you beat me to it :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barik - 2010/11/20 05:32

Grinderman 2...for me:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/11/21 01:55

actuel wrote:

Two new titles from Ghostly International:

Shigeto - Full Circle: <http://cl.ly/3JY8>

Gold Panda - Lucky Shiner: <http://cl.ly/3JPM>

shigeto :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by stevlaa - 2010/11/21 18:58

Hi,

Have recently discovered a guy called phaleh and just purchased his fallen light EP. Inspiring

Stevlaa

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/11/24 22:45

enjoying a Saytek live mix in Ibiza,

<http://www.vimeo.com/9673924>

he uses separate outputs from computer going to four channels of an 800 mixer, nice technique.

i just tried something similar, earlier on today by coincidence. cool! :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2010/11/24 23:20

^ He doesn't seem to be having too much trouble tweaking that MC909 either... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/11/27 21:48

Afterglow of Screamelica last night @ Olympia.

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/11/29 10:41

high places

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2010/11/29 15:45

Confession time - I don't listen to much electronic music. Obviously, I'm not ignorant to it's existence (having the MD and fighting myself from buying more synths! :P), just uninformed!

I've listened to a few things y'all have posted and it's (usually) been really great!
Not only can I learn new ways of playing with my toy, but I can find out about some new, rockin' groups/bands/artists/what have you.

Just wanted to say effin' thanks for adding fuel to the spark!
Post up some of y'all's "all time favorites", if it's possible. I know it's hard to limit because of all the beautiful stuff out there, but just to give me some more, interesting stuff to listen to!

Thanks, and sorry this is a bit OT
Peace!

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2010/11/29 18:40

Cult of Luna - everything

In some review someone mentioned it works like a drug.. it does.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0RzVpwfRVeo> ouch

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2010/11/30 02:20

einoma
rony and suzy animals on wheels

all available here:

<http://www.lamadameaveclechien.com/releases.html>

rony/suzy and animals on wheels are kind of dubstep plus IDM plus trip hop.. sort of.. very cool stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/11/30 03:08

RubixGroove wrote:
Post up some of y'all's "all time favorites", if it's possible. I know it's hard to limit because of all the beautiful stuff out there, but just to give me some more, interesting stuff to listen to!

Thanks, and sorry this is a bit OT

Sorry, Rubix, it is OT -- please start a new thread if you want people to recommend stuff specifically. . . or take a stroll through this epic thread!

Thanks,

M

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2010/12/01 01:07

A cool performance on Korg Electribes and live instruments I heard about over at electribe-forums. The original post by Giomakyo:

...

Here's a recent recording from one of my recent live sets with MAKYO... I use both an EMX & ESX (though mostly ESX here) with electric saz (Turkish stringed instrument), santoor (Indian dulcimer basically), and darbukka (arab percussion)...

http://soundcloud.com/dakini-records/ma ... k-live-mix

And here's live vid from the show... with the added benefit of an amazing bellydancer:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bOttVYSm_Kc

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2010/12/01 11:12

fred frith - speechless

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/12/09 00:30

actuel wrote:

Two new titles from Ghostly International:

Shigeto - Full Circle: <http://cl.ly/3JY8>

Gold Panda - Lucky Shiner: <http://cl.ly/3JPM>

Haven't been able to get into the Gold Panda album (little sad because I really loved the Quitter's Raga and You EPs, think I just need to re-approach in a few weeks) but Full Circle is the shit. Definitely one of my faves this year.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/12/09 02:28

actuel wrote:

Two new titles from Ghostly International:

Shigeto - Full Circle: <http://cl.ly/3JY8>

Gold Panda - Lucky Shiner: <http://cl.ly/3JPM>

been listening to the same on your recommendation -- different from what i've got in my collection so a nice breath of fresh air. . .

. . . balanced by old stand-bys -- Autechre - Oversteps. I really like this album a lot, for different reasons, every time I listen to it.

my BoC tear from the fall had to end sometime (but I'm still not listening to their new album! c'mon guys!)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by EmTeX - 2010/12/09 02:40

dubathonic wrote:

A cool performance on Korg Electribes and live instruments I heard about over at electribe-forums. The original post by Giomakyo:

...

Here's a recent recording from one of my recent live sets with MAKYO... I use both an EMX & ESX (though mostly ESX here) with electric saz (Turkish stringed instrument), santoor (Indian dulcimer basically), and darbukka (arab percussion)...

http://soundcloud.com/dakini-records/ma ... k-live-mix

And here's live vid from the show... with the added benefit of an amazing bellydancer:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bOttVYSm_Kc

wow. really great video. thanks for sharing!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2010/12/09 06:33

actuel wrote:

Two new titles from Ghostly International:

Shigeto - Full Circle: <http://cl.ly/3JY8>

Gold Panda - Lucky Shiner: <http://cl.ly/3JPM>

Damn but I'm glad I dropped by this thread. Coupla real gems here actuel, thanks!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2010/12/10 04:45

Camu Tao - King of Hearts - this is what hip-hop needed sadly Camu passed

Cage - Depart from Me

Anamanaguchi - various tracks - chiptuny rock punk

Gangrene (The Alchemist & Oh No) - Gutter Water

Alias & Tarsier - Brookland And Oaklyn -

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/12/10 09:29

-New Order and Joy Division

-The Cure

-Cocteau Twins

-some tracks off Kanye's new one

-James Blake
-oOoOO
-Jonsi (& Alex)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jsrockit - 2010/12/10 18:20

Gangrene - Gutter Water
anika
Joanna Newsom
Bill Callahan
Beak>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2010/12/10 20:34

HipHop Karaoke at the Social. Priceless.:)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/12/11 03:06

xibalba wrote:

Camu Tao - King of Hearts - this is what hip-hop needed sadly Camu passed
Cage - Depart from Me
Anamanaguchi - various tracks - chiptuny rock punk
Gangrene (The Alchemist & Oh No) - Gutter Water
Alias & Tarsier - Brookland And Oaklyn -

I need to pick up that Gangrene ASAP.

How does the new Cage compare to Hell's Winter? I've heard mixed things.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2010/12/11 03:38

lameaim wrote:

I need to pick up that Gangrene ASAP.

How does the new Cage compare to Hell's Winter? I've heard mixed things.

It's a complete 180, most of the beats are more guitar oriented (mostly due to F. Sean Martin's production he is ex-Hatebreed which was a hardcore punk/metal band). A lot of the lyrics are I find more personal but it doesn't detract from the music. The rhymes are more straight up and in your face which most call it "emo rap" which i find completely stupid. If you really loved Cage's old works and want to hear more of that you will be dissapointed but if you want to hear something new and kinda refreshing pick it up def. El-P and Aesop Rock also produced some tracks on it.

As for Gangrene i enjoyed the shit out of it, the video for Take Drugs is pretty awesome as well.

Also if you haven't i highly highly highly recommend King of Hearts by Camu Tao it is just really different from stuff out there he has (well had since he is dead) such an engaging voice that really speaks loudly and uniquely.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2010/12/11 05:58

xibalba wrote:

lameaim wrote:

I need to pick up that Gangrene ASAP.

How does the new Cage compare to Hell's Winter? I've heard mixed things.

It's a complete 180, most of the beats are more guitar oriented (mostly due to F. Sean Martin's production he is ex-Hatebreed which was a hardcore punk/metal band). A lot of the lyrics are I find more personal but it doesn't detract from the music. The rhymes are more straight up and in your face which most call it "emo rap" which i find completely stupid. If you really loved Cage's old works and want to hear more of that you will be dissapointed but if you want to hear something new and kinda refreshing pick it up def. El-P and Aesop Rock also produced some tracks on it.

As for Gangrene i enjoyed the shit out of it, the video for Take Drugs is pretty awesome as well.

Also if you haven't i highly highly highly recommend King of Hearts by Camu Tao it is just really different from stuff out there he has (well had since he is dead) such an engaging voice that really speaks loudly and uniquely.

I really enjoyed Hell's Winter, so.... guessing I'll try before I buy. Thank you for your input.

Coincidentally the Camu Tao is in a box and on its way to my doorstep from Amazon, along with the Inception blu-ray and a couple of other things for Christmas gifts. :D

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2010/12/13 06:52

Kura - Crystal Clear - remix by Max Cooper

<http://soundcloud.com/max-cooper/kura-crystal-clear-max-cooper-remix> pretty beautiful voice, cool song rework ... also interesting to note that the band allowed Kura's vocals to be pitched upwards slightly by the remixer (after some initial reluctance).

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Logeek - 2010/12/13 12:58

If I'm listening to my I- tunes Dj, I never know but it seems to favour everything from Blind Blake to Bill Monroe to the Beatles.

Exploring electronic music: Autechre, Alva Noto, Terry Riley, Ryuichi Sakamoto, Tangerine Dream...

Anybody hear of Amanda? She is a little girl from somewhere in Texas (?) who used a very early sampler toy and did some really crazy stuff, (expensive equipment does not great music make and I'm no one to talk) it reminds me of Moondog but with lots of screaming.

Late Beethoveen String Quartets, Glenn Gould-first and final recording of the Goldberg Variations... Bauhaus... Grateful Dead "plundered" by John Oswald...

I could go on...

OK I will spent last Friday night listening to the whole final Fillmore East concert by The Allman Brothers (Duane Allman is / and was the man).

Oh yeah, my stuff and lots of Feedback from Gleetchlab3. :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by djd_oz - 2010/12/20 19:12

Da Bomb*

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AQZgSWffeo>

*I don't normally listen to dubstep

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2010/12/23 22:33

this shit, produced by El-P with Rhymes by Mike Bigga (Killer Mike)

<http://bit.ly/g2TFv1>

makes me scared to make beats again.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/12/23 22:40

arvo part - te deum (including Berliner Messe) tilliander - 10 years of dub set

jonsi - go

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ipassenger - 2010/12/23 22:52

Just listening to RAs Space Dimension Controller DJ Mix and it is ace. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Repeatle - 2010/12/23 22:59

papertiger wrote:

tilliander - 10 years of dub set

Thanks for the support!

Shed - Shedding The Past

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/12/23 23:13

papertiger wrote:

arvo part - te deum (including Berliner Messe)

Yes! Such an amazing work. My favorite by Arvo Part. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2010/12/24 02:32

ThinkTanx wrote:

papertiger wrote:

arvo part - te deum (including Berliner Messe)

Yes! Such an amazing work. My favorite by Arvo Part. B)

I asked my "secret" santa (pretty sure I drew my dad since he kept harassing me to send out my list) for some more Part -
- excited to see what I get!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/12/24 02:36

papertiger wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

papertiger wrote:

arvo part - te deum (including Berliner Messe)

Yes! Such an amazing work. My favorite by Arvo Part. B)

I asked my "secret" santa (pretty sure I drew my dad since he kept harassing me to send out my list) for some more Part -
- excited to see what I get!

Vinyl?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2010/12/30 04:00

Listening to some old Massive Attack today (Blue Lines, Mezzanine). Its been a loooooong time.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2010/12/30 04:32

7L & Esoteric

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Leccius - 2011/01/04 01:32

Simian Mobile Disco "Delicacies"

Solvent - Subject To Shift

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/01/04 02:17

Repeatle: been really into your stuff lately, the sound of the Kondens project is spot on my kind of dub :)

also been revisiting the Leftfield album "Rythm & Stealth", which is an absolute techno/electronica masterpiece, far better than "Leftism" which is the album they usually get associated with. Got me GAS'ing for a sherman again....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Leccius - 2011/01/04 20:23

<http://img11.imageshack.us/i/img04473980628.jpg/>
Yo!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Seadweller - 2011/01/04 20:49

"The End of All Existence - The End of All Existence" Dark Ambient Techno (from Milton Bradley i think).

I am one of the lucky ones who managed to grab in on vinyl from hardwax...B) well, ok... it s a very special sound, few people are into it

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2011/01/05 07:33

Subjex - Funky Nightmare
LA Synthesis - Agraphobia
Biosphere - Novelty Waves (HIA)

Sometimes i need to go back to get down

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by astronaut - 2011/01/05 07:35

Japan
Dalis Car
Rain Tree Crow

RIP Mick Karn

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2011/01/05 07:49

astronaut wrote:

RIP Mick Karn

Just learned of this.. such a shame.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jdn - 2011/01/05 09:13

Radio Rothko (Dub Techno mix album done by Deadbeat)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/01/12 06:24

The Books B)

Haven't listened to them in a while. I often go long periods where I kind of forget about them and then every time I come back to them, I'm amazed all over again. The Lemon of Pink is just such an incredible, unique album.

Inspiring music to listen to while dreaming of the Octatrack too. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/01/12 06:55

Dbridge panic girl remix. My neighbours love the sub.

Mathew Jonson Twin Cobras. Love the slow evolution of it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2011/01/12 07:00

Soca Martiniquais Style! - Ruff enough

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2011/01/12 08:16

ThinkTanx wrote:

The Books B)

Haven't listened to them in a while. I often go long periods where I kind of forget about them and then every time I come back to them, I'm amazed all over again. The Lemon of Pink is just such an incredible, unique album.

Inspiring music to listen to while dreaming of the Octatrack too. :)

That is... just, like, wow. Thanks for this!

I lead such a sheltered life... thank god for this thread, and you people, my crack team of musicologists scouring the globe for these pearls. :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/01/12 08:19

polyslax wrote:
ThinkTanx wrote:
The Books B)

Haven't listened to them in a while. I often go long periods where I kind of forget about them and then every time I come back to them, I'm amazed all over again. The Lemon of Pink is just such an incredible, unique album.

Inspiring music to listen to while dreaming of the Octatrack too. :)

That is... just, like, wow. Thanks for this!

I lead such a sheltered life... thank god for this thread, and you people, my crack team of musicologists scouring the globe for these pearls. :)

Ha! I would have definitely pinned you for a Books fan, after hearing your own music. Glad I could be of service. I love this thread too. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2011/01/14 03:21

Robyn Hitchcocks' 80s album - I Often Dream Of Trains

Realatively unsung hero is Mr. Hitchcock.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Logeek - 2011/01/16 14:37

Broadcast... RIP Trish Keenan

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/01/16 14:45

Logeek wrote:
Broadcast... RIP Trish Keenan

Absolutely. Such an amazing band, such a huge bummer...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/01/16 18:00

i only saw broadcast about a month ago in melbourne. have been a fan since late 90's.

this really effected me yesterday when i got the news. they really have spent many hours in my headphones and coming out of my speakers. i love them.

I was so happy to finally see them live.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dorfmeister - 2011/01/17 02:50

Krautrock, The Fall, Young Marble Giants, Miles Davis' "On The Corner", Fela Kuti.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/01/17 03:02

Leccius wrote:

<http://img11.imageshack.us/i/img04473980628.jpg/>

Yo!!!

two of the best electronic albums of all time + one of the most interesting synths of all time :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/01/17 09:42

TrondC wrote:

Leccius wrote:

<http://img11.imageshack.us/i/img04473980628.jpg/>

Yo!!!

two of the best electronic albums of all time + one of the most interesting synths of all time :)

Ya, agree on the Leftfield Leftism. What's the one underneath it? Can't make it out.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by djd_oz - 2011/01/23 22:25

Ricardo Villalobos - Dexter

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=h0i1Szq6GM8>

still sends chills down my spine

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2011/01/23 22:52

Crystal Castles + Robet Smith - Not in Love

Crystal Castles feat Robert Smith - Not in Love (Fap Fap Mix)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2011/01/23 23:04

dorfmeister wrote:

Miles Davis' "On The Corner"

Oh yeah. The solos Liebman and McLaughlin lay down on the title cut are among my favorites ever.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2011/01/23 23:39

djd_oz wrote:

Ricardo Villalobos - Dexter

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=h0i1Szq6GM8>

still sends chills down my spine

B) Great Track!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2011/01/24 02:24

As the worlds #1 Future Sound Of London Fan, and with impending sound collage mayhem with OT been listening to Lifeforms just now (their best imo)

Room 208

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/01/24 02:37

poonti wrote:

TrondC wrote:

Leccius wrote:

<http://img11.imageshack.us/i/img04473980628.jpg/>

Yo!!!

two of the best electronic albums of all time + one of the most interesting synths of all time :)

Ya, agree on the Leftfield Leftism. What's the one underneath it? Can't make it out.

Rythm & Stealth, which is superior in every possible way to Leftism ;)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2011/01/24 02:46

TrondC wrote:

Rythm & Stealth, which is superior in every possible way to Leftism ;)

just joining in here and not being rude..... but,

you're so wrong.

keep whatever it is youre smoking

Edit - ok i'll have alittle bit.;)

:P

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Biopharmer - 2011/01/24 20:10

Just lissnin to my Autechre CD's... which reminds me... I need to get their new ones.

I'm also listening to Teargas and Plateglass as well as the track "Banstyle/Sappy's Curry" by Underworld, which is my favorite track of theirs.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/01/24 20:24

Hertzian Cone wrote:

TrondC wrote:

Rythm & Stealth, which is superior in every possible way to Leftism ;)

just joining in here and not being rude..... but,

you're so wrong.

keep whatever it is youre smoking

Edit - ok i'll have alittle bit.;)

:P

yeah I get that all the time, but when I hear Leftism, I hear good, generic dance tracks. enter R&S and I hear complex, innovative and unique electronica, and I still have not heard anything like it ever since :) guess I just like it different...

both albums are incredibly good tho!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Hertzian Cone - 2011/01/25 05:14

Model 500 OFI

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/01/25 09:05

TrondC wrote:

Hertzian Cone wrote:

TrondC wrote:

Rythm & Stealth, which is superior in every possible way to Leftism ;)

just joining in here and not being rude..... but,

you're so wrong.

keep whatever it is youre smoking

Edit - ok i'll have alittle bit.;

:P

yeah I get that all the time, but when I hear Leftism, I hear good, generic dance tracks. enter R&S and I hear complex, innovative and unique electronica, and I still have not heard anything like it ever since :) guess I just like it different...

both albums are incredibly good tho!

will def have to check out rythm & stealth then!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2011/01/26 17:24

Been trying to decide which Automator project I like more between Dr. Octagon or Deltron 3030...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by diabolik! - 2011/02/02 20:36

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=11RC8vvtUpA&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/02/02 21:22

Hertzian Cone wrote:
Model 500 OFI:woohoo:

been looping I wanna be there recently.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2011/02/12 21:53

Crystallised - The xx (Dark Sky remix)
<http://soundcloud.com/dark-sky/crystallised-dark-sky-remix>

i wonder if the bass sound is an oberheim.
technicalities aside, enjoying the vibe.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2011/02/12 22:00

Speed Dealer Moms

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/02/12 23:58

The Undisputed Truth

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2011/02/13 09:15

a Middleton remix of an Orbital track, Halcyon ..

<http://soundcloud.com/tommiddleton/orbital-halcyon-tom-middleton-remix> cool sound, not too experimental or anything, just nice listening on a sunday.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/02/13 09:36

sunken foal - mother of god

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/02/13 09:36

sunken foal - mother of god

it's that good...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2011/02/15 15:02

epic.. ear!!

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=78_loMbmKJ8&feature=related

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/02/24 01:48

Preview of Amon Tobin New Album.

sweet.

<http://soundcloud.com/amon-tobin/isam-preview>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/02/24 02:07

Photek - Solaris. one of the most underrated albums in electronic music. too experimental for the dnb heads, and too mellow for the 4x4 heads. perfect for me ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/02/24 03:44

^On a similar note, I've been listenin to A Guy Called Gerald today. Black Secret Technology. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by neilbaldwin - 2011/02/24 04:24

Nothing to add to this thread really as I'm generally as out-of-date as my dad when it comes to modern music. Just wanted to say that I'm loving a lot of the recommendations - great stuff.

Probably old stuff but I recently discovered Andy Stott and also Various Productions both which appeal to me.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/02/24 04:29

ThinkTanx wrote:

^On a similar note, I've been listenin to A Guy Called Gerald today. Black Secret Technology. B)

Such a great album

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bigus - 2011/02/24 04:52

TrondC wrote:

Photek - Solaris. one of the most underrated albums in electronic music. too experimental for the dnb heads, and too mellow for the 4x4 heads. perfect for me ;)

neilbaldwin wrote:

Nothing to add to this thread really as I'm generally as out-of-date as my dad when it comes to modern music. Just wanted to say that I'm loving a lot of the recommendations - great stuff.

Probably old stuff but I recently discovered Andy Stott and also Various Productions both which appeal to me.

and a guy called gerald - all brilliant.

these days gold pandas album gets a lot of play.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/02/24 06:52

ThinkTanx wrote:

^On a similar note, I've been listenin to A Guy Called Gerald today. Black Secret Technology. B)

Love this album. How did he transport an octatrack back in time? :huh:

<http://soundcloud.com/aguycalledgerald/24-7-2/>

check out his juice box stuff as well if you haven't already.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7ipOMR10ipQ&feature=related>

I've been tuning in to dave clark whitenoise for a bit of a tech fix

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2011/02/24 06:55

-
- Broken Social Scene
 - Deer Hoof
 - De Facto
 - Tera Melos

;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Swiss - 2011/02/24 06:59

Can a mod fix the 'too' to 'to' please ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Slack Babbath - 2011/02/24 07:16

ignatius wrote:
epic.. ear!!

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=78_loMbmKJ8&feature=related

Damn! That a hot ass beat clap!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/02/24 11:57

Swiss wrote:
Can a mod fix the 'too' to 'to' please ;)

It has to be left at this point! We talked about it before, but it's gone this long, we can't change it now! :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/02/24 20:59

ThinkTanx wrote:

Swiss wrote:

Can a mod fix the 'too' to 'to' please ;)

It has to be left at this point! We talked about it before, but it's gone this long, we can't change it now! :laugh:
ha ha, was thinking the same thing! i like the tooooooooooo

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2011/02/24 21:03

this is cool.... & free :

<http://www.maxtannone.com/projects/selene/> hip-hop meets Clint Mansell's Moon score... it shouldnt work, but it does ! :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Dano1980 - 2011/02/28 22:47

<http://www.youtube.com/user/SynesthesiaeFilms> is a goldmine of cool music with gems like this: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=b1hTjMdJdFQ>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Repeatle - 2011/03/03 01:53

My latest purchases:

Appointment - Evolutionary Noise 12" (Appointment)
Milton Bradley - A Sky Full Of Numbers 12" (Dont Resist That Beat!)
Conforce - Grace 12" (Styrax Leaves)
Rolando - De Cago 12" (Ostgut Ton)
Shackleton - Deadman 12" (Honest Jons)
Cosmin TRG - Separat / Izolat 12" (Fifty Weapons)
Asusu - No Kya 12" (Project Squared)
Koi - Deaf Torero 12" (Styrax Leaves)
JS - Reworks 12" (Styrax Leaves)
STL - And His Quest For Sound 2*12" (Something Records)
Instra:mental / Von D & Riskotheque - Voyeur / Like A Bird 12" (Disfigured Dubz)
Sandwell District - Feed Forward Test Session 12" (Sandwell District)
Pelon - No Stunts 12" (Running Back)
Wolfgang Voigt - Du Musst Nicht Sagen 12" (Profan)
Marcel Dettmann - Kontra Mokira Remixes 12" (Kontra-Musik)

(got the last one for free though, hehe)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/03/03 02:54

Repeatle wrote:

Shackleton - Deadman 12" (Honest Jons)

Heard the King Midas Sound "Death Dub Remix" off this. Super sick. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bryantalbot - 2011/03/03 03:17

Jon Hassell - last night the moon came dropping its clothes in the street

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by abemora - 2011/03/03 13:08

Just got the free download of Juan Atkins....the only track i really love is:kiss: "Summer in the City"
you can download it here for free- <http://preemtiv.com/emails/juanatkins/>

Also love some the stuff these girls have been doing here- <http://www.officialcreep.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/03/06 12:17

What does your soul look like?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/03/06 12:30

enjoying ATM:
Virgo four resurrection :raw:
radiohead
Omar S
AFX analord series
hype Williams

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by p_ACHE - 2011/03/06 23:28

Efdemin, Lawrence, John Roberts ... sexy techno !

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by blue_lu - 2011/03/06 23:46

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XmWOMSydU1A>

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cqMnV_zL51k

Siriusmo, epic new LP "mosaik" on monkeytown (mdslktr)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/03/07 03:44

Dubstep Allstars 2005 and 2006 (from when I used to listen to dubstep)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2011/03/08 04:43

Cyclo - id
really slamming, for Rastor Noton anyway :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by blue_lu - 2011/03/09 04:27

how could I miss this:

ONRA - long distance

FIYAH!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/03/11 01:20

Tipper - Broken Soul Jamboree.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/03/11 08:20

blue_lu wrote:
how could I miss this:

ONRA - long distance

FIYAH!

I'll be on that presently . Thanks for the tip!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by hyphen - 2011/03/11 14:13

been kinda enjoying White Ring a bit...dig the heavy simplicity of it...reminds me of Sabbath...http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_sGSntTw_Q4&feature=player_embedded

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/03/12 17:25

Taday I have woken up with:

Sonic Youth - Teenage Riot

Yeah!

That'll do it.

makes me happy to tears

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2011/03/13 01:59

Mark Fell - Multistability

A true assault on the conch sounds like the album he wanted to make without the restraints of the SND moniker delightful

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Dano1980 - 2011/03/17 22:49

Instatubes stuff

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/03/17 22:59

Drumcode label

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by The Seadweller - 2011/03/18 16:48

BEATPORT TOP 10 MINIMAL (yeah)

.... i m joking of course...B)

btw, i m in the search for good old techno records...you know, the ones that aren't instantly recognizable as "ableton tracks" ...I m not a hater, trully the opposite..but...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2011/03/19 22:35

Shlohmo -- Places EP
MellowHype -- BLACKENDWHITE
Low Limit -- "Trapperkeeper" and "Turf Day" Man Mantis -- Sea Ambulance EP
Thavius Beck -- Dialogue
The Notwist -- The Devil, You + Me (love this album)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/03/19 23:31

The Seadweller wrote:btw, i m in the search for good old techno records...you know, the ones that aren't instantly recognizable as "ableton tracks" ...I m not a hater, trully the opposite..but...
My general experience after listening to electronic music since 1980 is that there are some really great old techno tracks, as well as some really shite ones. Same holds true for Beatport/Ableton tracks...and probably true for every single musical genre imaginable.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TheWood - 2011/03/20 04:35

Underworld's new album "Barking." Quality material.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2011/03/28 01:12

- kangding ray, pruit igoe -

- Helios, Eingya -

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2011/03/28 02:12

MARK FELL - MULTISTABILITY
TOTALLY EFFED UP (in a thoroughly enjoyable way) :walkaway:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/03/28 02:42

The Seadweller wrote:
BEATPORT TOP 10 MINIMAL (yeah)

.... i m joking of course...B)

btw, i m in the search for good old techno records...you know, the ones that aren't instantly recognizable as "ableton tracks" ...I m not a hater, trully the opposite..but...

Drumcode! (the label) for some of the best techno I've heard Kontra-Musik! (the label) for some of the best alternative techno I've heard and obviously anything from the Underground Resistance collective ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2011/03/29 10:54

Lusine - Podgelism

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2011/03/29 18:06

Recents:

Tortoise - A Lazarus Taxon
Tortoise - Beacons of Ancestorship
Tim Hecker - Ravedeath, 1972
Richard Skelton - Marking Time
Dosh - Wolves and Wishes

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2011/03/31 10:26

very cool funky minimal (genre ?) track called "Phase 3", in the early club scene of the film "Surrogates" (a film that was adapted, interestingly enough, from a graphic novel illustrated by brett weldele who posts on these very forums).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/04/08 05:29

polyslax wrote:

Recents:

Tortoise - Beacons of Ancestorship

^this^ Thanks for the suggestion Mathew. Beautiful.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2011/04/08 05:51

LIVESEQ wrote:

polyslax wrote:

Recents:

Tortoise - Beacons of Ancestorship

^this^ Thanks for the suggestion Mathew. Beautiful.

Pleasure. I've had so many good suggestions from others I was due to pay back. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by shadowdancer - 2011/04/08 06:03

The Seadweller wrote:

BEATPORT TOP 10 MINIMAL (yeah)

.... i m joking of course...B)

btw, i m in the search for good old techno records...you know, the ones that aren't instantly recognizable as "ableton tracks" ...I m not a hater, trully the opposite..but...

Have you looked into the Clone Records & Rush Hour Recordings back-catalogue. Truly two of the best labels around for keeping that older techno sound very much alive. Both from the Netherlands, too. Must be something in the water.....or.....in something else...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by shadowdancer - 2011/04/08 06:06

Dano1980 wrote:

Instatubes stuff

Sadly, Institutubes has just shut up shop due to their insistence on elaborately packaged vinyl that wouldn't sell as people love a good leaked mp3. I believe it's known as "supporting the artist" :/....

A real shame, I know a few of the producers that recorded for the label. A real passionate, talented....er.....French bunch.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by medanum6298 - 2011/04/08 18:22

Wonderwall - Cat Power

watch movies online for free

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bigus - 2011/04/08 18:43

shadowdancer wrote:

Dano1980 wrote:

Instatubes stuff

Sadly, Instatubes has just shut up shop due to their insistence on elaborately packaged vinyl that wouldn't sell as people love a good leaked mp3. I believe it's known as "supporting the artist" :/....

A real shame, I know a few of the producers that recorded for the label. A real passionate, talented....er.....French bunch.

total shame :(

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by shadowdancer - 2011/04/08 19:04

bigus wrote:

shadowdancer wrote:

Dano1980 wrote:

Instatubes stuff

Sadly, Instatubes has just shut up shop due to their insistence on elaborately packaged vinyl that wouldn't sell as people love a good leaked mp3. I believe it's known as "supporting the artist" :/....

A real shame, I know a few of the producers that recorded for the label. A real passionate, talented....er.....French bunch.

total shame :(

Although....not all bad news, as the owner, Teki Latex, formed Sound Pellegrino. And Para One, Surkin and Bobmo are starting their own label, Marble. And Das Glow has now become something of a permanent label mate of mine, recently producing the Carl Craig endorsed (I'm seething with envy over that) 'Calcium' alongside Strip Steve.

Every cloud, etc..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bigus - 2011/04/08 21:00

shadowdancer wrote:

bigus wrote:

shadowdancer wrote:

Dano1980 wrote:

Instatubes stuff

Sadly, Instatubes has just shut up shop due to their insistence on elaborately packaged vinyl that wouldn't sell as people love a good leaked mp3. I believe it's known as "supporting the artist" :/....

A real shame, I know a few of the producers that recorded for the label. A real passionate, talented....er.....French bunch.

total shame :(

Although....not all bad news, as the owner, Teki Latex, formed Sound Pellegrino. And Para One, Surkin and Bobmo are starting their own label, Marble. And Das Glow has now become something of a permanent label mate of mine, recently producing the Carl Craig endorsed (I'm seething with envy over that) 'Calcium' alongside Strip Steve.

Every cloud, etc..

That's exciting about the myriad of connected labels - listened to that marbles track today via xlr8r - its plenty dope.

RE:C2 i'd be envious too :woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2011/04/15 02:12

^ Is that a reference to the Dead Quitenator plug in?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2011/04/15 02:26

tenchi wrote:

^ Is that a reference to the Dead Quitenator plug in?

lol, i wish (john cage, whut?). i've tried to post three times and it's not working. my IE at work has been acting up!

it should say:

today and for the last few days: deadbeat - rothko radio, wild life documentaries and something borrowed; basic channel - bcd; tilliander - 10 years of dub. and i added some pole too. i make album mixes to listen to at work so i can just jam out without trying to DJ myself! =)

before the above, for about a week and a half: metalheadz platinum breaks I and II; grooverider: prototype years. so, so good.

before even that: monolake. and lots of it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/04/15 03:46

Metalheadz FTW.

Basic Channel yum.

Never really listened to much Deadbeat for some reason. I'll have to check him out.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2011/04/15 03:57

forgot to add that Rhythm & Sound is in there also...

TT -- you have to check out deadbeat. SO good. wilkdlife documentaries is my favorite.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/04/15 05:01

^Got it. Been listening. Can see why you like this at work. It's quite relaxing and unobtrusive. In a good way. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2011/04/18 00:33

All the Record Store Day exclusives I bought yesterday :D gloat gloat

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Herbert303 - 2011/04/18 01:37

papertiger wrote:
forgot to add that Rhythm & Sound is in there also...

TT -- you have to check out deadbeat. SO good. wilkdlife documentaries is my favorite.

Aaaah, deep dubber around !

Rhythm & Sound is great, just like most of the stuff coming out of this Berlin soundforge around Moritz von Ostwald (Maurzio).

Basic Channel and Chainreaction are simply all time classix since the day they came out !

Good idea, IÂ´m gonna spin some R & S now. ;-)

What IÂ´m listening to atm is "Niereich". A guy from austria who seems to build a very unique mixing style.

greetz Herr Bert

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/04/21 17:47

Amon Tobins new album - ISAM.

Some sampladelic psychoacoustic bass badness.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2011/04/21 18:05

T H E Y L I V E - 'cancel standard'

- one of the best albums I've listened to in a while...total sci-fi electronica win :cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/04/21 18:29

Kurt Vile - best lp of 2011 thus far Panda Bear
still on the VIRGO FOUR Resurrection trip - "sex rules the world!"
OMAR S collected EPs
Fabric mix by LSD sound system

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GYS - 2011/04/26 04:04

New Beastie Boys! Super duper DOPE.

Listen to the whole thing here:

<http://hotsaucecommittee.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/04/26 08:16

holy ghost

bill Callahan

old electric boogie or electro funk Lps from blogs and mixing them up in the OT!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by watson - 2011/04/26 18:45

deadbeat(thanks for the suggestion forum members)

gail laughton

fight bite

felicia atkinson

grimes

d'eon

cecil holmes - soulful sounds

autechre(ep and singles collection) tindersticks(film soundtracks)

cocorosie

wu-tang clan

grouper

stars of the lid

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2011/05/01 20:28

Recommend me some top-notch 'minimal' y'all. Been diggin' around and so far, 1/3 of what I've heard under the "minimal" flag has been deep & moody... seems like those would be the first stops for that bus. Really intrigued.

Holler

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/05/01 22:50

Are you saying you want to hear more deep & moody minimal? Or more plink plonky minimal? I like the deeper, moodier, more epic sounding stuff myself ... (epic minimal? is this an oxymoron? :laugh:)

Also I don't understand the boundaries between minimal and tech-house as they seem to cross all the time as far as I know. I'll post some of my favorites after some grub :blush:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/05/02 23:52

GYS wrote:

New Beastie Boys! Super duper DOPE.

Listen to the whole thing here:

<http://hotsaucecommittee.com/>

Just watched the fight for the right revisited international version - best thing on the tube yet.

More cowbell.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=evA-R9OS-Vo>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/05/05 00:43

Oops forgot to post some faves after the grub:

Lately, I've been liking SCSI-9 for minimal. My faves from the past few years off the top of my mind:

Minilogue (real hardware, not ITB!)

Mathew Jonson (uses real hardware, not ITB!)

Boris Brejcha

Extrawelt

Deepchord (for dubby stuff)

Audion (Matthew Dear's alter ego)

Kollektiv Turmstrasse

Terry Lee Brown Jr. (more housey side of things)

There's so much being released in minimal, tech-house, that it's really hard finding the gems in the rough, but they're there...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2011/05/10 21:17

Morphosis - 'What Have We Learned'

album of the year so far for me, though the CD comp of the latest Sandwell District stuff is pretty darn good too....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc.sound - 2011/05/10 21:42

Aloe Blacc, Mayor Hawthorne and our Folie 6 recordings.. all making me very happy!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2011/05/10 22:28

Atom tm - clicktrack puts a smile on my face most mornings and I love the moodiness of access to arasaka - chem

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emnine - 2011/05/10 22:31

husc.sound wrote:
and our Folie 6 recordings

This :)

... and

Tindersticks - Claire Denis film scores box
Demdike Stare - Tryptych

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/05/11 08:06

Man, damn near everything on Tri Angle is clicking with me right now.

Holy Other - his new EP sounds amazing. You can download the track 'Touch' for free if you look around on the typical sites.

Clams Casino - Check out his Instrumentals Mixtape, which is comprised of beats he did for the likes of Soulja Boy and Lil B and others. but without the vocals. I never listen to hip-hop like Soulja Boy, but this music is amazing. You would never guess in a million years it was for someone like that. Really noisy and almost ethereal in a way. He also has an instrumental EP coming soon on Tri Angle.

The Weeknd - House of Balloons. Guess I'm in an R&B/Hip-Hop mindframe lately. This is some seriously dark R&B though.

Burial - Street Halo. Of course, my old standby. Can never get enough.

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Oliver808 - 2011/05/11 21:08

Skrillex.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2011/05/14 01:54

Steve Hillage Solar Musick Suite from Fish Rising- outstanding and simply wonderful.....a trip back in time.

for the uninitiated (if there are any....)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Xuc9TuuRM4&playnext=1&list=PL13B9A9F2567A166F>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by djd_oz - 2011/05/14 19:54

Steve Bug RA podcast! B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2011/05/19 04:04

Isolee - "Well Spent Youth"

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/05/19 05:21

Warpaint

Niki and the dove

Fink

Just when I thought I would never find good music :)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by JANGWU - 2011/05/26 07:36

two fingers' 35MIX and a guy called "Webster" Cologne, Germany on soundcloud:
<http://glitchhopforum.com/glitch-hop-mixes/two-fingers-amon-tobin-and-doubleclick-mix-t822.html>
<http://soundcloud.com/webster/tracks>

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/05/26 08:24

JANGWU wrote:

two fingers' 35MIX and a guy called "Webster" Cologne, Germany on soundcloud:
<http://glitchhopforum.com/glitch-hop-mixes/two-fingers-amon-tobin-and-doubleclick-mix-t822.html>
<http://soundcloud.com/webster/tracks>

2 fingers - wicked.

Catching Amon next monthat the roundhouse. Should be a treat for the ears and eyes.

<http://vimeo.com/23939037>

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2011/06/10 08:04

downloading new phoenecia record now! if you do the pre-order you ge t10 tracks immediately for download.. i guess there will be more once the album is released.

<http://phoenecia.bandcamp.com/album/demissions>

stoked!!!!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2011/06/10 16:22

Amanita wrote:

Steve Hillage Solar Musick Suite from Fish Rising- outstanding and simply wonderful.....a trip back in time.

for the uninitiated (if there are any....)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Xuc9TwuRM4&playnext=1&list=PL13B9A9F2567A166F>

I love Steve Hillage! Especially the And Not Or album.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ipassenger - 2011/06/10 17:44

Rush Hour - Best of 2010

Just got it and really enjoying it so far. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Power Wizard - 2011/06/10 20:23

I must get into that ! Its Patrick Moraz and the story of "i" for me this week.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/06/11 04:24

ignatius wrote:

downloading new phoenecia record now! if you do the pre-order you ge t10 tracks immediately for download.. i guess there will be more once the album is released.

<http://phoenecia.bandcamp.com/album/demissions>

stoked!!!!!!

thanks for the tip. this is very inspiring stuff. :)

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by RubixGroove - 2011/06/11 05:42

Iron & Wine (Shepard's Dog)

Jaga Jazzist (Stix)

El Grupo Nuevo De Omar Rodriguez Lopez (Cryptonesia)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/06/17 06:08

This awesome local band have just re-formed after a few years break. Stratospheric guitar tunes with electronics. I mixed for them in a beer garden when I first heard them and it was such a refreshing departure from the usual sounds around here. What a summer that was :)

<http://soundcloud.com/theshadowproject>

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/06/17 06:40

JANGWU wrote:

two fingers' 35MIX and a guy called "Webster" Cologne, Germany on soundcloud:

<http://glitchhopforum.com/glitch-hop-mixes/two-fingers-amon-tobin-and-doubleclick-mix-t822.html>

<http://soundcloud.com/webster/tracks>

funk 45's B) quality

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/06/22 03:56

Movement, CD 2, Oliver Klein mix

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2011/06/22 23:59

Open Mike Eagle -- Rappers Will Die of Natural Causes

ATCQ -- Midnight Marauders

Mr. Muthafuckin' eXquire -- The Big Fat Kill mixtape

13 & God -- Own Your Ghost

Man Mantis -- Cities Without Houses

Friendly Fires -- Pala

Blue Sky Black Death -- Noir, Noir + Violet

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2011/06/24 00:54

burial + four tet - moth

burial - ghost hardware

villalobos - what you say is more than i can say (edit)

burial - street halo

burial - raver

orbital - halcyon + on + on villalobos - dexter

burial - unite

block party - where is home (burial mix) villalobos - que belle epoque 2006

on random and repeat

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/06/24 00:59

^PT, you should check out the Holy Other EP. I think you might dig it. :)

http://bleep.com/index.php?page=release_details&releaseid=29875

The last tune on there is a serious tearjerker. :(:cheer:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by koshimazaki - 2011/06/24 01:08

Ott - Mir
Siriusmo - Mosaik
Augustus Pablo - East of the River Nile
King Tubby Meets Rockers Uptown
Lee Scratch Perry - Arkology
Com Truise - Galactic Melt

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2011/06/24 01:10

ThinkTanx wrote:

^PT, you should check out the Holy Other EP. I think you might dig it. :)

http://bleep.com/index.php?page=release_details&releaseid=29875

The last tune on there is a serious tearjerker. :(:cheer:

oh wow, just read the description. sounds really good. i will check it out!

of course i've also been listening to squaremeter's Nyx album when reading (fits the book, the Terror by dan simmons, really well!)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2011/06/27 11:09

Man, the new Bon Iver is ridonkulous! :silly:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dj_d_oz - 2011/06/27 11:36

papertiger wrote:
villalobos - dexter

:woohoo:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by YNE - 2011/06/28 00:27

Really loving the new album from Ada - Meine zarten Pfoten, which can entirely be heard on Soundcloud (<http://soundcloud.com/pamparecords/sets/pampacd005-ada-meine-zarten-pfoten/>). Apart from that, right now I'm often in the mood for some dub techno:

Deadbeat - Roots and Wire
All stuff from Rhythm & Sound

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2011/06/30 00:27

battles! about half of mirrored and the first one.

ok, also atlas on repeat. that song is just...just YEAH!!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2011/06/30 18:12

Alva Noto - Xerrox

Vladislav Delay - Latoma

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by relapse808 - 2011/07/08 05:37

Anything EDX at the moment!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by flabby - 2011/07/09 02:01

papertiger wrote:
battles! about half of mirrored and the first one.

ok, also atlas on repeat. that song is just...just YEAH!!

:laugh: Same here! Saw them live a couple of years ago, bloody awesome!

Isn't there a new album coming?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/07/09 02:15

flabby wrote:

papertiger wrote:
battles! about half of mirrored and the first one.

ok, also atlas on repeat. that song is just...just YEAH!!

:laugh: Same here! Saw them live a couple of years ago, bloody awesome!

Isn't there a new album coming?

yeah i got the new battles. 'gloss drop' not entirely sold on it yet but then, i have always been on the fence with their sound. so if ya like their other stuff, you may like GD. a little too frenetic for my likings. and dare i say clinical.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by howdragonsdisappear - 2011/07/16 20:03

koshimazaki wrote:
Ott - Mir
Siriusmo - Mosaik
Augustus Pablo - East of the River Nile
King Tubby Meets Rockers Uptown
Lee Scratch Perry - Arkology
Com Truise - Galactic Melt

thank's ! nice selection,

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2011/07/21 22:05

dolfazoid wrote:
flabby wrote:
papertiger wrote:
battles! about half of mirrored and the first one.

ok, also atlas on repeat. that song is just...just YEAH!!

:laugh: Same here! Saw them live a couple of years ago, bloody awesome!

Isn't there a new album coming?

yeah i got the new battles. 'gloss drop' not entirely sold on it yet but then, i have always been on the fence with their sound. so if ya like their other stuff, you may like GD. a little too frenetic for my likings. and dare i say clinical.

Battles 'Gloss Drop' is great, they just played Pitchfork in Chicago last week. The album really grows on you and I appreciate that most of the tracks are easily digested vs. some of their earlier work that was sometimes a bit more challenging...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/07/21 22:09

peaking lights : 936

wet hair : in vogue spirit

forest swords : dagger paths

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/07/21 23:03

apparat - discography

phoenecia - discography

morton feldman

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/07/28 00:30

As much Anthony Shakir as I can find.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nuts - 2011/07/28 00:53

Discovered Scandinavia last 3 weeks, and came back with jazz vinyls, bought some local artists so i'm digging Eje Tehlin now.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kD5c83xuh3s>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EquXkNvDaLo&feature=related>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/07/28 02:02

nuts wrote:

Discovered Scandinavia last3 weeks, and came back with jazz vinyls, so i'm digging Eje Tehlin now.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kD5c83xuh3s>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EquXkNvDaLo&feature=related> enjoyable thanks :) . Saw an ok programme on sky arts the other night. When all the talking and procrastinating was done I found it an awesome intro to some incredible music.

<http://www.skyarts.co.uk/music/article/icons-among-us-jazz-in-the-present-tense/>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubgil - 2011/07/28 02:35

Meat Beat Manifesto

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/08/18 03:05

this

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zRZaich1_YM aaron parks nemesis.

got to have a regular fix of this new drug.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by GYS - 2011/08/18 03:14

On the electronic side, lots of Lindstrom & Christabelle:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tE76ssT5zOg>

On the doom metal side, been obsessed with Graveyard lately:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OnGBa8dVm6k>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/08/18 07:11

Besides being in my spaceship studio...

*Steve Roach*Robert Rich* Vidna Obmana

*M83 *The National*The Cure(old stuff -_-) *The Roots of Chica

*Rod Modell*Deepchord*tIB-3 dub tracks he recently just released...if you are into dub then deff look his stuff up on here and sound cloud. *Dub Trio *Film School Talking Heads

*LOTS OF DEAD CAN DANCE -discography...

Plastikman& Richie Hawtin The Jezabels* Vex'd* Sigur Ros* Helios*The Album Leaf

*The Arcade Fire *Liars * TV on the Radio* Melvins Band * Joy Division *Iron & Wine *MUM

*Cocteau Twins-Garlands * Flying Lotus * Eluvium *Burial *Bloc Party * Alio Die *Helmet

*NIN * The Notwist * Tomahawk *Metallica-KILL EM ALL... :angry: Is that enough? I also listen to all of this on several sound systems all at once and flail like a lost fuk:dry: :ohmy:

If you like Fantomas, Slayer and The Melvins then check out this vid...Mike Patton sounds like Kenny from south park
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cr8qJu6sp44>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2011/08/18 07:48

downloading Kangding Ray from bleep right now. interesting stuff. newish album is called _OR_ the ep he put out previous to it is killer.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by womb - 2011/08/18 08:13

Scorn

whole discography. top shit

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/08/18 09:48

yeah, i'm also digging the new kangding ray. but i'm also loving his earlier stbl release.

getting in the mood for next months Frankly mini festival in brisbane so I'm playing lots of LA Vampires and Wet Hair

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TOS - 2011/08/18 10:18

To paraphrase Roy Batty: I want more techno, f*cker.

Regis - Deaf 2008 Mixtape // Surgeon Regis Female - The end of living the start of survival // Speedy J - Shoegaze EP // Surgeon - Basictonalvocabulary // SND // Convexion - Oil On Metal (..ridiculous track..) // Ae - Move Often.

Also Tod Dockstader, Do Make Say Think, Killing Joke, Gang of Four

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/08/19 12:51

Machinedrum - Room(s)...stumbled on this looking at Machinedrum youtubes, kind of Burialish

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/08/19 15:34

A.A. Bondy - when the devil's loose excellent heartbreak music. possibly not as good as bon iver. debatable. but then, does it matter?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/08/20 11:21

and the peter tosh discography. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2011/08/20 12:10

nuts wrote:

Discovered Scandinavia last 3 weeks, and came back with jazz vinyls, bought some local artists so i'm digging Eje Tehlin now.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kD5c83xuh3s>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EquXkNvDaLo&feature=related>

B) very cool...

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2011/08/20 12:23

Polyfuse - The Speed of Forever

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by womb - 2011/08/26 05:24

Journey - Dont Stop Believing

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/08/26 12:30

Lots of helmet and inside out...

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 181 - 2011/08/26 12:55

Laurie Spiegel - Unseen Worlds

some mixes:

<http://old-school-hiphop-tapes.blogspot.com/2010/08/kings-of-tape-edit-3-hour-special-with.html>

<http://soundcloud.com/dynamic-tension/surgeon-at-freerotation>

<http://www.mediafire.com/?ew1zg4arj7s1g67> (mr oizo)

preview of a record I don't have <http://soundcloud.com/experimedia/astral-social-club-tomutonttu> edit - can I post more than 3 links in a post without half of it disappearing? (yes) if I make an arrow with a less than symbol and some dashes does everything after that disappear? (yes)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/08/27 16:35

Steve Roach

Vidna Obmana

Robert Rich...:huh:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by digital_steve - 2011/08/27 17:05

Arkives Komplete that just turned up finally

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/08/27 18:51

the Stand Down release from Drumcode label, the PercyX and Advent remixes are incredible.. Also Hardcell and PÃ¶r Grindvik are enjoying frequent rotation on my ipod...

PÃ¶r Grindvik - Wave <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wAvYUlcApg>

Untitled - Percy X remix - http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eMM_4r_TCEY

Hardcell - Ground Effect - http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=T_noeDK3Zh4

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/08/27 19:08

kompakt total 12 - kompakt hit some form!!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/08/27 19:09

really digging the war on drugs

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/09/01 01:24

RA.EX052 Greg Wilson - 2011.08.26

great stories. enjoyed this a lot.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cabin vibe - 2011/09/05 08:37

Easter Everywhere - 13th floor elevators.

Laughing Stock - Talk Talk .

zuckerzeit - cluster .

scum - Bark Psychosis .

Polygon Window - Surfing on Sine Waves

Piper at the Gates of Dawn - Pink Floyd

GAK - GAK

W.Basinski - everything ..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/09/05 13:33

...the final gasps of my dying goldfish. Kerrrrrrrrrrrrplunk:woohoo:
.....and some of this: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wiKQSn0zGXc&feature=related> :ohmy:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/09/14 11:22

J.S. Bach - Glenn Gould, The French Suites Vol.1

you need look no further for the purest music in existence

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/09/14 12:24

Peaking Lights : 936 LP <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-lZVuYwX5Ew&feature=related> saw LA Vampires & wet hair on the weekend at Brisbane's Frankly Festival.

great gig!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2011/09/14 21:37

listening to the preview of the Hermanos EP from Julian Jeweil, very nice techno-house (genre?) sound with an edge and some filter vibe.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VY_d93yGfuA&feature=player_embedded edit, re/ genre: just noticed, the video has some text saying 'a fusion of electro and minimal'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/09/29 08:47

roel funcken - vade :ohmy:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/09/29 08:52

THIS: <http://atraaeterna.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2011/09/29 11:05

new plaid, phoenecia

the dead weather
fugazi
miles davis big fun

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by pixelife - 2011/09/29 14:20

Morphology-Uranias Mirror
6th Borough Project- One Night in the Borough
Legowelt- The Teac Life
D'eon - Palinopsia
Levon Vincent 12" White Labels on Novel Sound

And a bunch of new and old but new to me 12."

Nu Groove 12"s
Some mid 90's Detroit stuff.
Marcellus Pittmann
FXHE

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2011/09/29 15:02

Some new 12"s I bought:

Fudge Fingas - What Works EP
Omar S & Colonel Abrams - Who Wrote the Rules of Love
Move D - Workshop 13
Chicago Damn - Different Worlds

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Semitone - 2011/09/29 15:11

I can't stop listenin to the MonoMachine :laugh:

and
Peter Gabriel

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/09/29 17:17

Nirvana Nevermind MFSL version - amazing!!!!
Emeralds - Does It Look Like I'm Here (FLAC)
A-Young-Persons-Guide-To-Mark-Mcguire
Iron and Wine - Kiss Each Other Clean
The War on Drugs - Slave Ambient

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bigus - 2011/09/30 21:31

I'm listening to this nice dj mix by a friend with excellent taste in music

http://soundcloud.com/subjectevents/subcast_001

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2011/10/02 12:43

Little Dragon, i like how they write songs with an electronic flava, eg Ritual Union, Nightlight and Feather

<http://www.myspace.com/littledragon>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/10/05 20:28

bibio - mind bokeh

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mistakem - 2011/10/05 20:38

Hauschka - Salon Des Amateurs

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Future Thought Tapestries - 2011/10/05 20:55

John Heckle - The Second Son

Legowelt - Poverties Paradise

Steve Summers - Mode For Love

Terekke - "Damn E.P.

Crystal Maze - "Crystal Maze EP

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by FXS - 2011/10/09 07:10

Venetian Snares - Cubist Reggae

Autechre - Oversteps

Autechre - Quaristice

Aphex Twin - I care because you do...

Aphex Twin - analord 10, analogue bubblebaths....

Cardiacs - Garage Concerts vol 1 & vol 2

Earth - Hex or Printing in the infernal method

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by FXS - 2011/10/09 07:12

oh yes, and Hudson Mohawke!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dj_d_oz - 2011/10/09 11:14

<http://soundcloud.com/trinityandbeyond/pinksilver-podcast-19-dj-trinity>

Awesome deep techno podcast

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/10/09 13:12

Virgo 4
analord
John Lennon

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/10/09 13:43

peaking lights: imaginary falcons poison idea: kings of punk radiowaves: radiowaves

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/10/09 14:10

Hardcell - Bensin EP

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6qMTUq8xerE>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=K9I8bD7nHAs&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/10/09 14:17

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=CNHUinQ0OaM>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/10/09 14:28

yeah, been a fan of the notwist for years. ^ this is a great LP

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by eagleroad - 2011/10/09 14:42

the new andy stott, we stay together.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=S39WFuhhSP8>

and the passed me by record too.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KRDJCpfpkvE&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by FXS - 2011/10/09 19:40

Oh Andy Stott. Thanks for sharing those links. Something new for me to dig my claws into. Superb stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2011/10/13 03:23

CLR Podcast by Heiko Laux.

The Mark Broom one from the week before is really good as well.

<http://www.clr.net/media.pl>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2011/10/28 18:32

Some new techno records I bought:

Kollektiv Turmstrasse - Uneins (Ari! Brikha remix)

The Parallel - Exosphere

Paul Woolford & Psycatron - Stolen (dub 1)

And a few others.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2011/10/29 18:28

Some Apparat, mostly his stuff without the vocals....

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2011/10/30 10:35

Hans Zimmer - 'Dark Knight', 'Inception'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/10/30 11:37

just drove home in new car from sydney to byron bay (approx 12 hours)

these are the the artists that kept me company:

tom waits: rain dogs washed out: within and without robedoor: too down to die kraftwerk: autobahn (perfect for the princes hwy)
peaking lights: 396

and an oldschool hardcore comp i made specially for the trip :) feat: poison idea, rites of spring, dag nasty, corrosion of conformity, millions of dead cops, black flag etc etc etc

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/10/30 11:55

Some old stuff: Tom Tom Club - Close to the Bone
Some new stuff: Tini - Tessa

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/10/30 12:21

this:
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NjZUYACEmec>
I love the dirrrty synth and the percussion is unstoppable in some of his works...
Nice moody dark vibe:woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/10/30 12:26

dolfazoid wrote:
yeah, been a fan of the notwist for years. ^ this is a great LP AGREED!_! I often find myself going back to this track and a few other cuts...good ear dolfazoid;) another:P
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lszKvHI_GFg

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/10/30 12:50

^thanks for that utube link indigo333! it's a great track. i'm cleaning out the garage right now listening to bad brains in dub(very loud). but after this i'll be putting on the notwist.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/10/30 13:16

dolfazoid wrote:

^thanks for that utube link indigo333! it's a great track. i'm cleaning out the garage right now listening to bad brains in dub(very loud). but after this i'll be putting on the notwist.

It must be the time of year, in the garage moving my outdoor garden in :D

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DDeyjd5oWdl&feature=related> cheers....bad brains is some solid stuff....big ups

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by therk - 2011/10/30 17:28

Couple of new things last week:

Byetone - Symeta

Kuedo - Severant

Both recommended!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2011/10/31 15:57

eagleroad wrote:

the new andy stott, we stay together.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=S39WFuhhSP8>

and the passed me by record too.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KRDJCpfpkvE&feature=related>

I uploaded these....lol:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2011/10/31 15:59

The Continuous Mix Version of "The Messenger" by Planetary Assault Systems and in Particular the track "Black Tea".

Some Whopping great new tunes.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2011/10/31 23:37

prog trance/electronica mix by a friend who i VJ with..

http://soundcloud.com/the_bboymixers/elixza-1

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emnine - 2011/11/04 19:42

Roll The Dice - 'In Dust'

Really love their production values ... and they're Swedish :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/11/04 20:52

lots of kangding ray and atom tm

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2011/11/05 18:56

Alva Noto - Univrs

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dj_d_oz - 2011/11/07 18:40

Drumcell podcast, one of my fav. techno podcast for a while

<http://soundcloud.com/drumcell/drumcell-live-detroit-clr>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2011/11/07 19:41

futureimage wrote:

Alva Noto - Univrs

Yeah, this is great! I have an extended alva noto playlist that is getting lots of time at night when I cook :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by redrum - 2011/11/08 18:23

lots of random soundcloud and triple j unearthed. Some Shelac, a little plaid and as always a lot of Autechre.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Penfolder - 2011/11/09 07:53

Drive Soundtrack

Jeff Mills

Regis

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by goomba - 2011/11/10 17:48

Pinch & Shackleton
<http://www.honestjons.com/label.php?pid=39357&LabelID=14815>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mistakem - 2011/11/13 08:43

Deetron - Balance 20

! amazing.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2011/11/13 23:16

An agternoon of zappa. http://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Torture_Never_Stops

Heard some albums before but this.. :lvl:

How the he'll did they record all this madness to sound so good?

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by DTMT - 2011/11/14 03:09

Gus Gus - new album Arabian Horses dropped earlier this year, full to the brim with analogue warmth.

They play live shows with two giant modular systems too!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2011/11/17 13:41

FUCKING WOW!

<http://schematicmusiccompany.bandcamp.com/album/echo-system>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by redrum - 2011/11/17 15:34

LIVESEQ wrote:

An agternoon of zappa. http://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Torture_Never_Stops

Heard some albums before but this.. :lvl:

How the he'll did they record all this madness to sound so good?

You should check out 'Jazz from hell' It was made on the synclave. Some of the sounds are a bit dated but the structures are amazing!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/11/17 18:23

Krill Music's latest promo dj-set is pretty much on the money for me: <http://soundcloud.com/espenlauritzen/promo-oct-11-krill-music>

oldie but goodie from the finest of dj's in Norway:

<http://soundcloud.com/rolandlifjell/roland-lifjell-from-beyond-the-lost-ritual-part-1-02-09-2000> &

<http://soundcloud.com/rolandlifjell/roland-lifjell-dj-mix-from-beyond-the-lost-ritual-part-2-02-09-2000>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by redrum - 2011/11/17 19:36

I love both but the second is really Fkin' good. Just added it to my Sunday sesh playlist!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 5id - 2011/11/19 05:09

TrondC wrote:

Krill Music's latest promo dj-set is pretty much on the money for me: <http://soundcloud.com/espenlauritzen/promo-oct-11-krill-music>

Nice find :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/11/19 09:38

Haha, nice touch with The Shining twins as an icon, REDRUM.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by redrum - 2011/11/19 09:55

poonti wrote:

Haha, nice touch with The Shining twins as an icon, REDRUM.

I was looking for the kid with the talking index finger. But the twins are preety creepy.

=====

been listening to shamanic tec!

Posted by tapeb0x - 2011/11/19 20:32

Hey there folks thought i would share this its a pal of mine from the south of england have been listening to a lot of his stuff recently check out the album teaser it is awsome thans folks:woohoo:

=====

Re:been listening to shamanic tec!

Posted by tapeb0x - 2011/11/19 20:33

<http://soundcloud.com/shamanic-technology>

lol it would help if i include a link!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2011/11/21 23:02

Trentemoller - The Last Resort

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lowic - 2011/11/25 16:36

Woua, this is my fav rock band ;)

<http://www.youtube.com/user/elektroguzzi>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by StinkyBeat - 2011/11/25 22:27

I have been getting into The Manhattan Project.

<http://www.themanhattanprojectlive.com/>

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2011/11/27 13:22

HabibaAlgeria wrote:

Well, this community has a reputation for being a bunch of jazz snobs you mean you haven't heard chick corea's 13th chorus of the blues on 'matrix' from "now he sings, now he sobs"? roy haynes?! :cheer: shame on you!

what about dear lord from john coltrane's "dear old stockholm"? :cheer: shame on you!

my heart goes out to you :P or how about check chick corea "my spanish heart" the "el bozo" parts 1, 2 and 3 were all recorded on early moog synthesizers. :silly:

shame on you!

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/11/27 13:43

emeralds

atlas sound

sun ra

Eno - another green world

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/11/27 15:15

double post :/

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/11/27 15:18

prscrptn wrote:

Trentemoller - The Last Resort

Take me into your skin... what an amazing opening to an album. He was just in philly a few months back... Don't get me started on his live recorded stuff either :feelin:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/11/28 15:54

Digging deeper into the techno that passed me by unnoticed at the time, currently enjoying the early Drumcode releases, more Hardcell & Grindvik and some of DisX3 ("dis tress?") aka Alexander Kowalski's stuff is amazing.

techno - http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uZVWOUFns_k&feature=related and one of the best examples of why simplicity can be king, just hear how this bassline drives this track:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UaA_zPIRsaY

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by RobbieNerve - 2011/11/28 16:13

I've been listening a lot of Acid Techno the past weeks.

Artists like DDR, the Geezer, Jon the dentist, dave the drummer, rozzer's dog etc etc etc.

Although it's pretty straightforward 909 beats, some samples and a distorted 303 it pumps like hell and it energizes me :).

I really like last.fm and when I'm doing stuff in my house, I tend to put on latin / cuban music.

Good starting point is entering 'buena vista social club' in the artist field :).

.R

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/12/03 10:01

Was doing some Prince Purple Rain searches on Youtube, with his latest tour and all, and came across this completely randomly. Now this is the kind of tech-house/minimal/whatever I love:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dgWhwUbZSrY>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2011/12/03 17:48

Andrew_Pekler-Sentimental_Favourites - lp of 2012 for me anyway!!!
Ursula Bogner - stranger than ypour average JAN LP!! freaking kooky Chico Hamilton - The Dealer ----- freaks me to the bone just how good this LP is!!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2011/12/04 00:59

so great

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DRb3B9MNN28>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Bergdahl - 2011/12/04 02:21

Jan Bang, mostly with other artist and his "AND POPPIES FROM KANDAHAR"
Eivind Aarset, one of the greatest guitarists using electronic stuff
David Torn, all i can find, Splattercell is amazing
Keith Jarret... wow...
Wilco..
Tom Waits latest... VERy cool

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by diabolik! - 2011/12/05 11:50

oneohtrix point never kuedo maria minerva claps millimetric
beta evers

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/12/05 12:24

of course...

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SFvhxRcfER8&feature=results_video&playnext=1&list=PL1D3EDBEC887CE421

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emnine - 2011/12/05 18:00

Bergdahl wrote:

Jan Bang, mostly with other artist and his "AND POPPIES FROM KANDAHAR"
Eivind Aarset, one of the greatest guitarists using electronic stuff

The '...and poppies' album gets weekly listens from me since its release.

Last night I was listening to Arve Henriksen's 'Cartography' and last Friday I got the excellent news from David Sylvian that his 'Implausible Beauty' tour, for which I bought a ticket, will be with Jan Bang and Eivind Aarset. :woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2011/12/07 06:14

Just had the back to back listening experience of our very own tIBs album followed by Byetone - symeta....

This was quite an experience.....I can recommend it!

Incredible

:) B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2011/12/10 12:46

:laugh: 'ing at the title of this one: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=t6ttiSDqZM8>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2011/12/10 16:18

House is coming back round for me again. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2011/12/13 18:22

This 1hr long Niederflur Live Set.

<http://pijamasurf.com/2011/09/surf-the-waveform-podcast-4-niederfluer/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bonde - 2011/12/18 20:20

I have fallen in love with the danish artist BjÃ¸rn Svin and his record called "Browen". Check it out. It's beautiful, minimalistic, compelling and very original imo. And also all of the music is made on an MD and Monomachine. BTW: 'Ã¸' is a danish letter - try searching for Bjorn Svin if you don't have the 'Ã¸' on your keyboard.

Here is a link to the title track from Browen:

<http://soundcloud.com/rump/sets/bjorn-svin-browen>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bonde - 2011/12/18 20:23

....also check out this one. It's an older one, not from the same record. It's different from his newer stuff:
http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=INYrtZz_r7A

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by DTMT - 2011/12/22 02:45

Absolutely LOVE that Niedurflur set.

Nice one Neil - thanks!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by diabolik! - 2011/12/23 17:17

Symmetry:
(johnny jewel from glass candy/chromatics/desire's analog soundtrack stuff)

<http://soundcloud.com/johnnyjewel/symmetry-themes-for-an>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2011/12/24 07:14

Love this:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3wriVJnsSkc&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2011/12/25 20:24

My friend Christian Tilt laid down this deep and groovy techno DJ set the other day: <http://soundcloud.com/christian-tilt/christian-tilt-mix-a-spesial>

I'm on the 5th complete listen in 3 days, so well balanced between deep, experimental and pure dancefloor energy. A fresh DJ set inbetween all the cheezy and dead boring minimal and tech-house sets out there

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/01/03 07:43

I like the way he/she is using the trinity....samples are soooooo loved up and blissed out :cheer:
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SWDhB8tSha8&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by glaive - 2012/01/03 07:58

I'm listening to *ask, motherf*ckers!

askaskask.org

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Bergdahl - 2012/01/03 08:29

Fernnesz, Ruyichi Sakamoto and alva noto..

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2012/01/06 10:09

The Fear Ratio - Lightbox. Mark Broom, James Ruskin with some lush production and a great Plaid remix

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2012/01/07 10:53

sun araw
four tet fabric mix

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Caustic Crush - 2012/01/07 11:09

Billy Cobham- Heather from the "Crosswinds" album...on vinyl

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=e3E9vx5vVck>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by MrSysex - 2012/01/07 14:31

legofeet legofeet legofeet

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2012/01/07 17:51

Prince - Something in the Water (Does not Compute)

15 all over again

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/01/09 04:26

This 2 part Aphex Twin DJ set from back in 94.

Totally Bonkers as always.

This has made one of two things happen.

1) Made me feel very old (I was 20 when this was recorded)

2) Made me feel like taking an E. Asked the wife, she said no and could I put the kids to bed.

<http://soundcloud.com/masterofpuppies/aphex-twin-furthur-side-a>

<http://soundcloud.com/masterofpuppies/aphex-twin-furthur-side-b>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/01/13 01:21

Rather cheezy intro but helluva nice techno set:

<http://soundcloud.com/glennwilson/glenn-wilson-8bit-v1-mix>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by philipo - 2012/01/13 19:49

MUTACHRE Autechre REMIX ALBUM :silly:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/01/14 11:57

Tripped out house from mr Von Stroke:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pQRc5RRh7_A

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2012/01/14 12:40

philipo wrote:

MUTACHRE Autechre REMIX ALBUM :silly:

thanks. just googled. downloading now :) hadn't heard about this..

edit.. realized i have a bunch of these on vinyl. :) the lexis remix sounds great at either 33 or 45 rpm.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2012/01/14 16:49

The Kilimanjaro Darkjazz Ensemble

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2012/01/14 17:04

how to dress well memory tapes
George Harrison

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/01/14 19:05

Inspired a lot by this DEEEEEP techno track by Ventress:

<http://youtu.be/yTvRrrHst4o>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2012/01/14 19:28

^ That's a nice track!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Sinner6 - 2012/01/16 03:31

Andy Stott- Passed Me By
Andy Stott- We Stay Together

I alway enjoy Rob Booths' podcast- 'Electronic Explorations'.

<http://electronicexplorations.org/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by therk - 2012/01/16 04:25

Holy Other - With U. Arrived on Friday - lovin it!

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iklStXMpNMY>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emmarosen - 2012/01/16 15:16

I only like to listening new ones . and something which just rocking.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2012/01/18 07:50

Rotating through the following:

Kendrik Lamar - Section.80
Tycho - Dive
Schoolboy Q - Habits And Contradictions

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2012/01/19 01:23

Been listening to tons of Four Tet lately, but today:

Autechre - Tri Repetae

I know I'm preaching to the choir here, but wonders never cease to amaze, eh?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2012/01/19 01:25

ThinkTanx wrote:

Been listening to tons of Four Tet lately, but today:

Autechre - Tri Repetae

I know I'm preaching to the choir here, but wonders never cease to amaze, eh?

lol. this week it's been chiastic slide, incunabula, amber, and tri repetae on repeat. all day. :D

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2012/01/19 01:35

papertiger wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Been listening to tons of Four Tet lately, but today:

Autechre - Tri Repetae

I know I'm preaching to the choir here, but wonders never cease to amaze, eh?

lol. this week it's been chiastic slide, incunabula, amber, and tri repetae on repeat. all day. :D

Ohhh... think I'll go Amber next. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/01/19 03:56

This mix by The Black Dog is incredible. (if Techno is your thing)

<http://www.theblackdogma.com/tbd/2011/08/the-black-dog-dark-wave-vol-02/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2012/01/20 03:48

the gasman - powerpoints. it sounds junglist sometimes, stockhausen sometimes, steve reich sometimes...

killer album! :ohmy:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by DjWadjet - 2012/01/20 10:48

Reactivate & warp album collections

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by GabrieleFurbin - 2012/01/20 13:19

I am listening to Pinks, "Raise your glass."

cheap perfume

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/01/20 14:48

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NJKXqTZtdmE>

How could I without suggesting so ?_? A lovely remix is due...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/01/21 14:08

:lol: such a beautiful track with the trinity

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SWDhB8tSha8&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2012/01/23 18:09

Tons of 90's house like Boo Williams, Gemini, Paul Johnson and such.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cloudface - 2012/01/23 19:35

<http://the-passenger.bandcamp.com/album/->

this has been on repeat for a while now.

free d/l too!

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by luwis_purpul - 2012/01/23 23:04

Bo Marley. German dub.
They use Elektron gear
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2jaS5-i5qeE>

^that's live. Better sound quality on this one

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lp1toh7FtVo>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2012/01/25 10:49

Indigo333 wrote:
:lol: such a beautiful track with the trinity <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SWDhB8tSha8&feature=related> such a wonderful track...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2012/01/25 10:50

Maria Taylor and Azure Ray

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/01/25 13:42

Recently discovered Berlin-based label Stroboscopic Artefacts. Experimental and insanely deep Techno/IDM/Ambient music.. Current favourite from Lucy and Xhin:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_KjKpezjTDM&list=FLpvrUjQ7jaD6dyRzMmQXBcA&index=1&feature=plpp_video

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/01/25 14:38

^^ if you haven't already you should check out the mix Lucy did on the CLR podcast a few months back. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/01/25 21:26

Nein wrote:
^^ if you haven't already you should check out the mix Lucy did on the CLR podcast a few months back. :)

Thanx! Checking out now :) Must say this ound has taken me completely, and it made me approach the MD in a new way too.. pure inspiration.. I am considering to take a weekend trip to Oslo to catch Lucy live + Espen Lauritzen of Krill Music (another label to watch for this style of techno)... :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ipassenger - 2012/01/28 20:08

A step back in time for me, LTJ Bukem Earth Series.. mmm.. Nice.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by MSB - 2012/02/02 06:28

Can't stop listening to Amon Tobin's ISAM, went to see it live last year in London; flippin incredible live show!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by MSB - 2012/02/02 06:30

Love Bukem, was listening to Progression Sessions at the weekend; memories:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by zeropoint - 2012/02/02 07:26

Must have been a Bukem thing in the air this weekend....Horizons was the first track of a late night mix session at my mate's....culminated in his long suffering wife shutting us down at 5.00am just as Global Comm's The Way (Secret Ingredients Mix) was kicking in.....yum.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by zeropoint - 2012/02/02 07:27

Must have been a Bukem thing in the air this weekend....Horizons was the first track of a late night mix session at my mate's....culminated in his long suffering wife shutting us down at 5.00am just as Global Comm's The Way (Secret Ingredients Mix) was kicking in.....yum.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2012/02/07 05:47

Hard Drive Dub

great stuff

<http://youtu.be/yv1vvkJzNXQ>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2012/02/11 23:37

Deep mix by Faux Pas

http://soundcloud.com/fauxpas/desolate-deep-mourning-mix?utm_campaign=share&utm_content=http%3A%2F%2Fsoundcloud.com%2Ffauxpas%2Fdesolate-deep-mourning-mix&utm_medium=facebook&utm_source=soundcloud#_=_ only listened to the start of this and was amazed.. sounds like a new style almost.. downloading now..

and also nice to notice that this was accomplished with two decks and vinyl only (not that i am a purist of vinyl by any stretch of the imagination).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dj_d_oz - 2012/02/13 22:03

Dadub - Way to Moksha EP

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lreXAUjCt-w>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3JBcGBnbfcg>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IJNAkauS-OY>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uHHxuC31kkl>

Sweet Jesus! B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/02/13 22:21

dj_d_oz wrote:

Dadub - Way to Moksha EP

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lreXAUjCt-w>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3JBcGBnbfcg>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IJNAkauS-OY>
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uHHxuC31kkl>

Sweet Jesus! B)

Oh yes, lots of nice sounds in that release. stroboscopic is a label to watch! :)

I've been loving lori and Shifted lately:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jyxPWzHB6XQ&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/02/14 08:07

Anothe amazing track with the OT...inspiration! B)

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OtrbH6SwBtE&list=FLdM0ODDjJsQzWp_lxEQkVQ&index=1&feature=plpp_video

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/02/14 15:18

The best dubstep always finds its way back for a listen (all-stars vol/5/6):

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cPvvLCAGs6A>

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=LwRqqJSay_Y

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=t5XQQCE4P9M&feature=related>

How did they f*ck it up so bad with this Skrillex 500 modulations per second shyte? Does anyone make old school dubstep anymore?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dj_d_oz - 2012/02/14 19:59

TrondC wrote:

Oh yes, lots of nice sounds in that release. stroboscopic is a label to watch! :)

would be intersted to find out how those sounds were created ?!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/02/14 20:18

dj_d_oz wrote:

TrondC wrote:

Oh yes, lots of nice sounds in that release. stroboscopic is a label to watch! :)

would be intersted to find out how those sounds were created ?!

Well, Dadub is also the guys behind the mastering studio whose name I cant remember right now, but they have an all hardware (and mostly analogue) approach to making the music as well as mastering, so I bet a lot of it comes from the gear used. I know that they use laptops and controlles live, but I assume all the sounds originate from analogue hardware :D

Also label owner Lucy is known for his love of analogue gear, and hate for the preset/loopmasters scene that is dominatin the scene. Hopefully I'll get a chance to meet him if I decide to go to Oslo next weekend when he plays ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nobl1v1on - 2012/02/17 08:43

Anyone been loving on the new Burial release. Street Halo, it is SOOOOO good. Not easily fitted into any particular subset, but very addictive.

:cheers,

:lars

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2012/02/17 09:39

nobl1v1on wrote:

Anyone been loving on the new Burial release. Street Halo, it is SOOOOO good. Not easily fitted into any particular subset, but very addictive.

:cheers,
:lars

Newest release is actually Kindred! Just dropped this week!

But yeah, Street Halo is awesome, as is Stolen Dog on that EP. Check out Kindred. It's pretty outstanding as well! The second tune on it, Loner, is really fresh imo. B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2012/02/17 09:57

peaking lights: 936 remixed

http://www.nme.com/nme-video/youtube/id/JUN7z_fPpDA

skyneedle: 7inch

mad nanna: 7inch

glass candy: beat box LP

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UBILYNJJAts>

etienne jaumet: satori EP

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kmxtlRVyXkA>

tom waits: bad as me

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=qeTja7JXK9A>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nobl1v1on - 2012/02/18 09:07

@ThinkTanx

Hey,

Thanks for the heads up, the Kindred EP is totally badass. The guy really knows how to manipulate darkness. Thanks again

:lars

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/02/18 10:51

djd_oz wrote:

TrondC wrote:

Oh yes, lots of nice sounds in that release. stroboscopic is a label to watch! :)

would be intersted to find out how those sounds were created ?!

I think they make heavy use of Kyma and Reaktor amongst all the Analogue gear.

Xhin from Stroboscopic is on the upcoming CLR podcast this Monday.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/02/18 13:57

some of this: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DSyogLf_2MY

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2012/02/18 18:05

^ thanks for posting that Poonti - liked it.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/02/19 12:25

cheers indigo, i've been on a tech-house kick lately, here's another from another master of the genre

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=THEpA4xwYWU>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2012/02/19 18:04

Yeah, cool track! I'm not sure if this is a new genre for me? What's the dominik eulberg/ extrawelt/kollektiv turmstrasse/robert babicz lot called? Are they all a mixed salad? :cheer:

Anyway been listening to Minilogue's new let life dance thru you remixes EP.... some really good stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/02/19 22:32

^^ Yes, this is exactly the kind of stuff I've been into lately as well. I guess it fits somewhere under the tech-house/minimal umbrella, with the important distinction that it's the cream of the crop of that sound. Check out Stimming as well, for a more minimal/abstract take on the sound.

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uDg5KbMeA_o b.t.w. speaking of Minilogue, their "Animals" album a few years ago was one of the main reasons I got into this whole sound. Really good stuff.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2012/02/20 00:20

^ yes, this is exactly my feelings & most of my inspiration. But only the cream of the crop will do for me...

now I want to raid your music collection! :laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by p_ACHE - 2012/02/20 01:55

Pinch&shackleton !

<http://soundcloud.com/experimedia/pinch-shackleton-pinch>

One of the coolest album I bought in years. Very deep and original.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2012/02/24 10:40

i've been listening to that clip of the new Squarepusher record. due out in may :)

<http://youtu.be/IYDIsy8eJmc>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2012/02/24 12:53

last night i saw mark mcguire live in brisbane. it was quite special

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Fabt4-UyvM8>

^ this is not the show obviously :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/02/26 20:16

I went to Oslo for a full-on techno event (those dont come by too often here...) and was blown away :)

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=n29h9U0uXIU&feature=youtube_gdata

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2012/02/28 12:27

Haven't posted in here in ages... I've been listening to lots of songwriter music with guitars though, as I've been playing and trying to write more in that vein lately. Gotten a bit bored of writing with synths and drum machines.

Blonde Redhead

My Bloody Valentine

The Smiths

New Order

Joy Division

Cocteau Twins
Grizzly Bear
Why?
Sigur Ros
St. Vincent
Wilco
Sonic Youth
The XX
Radiohead

Also:

- the new Burial EP a lot
- lots of Tim Hecker. Dropped Pianos LP is really, really nice. Amazing complement to Ravedeath.
- several tunes off the new John Talabot record
- the latest Zomby EP
- the Salem LP
- the latest Apparat LP

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/02/28 14:33

ThinkTanx wrote:

Haven't posted in here in ages... I've been listening to lots of songwriter music with guitars though, as I've been playing and trying to write more in that vein lately. Gotten a bit bored of writing with synths and drum machines.

Blonde Redhead
My Bloody Valentine
The Smiths
New Order
Joy Division
Cocteau Twins
Grizzly Bear
Why?
Sigur Ros
St. Vincent
Wilco
Sonic Youth
The XX
Radiohead

Also:

- the new Burial EP a lot
- lots of Tim Hecker. Dropped Pianos LP is really, really nice. Amazing complement to Ravedeath.
- several tunes off the new John Talabot record
- the latest Zomby EP
- the Salem LP
- the latest Apparat LP

Fuk Yes, Blonde Redhead-Cocteau Twins-Joy Division-Sigur Ros-Grizzly Bear-Anything Burial for fukin eva-Tim Hecker and many you have listed plus: Alio Die, Steve Roach, and my Mono Machine driving me into space...nice collection Think Tanx ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2012/02/29 01:35

Cheers Indigo! :)

Btw- 200 pages!!! I was in on Page 2! :cheer: B)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/02/29 03:16

Indigo333 wrote:

ThinkTanx wrote:

Haven't posted in here in ages... I've been listening to lots of songwriter music with guitars though, as I've been playing and trying to write more in that vein lately. Gotten a bit bored of writing with synths and drum machines.

Blonde Redhead
My Bloody Valentine
The Smiths
New Order
Joy Division
Cocteau Twins
Grizzly Bear
Why?
Sigur Ros
St. Vincent
Wilco
Sonic Youth
The XX
Radiohead

Also:

- the new Burial EP a lot
- lots of Tim Hecker. Dropped Pianos LP is really, really nice. Amazing complement to Ravedeath.
- several tunes off the new John Talabot record
- the latest Zomby EP
- the Salem LP
- the latest Apparat LP

Fuk Yes, Blonde Redhead-Cocteau Twins-Joy Division-Sigur Ros-Grizzly Bear-Anything Burial for fukin eva-Tim Hecker and many you have listed plus: Alio Die, Steve Roach, and my Mono Machine driving me into space...nice collection Think Tanx ;)

GO! - Tones On Tail

I remember dancing to that like an absolute mental case back in the day :woohoo:

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dj_d_oz - 2012/03/02 21:00

TrondC wrote:

Well, Dadub is also the guys behind the mastering studio whose name I cant remember right now, but they have an all hardware (and mostly analogue) approach to making the music as well as mastering, so I bet a lot of it comes from the gear used. I know that they use laptops and controlles live, but I assume all the sounds originate from analogue hardware :D

Not quite true, <http://www.residentadvisor.net/feature.aspx?1526>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emnine - 2012/03/02 22:08

Kraftwerk 'Computer World'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 5id - 2012/03/03 03:33

djd_oz wrote:

TrondC wrote:

Well, Dadub is also the guys behind the mastering studio whose name I cant remember right now, but they have an all hardware (and mostly analogue) approach to making the music as well as mastering, so I bet a lot of it comes from the gear used. I know that they use laptops and controlles live, but I assume all the sounds originate from analogue hardware :D

Not quite true, <http://www.residentadvisor.net/feature.aspx?1526>

Really enjoyed that interview _oz, thanks for sharing ;)

Love this vid with Dadub live <http://youtu.be/SarYBJctuA0>

Imagine spending some qaulity studio time with those guy's then a beer or two afterwards :woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cabin vibe - 2012/03/03 03:46

GAK

Grace Jones

john martyn caroliner rainbow stewed angel skins.

danielle baldelli

&

chrome.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/03/13 22:06

Nuff Said

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=_O0tkdJuqHw

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by NoiseLab - 2012/03/14 08:52

VCMG - Ssss

Vince Clarke & Martin Gore doing techno, the result is brilliant!

<http://3voor12.vpro.nl/luisterpaal/albums/VCMG.html>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/03/19 12:31

Deftones, Elite..most fucking amazing song buy them ever...
:angry: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cpv_7DdA8cY :angry:

Then when the walls came down:

Jonsi and Alex, Indian Summer...favorite song from two beautiful souls

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O0NGNKbRU4o> :blink:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by nein - 2012/03/28 18:30

New Alex Under album "La Maquina De Bolas"

Not like his usual stuff. Great one for late on the headphones.

The tracks are all based on each other with a building and shifting of elements as the album progresses. Takes a couple of listens but I certainly got there.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/03/28 22:41

An oldie: Fila Brazillia - Old Codes New Chaos

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/03/28 22:54

Two very different flavours of techno:

The classic: (Jeff Mills) <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Vrb4EnzMHRE>

The newcomer: (Abdulla Rashim) <http://soundcloud.com/abdulla/abdulla-rashim-live-at-horst>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by OBSRVR - 2012/04/02 00:56

Scorn
Kryptic Minds
Hecq
Birds Of Paradise
Ott

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Didjeko - 2012/04/14 06:55

Micropoint
Ras Michael and the Sons of Negus

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by alijutt8 - 2012/04/14 15:55

sounds good to me will come back soon and leave further comments

pinup clothingÂ
spring fashionÂ tea clothingÂ
mens styleÂ

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2012/04/15 03:26

EU's own Vadim Svoboda did a DJ set for the Popcorn podcast about a month back, and I've been listening to it almost daily ever since. Highly recommend it to anyone who likes chill housey tracks.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mnonner - 2012/04/15 17:10

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yR115Df0ld4&feature=relmfu>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 5id - 2012/04/16 01:01

mnonner wrote:
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yR115Df0ld4&feature=relmfu>

:) :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/04/16 06:07

Subjected - Vault Series. Sounds like Basic Channel / Maurizio gave birth to an industrial monster. Forward leaning dark techno from the deepest of the german concrete basement clubs

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2012/04/16 20:47

fairly excited about the new upcoming Squarepusher Ufabulum

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=XvLAKrVbCBM

looks like a return to mental acidity goodness...B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mnonner - 2012/04/17 01:03

xmit wrote:

fairly excited about the new upcoming Squarepusher Ufabulum

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=XvLAKrVbCBM

looks like a return to mental acidity goodness...B)

you had me excited until i listened to it. sounds more dubstep crossed with daft punk than acid. i think thats a bad thing (to me).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2012/04/17 03:05

Fair enough....doesn't sound like either dubstep or Daft Punk to me,but there you go!
:-)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mnonner - 2012/04/17 03:48

xmit wrote:

Fair enough....doesn't sound like either dubstep or Daft Punk to me,but there you go!
:-)

I'm sorry, I didn't mean to be rude.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2012/04/17 04:07

You werent ! Nothing but polite!

:)

Thats what's cool about music...everyone hears something different.

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2012/04/17 05:01

Mogwai's Young Team has been in heavy rotation lately. . .

got the new Atlas Sound, Monolake and Lotus Plaza albums and none of them grabbed me, which is disappointing!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/04/20 13:35

papertiger wrote:

Mogwai's Young Team has been in heavy rotation lately. . .

got the new Atlas Sound, Monolake and Lotus Plaza albums and none of them grabbed me, which is disappointing!

Fuck YESSS on Mogwai...

Bummer on the other albums that go to the "recycle bin"

Needed to get back to my roots... -__-

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nNEVAy8bNiU&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by jbuonacc - 2012/04/20 15:25 is it possible for an Admin to fix the title of this thread? spelling mistakes burn holes in my brain and this thread is almost always visible in the "Recent Forum Topics".

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by encym - 2012/04/20 17:27

xmit wrote:

fairly excited about the new upcoming Squarepusher Ufabulum

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=XvLAKrVbCBM

looks like a return to mental acidity goodness...B)

Me too... the first single is dark and funky and sounds flat-out

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by rozzpourpre - 2012/04/20 18:25

you had me excited until i listened to it. sounds more dubstep crossed with daft punk than acid. i think thats a bad thing (to me).

thank god someone has ears!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/04/20 23:16

This GiDi mix is pretty cool from the Filtered Music (Bleep/Warp Project)

as is the other mix on the same page.

<http://filtered-music.tumblr.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Technobadger - 2012/04/21 21:34

Dread zone are back complete with a packed festival line up

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2012/04/24 16:53

Found this deep house gem tucked away as the B2 track on one of my records:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bT9YWhH9A2M>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dolfazoid - 2012/04/24 18:01

Indigo333 wrote:

papertiger wrote:

Mogwai's Young Team has been in heavy rotation lately. . .

got the new Atlas Sound, Monolake and Lotus Plaza albums and none of them grabbed me, which is disappointing!

Fuck YESSS on Mogwai...

Bummer on the other albums that go to the "recycle bin"

Needed to get back to my roots... -__-

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nNEVAy8bNiU&feature=related>

yeah hardcore roots! me too :)

I'm actually doing a project that involves sampling a hardcore band that i used to scream for. the outcome is not hardcore at all. more like a memory of hardcore. i think it's a way of me coming to terms with my roots, acknowledging them but creating something that is me now :)

anyways i don't believe i'm actually gonna share this with ya'll. I DID NOT UPLOAD any of it. but hey this is me circa 1987 screaming my wee teenage lungs out :)

I'm bored with ableton and need to get a hardware sampler to finish this project.

Oh and this is not what i am listening to! i very rarely listen to massappeal. can't stand it in a way.... this is just a response to INDIGO333. it's your fault i'm still typing.
enough already.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=QoCyClgs1XE&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emnine - 2012/04/27 19:47

Long time since I enjoyed a fresh album but this one does it:
Paco Sala : Ro-me-ro

If you like warm electronics with pop-trip hop-psychedelia-cinematic influences you should definitely give this a listen- like Arovane (Tides & Lilies), Goldfrapp and Portishead secretly met. Prelisten here: <http://boomkat.com/vinyl/516640-paco-sala-ro-me-ro#%2Fdownloads%2F517640-paco-sala-ro-me-ro>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mnonner - 2012/04/27 20:17

emnine wrote:

Long time since I enjoyed a fresh album but this one does it:

Paco Sala : Ro-me-ro

If you like warm electronics with pop-trip hop-psychedelia-cinematic influences you should definitely give this a listen- like Arovane (Tides & Lilies), Goldfrapp and Portishead secretly met. Prelisten here: <http://boomkat.com/vinyl/516640-paco-sala-ro-me-ro#%2Fdownloads%2F517640-paco-sala-ro-me-ro> listened to the samples of the first half by now. really makes me think...why didn't I think of that? especially the drums on "dumb truth". Highly inspirational. I gotta say....this is the first time in a long while when a music recommendation really affected me.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mnonner - 2012/04/27 20:24

Barfunkel wrote:

Found this deep house gem tucked away as the B2 track on one of my records:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bT9YWhH9A2M>

:silly: :woohoo: ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2012/04/27 21:02

<http://vimeo.com/41089409>

guess most of you have seen this already via Matrixsynth, but nonetheless this has got to be one of the sickest things ever ! :cheer: B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by PlayRecords - 2012/04/28 03:57

MONOLAKE. GHOSTS.

JON PORRAS.. UNDERCURRENT.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2012/04/28 04:13

Portico Quartet - Isla

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by microluv - 2012/04/28 04:21

<http://eplex.bandcamp.com/>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2012/04/28 06:00

Yep...,eplex are the bomb. Awesome.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/05/01 15:23

These are 2 of my top 10 of beautiful songs...PS, i don't care how pop these bands ever get:P
PS the artwork is beyond breath taking, a good watch indeed

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TWcylpul8OE>

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Zr_MJAOyOeU

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/05/08 23:09

There are some great Techno Mixes to be found here.

<http://soundcloud.com/invite-1/sets/invites-choice-podcasts>

:)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2012/05/09 06:58

microluv wrote:

<http://eplex.bandcamp.com/>

nice! had not heard this before. thx

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by MayraJadan - 2012/05/11 15:15

Although they often made changes,But they are all regarding updations to new strategics devices.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2012/05/14 03:46

Killer Mike - R.A.P. Music

El-P - Cancer 4 Cure

Crazy that El-P has these coming out so close to each other. Shit goes haaaarrrrrrd.

Cult Favorite - The Kingdom snippet tape

<http://cultfavorite.bandcamp.com/track/the-kingdom>

Dirty lo-fi hotness. Looking forward to hearing more.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/05/20 17:50

Some excellent Sutekh albums.

<http://sutekh.bandcamp.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by simple - 2012/05/21 00:12

ooooh, dark. can't wait for this to come out.

<http://www.xobkisum.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2012/05/22 20:06

re-listening to "Music Has The Right To Children", by the Boards of Canada..

absolutely loving it

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/05/22 21:17

previewlounge wrote:

re-listening to "Music Has The Right To Children", by the Boards of Canada..

absolutely loving it

I just pulled that out the other day, with a few of their albums...looking forward to hearing the new album that are working on now

:cheer:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2012/05/24 02:24

xmit wrote:

fairly excited about the new upcoming Squarepusher Ufabulum

http://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=XvLAKrVbCBM

looks like a return to mental acidity goodness...B)

thought this would interest you.

<http://www.thedailyswarm.com/headlines/squarepusher-explains-his-new-record-track-track/>

Jenkinson explaining how each track from Ufabulum came together.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/06/04 23:41

Pitch black basement techno:

Acheron (LV-426)

<http://soundcloud.com/acheron-lv-426>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2012/06/06 21:57

Tea, scones and field guns. Nice.

<http://soundcloud.com/london-sound-survey/diamond-jubilee-field-gun>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2012/06/10 21:44

Some new (vinyl) records I bought:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=niDmM-HimJM>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=kdlqWJstPQ4>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=D27tAs-7o-0>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Cs6z9FFN9TA>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2012/06/10 22:04

cool tunes there ... particularly enjoying $tripper and Terrell .. the Medlar track has some brilliant dancing video vibes happening also.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Caustic Crush - 2012/06/10 22:21

Been enjoying the Drive soundtrack.

Killer Mike- R.A.P.

But really...any Lil B jammie produced by Clams Casino!!! Yeah, I said it. It takes a long time to fully enjoy, but once you get it; you get it. Well...Clams Casino is instantly enjoyable.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZG6zsHUCum4>

:snap:

I almost forgot this classic "I Own Swag"

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7zJa6FB5crk&feature=related>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2012/06/13 22:46

I am stuck real hard on the new Killer Mike, El-P and Lorn albums. Also digging Oddisee's recent EP/LP tag team.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by pj101111 - 2012/06/13 22:56

Just tuned in to Vladislav Delay - Vantaa. A little bit "messy" but the sound design is great! :laugh:

<http://open.spotify.com/album/6Sa8QE7vYI9imRgQz8IVzB>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by LIVESEQ - 2012/06/13 23:30

have to have facebook to get spotify = bad.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by binaural - 2012/06/13 23:58

Second that! Not connected here either...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by pj101111 - 2012/06/14 18:13

Oh didn't know that. I have had the account for a long time and when I signed up they didn't require a Facebook login.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mnonner - 2012/06/15 14:43

honestly since i have owned elektrons I only listen to music from the "your music" forum for the most part. I am not really one to seek out electronic music, ive only really been into anything AFX related and boards of canada as a whole, and a few other artists for a song or two (kind of weird since I am committed to making electronic music?).PS: I've gotten really bored of BOC in the 10 years ive been listening, but not AFX. anyways, i have to say that what I hear from some elektron users (highsage, ipassenger, siesta submarina/trondc, etc.) is really inspirational and deserving of the same attention i would give some "big name" artist. Honestly, listening to one of highsages livesets the other day opened my eye/ears to techno the way that listening to stuff like miles davis/bud powell/thelonious monk/etc. opened me up to jazz when i took a college class on the history of jazz. I just wanna say that I think that a lot of people on here are making some fucking awesome music and I think they are going to be going big very soon.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2012/06/15 23:34

This one never leaves my box. A ultimate party anthem, as well as one of the greatest house tracks ever created:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AQFhSHZ3CsQ>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Technobadger - 2012/06/23 17:58

Daft punk seems to be this weekends choice

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2012/07/03 12:00

Moritz Von Oswald Trio

Dettinger - Oasis

Mohn

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2012/07/03 12:00

.edit

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by prscrptn - 2012/07/03 12:00

.edit

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by boboter - 2012/07/03 17:28

The new Albums by:

Dirty Projectors

&

Fiona Apple

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Amanita - 2012/07/03 23:14

roel funcken - vade

has been shaking the door off my car and annoying my wife and kids!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2012/07/03 23:45

got the new Liars album, Wixiw, last night. So far i'm digging it a lot!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ThinkTanx - 2012/07/03 23:47

papertiger wrote:

got the new Liars album, Wixiw, last night. So far i'm digging it a lot!

It's fantasmic! B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Power Wizard - 2012/07/16 19:21

I can't stop listening to Buck's Fizz. Somebody help me !

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xibalba - 2012/07/17 00:08

listening to my top three Hip-Hop albums this year

Aesop Rock - Skelethon - if you don't like his voice but you like beats this one will serve you will (the instrumental is sold on itunes). Lyrically Aesop is probably at his finest yet still crazy with the wordplay but even through all of the heavy lyrics there is theme that is sorta easily focused on. Beat wise - Leisureforce, Cycles of Gehenna. Lyrically - Gopher Guts, Zero Dark Thirty

Dislike - Homemade Mummy, ZZZ Top (lyrics only)

El-P - Cancer 4 Cure - insane lyrically and production wise highly recommended, his best album to date. Stand out tracks beat wise - The Full Retard, Drones over Brooklyn. Lyrically Full Retard, Stay Down. Dislike - Tougher Colder Killer

Killer Mike - R.A.P Music (entirely produced by El-P) - lyrically i find it ok not because of his rhymes but the topics (political and religious topics abound) i just don't like hearing about. The production is amazing El-P style meets southern flare. The track Southern Fried is my highly beat wise because it is just confusing at first yet falls in once the drums start. Also the track Untitled is amazing beat wise (bongos, synth leads, solid bass line etc.) all make this track go hard. Dislike - Regan, Jo Jo's Chilling

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by boboter - 2012/07/17 01:15

^ Dude, bumping those exact three albums as well.

I love all of them. Specially great to hear Aesop rap again. I totally dig his stuff and even his old tunes get played on a regular basis. He's the man.

And El-P is probably my favorite producer ever.

Such great weeks for rap music.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lameaim - 2012/07/17 19:01

Hah, I'm rocking those three right now, too. Fantastic albums. Also looking forward to adding the new Dark Time Sunshine album into rotation when it comes out.

Stumbled across Baroness a while back, currently filing through their catalog. Really dig the Blue Record.

Heard this Shigeto live set earlier today, it's working:

<http://soundcloud.com/shigeto/shigeto-live-lincoln-hall-7-10>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/08/04 03:33

Like this Sandwell District Set/Video

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aS1vQF9iN7w&feature=channel&list=UL>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/08/04 03:52

Nein wrote:

Like this Sandwell District Set/Video

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aS1vQF9iN7w&feature=channel&list=UL>

Fun to hear some old plastikman in that mix, but the endless white noise buildups of modern techno really get on my nerves :p

Been having a blast playing some new old vinyl, mostly from Drumcode/Code Red, User, Purpose Maker, Primate Recordings, Bush (Dave Clarke Red series on vinyl = heaven)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/08/04 04:04

Quite a few of the tracks in that set are pretty old.

:)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2012/08/04 05:01

TrondC wrote:

new old vinyl, mostly from Drumcode/Code Red, User, Purpose Maker, Primate Recordings, Bush (Dave Clarke Red series on vinyl = heaven)

Amazing that you've been able to buy these just as easily, I came up with a trove of good vinyl a couple months back that includes most of these names. I wonder if a bunch of old techno DJs are tradng their classics in :blink:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2012/08/13 10:29

listening to an amazing track called "Before", from Triangulation by Scuba.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2012/08/13 23:04

skab/t - crooked with these :pinch:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by skab - 2012/08/14 02:05

kirlian wrote:

skab/t - crooked with these :pinch:

Thanks Kirlian! I just listened to "Poetry Exit Wound" on your soundcloud. That is some seriously dope shit!! It's the middle of the night right here now but first thing tomorrow morning I'm gonna trouble the neighbors with that and check out the rest of your tracks. Looking forward to it!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by kirlian - 2012/08/14 03:39

oh is that you?! ive been listening to your album a lot - very enjoyable :beer: i had no idea you were on this forum :laugh: so how much of the album is elektron?

*edit- scratch that... i remember you posting about your album a while back. i got about 10 albums that week and couldn't remember where yours came from. but anyway, the cream rose to the top!!

i apreciate you checking my tracks! :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2012/08/31 17:17

Some house records I just bought:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=5zEU-GikWQY>

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=tf_uewGpKe0

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EW3RRSVN7qM>

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=P19BTowlurE>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/09/10 15:46

This Delta Funktionen set is great if you have 3 hours spare.

<http://soundcloud.com/octopusagents/delta-funktionen-mnml-ssgs>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2012/09/11 04:43

Nein wrote:

This Delta Funktionen set

Two hours into this now. Effing brilliant, thanks for the share :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2012/09/13 01:34

116 True Electro Tracks Free Download...

GREYSTATES are thrilled, honored, and humbled to join a 116-artist-strong compilation of current producers of real, honest-to-goodness electro!

Contributing artists include SILICON SCALLY, ADJ, MANASYT, SYNC24, DELINQUENT DIALECT, CLATTERBOX, and pretty much everyone else on earth whose music I've ever loved.

Entitled "ELECTRO COMPENDIUM" and curated by Dave Paton (the wee djs) and Jean-Paul Bondy (volsoc), this release will be FREE to download (yes, all 4 gigs of it), in bite-sized chunks on ADDICTECH in the near future. It will also be stream-able over a custom iPhone app made just for this project!

The link below is a teaser, where you'll be able to hear the entire tracklist for a short time before the release proper drops.

Extra thanks to Gustavo Lanzas (AUDIOELECTRONIC/CYBRID/NUDE PHOTO MUSIC) for providing constant encouragement, advice, and mastering for our track, "The Cult of Mars." And for those interested, this cut is a new version you haven't heard before!

:::SHARE WITH EVERYONE:::PLAY LOUD OR NOT AT ALL:::SUPPORT REAL ELECTRO:::

<http://anti-social-network.bandcamp.com/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2012/09/13 04:48

dubathonic wrote:

Nein wrote:

This Delta Funktionen set

Two hours into this now. Effing brilliant, thanks for the share :)

Listening to this... Is it a Live Pa set I can hearz monomachine thruout I thinks...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2012/09/13 10:20

cosmosuave wrote:

Listening to this... Is it a Live Pa set I can hearz monomachine thruout I thinks...

DJ set for sure...check the link at the bottom of the SC page for details. Might be MnM on some track in there somewhere though ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2012/09/13 10:24

the xx - coexist

spring heel jack - 68 million shades

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/09/13 11:25

papertiger wrote:

spring heel jack - 68 million shades

Haven't listened to that in at least 10 years...and it was on heavy rotation during my DnB phase in the 90's, alongside such classics as DnB for Papa and all the MetalHeadz stuff (Photek especially)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2012/09/13 11:48

poonti wrote:

papertiger wrote:

spring heel jack - 68 million shades

Haven't listened to that in at least 10 years...and it was on heavy rotation during my DnB phase in the 90's, alongside such classics as DnB for Papa and all the MetalHeadz stuff (Photek especially)

it was made in 1996 and makes us all sound like a bunch of whiny, no-talent babies when we bitch about what we have to work with.

now everyone get off my lawn. and my chair.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/09/13 12:18

papertiger wrote:
poonti wrote:
papertiger wrote:

spring heel jack - 68 million shades
Haven't listened to that in at least 10 years...and it was on heavy rotation during my DnB phase in the 90's, alongside such classics as DnB for Papa and all the MetalHeadz stuff (Photek especially)

it was made in 1996 and makes us all sound like a bunch of whiny, no-talent babies when we bitch about what we have to work with.

now everyone get off my lawn. and my chair.

I know!! Not only that, they were putting out stuff that boggles the mind, with basically the equivalent of two twigs and a rock...:laugh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2012/09/14 15:06

Spring Heel Jack is so great. WTF happened to drum'n'bass?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/09/17 05:48

Fantastic Edit Select Mix.

http://soundcloud.com/edit-select/2012_edit-select-sep

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2012/09/28 01:44

3 tracks by Akufen..

'Even White Horizons', 'Late Night Munchies', 'Heaven Can Wait'

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by YNE - 2012/09/28 02:19

In the mood for some dubby stuff. The new DFRNT album is really great...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/09/28 04:18

This is a great mix.

<http://www.droidbehavior.com/blog/2012/09/d-node-173-anthony-parasole-deconstruct-corner-ny/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/09/28 04:24

And This

<http://soundcloud.com/audioinjection/audio-injection-live-at-lobby>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/09/28 14:35

The Jezabelle's last album opens correct and is hard hittin... Mad props to the drummer !_! I hope I can make it to DC and catch this show.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=E4aB39NKWbA>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/10/02 13:26

Mr Delay ;)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cDkMB-mDI7Y>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by alep - 2012/10/02 15:21

operator, this is an emergency!

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Lz7nSkFhBP0>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/10/05 23:31

New James Ruskin Mix.

And just to mention at Cable London on Nov 17th.

Robert Hood Live

James Ruskin and Mark Broom Live.

Not promoting this but will be there if anyone else happens to be going.

<http://www.cable-london.com/broadcast/single/cablecast-002-james-ruskin>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2012/10/06 00:50

I'm really digging the new Silent Servant 'Negative Fascination' album at the moment.

dense, dark & both brutal & beautiful, pitched somewhere between techno & industrial.

immense.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2012/10/06 01:19

xmit wrote:

I'm really digging the new Silent Servant 'Negative Fascination' album at the moment.

dense, dark & both brutal & beautiful, pitched somewhere between techno & industrial.

immense.

Have not heard a lot of his work, but the remix of PAS' "Bell Blocker" was more than good enough for me to order the vinyl instantly... Will check out, thanx!

I've really been digging the sound of newer CLR releases, the Braincell & Brian Sanhaji 'Split Structure EP' is really fun, and the Liebing remix of Tommy Four Seven's 'Snout' is a bomb for sure! Also finally got really into Adam X's Traversable Wormhole project, both the originals and the remix EP's are great.

On an unrelatred note buying a pair of turntables quickly turned into a new obsession, after strict restraint of my urges to order more I am now closing in at 150 records bought in three months :p Pure love tho :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/10/10 23:07

Elizabeth Frasier's voice is so haunting...i. am. in. love.
Fucking brilliant album...

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=B31H8IA3vqg>

"Things from the forest die here
but I don't
Dead forest things are offered here but I'm not..."

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mus7er - 2012/10/20 05:30

i like techno music.

my favourites are some guys from drumcode adam beyer joel mull cari lekebusch

joseph capriati
jerome syndenham gregor tresher
paul ritch patrick siech

for me this guys are the leaders they know exactly how techno must sounds like.

but i really like other artists too..

alberto pascual
uto karem paco osuna julian jeweil
layo and bushwaka luigi madonna schubert shdwplay

this are my favourites this time

now i listen to one of my favourite records this days mark reeve - data impact (onolog) very very nice record.. and looks great see picture ;-)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by mus7er - 2012/10/20 05:40

picture http://elektron-users.com/images/fbfiles/images/20121019_222522.jpg

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/10/28 21:28

Pacou Live in Madrid from Last night.

Making heavy use of the Machinedrum.

Banging!!

<http://soundcloud.com/pac/pacou-madrid-live-oct-2012>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/10/31 17:17

Mostly very happy music like Elliott Smith... :oof:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Logeek - 2012/11/01 11:46

RADIO MASSACRE INTERNATIONAL

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2012/11/01 13:31

lot's of this guy - Grischa Lichtenberger. he really just has my number lately

<https://bleep.com/artist/12805>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Logeek - 2012/11/01 16:36

Thanks for the tip on Grisha Lichtenberger... Very creative... a different feeling & approach to time.
Do you know what kind of set up the Gent is using? http://elektron-users.com/images/fbfiles/images/prt_220x315_1323661925.jpeg

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2012/11/01 22:18

Came across this guy Dino Sabatini thru and article via Resident Advisor... Slow evolving techno bass heavy with lots of percussion elements...

<http://youtu.be/zXGH7nXNAmm>

A full set under a psuedonym...

<http://youtu.be/Lyw-Obe0y6A>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc - 2012/11/01 22:31

The God Machine. And I bought the new Patti Smith album for my gf yesterday so hopefully I'll listen to that one soon.

And I have been listening to Tarekith videos on the octatrack and the amen break being mangled while getting to know the machine!

Good times in the studio, awful times at the office waiting..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/11/02 07:54

Listening to my JoggingMix1, starting with a SCSI-9 remix and ending with a Trentmoeler one. I used djay on the iPad to create the mix (and I've never mixed anything ... non-alcoholic or food related before in my life :laugh:)

Anyway, I can't even remember what's in there...some Terry Lee Brown Jr, and ???

Music like this helped me do some 250 odd km of running since July, so I thought I'd post:

EDIT: sorry I got rid of this one and my second mix since I realized that this P.O.S djay app only records to mono....with really bad quality to boot....too bad, the i/f was quite good. Maybe I'll find something else, or better yet, get back to making my own! How does this crap pass QA???

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by drumfish - 2012/11/02 08:21

http://www.amazon.com/Manhattan-Research-Inc-Raymond-Scott/dp/B00004SYD6/ref=ntt_mus_ep_dpi_4 for those who wants to fill a bit the octatrack with some old weirdness ;-)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TOS - 2012/11/02 08:22

Logeek wrote:

RADIO MASSACRE INTERNATIONAL

Nice! In a similar style but a bit more energetic, I recommend Node's same-titled record.

<http://www.discogs.com/artist/Node>

https://www.youtube.com/watch?feature=player_embedded&v=raVdU8HzFPc

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Didjeko - 2012/11/03 23:13

Back to the roots : Pierre Schaeffer, the beginning of concrete music, back in 1948

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/11/04 08:43

Fortran 5

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ldhINiQkg-g>

Early to mid 90's UK electronic music was so f'ing creative, probably my single favorite era for electronic music.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/11/04 08:49

poonti wrote:

Fortran 5

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ldhINiQkg-g>

Early to mid 90's UK electronic music was so f'ing creative, probably my single favorite era for electronic music.

Very much agree with your statement.

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by sparco - 2012/11/04 09:12

aphex twin

orbital

=====

Re: what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/11/04 20:36

^ YES

and

FSOL
HIA Squarepusher
The Orb
Chemical Bros
Autechre
Black Dog

and on and on...

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2012/11/07 22:11

I don't know what the song is but it sounds better watching this....

A Swedish crew called PMS going hardfuckingcore BIG UPS

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=hd7rEfKnSHw&list=PL6C5350A2FB2CF48D&index=1&feature=plpp_video

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/11/12 08:58

A'ight, I ditched iPad "djay" and got onto Virtual dj and did a new JogginMix. So, this is an assortment of dub techno, tech-house, and minimal, ending with one of my favorite all-time minimal downtempo pieces: Tben by Suedmilch. I use mixes like this to not only run distances, but to beat-match my steps to the music (which varies throughout the mix). Beat matching my steps allows me to run at different rhythms and lowers the chance of injury, sore muscles, etc.

Or you could just chill and listen....

When I resurrect my studio (really only need my audio i/f ffs!), I'll get back to writing some tunes, until then it's mixes....

<http://soundcloud.com/poonti/jogginmix1>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by yoof - 2012/11/15 17:28

Autechre - Anti EP

Probably been mentioned here a hundred times, but I keep coming back to this gem a lot recently.

<http://www.discogs.com/Autechre-Anti-EP/release/157>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by DaCaVa - 2012/11/15 22:07

A guy called Gerald. Dark fier. Epic lights out music.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo Fire - 2012/11/25 17:43

Poonti, enjoying your second mix now! First time I've listened to a mix all the way through in AGES!

Thanks -

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2012/11/25 19:24

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=abC-GoP1TZk> simple but effective

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2012/11/25 19:27

<http://youtu.be/BHZTnkFXwKM>

lovin this :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2012/11/26 04:59

Just ordered this disc....

German 70's disco Moroder influenced... Just awesome reminds me of my roller rink days....

http://www.kompakt.fm/releases/bass_ist_musik

Track 8 "Advance " stellar!!!

(en) One of Cologne's most revered personalities in electronic music is producer, singer and DJ JUSTUS KÄHNCKE. A true Kompakt staple since his ground-breaking "Was Ist Musik?" album from 2002, he continuously proved to be an extraordinary artist whose output sports rare lyrical and transformative properties, not shying away from German Schlager-like vocals or straight-up Disco references. It's KÄHNCKE's highly idiosyncratic (and personal) approach to dance music as we know it that informs every track, every sound coming out of his studio, making it a goosebumps-inducing experience and a communal event. Therefore, Kompakt is extremely proud to present BASS IST MUSIK, a definitive collection of both signature tracks (like mythical 2004 dance floor hit "Timecode") and underground favorites (2002's "Jet" comes to mind here, as does the memory of sweat-laden parties in Cologne's most hidden basements), dauntlessly cutting through three full-length releases and countless 12"s between 2001 and now. Needless to say we included KÄHNCKE's legendary remake of JÄRGEN Paape's towering "So Weit Wie Noch Nie" and leftfield classic "Weiche ZÄune", a much-adored plea for more open-mindedness in club culture, stylistically or otherwise. Not only a celebration of the artist's earliest years, "Bass Ist Musik" also invites you to discover more recent works like 2006 headbanger "Advance" or 2008's "Feuerland", an expertly crafted cover of Krautrock legend Michael Rother's early 70s cult jam, making this a perfectly balanced selection worthy of the KOMPAKT KLASSIKS seal of approval.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Daisuk - 2012/12/03 06:45

Been listening to Clams Casino a lot lately, he's got some epic stuff. Also Sweden's very own 1991, the newest Andy Stott, that new Vessel record is pretty interesting, also just bought Dataline's newest record (I believe he's a poster on here?), which is also interesting to listen to, the new Vladislav Delay record is amazing, best thing he's done for years, also been listening to Teengirl Fantasy (heard that they used Elektron stuff), and obviously Actress, who is just boss. Can't believe the sound he manages to achieve with his Elektron stuff. :) Oh, and Vatican Shadow has some intense shit going, loving their sound as well, very rough.

Also the newest release on my netlabel, by a guy called Calculush, some really nice instrumental hip-hop (marsmelons.com for free download and stream).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2012/12/11 04:56

This is a great mix.

Hits the nail on the head soundwise for me. I would like to make stuff like this if I had even an ounce of talent.

<https://soundcloud.com/materialobject/material-object-clr-podcast>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/12/11 05:01

Indigo Fire wrote:

Poonti, enjoying your second mix now! First time I've listened to a mix all the way through in AGES!

Thanks -

Hey Indigo, just saw your post today, thanks!! I wish I could make that style of music (I tried, I can't :blush: LOL)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2012/12/11 05:05

poonti wrote:

Got 3 Joggin' mixes now (good for 3 outings, 10km+). All funky, dubby, minimal, techy housy, if you're into that sort of thing. Had to move from soundcloud though, as it was eating into my 240min, so I've put them on mixcloud (which also does auto-tune detection and labelling, which is a godsend for a lazy bastard like me!!!)

<http://www.mixcloud.com/Poonti/>

oh! excellent! I've been relying on Mike Skinner's FACT mix for that lately, but it would be cool to change it up. Who says you can't run to brostep bass drops?!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Didjeko - 2012/12/11 05:29

That one guy (<http://www.that1guy.com/>) and his incredible Magic Pipe. Unique home-made instrument.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2012/12/17 12:13

Free download of Microtrauma great mix....

<http://soundcloud.com/microtrauma/these-days-winter-mix-december>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2012/12/18 01:09

papertiger wrote:

oh! excellent! I've been relying on Mike Skinner's FACT mix for that lately, but it would be cool to change it up. Who says you can't run to brostep bass drops?!

Ha, I'd be wobbling all over the place and having quasi-epileptic seizures while running. Also I've gotten used to the 120-130 range of bpm's of tech-house.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by stiiiiiive - 2012/12/25 21:24

Beak>>

Geoff Barrow's side project I saw live two years ago and again one month ago.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tIB - 2012/12/25 21:37

^ ooh, keep meaning to check that out, how were they?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by stiiiiiive - 2012/12/28 09:54

Well they had me already in their fanbag ;)

Very cool gig : great sound, great atmosphere, and great lightshow provided by a cool 80ies portable system. Geoff and Billy told me they got it on eBay a few days before :)

EDIT: can see a bit of the lights there.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by stiiiiiive - 2013/01/01 02:32

Beak's lights here!!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/01/02 23:21

Nice lively Techno set from Mr Jones (Does all the hard work for Dave Clarke in the Studio these days).

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0PGquOilCwk>

And a real mash up from Housemeister

<http://soundcloud.com/housemeister/housemeister-rotessonne-munich>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2013/01/03 04:51

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Tm4nejoyYH4>

Best thing in 2012 in my opinion :P

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Indigo333 - 2013/01/03 23:37

First things first... like butter:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Aix_NOp2DNk

a lil bit of this too:kiss:

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pBS2J_3Ufal

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Didjeko - 2013/01/04 20:28

An ka wili, "Stand up" released 1st january 2013, by tiken Jah Fakoly, a song for the Mali, a and that gave us so many fantastic musicians, Ballake Cissoko, Toumani Diabate, Ali Farka Toure...

<http://www.info-afrique.com/tiken-jah-fakoly-mali-an-ka-wili/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2013/01/07 06:11

Some great Techno Lewis Fautzi...

<http://www.kompakt.fm/releases/hypnotic>

Lewis Fautzi is the most recent addition to the Soniculture catalogue. This young portuguese producer has already released fine techno tracks on his own label Konstrukt and many others, such as Phobiq, Magna, Dsr Israel, Thatâ€™s Hot, Ksl, Land of Voodoo, Itzamna and Music life. He also produced â€œBeautiful Treeâ€• EP on Soniculture Unlimited 007. Lewis recently created his live project called Nuklear Default, with more industrial and dark techno influences. The bonding of both concepts has resulted in this fabulous release, called â€œHypnoticâ€•. A thorough exploration of techno in its most hypnotic form is the center core of this project, with heavy basses and subtle synth lines that penetrate the neurons of your mind and re-arrange them in a chaotic fashion. A touch of darkness is common in all tracks, which are all innovative and provide a fresh look into modern techno. Six tracks of mind blowing dance floor burners. Stay tuned for Nuklear Defaultâ€™s live show. Soon at a club near you.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/01/07 18:19

Blawan Boiler Room Set.

Nice to see some Turntables on the go.

http://www.mixesdb.com/w/2012-05-03_-_Blawan_@_Boiler_Room_92_-_Grimes_%26_Friends_Takeover

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by yoof - 2013/01/07 19:14

I was listening to that Blawan set on the way into work this morning... a really good one eh!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/01/09 05:43

Nathan Fake Mix that I managed to miss last year.

Love the Luke Abbott "Modern Driveway" tune.

<http://soundcloud.com/factmag/fact-mix-355-nathan-fake-nov>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by yoof - 2013/01/09 16:52

Heroes, Low and Lodger ;-)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2013/01/09 22:53

yoof wrote:

Heroes, Low and Lodger ;-)

Some of his best work! Low is my favorite Bowie album, I think..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/01/15 18:09

Another Fantastic Audio Injection Mix.

<http://soundcloud.com/gynoid-audio/audio-injection-gynoid-audio-podcast>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/01/15 18:09

Another Fantastic Audio Injection Mix.

<http://soundcloud.com/gynoid-audio/audio-injection-gynoid-audio-podcast>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Daisuk - 2013/01/26 22:34

Just got the new Jar Moff record in the mail, listening to it now - completely off the hook! Really good. :)

http://img.mp3rally.com/imager/w_500/h_/6a4ea9c723d7443081595396535f5b76.jpg

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2013/01/29 00:41

just discovered this track by a columbian producer..

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=cPzWUU9Opo>

"Talamak" by Toro y Moi really cool..

also "So Many Details" by Toro...

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O0_ardwzTrA very savvy vocals and bassline..

(although around 3:06 the harmony gets a bit disharmonious)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2013/01/29 00:51

just bought 'The Europa Judgement' by Franz Falckenhaus for d/l..... I absolutely love 'The Lost Border' & somehow this one had passed me by, so thought I'd correct this little oversight ;)
In whatever guise or alias he's assuming for a project, Danny Wolfers is a genius...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by yoof - 2013/01/29 01:29

Ah, cool, I didn't know about that alias... I remember really digging the Nacho Patrol stuff from a couple of years ago.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by udenjoe - 2013/01/29 04:36

2013 Update:

BMG - Local Detroit Producer has some mixes on soundcloud <https://soundcloud.com/ithqdetroit> (Interdimentional Transmissions) <http://interdimensionaltransmissions.com/> They've been having some good parties lately. If you're in the area sometime check them out.

Mountains - decent ambient acoustics.

Rollerskate Skinny

Melody's Echo Chamber

Tame Impala

Elephant Stone

Tamaryn

Allah-Las

Canyons

Bonjour Tristesse

Peaking Lights

Broadcast

Psychic Ills

Innergaze -

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2013/01/30 16:31

I have this on repeat. The best filterdiscohouse track I've heard in years!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WHCsK68hr9Y>

(And yes, I'm aware it's basically just a big disco sample with a huge kickdrum on it)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2013/01/30 16:47

3 tracks from a release by Aligning Minds on Gravitass...

free for the first 48 hours i think...

"Ether Perfect"

http://music.gravitasrecordings.com/download?from=ether&id=2132134362&payment_id=3317186679&sig=a4f88d427952786f986985ee4ff2194a&type=track

"Weeping Willow" (feat. Born Infinite)

http://music.gravitasrecordings.com/download?from=ether&id=2709010788&payment_id=3317186679&sig=a4f88d427952786f986985ee4ff2194a&type=track

"In the Wake of Forever"

http://music.gravitasrecordings.com/download?from=ether&id=3257191013&payment_id=3317186679&sig=a4f88d427952786f986985ee4ff2194a&type=track in case anyone is interested, the "format" flyout list allows for a higher, 320kps mp3 quality.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by MAZ - 2013/01/30 18:07

New Repeatle (A. Tilliander) on Kontra musik sounding very nice, stylish analog minimalism...
<http://www.kontra-musik.com/index.php?id=239>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by drumfish - 2013/01/30 18:25

<http://www.anodyneindustries.net/> ... for the mainstream side of me

http://fr.wikipedia.org/wiki/Venetian_Snares ... for the weird side of me

http://fr.wikipedia.org/wiki/Raymond_Scott ... huge database of samples

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2013/01/31 11:57

drumfish wrote:

http://fr.wikipedia.org/wiki/Raymond_Scott ... huge database of samples very cool! out of interest, what kind of sounds do you like to sample from Raymond Scott?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Glitchedout - 2013/01/31 12:46

This week I has been listening to these guys on a label called broken fader cartel. Pretty sick stuff. I broke my robot is on that and so is naseous youth future. Worth checking out for sure

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Glitchedout - 2013/01/31 13:51

<http://youtu.be/-oBCg82sIII>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Snivitz - 2013/02/07 00:29

Recently I've been listening to Pinkunoizu, Supper Furry Animals, Alt-J, Xhin, Sawf and a lot perc records releases oh and a lot of stuff coming out of the Subsekt Techno forums

I was having a look at the trailer for Django Unchained today and found a wee band called Django Django....

<http://youtu.be/mvOiFmjExx4>

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by papertiger - 2013/02/07 01:01

my bloody valentine -- MBV pantha du prince + the bell laboratory -- elements of light arvo part -- te deum
assorted Burial albums, EPs, etc....
the xx -- "reunion" and "sunset" from coexist (i love the way these two songs flow into one another and work together)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by yoof - 2013/02/07 18:14

Massive Attack - Mezzanine

Tear Drop is such a good track!

Also looking forward to checking MBV. They seemed to pass me by the first time round, so looking forward to listening to that.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Czx - 2013/02/07 18:28

Actress - RIP is on my mind a LOT lately
Along with some new MBV and assorted Maya Jane Coles tracks.

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2013/02/08 00:05

Just ordered some new wax, some new some old

Trade (Surgeon and Blawan) - Sheworks 005, hammering techno madness of the highest order!
Karenn (Pariah and Blawan) - Sheworks 004, extremely filthy hardware techno
Acid Rain- Acid Rain 2, the Milton Bradley alias, completely over the top droney acid-like soundscapes TM 404, Tlliander's new concept using nothing but roland drum machines and space echoes is too unique to pass up :)

Also been digging some House recently:

- Kyodai - Breaking, a stunning piece of house music:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZUbYWjtRtuU>

STL - Something is raw: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VXOojiv5qls&feature=share&list=PL9C31369B1A6BB833>

Good times :)

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by redrum - 2013/02/09 08:52

I haven't been on the forum for a while. But I just downloaded the new Autechre and have to say that it is fairly amazing. May not be for everyone but making my weekend for sure!B)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2013/02/17 18:33

Trade (Surgeon & Blawan), just love theese completely ugly tunes made out of pitched down drum loops, analogue filters and a general punk attitude to techno music:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oFwwuttRfyY>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by twistedspace - 2013/02/17 20:14

At the moment, COH - Strings.

<http://www.raster-noton.net/main.php?action=products&dat=108>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by DanielW - 2013/02/18 06:41

The new Autechre, The new My Bloody Valentine, Throbbing Gristle's farewell album, a Norwegian artist called The Secret Sound:

<http://www.marsmelons.com/portfolio/mmx063-the-secret-sound-dealing-with-national-feelings/>

Oh, and this lovely Elektron live set: <https://soundcloud.com/lo-mate/live01>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Daisuk - 2013/02/18 06:49

Czx wrote:

Actress - RIP is on my mind a LOT lately

Along with some new MBV and assorted Maya Jane Coles tracks.

This. Have had a very long Actress period now, absolutely love his sound. Also been listening a lot to Lee Gamble lately, and Sand Circles, the new Autechre, L.Pierre, Gerry Read, Matthewdavid (this guy doesn't stop surprising me, what he can do to sound is just amazing), Moire (from Werk Discs), Snasen (Norwegian producer). Looking much forward to releasing some stuff from people on here, some really good sounds on its way! :)

DanielW; Nice! The Secret Sound is fantastic. She'll (most probably) be playing live on a label-night on Tuesday the 19th of March in Oslo, if you have even the remotest chance of coming. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/02/22 18:37

<https://soundcloud.com/#soma/slam-radio-013-dvs1-recorded>

An hour of an 11 hour set by DVS 1 at Berghain, end of last year.

The Jerome Sydenham mix from the Slam Radio Podcast is also well worth a listen. :)

<https://soundcloud.com/#soma/slam-radio-012-jerome>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2013/02/28 21:52

nice chilled house track called Robotics by Aura Fresh... <http://youtu.be/TfQzBRLq2CE> enjoyable bladerunneresque cityscape image on the video too.

from their recent EP, 'aura of exclusivity' .. SC link:
https://soundcloud.com/bio-recordings/aura-fresh-an-aura-of the first track, 'desert storm', is exquisite and very beautiful.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2013/02/28 22:55

Near 2 hour Efdemin set... Gets going around the 45min mark starts off slow but rocks out...

<http://www.factmag.com/2013/02/25/fact-mix-371-efdemin/>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2013/03/03 18:16

Ok, I bet Tilliander will post this himself at one point, but in case anyone missed this:

TM404, probably the most beautiful and original take on the roland tr and tb machines you'll hear for a while. 4-5 tape delay units in the mix does not hurt either....

TM404 live debut (!) at Berghain (!! <http://electronicexplorations.org/?show=tm404>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Daisuk - 2013/03/03 18:34

TrondC wrote:

Ok, I bet Tilliander will post this himself at one point, but in case anyone missed this:

TM404, probably the most beautiful and original take on the roland tr and tb machines you'll hear for a while. 4-5 tape delay units in the mix does not hurt either....

TM404 live debut (!) at Berghain (!! <http://electronicexplorations.org/?show=tm404>

This! Listened to it yesterday - immense stuff, loved it, my favorite record of 2013 so far by a mile. :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by previewlounge - 2013/03/08 00:52

listening to a laid back and groovy house track called Deep Invitation, with a nice slight breakbeat influence..

by Helmut Ebrißch on the Lucidflow label.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=-h9w9O58yz0>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ghyt wembpang - 2013/03/08 02:40

Die fuckin' Antwoord.

Maddeningly addictive.

Also lots of Fucking Werewolf Asso, and music from FF7... since i've been playing FF7.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Daisuk - 2013/03/16 22:08

ghyt wembpang wrote:
Die fuckin' Antwoord.

Maddeningly addictive.

Also lots of Fucking Werewolf Asso, and music from FF7... since i've been playing FF7.

Saw them live once and found it almost comical, but I know lots of people are really into it. Maybe I should give them a second chance.

I'm currently chopping up the absolutely fantastic Raspberry Beret by Prince to try out the remix features of the Octatrack. Has got to be one of my all time favorite pop songs, that chorus just keeps on giving me the chills! Amazing track. :woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Headphones - 2013/04/01 17:05

Kimbra-Vows
Mansun-Attack of the Grey Lantern
Chalk And Numbers-Parade EP
Foster The People-Torches
Hot Chip-In Our Heads
Neon Indian-Psychic Chasms
Stephen Malkus & The Jicks-Mirror Traffic

Just to name a few!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc - 2013/04/01 17:36

Isaac Hayes - Hot buttered soul
Blakroc
Q-tip - The Renaissance
Autechre - Exai
Dr John - Gris-Gris

Mastadon - Crack the Skye

In no particular order, all of the above are excellent records, really great records.. so good!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Peter Hanes - 2013/04/02 04:03

Blue Hawaii "Untogether" album, especially the song "Yours to Keep". It's like Kate-Bush-meets-Seefeel(for those of you old enough to remember those artists):

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HX92YUTgANM>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by yoof - 2013/04/04 19:17

Port St. Willow - Holiday
Grouper - The Man Who Died In His Boat

Nice droney music to work to.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Lindsay - 2013/04/04 19:38

Donato Dozzy mixes from last year.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2013/04/06 23:23

just got in a batch of black crack, including the box for the first three Skudge records, love this!

Also digging deeper in the Repitch catalogue, as well as newer releases on Token..

Oh, and Fishermen, a swedish duo releasing on Skudge White, their first is a real gem..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/04/09 19:13

Really Enjoyed this Ben Sims Mix

<https://soundcloud.com/lanparty/chris-liebing-presents-clr-214>

And as always you cant go wrong with the Advent.

<https://soundcloud.com/medellinstyle/the-advent-clr-podcast-215-08>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by AHD - 2013/04/09 20:55

Lindsay wrote:

Donato Dozzy mixes from last year.

do you have a link to some of the mixes? i can only find two from mnmlssg.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by AHD - 2013/04/18 18:27

http://www.electronique.it/podcastA3163C10_Podcast_Donato-Dozzy_E-P--200---Roma

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc - 2013/04/18 18:32

Just got the new David Bowie record, loving it. Also bought some old Cannonball Adderley record and discovered Grand Funk Railroad :woohoo:

..The roadburn festival starts this weekend and I will be listening to Cult of Luna, Godflesh and High on Fire the next couple of months as a result! :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Snivitz - 2013/04/22 05:59

Well right now it's Stuart Maconie's Freak Zone on 6 Music, quality show :)

The Freakier Zone up next :woohoo:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by danbroad - 2013/04/22 06:06

Susumu Yokota and revisiting all the older FSOL 'from the archives' stuff. I remember FSOL's grand proclamation that they were 'redefining electronica' with lifeforms... actually turned out to be true, I guess.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2013/04/22 06:15

The Knife - Shaking The Habitual

The Haxan Cloak - Excavation

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2013/04/22 08:14

polyslax wrote:

The Haxan Cloak - Excavation

i bought that yesterday. amazing record. caught me off guard. so dark and engaging.

<https://bleep.com/release/42083-the-haxan-cloak-excavation>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by lu_ce71 - 2013/04/22 09:09

polyslax wrote:

The Knife - Shaking The Habitual

^ YES!:laugh:

v In the mail right now!:) can't wait!

The Haxan Cloak - Excavation

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tasmansea - 2013/04/22 15:26

the film scores written by Warren Ellis and Nick Cave are pieces of indescribable beauty I find.
re-discovered them recently and am still baffled how beautiful those are. just check "the assassination of blahblalhyadada you know whatever..." O.S.T

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Glitchedout - 2013/04/22 15:38

I bought Nauseous Youth Future.....check him out its on the broken fader control label....not a ton of info on the guy but it sounds great...there is a few tracks up on YouTube

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Glitchedout - 2013/04/23 02:56

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=K5O0q99fq_U&sns=em

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2013/04/24 07:21

Another shout out here for the incredible Haxan Cloak - Excavation LP

Just listened for the first time tonight ... An incredibly dark deep & imaginative record, so skilfully put together. Certainly one of the best things I've heard this year so far.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by yoof - 2013/04/24 17:44

Yes, I was also blown away be The Haxan Cloak album yesterday. One track that starts with a vocal sample snippet scared the life out of me when it started!

I had to listen to Bloom by Beach House afterwards to balance out the darkness :)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc - 2013/04/24 20:29

http://www.soulstrut.com/images/uploads/reviews/adderl_cann_insidestr_101b.jpg

Found this and it is fantastic! Great mix, live and studioparts blended, great performances and a lot of humor, also up there with my all time favorite albumcovers!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2013/04/25 07:51

Revisiting Aoki Takamasa- Parabolica it still sounds great as well as Access to Arasaka oppiadan
Very impressed with Bonobos recent release (the name has slipped) :huh:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2013/04/25 10:50

Listening to Minilogue's Blomma, not sure what I think of it yet, but...sure sounds like an ode to the Orb's Adventures Beyond the Ultraworld, and that's a good thing :silly:

Update: nah, it's no Orb :(and no Animals neither.....unsure: wha' happen??? :blush:

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2013/04/27 05:29

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/programmes/b01s2fwx>
Andrew Weatherall in half an hour

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by natefrogg - 2013/04/27 06:46

mark n
kimball collins
dj brad moontribe blondfire frankie bones drc

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by FAXEKONDI - 2013/04/30 16:55

polyslax wrote:
The Knife - Shaking The Habitual

The Haxan Cloak - Excavation

I am riding the same musical wave as you right now. I also have been listening to a lot of Raime -- "Quarter Turns Over a Living Line" is too good.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dionysiananarchy - 2013/04/30 17:24

perfume - jpn

da octapuss

vnv nation

miko mission

immortal

old time punk, from sex pstols the clash, to crass , discharge, the business, anti-knowhere league, vcmg,,,,,

always pretty random,

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2013/05/09 16:05

wicked beats on schematic. fun stuff.

<http://schematicmusiccompany.bandcamp.com/album/symmetrics-b>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2013/05/09 16:30

dionysiananarchy wrote:

immortal

:evil:

Not a huge black metal fan but I like a few bands, like Immortal. I kinda wish they haven't made that video though, they've been a popular target of ridicule ever since.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by grillpanda - 2013/05/09 17:23

Been listening to the recent Powell and Romare EPs a lot.

<http://boomkat.com/downloads/643262-powell-untitled-rave002>
<http://boomkat.com/downloads/680409-romare-love-songs-part-one>

Love â€Riderâ€™ on the Powell EP especially.

And +millions to The Haxan Cloak â€™ Excavation.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dionysiananarchy - 2013/05/09 18:01

real black metal pretty much never make good videos,,,, as a genre they should be banned from it, saw immortal live, they were killer.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2013/05/09 18:14

the new Fabric Mix - Sandwell District - is getting lots of repeat play in these ears at the moment..

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by BlueWolfSe7en - 2013/05/09 19:15

Jiji Sotonoki

Quite surprised I've not heard this mentioned on these pages before! Maybe I missed it?

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2013/05/12 20:32

dionysiananarchy wrote:

real black metal pretty much never make good videos,,,, as a genre they should be banned from it, saw immortal live, they were killer.

While not good, some are atleast fun to watch, in that "look ma, I made a music vidoe on a $20 budget in 1990" :)
Especially like the running in the mountians around 4:00 in this:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NP0H491rRFU>

In the techno world, I just found this podcast from legendary producer Paula Temple, whi is doing a triumphant return to the techno scene with a new EP on R&S Records, and to show she is dead serious this mix was released. A fantastic mix by all means, by a master of the art:

<http://soundcloud.com/urb-com/urb-presents-paula-temple>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by emnine - 2013/05/13 03:31

polyslax wrote:

The Knife - Shaking The Habitual

I approve, thanks for the recommendation.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by thay bran - 2013/05/13 17:19

Mark fell - sentinel objective actualitie
Grischa litctenberger - inertia
Lusine - the waiting room
Autechre - exai
Snd - 15/16

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/05/22 19:52

The new Black Dog album "Tranklements" is well worth a listen.

(Nice one Xmit, I missed the release of that Sandwell District Mix, going to the shop right now).

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2013/05/22 22:27

^
no probs Neil.

Haven't got TBDs Tranklements yet, but I like what I've heard so far...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dubathonic - 2013/05/22 23:24

Some lush ambient techno by Skeptical has been my regular morning listen this past week

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc - 2013/05/22 23:36

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=P1QUZzeZoPQ>

..and exploring Dan Auerbach's production catalog! There's real gems in there if you're into it:

- Bombino
- Dr John, I enjoy the old Dr John a lot more, but it's personal.
- Blakroc

:)

Thanks all for the good tips, next stop recordshop.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by futureimage - 2013/05/23 05:22

Depeche Mode - Speak & Spell
PVT - Homosapien

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Nein - 2013/05/29 03:20

This Dixon Avenue Basement Jams Mix.

Honestly check it out its Wicked.

<http://soundcloud.com/dixonavenuebasementjams/vernon-dabj-mixtape-feb-2013>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2013/05/31 16:02

I recently compiled a list of the 120 greatest house 12 inch singles of all time-list, and now I'm listening to it, thinking about editing the list a little bit, as a few of the records maybe shouldn't be there.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by TrondC - 2013/06/04 04:08

Fishermen - Delirium Tremens, a fanstastic 12" by any standard, futuristic, edgy techno from the motherland of all things good in this world: Sweden..

This track got me more emotional than any track I've heard in many years
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=07ctjc5wJas>

Also hooked on Vessel, dub/techno/IDM stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by tenchi - 2013/06/04 05:45

Currently listening to Boards of Canada - Tomorrow's Harvest
Great stuff!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by 0BSRVr - 2013/06/04 05:54

Bird of Prey

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by bonde - 2013/06/04 20:56

'Immunity' by Jon Hopkins. Seriously good stuff.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by polyslax - 2013/06/08 05:14

bonde wrote:

'Immunity' by Jon Hopkins. Seriously good stuff.

+1 Picked this up last night... really enjoying.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Ringo KidF - 2013/06/08 05:20

Bowie- The Next Day and the new Darf Punk

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Glitchedout - 2013/06/08 05:22

Been listening to a lot of Mr. Bill lately plus some DJ KERO radio shows

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Duncan - 2013/06/08 05:53

polyslax wrote:

bonde wrote:

'Immunity' by Jon Hopkins. Seriously good stuff.

+1 Picked this up last night... really enjoying.

I picked this up last night too!! That and Diamond Mines - poles apart equally endearing

Must be the bleep recommendations page

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2013/06/09 16:19

Some jazz, like:

John Coltrane - Meditations

John Coltrane - Interstellar Space

Albert Ayler - Spiritual Unity

My plan this summer is to educate myself on some jazz and prog rock, going through some "100 greatest jazz/prog rock albums of all time"-type of lists.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2013/06/09 16:24

actress rip
Gil Scott heron -whole discog atom tm - hd atom tm wintereise

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Daisuk - 2013/06/09 21:51

DIGIV051: â€œSPECTRAMORPHIC IRIDESCENCEâ€•

Incredibly good, as per usual, when it comes to Digitalis releases.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2013/06/10 17:09

Barfunkel wrote:
Some jazz, like:

John Coltrane - Meditations
John Coltrane - Interstellar Space
Albert Ayler - Spiritual Unity

Adding to that, The Peter Brotzmann Octet - Machine Gun.

For some strange reason I find free jazz a lot easier to get into than it's smoother cousins. Normal jazz somehow sounds more distant, I find it easier to connect with emotionally when the music sounds chaotic and a bit dangerous.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by orwell - 2013/06/10 17:44

try miles Davis live in Japan agharta

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2013/06/10 18:58

I know it's got it's own thread below...but since Tomorrow's Harvest landed with me on Saturday (I wasn't expecting it until today ... :huh: :cheer:) I've just hammered that. It's BOC's best album, IMHO. Incredible.

I bought the Jon Hopkins CD for a mate's birthday present, along with 'Old Apparatus - 'Compendium' as both sounded sick from what I heard, so I'm rather hoping said old friend will do me a copy of both of these. ;)

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by dionysiananarchy - 2013/06/10 20:07

60s hip musical masturbation jazz, no feeling or heart or groove or anything worthwhile, just a bunch of soulless musicians doing on their instruments what Mariah Carey or Christian Aguilera do with their voice....I it's technically proficient but who the hell cares, it's terrible.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by Barfunkel - 2013/06/10 21:48

dionysiananarchy wrote:

60s hip musical masturbation jazz, no feeling or heart or groove or anything worthwhile, just a bunch of soulless musicians doing on their instruments what Mariah Carey or Christian Aguilera do with their voice....I it's technically proficient but who the hell cares, it's terrible.

Was that a response to my post? I.e. John Coltrane, Albert Ayler and Peter Br  tzmann?

I'm not in any way a jazz expert, in fact I know little to nothing about it. Those were just a few examples of the jazz I've liked the most lately. To me they sound extremely emotional and passionate (ie. the opposite of soulless). I've tried getting into more smoother forms of jazz (like Kind Of Blue), but I find it much harder to listen to, at least for a novice like me. Maybe it takes a few years of intense listening to learn to appreciate that kind of jazz.

But, like I said, I know nothing about jazz. Just a personal preference of a jazz-novice.

Edit: I suppose it's a bit same as noise music, or black metal. Sometimes it's fun to listen to more extreme stuff, to balance out the smooth deep house I mostly listen to.

And speaking of black metal, I'm just listening to Immortal.

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by husc - 2013/06/10 22:09

The Twilight Singers - Dynamite Steps

It took me about 10 playthroughs before it grabbed me, weird because I fell for all their previous work the instant I heard it. It is a very good record and if you're into moody, bluesy, jazzy, poppy, trippy rock with electronics you will like it too: :)

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IWoe6S0LMLQ>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2013/06/13 21:43

Never heard of this guy Samuli Kemppi live PA at Tresor but from what I am hearing it is very good...

<https://soundcloud.com/itsbulk/ulla-is-bulk-live-pa-from>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2013/06/15 09:31

Robert Babicz - the owl and the butterfly

Solid shit from Mr. Babicz - respek!! B)

<https://soundcloud.com/robbabicz/rober-babicz-the-owl-and-the>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2013/06/15 11:56

orwell wrote:

try miles Davis live in Japan agharta

my fav recently is

Big Fun

and miles via bill laswell -> Panthallassa. it's amazing.

always.. bitches brew, in a silent way, on the corner (for weirdness)

so much great came out of miles and his mates but the drugged up weird mellow shit and the weird shit are what slay me.

anyway.. lately.. new BoC, Haxan Cloak, autechre exai, phonecia (demissions), fugazi, mars volta (deloused in the comatorium)

though mostly i've been trying to work on new tunes so those are living with me

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by ignatius - 2013/06/15 12:00

cosmosuave wrote:

Never heard of this guy Samuli Kemppe live PA at Tresor but from what I am hearing it is very good...

<https://soundcloud.com/itsbulk/ulla-is-bulk-live-pa-from> lot's of nice stuff in there. thanks!

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by poonti - 2013/06/15 12:30

likin' the bass freqs on this:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RYHFRTDB7DY>

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by cosmosuave - 2013/06/16 11:14

Babicz fan here... Will check tmmrw night...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by xmit - 2013/06/26 20:04

just got Borderland by my all time hero 'Magic' Juan Atkins in collaboration with Moritz von Oswald... gorgeous.

If you, like me, are a sucker for long-form analogue dub/jazz/313techno jams, warts & all, packed full of feeling & warmth, it's great. Really reminded me of the Model 500 Deep Space album in parts - which I think von Oswald had some production on too - one of my all time favourite albums.

Just picked up Benge's Twenty Systems too as I realized this was a massive oversight in my listening library...

=====

Re:what are you listening too lately

Posted by grillpanda - 2013/06/28 00:55

Listening to a lot of Diamond Version at the moment.

And Random Access Memories according to Nicolas Jaar and Chris Harrington, which is pretty much the only way I want to listen to that album.

<https://soundcloud.com/daftside-2/sets/random-access-memories-1>

=====