i mean on the monomachine or octatrack, its where you have a sound going and u have a rhythmic gating effect, kinda like the jomox moonwind, i have heard it called a trance gater as well, i tried using the lfo and the filter, but i cant seem to get it right,,,, is it even possible?

LFO or p locks on the vol and some reverb or delay maybe.... Anything that chops the signal I would have thought and the rhythm is up to you.

Filter would also work.

On the octatrack just link the LFO to amp volume and use a square wave. Use a Track LFO and use that same one for multiple tracks and you can change them all at once.
