
UW Science Lab 02

Posted by glaive - 2007/01/11 17:50

Get your sample destructor hat on, because Actuel has created a killer sample set for the UW Science Lab 02. Use only the provided (and there are a lot) to create sonic mayhem. Then upload an mp3 render to the Science Lab - UserWave -> 02 category (it's at the bottom of the list). I'll leave the Lab open until we reach critical mass of entries (5 or so), then announce the closing date, which will be a couple of weeks after critical mass had been reached.

Enjoy, and have fun!

Ghost in the ROM

for the uw lab no2. 6 samples turned into a barberpolish synthersizer, a simple beat, bassline, some gated reverb over all of it. 190 bpm.

I have upload my lab experiment for the UW science lab 02. It's called LabTime. I have used practically all the samples available but no RAM machines. :-)

Sorry, RAM machines: yay or nay?

Also, is multitasking (and arranging) allowed in Live or whatever?

Also, kst77: I dig your tune, but it has a "monofied" sound. No...more like feedback. Was that your intention? It doesn't ruin the enjoyment for me. Just wondering.

RAM machines are okay, but multitasking is not.

Hey. What up?

I uploaded my entry:

<http://www.elektron-users.com/modules/wfdownloads/singlefile.php?cid=164&lid=684>

It's a bit more dancey than my usual, but it's still grimey as hell.

I love doing these.

Hey, HBINC:

I'll give you a POLL!

Just kidding.

You know what would help the popularity of these "contests"? Maybe a notice or something on the home page.

Hey, StirHouse, hurry up and make something!

I'm sure we can have the next lab start while he's doing his thing.

Anything to report from you late-comers?

A better question: how come only a few of us participate?

Yeah, I got something together, have to put it in shape a bit and record, I will do that today.

ok here?s it, I would love to hear more entries I really would but there is a lot of talking and nothing more, you know how hard can it be to make some patterns when you already got the ROM? so why dont we just... POLL THIS SH*T! ;-)

Alrighty! The UW Science Lab # 2 is now officially closed for submissions and all are now welcome to vote over at: <http://www.elektron-users.com/modules/xoopspoll/> or just click on the "Science Lab" tab in the navigation.

I have forwarded Glaive the info to update the player, so the tracks will be accessible from there but till then, here's the goods:

<http://www.elektron-users.com/modules/wfdownloads/viewcat.php?cid=164>

All the submissions are fine, fine tracks. Good luck to you three.

cheers

glitched & kst77 tied. which is befitting as I myself liked both equally. Congrats and thx for the entries.

Cool! I'm glad we "tied." Interesting because both songs are very different. Just shows that we have a diverse membership, here on elektron-users.
