
software machinedrum?

Posted by guga - 2013/05/16 23:42

hi all,
i was doing some clean up and rediscovered this reaktor ensemble i worked on a while ago: MaXineDrum
it's a bit dated and it goes back to when i was looking for a software alternative to the MD (couldn't afford to get the real one...) and came up with this i may go back to it for improvements/bug fixes if there's enough interest so any feedback is welcome. the ensemble is free and has no limitations, download and enjoy.
cheers
gg

=====

Re:software machinedrum?

Posted by j0hnny - 2013/05/20 20:47

I was on this hunt a while back, for a software alternative with more flexibility (automation & so on). Bought every good drum plugin going, waldorf attack, AD tattoo, uTonic & tremor to name just a few :laugh: Drumspillage filled that gap for me, but is mac only (audio unit). It is the best quality drum plugin I have heard which can do the md type kicks & white noise type stuff. Very clean & high quality sounding.

=====

Re:software machinedrum?

Posted by JES - 2013/05/31 12:05

Xfer nerve isn't the same thing but has the same FSU vibe

=====