
Got an octatrack last week, first tune on it :)

Posted by toma - 2013/06/28 18:33

Hey guys, i got an octatrack last week from a user on here.

Unfortunately it seems to have a problem and 50% of the time gets frozen and i have to do a reset. Have contacted Elektron support about it so hopefully they can sort it out.

anyway, the 50% of the time it is working im having a load of fun on it!

I made a short track and uploaded it to sound cloud, any thoughts/feedback would be much appreciated!

im going to be posting more stuff like this as soon as i can get my octa fixed, so please feel free add on soundcloud if you enjoyed :)

Great, thanks for the feedback guys, im really stoked you like the tune :)

The OT has so much potential, i cant wait til 100% functionality so i can learn how to actually use this thing properly (working out scenes are next on my list!)

Very cool! Very soundtrack-esque.

Could be longer though, no need to be shy and cut tracks short!

Very nice! Sounddesign made me think of Burial a bit but with a bit more forward drums.

I'd say keep it up! :)

Also.....I'm hearing more and more from the OP-1 that I really dig.....bad news since that could result in me having to grab my wallet again.....

Cheers guys!

Agreed on length, i need to expand tracks a bit, but has been pretty restrictive working with a half functioning OT. Just got the ok from elektron to send it to them tho :)

Interesting you should mention it has a soundtrack vibe as i just finished composing the soundtrack to a feature film set to be released later this year by Universal. Lots of OP1 in there and a bit of MD. Looking forwards to adding some OT to the next one!
