
Problems Registering

Posted by actuel - 2007/11/12 20:30

Hello all,

I've had a quit a few reports of people having problem registering. I apologize for the inconvenience and unfortunately have not figured out the issue yet. My only suggestion is to try maybe another browser to see if you get the same results.

If you still have problems, email me personally with your:

desired username:

email:

and I'll register your information with a generic password that you can change once you login via 'profile preferences'.

my email is: actuel (at) gmail . com

or AIM: elektronusers

The current site software has a handful of issues. I'm currently undergoing a major site update to a new system that will eliminate many of the issues with the current site. I hope to have the new site and all the current data migrated before the end of the year.

Thanks,
actuel/adminy
