what is it about saxophonists that makes music like this seem perfectly normal to them? :lol:

nice MnM sounds. i'm a fellow saxophonist BTW...

Nice stuff - see my comment at the nd here - if you ever want to play sax on a track of mine let know.

Funny, I've been working on some MnM only beat experiments for a new track - this is a kit I created today and and example of a segment of the track I'm working on.

<https://soundcloud.com/venndiagram/monomachine-loop-test-part-for>

The ambient + string drone courtesy of ESX24 all beats programmed in the Monomachine and recorded in a single take.

Monomachine Track Config and Machines for this KIT looks like this -

Track 1 GND>SIN

Track 2 DPRO> BOX

Track 3 DPRO>BOX

Track 4 FM>STAT

Track 5 DPRO>BOX

Track 6 FX>FLANGER

FX INBUT is BUS CD with Track 2 outputting to BUS ABCD and Track 4 to BUS CD ONLY

If you ever want to lay sax over one of my tracks let me know ;)

@Kirlian Thanks ! :) Love your latest Monomachine set BTW

@VennDiagram - Really interesting Monomachine sounds /beats, keen to see how it develops, and thanks for posting the info about your kit and set up

Just got my monomachine, really liking it so far, I would be very interested in having a go at improvising/experimenting some soprano sax over one of your tracks , I have a free form approach , after listening many times I usually then play live along with the piece , and see what happens :)

I'll keep in touch - sort of approach that would appeal to me immensely truth be told.
Your playing sounds great by the way.
The Monomachine was the first Elektron Kit I purchased and I love it dearly.
It's capable of more than a few surprises and then some so enjoy, explore and have a blast.
I'll be keen to see what you're doing with it in a few months.
