Legendary Australian Acid Techno Aficionado Honeysmack has remixed my track "Equinox" from 'The Desolate Sound of Extinction'

808,707,101,202,303 Devilfish and a "bunch of effects" to quote Honeysmack all feature on this official remix.

He conspires to bring forth a wonderfully gritty urban analog stormer that was remixed live at the helms of a wall of vintage gear. Its a rather compelling sonic juxtaposition to the clean definition of the original.

Equal parts grimey and kinky in all the right places as one would expect from the Club Filter and Teriyaki veteran.

Many thanks to Dave for this remix.

It was an honour to have you work on it.

ah honey smack, a blast from past!

great remix

most melb heads have seen him live at one time or another maybe the melb mc202 master can also remix this track next thanks !!
