Id imagine there'll be some extensive testing first but yeah, slowly slowly catchy monkey! (I had the boards since 2008 maybe!)

Hah, yeah gotta be thoroughly tested first ;)

Just make sure you never attempt to sell it, bad things will happen!:laugh:

I remember when those first came out I was tempted to get some boards, but the "cult of midibox" thing put me off entirely and lots of other people too, shame as they could have been a lot more popular, like the x0xb0x for example.

Ha ha, just seen this.

I'm hanging onto it as long as I possibly can, it's amazing!

I think the midibox thing has died down somewhat- selling boxes isn't an issue any more and think its fine to build/sell a reasonable amount. Not sure about selling stuff for profit, but since I'm paying Neil in magic beans and sausages we'll be fine. Looks a super complex little box of tricks too, can't wait to get my mots on it!

I can't gush enough about how cool a synth this is- its got some serious modulation routing going on and is somewhat xpander-esque in its approach. Sounds incredible too, I think I have a new favourite box of synth, smitten!
