Looks like it might be real. This site mentions a "Minifooger" trademark application by Moog Music:

I avoided the MF-104M delay because of the high price and all this MIDI stuff that I didn't want in an analog delay. The mini one might be the ticket for me.

more modular foogers?!

less guitar centric, smaller, easier to power?

Roque removed them from that page.

There are 5 of them:

Boost

Drive

Trem

RingMod

Delay

Delay is the highest price at $199 and they go down from there to I think $139 for the boost.
