moving more in the synth pop direction here...

Drums - MD

Synth - Juno 106, Virus, Monomachine, x0xb0x

enjoy!

Man...this is really a lovely track. Is that you on vocals? If so, then nice job! What can you NOT do?!

I hate you.

^^ LOL

Nice sound, man...I like the synth layering going on, plus that drum loop sounds tight. Inspiring. I also hate you.

man! that's really impressive, i dig it much. the mix seems a little uneven, but it's well on its way to becoming a serious track that a LOT of people would truly enjoy. i love techno myself, but stuff like this has a broader range of appeal that could reach a bigger crowd. i think you're really onto something with this. great job.

thanks everyone.

its still rough - I keep changing a litte thing here and there - I am really not married to the bass from the Juno - its not tight enough for me, so I may redo that on the se-1 or something else to get the mix back into line. And of course, the vocals are far from perfect - my voice cracks, etc - but... the general idea is there. I like making demos of this kind of material - I should finish up some of the other things I have in this genre. Is it early 90's electronic pop? I don't know if its supposed to be anything - but its not like my other techno thats for sure :P

Its greats!... and its "90s synthpop", imho ... theres a lot of german synthpop bands that sounds a bit like this =)...
De/Vision, Camouflage for example
