
some artwork

Posted by paalaala - 2005/09/12 01:15

hey ho elektron friends...

i have some artwork of the elektron machines, boxes and stuff, but where should i post this?
could be interesting for the people here, if we have a elektron artwork topic ...

servus, stef 8-)

it would be nice to have some artwork on the home page at least! Is there room for a photo of elektron gear on the front page?

We are going to do a major site redesign soon. If you would like to submit your artwork for use on the site, that would be great.

New feature of the site include a wiki, personal home pages, and simplified navigation.

I'll get chat of some kind working. The downside to this migration is that the current forum and content will not be preserved. Both the new site and this site will be available in parallel for a while, though. The new software, Drupal, is much easier to work with, and has far fewer bugs.
