
Someone interested in buying my SPS-1 UW?

Posted by Acidfever - 2005/09/23 23:57

Hi,

I am considering selling my Machinedrum UserWave edition.

Not sure yet but i am someone that wants to have tried as many gear as possible so i might move on for a moment and maybe come back to Elektron later.

It's a brand new unit.....only a few months old since i sold my old MD and actually purchased a new UW model.

Just checking....

Just send me an idea and i'll respond if i like what you are saying.

Hey ggoodwin, well.....does it say i'm sure?

I'm certainly not sure if i want to sell it yet but as a part of figuring out i am looking at how much money i'd be loosing if i sell it.

The Virus C might just go.....not because i don't want it anymore but because i might get a Ti.

What would you think as a doable price for you?

Btw....you can e-mail me @ tweaky@xs4all.nl

I will def. get the e-mails though!

I think it's fair to mail me an offer. I payed 1590 Euro 3 months ago. How much do you you want to save on a 3 month old, mint condition, still in warranty Machinedrum UserWave?

good point, and since you paid euro and i would pay us dollar, i dont think I could make you a fair offer since the us price for a new one is so much cheaper than what you paid. i will just keep looking. thanks
