good work! i really like that second beat, around 3 minute mark.
and that bass tone for the first part, what'd you use there?

Thanks. The second beat is actually the same as the first, only it starts on beat 2 instead of 1. The bass is from a Juno-106. Everyone likes the second part.....maybe if I just played the 2nd part twice it would be a great track? :-D well, it's obviously much more hype, the second part, with the dirty acid line and all (which was done by?) but transitions are nice.

I think it's the fact that it builds up to the second part which makes that part hit as hard as it does...you got it right man!

The acid line was done by the FutureRetro Revolution. I can't wait until the modular add on comes out!
