good - I really like that creepy VO synth at the end! Its like electronic whispering from a horror movie or something.

nice work!

Pretty cool...though I wasn't big on the drum sounds. Overall...worth listening to though...which is saying something.

thanks for listening.

re. the drums: these are all coming out of the monomachine, normally I'd use the MD instead but I just wanted to get a feel for the beat box...

peace

I use the Monomachines drum sounds as well... it makes you think since you are limited. I will post some of my new monomachine only beats soon...so you can diss me. ;)

I'm working on a 15 song CD all made with just the MnM...and my vocals.

jsrockit - i'm working on a solo MnM cd as well. but it's less songs and i'm not gonna punish the world by pretending that i can sing over it. :-D i love the mono drums. very often i'll start with them as a sketchpad and then go to the MD to fill in later only to find that i prefer the MnM sound by that point. there's a lot that you can do with them if you get into the locks a bit. not as much as the MD, of course, but there's still a lot there.

Ha, all I can say about this track is, 'game over, dood' ;)

I feel like I'm grabbing coins and dodging ghosts!

I don't sing...I rap / talk. I like the bass drum, a click sound, and the hats (retriggered all over). The next CD will be the MD and the MnM though.
