
New forums?

I have to agree with makko in the "OK you were all correct, the extra cheddar was worth it" thread.

There are so much of these topics. It's starting to annoy me(sorry for that). Maybe they could be merged or something. Moderate them away in one big IVE GOT MY ELEKTRON TODAY topic or.. subforum whatever.

As well as threads like MD vs MnM and are they for me?, Technical issues and The next Elektron product? They all deserve their own forums in my opinion because of the frequency of reoccurrence and sheer number of posts. It feels like the threads are starting to outgrow the "Elektron Gear" board.
