Your Videos thread

There have been a number of forum posts lately about Elektron users who are interested in videos. Here's some of the posts I recall:

users.com/index.php?option=com\_fireboard&Itemid=28&func=view&id=30245&catid=9&limit=10&limitstart=10

http://elektron-users.com/index.php?option=com\_fireboard&Itemid=28&func=view&id=88085&catid=9

http://elektron-users.com/index.php?option=com\_fireboard&Itemid=28&func=view&id=83884&catid=14

I've been thinking about this (see link 2 above) and I think a number of people would enjoy a Your Videos section. Yes, you can always say just search YouTube but you could also say the same about an E-User's music - if you are not aware of a video or a track, you won't search for it. Plus, some people are posting video links to Soundcloud - see PreviewLounge's below. There's some Machinedrum tracks on Vimeo and Ruin&Wesen have their stuff on Blip.tv. There's probably more stuff out there than many of us realize and with technology advancing a consistent forum location would be nice.

So anyway to kick things off, I've collected the last few weeks of video-specific posts and copied them here. Also, with a nod to the people commenting about instructional/educational posts, I've put two classics at the end: one of Allerian's and the ghost snare vid. These two just happened to stick out in my mind and are in no way supposed to be representative of the many such instructional vids out there. Ultimately, my thinking was this Your Videos thread might make a nice section of the forum but for now it's a thread. Feel free to add on.

With all the iPad love here, I thought I'd show off my latest project, a miniature version of the full-size pixelator, sized for the Apple iPad.

Youtube video (no idea how to embed here):

Allerian

i made a quick realtime pattern chain, audio export ..

then, a journey down memory lane, editing animations i found on a terabyte drive recently recovered .. these are all original video clips, made around 2006 ..

edit in 2010, hopefully the video is kind of alright.
