
New Moderator: Kirlian!

Posted by actuel - 2010/04/30 22:51

I want to take the opportunity to formally announce our new moderator to Elektron-Users, Kirlian. Kirlian has been one of the a great assets to the community for a long while.

Our motivation for adding another moderator is due to scheduling of other moderators. One has been missing in action for a year or so, and Papertiger is part-time at best because of her busy schedule. The forum so rarely needs moderated, as this is a great group, but having active eyes and moderators keeps the spam and trash out.

I'm quite excited about this and honored to have Kirlian moderating for us. He's good people. Plus, it's less of me for everyone!

Cheers,

I had the pleasure of working on the Machine album with many awesome people, and Kirlian was one of them. I'm very happy for you, K! Congrats!

I know you'll do a great job, Kirlian, with far less uptight legal analysis and scolding than some moderators I know... :P
