a *GASP!* non-music forum

That's right... the subject line don't lie!

I think it'd be nice to see an area where we can talk about shit, other than music!

It's great that we have these forums and such to spread knowledge, but I find that there's no "ground" to the community if we're all ferociously discussing sluttier gear! Maybe even a stickied thread just for introducing yourself in the most suitable forum or something.

I understand that the community here is rather small (I prefer the word... "intimate" :P) but it'd still be nice to see something "official" set up for this purpose... just to give the new fish (like me!) an area to swim and meet other, maybe, bigger fish! Ha

Just an idea, probably a bad one at that! :lol:

Very cool! I'm only here because I'm a new-found Elektron lover and this forum seems to have all my MD needs covered rather well. Gonna go check it!
